FROM MEXICO.

Reported Defeat and Suicide of Miramon.

[From the N. O. Delta of Oct. 16.]

Our last details from Mexico were received by way of Brownsville, Texas, and comprise accounts from San Luis Potosi to the 13th ult., up to which time there had been no fighting. Vidaurri had withdrawn his forces from that city to the hacienda of La Parada, at no great distance from it; and it was remarked that Miramon had declined Vidaurri's offer of battle, and that the latter wished to draw Miramon into the city of San Luis, where his defeat would be inevitable. So it has proved.

We have accounts which make it quite clear that there has been a most brilliant strategic victory achieved by Vidaurri. Accounts reached us yesterday through three channels—first, by way of Texas, and, secondly, through the British steamer Solent and the Spanish steamer, Mexico, via Havana, from Vera Cruz. A letter, dated Brownsville, September 26, which we found in one of our Texas exchanges, contains the following on the subject:

"It is expected here that Vidaurri will be defeated in the encounter with the priest party, of which Miramon is the head; but if defeated, he will not give up the ship, but will call in a few thousand Americans to aid him in sustaining his ideas. In the event that Vidaurri is whipped by Miramon, then I shall be authorized immediately to organize a force to join his standard. It cannot be doubted, also, that Gen. Vidaurri's defeat will be a stepping-stone to the declaration of the Republic of the Sierra Madre."

"P. S.—News has reached here from San Luis Potosi that a portion of Gen. Vidaurri's army has been defeated under Colonel Zusuna, by Gen. Miramon near San Luis Potosi. Also, that Gen. Vidaurri had issued orders for all the Spaniards to leave the country. In this city there are many of this class who have come here to escape the vengeance of these orders, as also a large number of priests whom Vidaurri has exiled."

The postscript here given does not appear like favorable news for the liberal party; but, as will be presently seen, it is in accordance with the aims of its sustainers.

Immediately after the retirement of Vidaurri from the city of San Luis Potosi, which, as reported at the time the movement was announced, was suffering under the greatest scarcity of provisions and forage, and the desertion of its inhabitants, Miramon marched in. This, according to intelligence received at Havana, by the British steamer Solent, and published in the papers of that city on the 10th instant, was on the 12th ult. The Diario de la Marina, referring to the intelligence by that steamer, announced the receipt of letters from the city of Mexico to the 1st instant, in which it was stated that a telegraphic despatch had been received, proclaiming the rout of Vidaurri by Miramon, and that the event was being celebrated by bells rung and salutes fired. So, although no particulars had been received, and many expressed doubts as to the correctness of the report. However, the celebration was persisted in, and the total rout of Vidaurri, with the loss of all his artillery, ammunition, &c., was insisted on as a fact justifying the celebration.

The news was received with manifest satisfaction in Havana, and paraded with as much glorification as time and circumstances would admit; but later, and just in time for the same edition of the papers of that city, the Spanish steamer Mexico, with very different accounts; and under the head of "Very Latest," the Diario quotes, from the Reseña de los Acontecimientos Politicos, published in the Progreso, of Vera Cruz, gives a statement that Vidaurri had gradually retreated before Miramon, but only in accordance with a strategic plan he had adopted for the purpose of drawing Miramon so far from the capital as possible, and at the same time to place him in such a position that he could be attacked from various quarters.

Now the—so-called—defeat of Zusuna, taking all the facts into consideration, is clearly nothing more than a part of the design of Vidaurri in attracting Miramon to San Luis; and the same time the only ground for all the congratulations at the capital on the reported defeat of Vidaurri. And the next step taken was the attacking of the city of San Luis from various quarters, overwhelming Miramon, of what is spoken of in telegraphic despatches from Charlemon, as "the last great battle," the result of which drove the outwitted and chagrined Zulosguista general to commit suicide.

If this is so—and we feel pretty confident that so it is—there is an end to all possibility of the present Government being able to sustain itself, and, it is to be hoped, to the efforts of the fuero party ever again to force itself into power.

This defeat has been preceded by another, of secondary importance to this alone. Gen. Casanova had been utterly routed by Degolado in Guadalajara, and the Governmental partisans at the capital were bitterly mourning it, when the telegraphic despatch about the defeat of Vidaurri conveniently arrived to cheer their drooping spirits.

The report of the imposition of a heavy forced loan at Tampico, by General Gazan, is fully confirmed.

A letter from the city of Mexico, dated the 2d instant, states more positively that an attack was about to be made on Vera Cruz. Sres. Perez Gomez and Cobos were to command the attacking corps. The Progreso of Vera Cruz notices this threatened attack, and intimates anything but fear at the result.

Echeagaray still besieged the castle of Perote, but without any result.

Five of the San Vicente assassins had been garrotted at the capital; and this is particularly noticed as a concession to the reclamations of Spain. Perhaps the fleet of Spain, said to be energetically fitting out against Mexico, will now be sent to help Zulosga against the Liberals. Quien sabe?

Zulosga had been personally insulted during the celebration of Independence Day, by having a pack of cards thrown at him, by some unknown person, while he was listening to a discourse. The celebration of the day had been suspended on account of the discovery of a conspiracy against the Government and the rich, say the partisans of the former. Nous verrons.

Singer's Sewing Machines.—That Singer's Sewing Machines make the best stitch ever invented, has been widely known for years. Other machines may make a similar stitch upon a few light fabrics, but Singer's alone are competent to do every kind of work upon every variety of fabric.

Singer's new Family Sewing Machines have the same relative superiority as his machines for manufacturing purposes. They are also more beautiful than any other.

Hemming and Binding Gauges of the most improved style are applied when desired to any of Singer's Machines.

Wichl's Sash Balances.—State and County Rights for this invaluable improvement, which received the first premium at the State Fair, are now offered for sale. It does away with cords and pullies—one sash balances the other, and both can be locked at any point. But the feature is an improvement in the great economy over weights and pullies, being not over one-half in cost, and is applicable to all frames, without regard to thickness of stuff.

Professor Saunders' Classical Institute, at the WEST PHILADELPHIA INSTITUTE, corner of MARKET Street and WILLIAM, will be reopened on the first MONDAY of September. Pupils, to the number of fifty, will be received WITHOUT EXPENSE OF FARE ON THE PASSENGER RAILWAYS OF THE CITY.

Thus, without expense, by a pleasant and safe conveyance, pupils can be carried into the fresh air of the country in less than half an hour from the centre of the city. Several acres of open ground border on the beautiful groves of this Seminary, which is patronized by many of the distinguished gentlemen of the city, among whom are the Editors of The Press, the Ledger, and The North American and United States Gazette. Pupils are received by the day, or into the family of the Principal.

"PHILADELPHIA, July 1, 1858.

"We, the undersigned, have had sons or wards in Professor Saunders' Institute and family during the Session which has just closed. In respect to parental kindness, happy influences, attention to health, and progress in thorough education, our expectations have been fully realized. To our friends, who are looking for a decidedly good school for their sons, we cordially recommend Professor Saunders' Institute.
