Spectacles.
IN THE MOST valuable triumphs of science and art, the invention of spectacles is ranked with the highest. The expert-most Optician overcomes the advances of nature, and comes upon the aged delighted the inestimable advantage of retaining the noblest of his senses. Yet great injury is constantly resulting to thousands from improper or no choice on the part of vendors, or of those who venture to choose for themselves.
There are many requisites attending the selection of Glasses. The purity of fusion of the glass; its proper convexity; the best form and adjustment of the frame, so as to preserve the parallelism with the eye for distant vision or for near vision, to throw the plane of each glass at right angles to the axis of vision for each eye; to bring the exact centre of each glass precisely opposite the pupil; to have the position of the glasses perfect, both horizontally and vertically, &c., &c.
From long experience in fitting glasses, united with a perfect knowledge of the structure of the eye, we can promise scientific accuracy, and this aid much in the preservation of the eye.
Gold, Silver and Steel Spectacles, carefully selected of the best qualities, for sale, at moderate prices.
