BONNETS.

Charms dear women wear,
For many traps and snares,
For real effect there's nought compares
With a truly pretty bonnet:
For when or wherever you chance to meet
One that is perfectly modest and neat,
You may depend 'tis a proof complete
That the head has more in than on it.

No matter whether she's pretty or not,
How much or how little money she's got,
Whether she live in mansion or cot,
'Tis a fact, depend upon it:
The woman to make a man happy thro' life,
To make a model mother and wife,
Is one who, scorning the million her strife,
Wears a plain and tasteful bonnet.

Now a bonnet of genuine beauty and grace,
Worn on the head in its proper place,
Shadowing faintly the wearer's face,
"Is a thing for a song or a sonnet:"
But one of those gay and gaudy things,
Made up of rainbows and butterfly wings,
A mixture of flowers, ribbons, and strings,
Is dreadful, depend upon it.

A vulgar mass of "this and t'other,"
A little of what-a-thing thrown together,
As if by a touch of windy weather,
A wretched conglomeration—
A sort of cage to catch the hair,
Leaving the head to "go it bare,"
A striking example of "Nothing to Wear,"
Is this bonnet abomination

It makes a woman look brazen and bold,
Assists her in catching nothing but cold,
Is bad on the young, absurd on the old,
And deforms what thought to deck;
For look at her face, no bonnet is there,
See at the side it hangs by a hair;
View it behind, and you will declare
That the creature has broken her neck.

No matter where you may chance to be,
No matter how many women you see,
A promiscuous crowd or a certain she,
You may fully depend upon it
That a gem of the very rarest kind,
A thing most difficult to find,
A pet for which we long have pined,
—Is a perfect "love of a bonnet."

A VERY OBLIGING GENTLEMAN.

There is nothing like an obliging disposition, I said to myself one day, when traveling in a railway car from Boston to Worcester, seeing a gentleman put himself to considerable trouble to land another gentleman, who had fallen asleep, at his destination.

"Passengers for West Needham!" cried out the conductor; "the car stops but one minute."

"Hallo," exclaimed a young man in spectacles, at the same time seizing an old gentleman by the shoulders, who was sleeping very soundly, "there's Captain Holmes fast asleep, and this is West Needham, where he lives. Come, get up, Captain Holmes, here you are."

The gentleman got upon his feet, and began to rub his eyes, but the young man forced him along to the door of the car, and gently handed him on to the door of the car, and gently handed him on to the road side. Whis, whis, went the steam, and we began to fly again. The obliging young man took his seat again, and said with a good deal of satisfaction to somebody near him:—

"Well, if it hadn't been for me, Captain Holmes would have missed his home finely. But he has left his bundles," and the young man picked up a paper parcle and threw it out. "Well," he said again, "if it hadn't been for me, Captain Holmes would have missed his bundles finely."

When we stopped at the station a lady began to rummage under the seat where Capt. Holmes had been sitting, and exclaimed in great alarm.

"I can't find my bundle."

"Was it done up in a piece of brown paper?" I asked.

"Yes, it was, to be sure," said the lady.

"Then," said I "that young man yonder, at the last stopping place, threw it out of the window." This led to a scene between the obliging young man and the old lady, which ended by the former taking the address of the latter, and promising to return the packet in a few days, provided he should find it.

Whis went the steam, ding, ding, ding, went the bell, the dust flew, the sparks flew, and the cars flew, as they say, like lightning till we stopped at the next station—I forget the name of it now, but it would be of no consequence if I could remember it. An old gentleman started up, and began to poke under the seat where Capt. Holmes had sat.

"What are you looking for," I enquired.

"Looking for?" said the gentleman, "why, I'm looking for my bundle of clothes."

"Was it tied up in a yellow handkerchief?" I asked.

"Yes, and nothing else," said the old man.

"Good Heavens!" exclaimed the obliging young man, "I threw it out of the car at Needham; I thought it belonged to Captain Holmes."

"Captain Holmes," exclaimed the old fellow, with a look of despair, "who is Captain Holmes?" That bundle contained all my clean clothes that I was to wear at my son's wedding, to-morrow. Dear me! what shall I do?"

Nothing could be done but to give his address to the obliging young man as before, and console himself with the promise that the bundle should be returned, provided it could be found. The obliging young man was now in despair, and another solemn vow made that he would never attempt to be obliging again. The next station was his landing place, and as he went toward the door of the car, he saw a silver headed cane, which he took hold of and read the inscription on it: "Moses Holmes, East Needham."

"Well," again exclaimed the obliging young man, "if here isn't Capt Holmes's cane."

"Yes," said a gentleman who got in at the last station, "and the old fellow is lame, too. He will miss his stick."

"Do you know him?" inquired the obliging young gentleman.

"Know him? I should think so," replied the gentleman, "he is my uncle."

"And does he live at East Needham?" asked the obliging young man.

"Of course he does; he never lived anywhere else."

"Well, if it don't beat everything," said the obliging young gentleman, "and I put him out at West Needham, a mile and a half the other side of his home."

"WHAT'S IN A NAME?"—A good deal, Miss Juliet Capulet. It cost a most respectable man his seat at the Aldermanic board on Monday last, if the following Hibernian dialogue be true:—

First Celt—"Good morning to yourself. The election went glorious—didn't it?"

First Celt—"Be gorra, first rate. I'm glad they killed Brewsther, bad manners to him."

Second Celt—"Musha why? Shure he is a decent man?"

First Celt—"Is it him? the real know nothing, that has been schipping from one party to another this five years?"

Second Celt, bewildered—"Do you mean Alth'mus Brewsther when you're talking about 'know nothings'?"

First Celt,—"Indade I do then. A-O., be gorra. Didn't I hear him last year just, after he had promised to 'lift the roof off Faneuil Hall for Lincoln,' make a regular out and out Intoleration speech, denouncing the Paddies and the Pope in the same wind."

Second Celt—"Dennis, you're ashlesp. Go and get a pinch of snuff somewhere. There's as much difference between your Brewsther and the Brewsther as there is between Saint Fourth of July and Saint Patrick's Day."

First Celt—"Be gorra that's mighty quare. Shure I thought they was the same man."

Second Celt.—"Go Dennis, get some snuff."—Boston Courier.

LORD TENTERDEN's early destination was changed by a disappointment. When he and Mr. Justice Richards were going the home circuit, they visited the cathedral of Canterbury together. Richards commended the voice of a singing man in the choir. "Ah!" said Lord Tenterden, "that is the only man I ever envied! When at school in this town, we were candidates for a chorister's place, and he obtained it."

GENTLEMAN in the habit of entertaining, very often a circle of friends, observed that one of them was in the habit of eating something before grace was asked, and determined to cure him. Upon a repetition of the offence, he said: "For what we are about to receive, and for what James Taylor has already received, the Lord make us truly thankful." The effect may be imagined.

A YOUNG Tennessee clergyman seems to have compressed the whole body of his sermon on "deceit," in the following: "Oh, my brethren, the snowiest shirt-front may conceal a throbbing bosom, and the stiffest of all roundabouts encase a throat that has many a bitter pill to swallow."

A MAN in Pawtucket lately made application for insurance on a building situated in a village, where there was no fire engine. In answer to the question, "What are the facilities for extinguishing fires?" he wrote, "It rains sometimes."

If our Maker thought it wrong for Adam to live single, when there was not a woman upon the earth, how criminally guilty are the old bachelors with the world full of pretty girls.

THE manner in which they weigh a hog out West it is said, is to put the hog in one scale and some stones in the other and then guess at the weight of the stones.

THE LIVER
INVIGORATOR!
PREPARED BY DR. SANDFORD.
Compounded Entirely From GUMS,
IS one of the best PURGATIVE and LIVER medicines now before the public, that acts as a Cathartic, easier, milder, and more effectual than any other medicine known. It is not only a Cathartic, but a Liver remedy, acting first on the Liver to eject its most bilious matter, then on the stomach and bowels to carry off that matter, thus accomplishing two purposes effectually, without any of the painful feelings experienced in the operation of most Cathartics. It strengthens the system at the same time that it purges it; and when taken daily in moderate doses, will strengthen and build it up with unusual rapidity.
The Liver is one of the human body; and functions well, the powers of whole. The stomach is almost entirely dependent on the healthy action of the Liver for the proper performance of its functions; when the stomach is at fault, and the whole system suffers in consequence—the Liver—having ceased to do its duty. For the diseases of the stomach, one of the most prominent causes of which it is this study, in a practical point, the proprietors have made a discovery, which they feel confident will be found a valuable remedy for many derangements to which it is liable.
To prove that this remedy is at last found, any person troubled with Liver Complaint, or any of its forms, has but to try a bottle, and conviction is certain.
These Gums remove all morbid or bad matter from the system, supplying in their place a healthy flow of blood, giving tone and vigor, removing the cause of the disease—effecting a radical cure.
Bilious attacks are cured, and, what is better, prevented, by the occasional use of the Liver Invigorator.
One dose after eating is sufficient to relieve the stomach from rising and sourness.
Only one dose taken before retiring, prevents Night Mare.
Only one dose taken at night, loosens the bowels and cures Costiveness.
One dose—taken after each meal—relieves Dyspepsia.
☞ One dose of two teaspoonfuls relieves Sick Headache.
One bottle taken for fever and ague, removes all the effects of disease.
Only one dose is needed to throw out of the system the effects of mercury.
☞ One bottle taken for jaundice removes all symptoms of jaundice.
One dose taken a short time before eating gives vigor to the appetite, and makes food digest well.
One dose often repeated cures Chronic Diarrhœa in its worst forms, while Summer and Bowel Complaints yield almost to the first dose.
One or two doses cures all children; there is no suffering in the world, as it never fails.
☞ A few bottles cure the Dropsy, by exciting the system to throw off the disease.
We take pleasure in recommending this medicine as a preventive for Fever and Ague, Chill Fever, and all Fevers of a Bilious Type. It operates with certainty, and thousands are willing to testify to its wonderful virtues.
All who use it are giving their unanimous testimony in its favor.
Health is water in the mouth with the Invigorator, and swallow both together.

THE LIVER INVIGORATOR!
In a Scientific, Medical Discovery, and is daily working cures, almost to great to believe. It cures, as if by magic, even the first dose giving benefit, and seldom more than one bottle is required to cure any kind of Liver Complaint, from the worst Jaundice or Dyspepsia to a Sick Headache, all of which are the result of a Diseased Liver.
Price, $1 per bottle.

Is Your Life Insured?
There is, perhaps, nothing that creates so severe a pang on the death bed as the reflection that we are leaving those we love, perhaps a wife and children, dependent upon the cold charity of the world! Therefore every one in life should prepare for this emergency, it can be done, even by the poorest, through the agency of Life Insurance.
Every man who loves his family, ought to get his life insured; every man in debt, and owing property, ought to get his life insured, lest at his death his property may be sacrificed. There are but few who could not save a small sum annually to insure their lives; which if not insured in this way would be spent perhaps, in trifles, and their families thus be left to penury and want.
Wives, persuade your husbands—you can save enough in your household affairs to pay the premiums, without feeling it—and the reflection that you are provided for, will alone be a full recompense for the outlay. Husbands can be insured in favor of their wives and children, and the amount cannot be attached by their creditors in case of their death. A person may insure his or her own life in favor of heirs, or may dispose of the amount by will.
THE FOLLOWING SAVINGS PER WEEK IS ALL THAT IS NECESSARY TO INSURE $500 FOR ONE:

Age.		Age.		Age.
20	17 cts.	32	24 cts.	44	31½ cts.
21	17½ "	33	24½ "	45	31½ "
22	18 "	34	25 "	46	32 "
23	18½ "	35	25½ "	47	32½ "
24	19 "	36	27 "	48	40 "
25	19½ "	37	27½ "	49	42 "
26	20 "	38	29 "	50	44 "
27	21 "	39	30 "	51	45½ "
28	21½ "	40	30½ "	52	47 "
29	22 "	41	31½ "	53	50 "
30	22½ "	42	32½ "	54	52½ "
31	23 "	43	33½ "	55	55½ "

Any sum not exceeding $5000 may be insured on a single life. The premiums may be paid quarterly, half yearly or yearly.
