DAILY MORNING POST.
SATURDAY MORNING.....JULY 15.

HUMOROUS.

MORAL SUASION ON A RAM.—When a friend of ours, whom we call Agricola, was a boy, he lived on a farm in Berkshire county, the owder of which was troubled by his dog Wolf. The cur killed his sheep, knowing, perhaps, that his master was conscientiously opposed to capital punishment, and he could devise no meanto prevent it.

"I can break him of it," said Agricola, "if you give me leave."

"Thou art permitted," said the honest farmer; and we will let Agricola tell the story in his own words:

"There was a ram on the farm," said Agricola "as notorious for butting as the dog was for sheep killing, and who stood in as much need of moral suasion as the dog. I shut Wolf up in the barn with this old fellow, and the consequence was that the dog never looked a sheep in the face again. The ram broke Wolf's back his body literally. Wonderfully uplifted was the ram aforesaid, by his exploit; his insolence became intolerable; he was sure to pitch into whomsoever went nigh him. 'I'll fix him,' said I, and so I did. I rigged an iron crow bar out of a hole in the barn, point foremost, and hung an old hat on the end of it. You can't always tell when you see a hat, whether there is a head in it or not; how then should a ram? Aries made at it full butt, and being a good marksman from long practice, the bar broke in between his horns and crazed him at his rail. This little admonition effectually cured him of butting."
