A ADDRESS TO LAKE ERY.

Mity stream! How your bosom ripples, and prances, And how you rip things! How wet you look, eh? What ships you put on when you get to blowing! Yes—in September, how proud you are! Leaves you can raise the wind, and kick up rows And sight the shore, and tear away lumber Yards! (Has is you used to once.) But you're stopt. How do you like that breakwater, you old fluid? Doesn't that keep you respectable, and quiet Stops on your pier Don't that stick in your crop? Didn't they give you "piles" when they put that there?

Why don't you try to fill up the canal? I should think you would catch cold being made Of such damp stuff.

Who are you, any how?

What's going to come of you? You're found out—You're going to leak out over the Falls.

That's it! You needn't be uppish cause you're Nothing but rain water: in spite of your bare You have to berry from other Lakes to keep Yourself from getting dry. Hey—you old Blackrump!

Mity stream, adoo!

Doesticks looks for a Boarding House.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6, 1854.

Having become to a certain extent a fixture in this high old town, it became necessary to search out a fit habitation, wherein I might eat, sleep, change my shirt, (Damphool blushes,) and attend to the other comforts of the external home and the inner individual.

My friend Bull Dogge having deserted his late place of residence, (on account of the perpetual reign of salt mackerel at the breakfast table,) we started together on a voyage of discovery. To describe all the dilapidated genteelwomen, whose apartments we inspected—all the many inducements which were used to persuade us to take up our quarters in all sorts of musty-smelling rooms, and to recount how many promises we made to "call again," would take too much time. Suffice it to say, that at six o'clock in the evening, wearied out and desperate, we cast anchor in the domicil of an Irish lady, with one eye. She assured us that her boarders were all "respictable, and found ther own tobaccy, and that there was divil a bug in the place." We took adjoining rooms, and resignedly went down to tea.

I noticed that my cup had evidently sustained a compound, comminuted fracture, and been patched up with putty, (which came off in my tea,)—that the bread was scant—the butter powerful—the tea, "on the contrary, quite the reverse,"—however, although matters looked somewhat discouraging—"hoping against hope"—I retired to my virtuous sheets; horror of horrors! O, most horrible!!

For two hours I maintained a sanguinary combat with an odoriferous band of cannibal insects—armed only with a fire-shovel, I gallantly kept up the unequal conflict—but the treacherous implement broke at the critical moment; I thought I should be compelled to yield—despair filled my senses—my heart failed me—my brain grew dizzy with horror—hurried thoughts of enemies unpardoned—of duties neglected—and of errors committed, rushed across my mind—last thought of cherished home and absent friends was in my heart, and with a hasty prayer for mercy and forgiveness, I was at the point of yielding, when my frantic eyes caught sight of my cast iron bed-post—with an exclamation of pious gratitude to heaven, (Bull Dogge says it did not sound so to him,) I seized it, and with the desperate strength of a dying man I renewed the battle, and eventually came off victorious and triumphant. Weary with slaughter, I fell exhausted on the bed and slept till morning; Bull Dogge, who had been engaged in the same delightful occupation, appeared at the breakfast table with one eye black, and his face spotted like a tiger. We held a council of war, and resolved instantly to quit the premises of the Emerald Islander, who had agreed to "lodge and eat" us, (the she-Cyclops!) and who had so nearly fulfilled the latter clause by proxy.

Another search and another home. Here for a week things went on tolerably well; the steak was capable of mastication, the coffee wasn't always weak, nor the butter always strong; but one day there appeared at breakfast a dish of beef (Bull Dogge asserts that it was the fossil remains of an omnibus horse,) it was not molested; at dinner it made its appearance again, still it was not disturbed; at tea fragments of it were visible, but it yet remained untouched; in the morning a tempting looking stew made its appearance; but alas! it was only a weak invention of the enemy to conceal the ubiquitous beef; at dinner a meat-pie enshrined a portion of the aforesaid beef; it went away unharmed. For a week, every day, at every meal, in every subtle form, in some ingenious disguise, still was forced upon our notice this omnipresent beef; it went through more changes than Harlequin in the pantomime, and like that nimble individual frame always out unjigured.

At the end of the second day Bull Dogge grumbled to himself, the third he spoke "out in meeting," the fourth he d—mned audibly, the fifth he had an hour's swear to himself, in his own room, the sixth, seventh, and eighth he preserved a dignified silence; but his silence was ominous—on the ninth day we both left.

Our next landlady had a gigantic mouth, but her nose was a magnificent failure. We staid with her a week, and left because she seemed to be possessed of an idea that one sausage was enough for two men. For a month longer we run the gauntlet of all the model boarding-houses. We were entrapped by all kinds of alluring promises, and perpetually swindled without any regard to decency; we had a taste of Yankee, French, Dutch, and I mentioned it before, (ye Gods!) Irish; and we lived four days in an establishment presided over by a red-eyed darkey, with a wife the color of a new saddle. At last one day, in an agony of despair, I exclaimed,—"Where, O where can humbugged humanity find a decent place to feed?" Echo answered, "In the eating houses." We resolved to try it, and the result is glorious. We have achieved a victory, sir, an heroic unexpected victory.

And now farewell, all scrawny landladies, ye snuffy beldames, with your wooden smiles; farewell, you vivaparous bedsteads, ye emaciated featherbeds, and ye attenuated bolsters; a long adieu to scant blankets and mattresses stuffed with shavings; farewell to hirsute butter, and to ancient bread; good-bye, (I say it with a tear,) ye immortal, everlasting beef; farewell to sloppy coffee, and to azure milk, (Damphool says, not yet;) farewell ye antediluvian pies, and you Lilliputian pudding; farewell you two inch napkins, and ye holy tablecloths; farewell ye empty grates and rusty coal scuttles; adieu ye cracked mirrors, which make a man look like a drunken Satyr; farewell ye respectable chairs with dislocated limbs; adieu ye fractured tea-cups, ye broken forks, and knives with handsaw edges; farewell in fact, all ye lodging houses, where ye can't have a latch-key, and where you can tell when they get a new hired girl by the color of the hairs in the biscuit.

(I noticed this last remarkable fact a long time since.)

Give us joy, for we have found a place where things are done up right, where we can change our own viands, where the beef is positively tender, where there are no little red ants in the sugar, where the potatoes are not waxy, and where, if anything goes wrong, we can inflate the waiter.

In fact we are suited; if anything runs short, "John gets particular fire," and "nothing shorter;" where we can eat, when we please, and call for what we please; where charges are moderate, and it is permitted to d—mn the waiter for nothing. And here, in this Elysian spot, have Bull Dogge and I taken our daily bread, (beans and butter included,) for the past month, "without fear and without reproach."

As our poetical friend, Thomas Pius, has remarked,—

"Joy, joy, our task is done,
Our trials are past, and our Restaurant is same."

WILBOR'S COMPOUND OF PURE COD LIVER OIL AND LIME.

A CURE FOR CONSUMPTION, Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, General Debility, and all Scrofulous Humors.

The Proprietor has succeeded (from directions of Professor Stone) in Combining the Oil and Lime so perfectly that the taste of the Oil, which is so nauseous to persons generally, is entirely overcome, and it can be taken by the most delicate females with pleasure. And as regards the benefit of this article over the pure oil, the following testimonial from Prof. Stone, is sufficient to convince the most sceptical. The younger lady was 24 years of age.

"Her disease was one of unmitigated phthisis, which had been expected to terminate in the course of a few months, fatally. The upper part of both her lungs was filled with tubercles: and in some places were beginning to soften. The case was evidently a bad one. The treatment of cod liver oil was at first used, but without marked improvement. The phosphate of lime was then administered with the oil: and the result, satisfactory to many others, was soon apparent. The patient was rapidly getting well."

CAUTION.—On account of the great reputation of this Compound for all Lung Complaints, the subscriber would caution the afflicted against using any except that manufactured by him, as he has the only recipe in the U. States for combining the pure Oil with Lime in a proper manner. Therefore as you value your health, purchase none except that manufactured by

BY ROYAL LETTERS PATENT.

THE HYDROMAGEN, OR WATER-Proof And Consumptive Cork Soles, manufactured by HARCOURT, BRADLEY & Co., 44 Market street, Manchester. Principal Warehouse, 192 Wood street, Cheapside, London, England. American Establishments, 55 Ann street, and 102 Nassau street, New York, U. S. A.

The Hydromagen is a valuable discovery for protecting the feet from damp or cold, and therefore a preventive of many Lung diseases, without any doctoring. The Hydromagen is in the form of a sole, and worn inside the boot or shoe. Its medicated character is a powerful antidote to disease.

For gentlemen it will be found agreeable, warm and healthy, to wear in the coldest or rainiest weather, as the foot cannot become wet if the Hydromagen is inserted.—Ladies may wear the lightest and boots or shoes in the most inclement weather with impunity; while Consumption, so prevalent among the young of our country, may be thwarted by their general adoption. They entirely supersede over-shoes, as the latter cause the feet to perspire in a very unhealthy manner; and besides are not dangerous wear to pedestrians in dry weather, like india rubbers. While the latter cause the feet to appear extremely large, the Hydromagen, being a cork sole, does not alter the peculiarly placed inside, does not increase the size of the foot, or cause the foot to appear untidy. To Children they are extremely valuable, as they may engage in exercise with comfort and health, and be free from the fear of slight as to scarce need mention; besides, those who patronise them will find their TRIFLE DOCTOR'S BILLS MUCH DIMINISHED THEREBY.

As the Hydromagen is becoming more known its sale is increasing to an almost incredible extent. Last year, in London, Manchester, Birmingham, Liverpool, Glasgow, Leeds, Dublin, Paris, Antwerp, Hamburg and Berlin, our sales reached 1,750,450 pairs of Cork Soles. This year the number will far surpass that.

Ask the Faculty their opinion, of their value as a preventative for Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

Men's size, per pair,	35 cents.

Boys' & Misses, "	20 "

NOTICE.—From the Retail prices we make a very liberal allowance to Jobbers and Wholesalers, so that any storekeeper may make a fine profit on their sale, while they are an article that may be kept in any store, among any class of goods.

J. H. McLEAN's, St. Louis, Mo.—Dear Sir: I was affected for fifteen months with rheumatism, so much that I was unable to attend to any business. My legs, arms and fingers were swollen dreadfully; the muscles were contracted, and I suffered the most excruciating pain. I applied some five or six bottles of Mustang Liniment—it had no more effect than so much water. I obtained one dozen bottles of Volcanic Oil Liniment for your agent, Sir. Like, for which I shall be ever thankful to him, and in five days I was entirely well, and I take pleasure in recommending it to the public. And I also add that one of my horses got cast in the stable and was unable to stand up. In the morning I made use of my boys rub on some of your Liniment, and in three days the horse was out in the yard apparently as if nothing had happened to him. Mr. Davis and others of my neighbors were present at the time and they concur with me in saying that no planter should be without a supply of this invaluable medicine on hand. I remain, yours, &c.,

WONDERFUL

CURE OF A METHODIST MINISTER!

DR. SWAYNE'S Celebrated Family Medicines—no family should be without them.

Dr. Swayne's Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry,

The original and genuine preparation. The wonderful cures performed by this invaluable medicine, in pulmonary Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Influenza, Whooping Cough, Croup, Spitting of Blood, Liver Complaint, Pain in the Side and Breast, Tickling or Soreness in the throat, and all diseases of the Lungs and Breast, have excited the admiration of all those who have witnessed its marvellous effect; there is no account of a medicine from the earliest ages, furnishing a parallel.

READ THIS EXTRAORDINARY CASE.

DR. SWAYNE—Dear Sir: I feel it a debt of gratitude due to you—and a duty to the afflicted generally, to offer my humble testimony in favor of your Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry. Some three years since, I was violently attacked with Cold and Inflammation of the Lungs, which was accompanied with a very distressing Cough, and pain in the breast and head; my friends considered my case hopeless, so much so that I originally compounded these Pills expressly to suit your climate, habits, constitutions and manner of living, intending to establish myself among you, which I have now done, by taking premises in New York.

THOMAS HOLLOWAY,
38, Corner of Ann and Nassau Streets, N. Y.

Purification of the Blood and Liver and Bilious Complaints.

The Citizens of the Union suffer much from disorders of the Liver and Stomach, scarcely any are free from the influence of these destructive maladies, hence life wears fast. The fair sex, perhaps the most handsome in the World, up to a certain period when, distressing to say, many lose their teeth and good looks; while yet in the heyday of life, such and evils may be effectually remedied by continually keeping the blood pure, and the Liver and Stomach in a healthy action, when the life will flow smoothly, and resemble plants in a sunguinal climate, when an eternal spring appears to reign. As is regards the preservation of the human frame, and the duration of life, much may be effected, and by the judicious use of Holloway's Pills, health and life can be prolonged for many years beyond their ordinary limits, if Holloway's Pills are taken to purify the blood according to the rules laid down for health contained in the directions which accompany each box.

Notice to the Unfortunate Female.

I feel it a duty incumbent upon myself, to declare publicly the great blessing Dr. Marchisi's Uterine Catholicon has proved to me. For two years my health was miserable; I was almost unable to walk. Physicians pronounced my case falling of the womb. Extensive ulceration, commencing with floor albus. The pains, irritation, prostration and the intolerable fetid discharge rendered life almost a burden. In this miserable condition, Dr. F. F. Newland recommended Dr. Marchisi's Uterine Catholicon. After taking four bottles I found myself in perfect health. Gratitude for my restoration makes me ardently desire that all my sex, alike unfortunate, may find sure relief from this inestimable medicine.

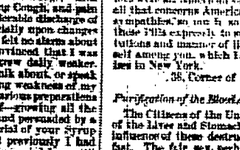
THE AMERICAN'S FRIEND.



HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

To the Citizens of the United States:

I most humbly and sincerely thank you for the immense patronage which you have bestowed upon my Pills. I take this opportunity of stating that my Ancestors were all American Citizens, and that I undertake for all that concerns America and Americans, the most lively sympathies, so much so that I originally compounded these Pills expressly to suit your climate, habits, constitutions and manner of living, intending to establish myself among you, which I have now done, by taking premises in New York.

THOMAS HOLLOWAY,
38, Corner of Ann and Nassau Streets, N. Y.

Purification of the Blood and Liver and Bilious Complaints.

The Citizens of the Union suffer much from disorders of the Liver and Stomach, scarcely any are free from the influence of these destructive maladies, hence life wears fast. The fair sex, perhaps the most handsome in the World, up to a certain period when, distressing to say, many lose their teeth and good looks; while yet in the heyday of life, such and evils may be effectually remedied by continually keeping the blood pure, and the Liver and Stomach in a healthy action, when the life will flow smoothly, and resemble plants in a sunguinal climate, when an eternal spring appears to reign. As is regards the preservation of the human frame, and the duration of life, much may be effected, and by the judicious use of Holloway's Pills, health and life can be prolonged for many years beyond their ordinary limits, if Holloway's Pills are taken to purify the blood according to the rules laid down for health contained in the directions which accompany each box.

The above statement I know to be true.

F. P. NEWLAND, M. D. Utica, N. Y.

I have no hesitation in saying Dr. Marchisi's Uterine Catholicon is invaluable in uterine diseases generally. I have used it in Fluor Albus, Amenorrhœa, Prolapsus Uteri, and in cases of extensive ulceration of the vagina and os uteri. It is worthy of the notice of the faculty.
