THE PEOPLE'S FORUM

Letters to the Editor

Letters to the Editor should be as brief as the point to be possible, avoiding anything that would open a denominational or sectarian discussion.

No attention will be paid to anonymous letters. Names and addresses must be signed, but if the writer of good faith, although some will not be printed, if request be made that they be omitted.

The publication of a letter is not to be taken as an endorsement of its views by this paper.

Contributions will not be returned unless accompanied by postage. But well matured will be saved.

Says Don't Want American Crews

To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger:

Sir—In regard to the letters in your evening paper concerning the seafaring men, I am one myself, and have been for fifteen years, so from what I can see the present owners and operators of American ships do not want men to work for them who can talk good English, nor do the officers of the ships want the same kind of a man. They want the kind that they can manhandle, and also that can't understand what they talk or they talk to them.

They also want the men that they borrow money from. When the officer has borrowed money from the men, he owes money the said officer owes. No chance of getting it, you get a kick out of it if you don't like the ship mate.

In my travels on all kinds of ships I saw all kinds of flags. I have seen a lot of that kind of stuff. I am always in a hurry when anyone asks me for leave.

Some time ago [illegible] I said in your paper about a Negro crew [illegible] instead of a white man. That was [illegible] the Negro was a gentleman [illegible] sailing he did more work in a morning [illegible] that the American ships are [illegible] plan as the English ships [illegible] ship. There are very few [illegible] sailing out of the Atlantic [illegible] Some of the officers claim that [illegible] any all-American crew [illegible] can crew as they are [illegible] the American crew. I [illegible] that any ship I get on [illegible] I feel inclined to. I am sailing [illegible] in the world. I make [illegible] the American merchant marine [illegible] as every ship I sailed [illegible] nations, and they seem [illegible] nations instead of a seafaring [illegible]

I am in favor of all ships [illegible] American flag manned the same [illegible] is the Shipping Board or the Emergency Corporation [illegible] have tied up the Atlantic [illegible] side ports [illegible] going away [illegible] some [illegible] off their hands. I think this company will be a [illegible]

I also [illegible] also was born and raised [illegible] Philadelphia. Just to think [illegible] back to see that the Shipping [illegible] chance in shipping on our Atlantic [illegible] instead of a rotten-hooked American [illegible] if the E. F. [illegible] investigate [illegible] floors on some of those ships [illegible] graft [illegible] Since Washington [illegible] years I am [illegible] up in the Shipping Board [illegible]

Abusing Hospital Privilege

To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger:

Sir—I am a poor man and by hard [illegible] and saving have managed to [illegible] ily (five of us) [illegible] pay for my home [illegible] something [illegible] a taxpayer [illegible] and feel that [illegible]

I have just [illegible] —pneumonia—[illegible] clan. I told him he might [illegible] since he only worked [illegible] during the last [illegible] that half the pay [illegible] fessionally did not [illegible] dilated upon the [illegible] well afford to [illegible] at hospitals and [illegible] used up the state [illegible] ray, etc., and [illegible] service [illegible] the cases.

I went to [illegible] and at these [illegible] founded to find [illegible] who were getting medical [illegible] nothing. One was my grocer [illegible] owns his store and [illegible] does a big business [illegible] wife to a [illegible] One was a member of [illegible] married, who makes as much [illegible] and who does not pay a cent [illegible] He told me how [illegible] put one over on them [illegible] sick under the care [illegible] is the head of a [illegible] to pay for his services [illegible] deserving of charity and [illegible] whose father has a good job [illegible] with the city—gets him more than [illegible] month.

Eighty per cent of these people [illegible] well afford to pay for the services [illegible] outred. They are getting this [illegible] nothing, and the taxpayers [illegible] this theft of money. You [illegible] further opened. I had sickness [illegible] that the doctors who do charity [illegible] paid by the hospital, or [illegible] find that they gave their time [illegible] for nothing. Even what I said [illegible] not even get gratitude from some [illegible] people they treated.

I think that something should [illegible] about affairs if [illegible] impossible [illegible] off the state [illegible] and off [illegible] clans.

I counted 104 people [illegible] in these three [illegible] cent of these could afford [illegible] as the $6 per visit [illegible]

A TOAST TO THE FLAG

Here's to the red, [illegible]
[illegible]
No one is afraid of it
In all the spread of it
From foot to head.
But [illegible] red for it,
Red [illegible] and blood [illegible]
Pledge [illegible] it
Drinking it red.

Here's to the [illegible] of it—
Thrilled to the [illegible] of it
Who knows its [illegible] of it
But feels the might of it
Through day and night?
Womanhood's care for it
Made manhood dare for it
Purity's prayer for it
Kept it so white.

Here's to the blue of it—
Heavenly view of it.
Star spangled hue of it.
Honesty's hue of it.
Constant and true.
Here's to the whole of it,
Stars, stripes and pole of it;
Here to the soul of it—
Red, white and blue.

Supplies "The Georgia Song"

To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger:

Sir—Recently in your People's Forum column, which I admire very much and from which I have clipped a number of interesting items, some one asked for "The Georgia Song." I am inclosing it herewith.

JOHN WIRTH.

Philadelphia, March 29, 1921.

There is lots of fun in livin' in the counties all around,
When the frost is in the furrow an' the green is turnin' brown;
When the days are cool and crispy an' the nights have brighter stars,
With a tinkle, tinkle o' the bells across the pasture bars.

No use in wishin'
When the weather's fine for fishin',
No use in wishin'
When the partridges are flyin',
There's fish that's for the ketchin',
An' does hides needin' stretchin',
An' honey for the fetchin'
Every day!

There's lots o' fun in livin' when the woods are full of haze,
An' you hear the fiddle singin' where the cabin fires blaze,
When the girls are candy coatin' an' they've cobbed the honey bees,
An' you're dancin' when you want to, an' you're speakin' when you please.

No use in grievin',
When the girls are so believin'
No use in pinin'
When the eyes of love are shinin'
There's cider for the makin',
And lick-tenuts for the shakin',
An' sweethearts for the takin'
Every day.

Oh! the whirrin' o' the partridge an' the boomin' o' the buck,
The creepin' o' the possum an' the rabbit's foot for luck,
The barkin' of the squirrels on the oak an' hickory trees,
You stand 'em when you want to an' you fetch 'em when you please.

No use in wishin'
When the weather's fine for fishin',
No use in runnin'
When there's game enough for gunnin';
Milk and honey flowin',
Hunter's horn a-blowin',
Don't care if it's a-snowin'
Every day.

—By E. L. Staunton.

Old Song Supplied

To the Editor of the Evening Public Ledger:

Sir—Mrs. Vernon Garrison, Swedesboro, N. J., asks in the People's Forum of March 25, for the song

TWO LITTLE BABY SHOES

In a night in June, on their honeymoon,
Two lovers came to part;
For a tale was told of a love grown cold—
How another had won her heart.
With a tear-dimmed eye and a sad "good-bye,"
For him love's young dream ends.
When a year had past and he heard at last
This message his darling sends:

Two little baby shoes. How could his heart refuse?
Two little blue little shoes she sent:
He knew very well what the message meant.
Softly they seemed to say: "Daddy, come home today;
Don't let your heart break; come home for the sake
Of two little baby shoes."

I trust that this is the song she desires.

M. D. REED.

Hagerstown, Md., March 28, 1921.

"M. L." wishes the poem containing the following lines:

"I want to go home to the dull old town
With the quiet streets and the open square."

"C. E. C." desires the words of a poem which starts as follows:

"He heard the fifes at the end of the street,
He heard the marching of thousands of feet,
The rush and the murmur, the beat of the drum," etc.

"C. E. D." asks for the verses entitled "Coming Home at Last," which were written when John Howard Payne's body was brought home to America.

The People's Forum will appear daily in the Evening Public Ledger, and also in the Sunday Public Ledger. Letters discussing timely topics will be printed, as well as requested poems, and questions of general interest will be answered.

Hurt at Broad and Federal Streets

While crossing Broad street at Federal last night, Angelo Deni, 635 Catharine street, was run down by an automobile driven by Harry Hartman, of 2119 South Fourth street. Deni was taken to St. Agnes' Hospital with a fracture of both legs. Hartman was arrested and held in $300 bail by Magistrate Dougherty.

HELD UP, BUT NOT ROBBED

Former Boxing Champion Knocks Bandit Into Street

A man entered a cigar store at the northeast corner of Mascher and Berks street last night and demanded the proceeds of the day's business.

But he didn't know the owner of the shop. Patrick Esmond, was formerly heavyweight boxing champion of the state. Patrick is past the professional fighting stage now, but he is still young enough to stand up for his own.

He met the request with a short jab with the left and an upper with the right. The intruder landed somewhere on Berks street and failed to come back for more.
