CHESTER ARRANGES CHEST TO AID NEEDY

Plan Weekly Contributions by 300 Persons in Move to Relieve Distress There

AFTER WAR-CHEST PATTERN

Chester, Pa., June 29.—Chester citizens yesterday began to put into effect plans to relieve suffering among the poor of the city. A suggestion was submitted by Colonel James A. G. Campbell that a "Chester Chest," modeled after the "War Chest," be organized, and that was adopted. The plan is to make an appeal to 100 persons to contribute $5 weekly for ninety-five weeks, 100 persons to contribute $2.50 weekly for twenty-five weeks and 100 persons to contribute $1 weekly for twenty-five weeks. These lists of donors are figured only as a minimum and, of course, are not restricted.

Colonel Campbell said that that method would not exert any hardship upon contributors and would be popular because of the installment plan of payment. He pointed out that the present time is not the best time for a drive to raise a big sum of money at one time, and with weekly payments flowing in, an easier method of aiding the needy would be at hand.

Among the prominent persons at the meeting were Charles R. Long, David Coulter, Isaac Hiorth, Captain S. D. Clyde, Mrs. William Ward, Jr., Mrs. May Hershey Vincent, James Hopkins, the Rev. Francis M. Taitt, Mrs. W. O. Howland and Charles Vandervil.

Colonel Campbell, who was appointed chairman, will name an executive committee at once, and another meeting will take place in a few days, when the "Chester Chest" will be formally launched.

The industrial depression has thrown many men out of work, and heads of charitable organizations say there are more than 4500 needy residents of the city.

CROKER'S HOME IN FLORIDA IS RANSACKED BY THIEVES

Private Papers Scattered Over Floor, but None Reported Missing

West Palm Beach, Fla., June 29.—Returning yesterday from Saratoga Springs, where he had visited Mr. and Mrs. Richard Croker, J. R. McDonald, a prominent real estate dealer who has charge of the Croker home here, gave out the news that the Wigwam, as the residence in Palm Beach is known, had been entered soon after the Crokers arrived from Ireland.

Entry was made through a second-story window and a room in which many private papers were kept was ransacked, the contents of many files and boxes being strewn over the floor.

Mr. McDonald said that many of the papers would have been valuable to almost any one, but apparently those who broke into the room did not find what they wanted, because none of the papers was missing.

Up until now the alleged burglary had been kept quiet.

THEATRICAL COSTUMER DIES

Maurice Herrmann Had Provided Mantles for Shakespearean Players

New York, June 29.—Maurice Herrmann, the man who is said to have costumed every Shakespearean actor that ever played in New York for the last forty years, died at his home at 164 West Forty-eighth street Monday night of a paralytic stroke.

Sixty-six years old when he died, Herrmann had costumed Jefferson, Richard Mansfield, James K. Hackett, Mrs. Fiske, John Drew, William Faversham, Maude Adams and many others. He opened his first theatrical costuming parlors on Grand street, where he did costumes for Tony Pastor's famous theatre. He was for fifteen years at Fourteenth street and Union square, where he kept the piece of gold-spangled tulle that actresses used to kiss for inspiration. It belonged originally to Rachel, who wore it as a wedding veil on the stage.

ASBURY PARK CELEBRATING

Golden Anniversary of Founding Observed With Honors to Bradley

Asbury Park, June 29.—Asbury Park this week does homage to its founder, James A. Bradley, who died June 6, when exercises in commemoration of the city's founding will be held. The formal program of golden anniversary week began last evening with a fireworks display and a formal ball in the Bond Arcade.

This afternoon a bronze statue of Founder Bradley will be unveiled in Atlantic Square at the foot of Sewell Lake, looking out on the ocean. The service will be followed by a parade of civic leaders and school children which will symbolize the transformation of Asbury Park from a desolate area of sand and scrub pine into a modern city.
