The Dreamer's Song.

I dream of thee at morn,
When all the earth is gay,
Save I, who live a life forlorn,
And die through a long decay.

I dream of thee at noon,
When the summer sun is high,
And the river sings a sleepy tune,
And the woods give no reply.

I dream of thee at eve,
Beneath the fading sun,
When e'en the winds begin to grieve,
And I dream till day is done.

I dream of thee at night,
When dreams, men say, are free:
Alas! thou dear, too dear delight,
When dream I not of thee!

TWO OF THE MOST WEALTHY BUSINESS MEN OF NEW YORK.—It is stated in Hunt's Merchants' Magazine that Preserved Fish commenced life as apprentice to a blacksmith, and his next situation was that of a seamen on board a whaling-ship. From being a hand before the mast, he rose to be a mate, and finally commander, and in this hazardous pursuit he amassed the foundation of his fortune. Saul Alley was bound when a small boy, apprentice to a coachmaker. During his apprenticeship his father died, and left him totally dependant on his own exertions. The very clothes he wore he was obliged to earn by toiling extra hours, after the regular time of leaving off work had passed. The foundation of his fortune he acquired by the exercise of frugality and prudence while a journeyman mechanic. Cornelius W. Lawrence, late Mayor of New York, and now President of the Bank of the State of New York, was a farmer's boy, and worked many a long day in rain and sunshine on Long Island.—There were but few lids within twenty miles of him that could mow a wider swath or turn a neater furrow. These men have been the architects of their own fortunes; they have earned them by the sweat of their brows; and their very wealth, besides the other means of doing good to their fellow men which it puts in their power, is, in itself, a perpetual stimulus to the mechanic and artisan to each a similar reward by similar frugality, industry, and perseverance.

'What were you doing out so late last night?' said an Irish mechanic who had married an American girl, to his son, one morning during the late excitements. 'I was a walkin' in the Whig procession,' replied the lad. 'Well, I'll walk into you, if I catch you doin' such a thing again—now mind I tell you!' Scarcely a week afterwards, he committed the same offence again. The father was as good as his word, and 'basted' the lad soundly. The son did not keep the fact to himself, but told it to his companions; adding, 'It is bad enough to be whipped any way, but to be whipped by a d——d foreigner is outrageous!' The boy had the advantage of his father, in having been born on this soil!

AN OLD BIBLE.—At anniversary meeting of the American Bible Society, an old divine from N. Hampshire, of the Presbyterian denomination, called Father Robbins, held in his hand the identical Bible upon which the members of the First Congress and President Washington were sworn into office, and containing the names of all these old worthies, written on its pages. These said Mr. Robbins, were Bible times—and these Bible men—and God blessed and prospered their labors, and under these men their country was prosperous. God grant sir, said he, that we may again have such rulers and such times!—Boston Atlas.

ERIE EXTENSION.—This important improvement connecting the Ohio river with lake Erie, has been completed, and its opening was celebrated in an appropriate manner on the 2d inst., by a large number of the citizens of Erie and vicinity. The length of the canal is 136 miles emptying into the Ohio river at Beaver, 20 miles below Pittsburgh. The locks are of the most improved and permanent construction, and will pass boats eighty long and fourteen wide. The string pieces of all bridges crossing this canal are about eight feet above the decks of unladed boats, and consequently ensure great safety and convenience to passengers. The Canal is forty feet wide at water line, draught of water four feet, and has been pronounced by competent judges to be one of the best constructed works in this State.

The National Intelligencer says the shop of Mr. Mills, at Wheeling, Va., having been repeatedly robbed by burglars lately, he a few days since prepared a pistol so that when the door was opened it would go off. Unfortunately he forgot the contrivance, and was himself the first to enter the store, when the contents entered his chest. He lies in a critical condition.

INDIAN VEGETABLE ELIXER & LINIMENT.—A cure for Rheumatic affections. This article penetrates to every nerve and sinew of the person using it, and it has attained a reputation unequalled by any other article in Rheumatism. This will cure the most severe cases—extend contracted muscles, and bring feeling and sensibility to limbs long paralyzed and useless. We only need refer to some cases below to obtain the confidence of the public for these articles.

The following are two respectable, and the gentlemen too well known to require comment. Let them be read.

I have been afflicted most grievously since 1832 with Rheumatism and contraction of the cords of my legs, caused by the cramps of the cholera, which I then had in its most severe form. After trying many remedies in vain, I have found relief—had the cords of my legs relaxed—the swelling reduced—and and greatly benefitted by the use of one bottle of Liniment, used externally and one bottle of Indian Vegetable Elixir, used internally at the same time. I can now walk with ease in positions that I could not a week ago endure at all.

JAMES G. REYNOLDS,

114 Chrystie street, corner of Delancey street.

Though this was given more than a year since, Mr Reynolds, was a few days ago at the office, where this remedy was obtained in full health and perfect possession of his legs and feet, and though over sixty years old, stood up on his toes repeatedly to show the spectators how complete he was cured. This remedy reaches and soothes the nerves, and allays pains most effectually on its first application, and by a few repetitions removes more effectually and speedily Rheumatic pains, than any other application was ever known to do. Its effects are powerful and immediate. Let those afflicted try it but once, and they must be convinced.

The Liniment is much counterfeited, as to external looks, and the only test of genuiness is to find the fac simile signature of Comstock & Co. If that cannot be found it is counterfeit. This only at Comstock's Branch House, No 2, North 5th street, Philadelphia, and in Pottsville of

PURE WHITE LEAD.

Whetherill & Brother,

MANUFACTURERS, No 65 north Front street Philadelphia, have now a good supply of their warranted pure white lead, and those customers who have been sparingly supplied in consequence of a run on the article, shall now have their orders filled.

No known substance possesses those perservative and beautifying properties so desirable in a paint, to an equal extent with unadulterated white lead; hence any admixture of other materials only mars its value. It has therefore, been the steady aim of the manufactures, for many years, to supply to the public a perfectly pure white lead, and the unceasing demand for the article, is proof that it has met with favor. It is invariably branded on one head—WETHERILL & BROTHER, in full, and on the other, WARRANTED PURE—all in red letters.

"The Saponaceous Compound, is the best preparation for shaving purposes. It is extensively patronized, and deserves to be; every gentleman who shaves himself, should buy it."—Philadelphia Gazette.

"We beg to call the attention of the bearded portion of our subscribers, to the Saponaceous Compound. It is, without exception, the best shaving soap, we ever used."—Philadelphia Transcript.

"The Saponaceous Compound for shaving, is the best—perhaps the very best article in use, for scraping the beard from the human face divine. What with a keen razor and this compound, you may shave your face in half the time, you are pronouncing the word. It is an anomaly in language—it is a very good shave, and yet no shave."—Boston Daily Times
