CURB OILS MOVE IN NARROW RANGE

Fensland the Feature in Independent Group—North American Steel Under Pressure

New York, June 3.—Trading in Standard Oil issues was more orderly on the curb today, fluctuations being confined within a comparatively narrow range, but they held close to the high levels recently established and, generally, showed a strong tone. Anglo-American was the most active of this group, making a further advance from 24¼ to the new high record of 25. Fensland was the feature in the independent group, moving up to the new high record of 19 on heavy buying. Mexican Seaboard was also prominent in the independent group, selling at 47¼ to 48.

Industrial issues reflected a halt in bullish activities, and some of these stocks were again in supply at concessions. Tobacco Products, "when issued," was traded in at 59 to 58½, and the "A" stock sold to a small extent at 82½ to 81¾. Tennessee Railway second preferred sold at 22¼. North American Steel was under pressure from several sources and yielded from 60 to below 49.

Packard Motors was again strong, with sales at 16¼ and 16½. Glen Alden Coal held firm, selling at 55. A sale of Goodyear preferred was made at 40.

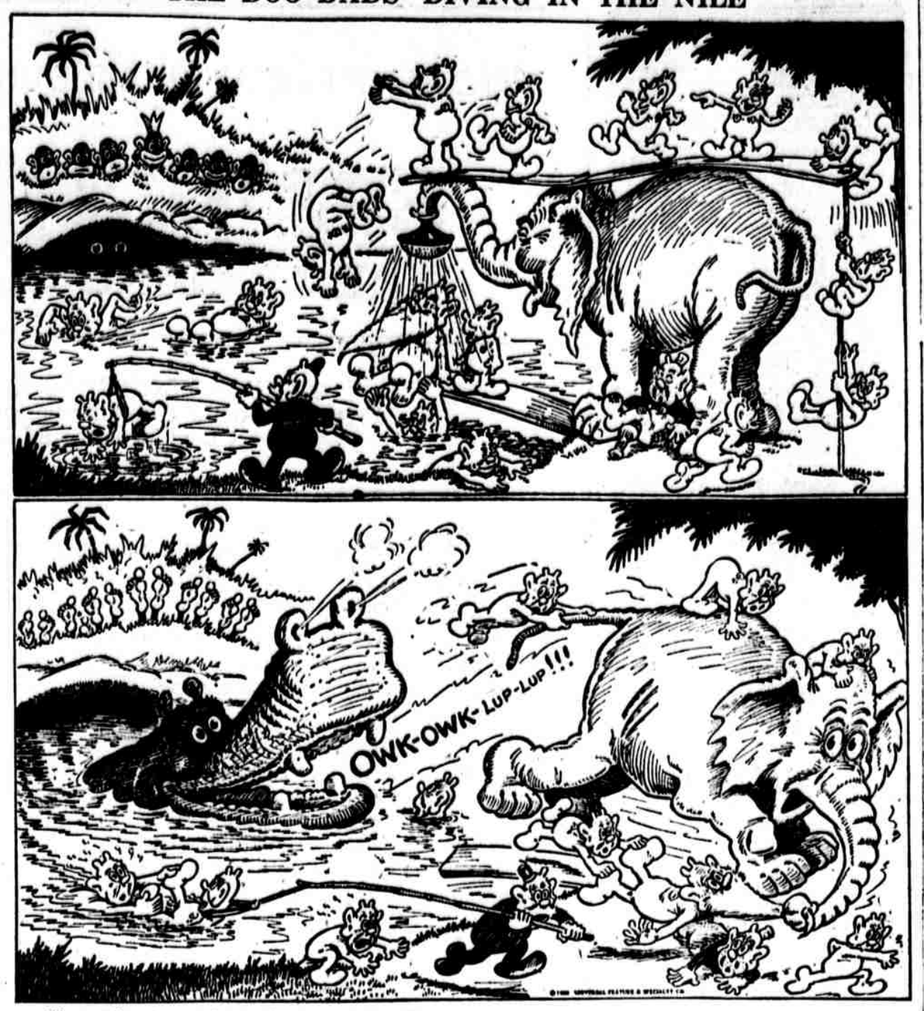
THE DOO DADS DIVING IN THE NILE



The weather is very hot in the Upper Nile. The Doo Dads were fairly suffocated with the heat, so they all decided to go swimming. But there was no good diving place on the low lands, and, with their usual ingenuity, they fixed up a diving board. To support it, they borrowed old Jumbo, King Koko's pet elephant. They climb up a rope, take a good run along the diving board and then off they go into the deep waters of the Nile.

Doc. Sawbones is rather old for this youthful sport, so he has fixed up a shower bath for himself by getting old Jumbo to sprinkle him through the sprinkler of a watering can. Flannelfeet, the Cop, is giving the the youngest Doo Dad his first swimming lesson. Sleepy Sam, the Hobo, is not indulging in the sport. When they suggested it to him the dirty young rascal was quite horrified, and said that he could keep cool by lying down in the shade, where, of course, he was soon fast asleep, as usual.

From the opposite bank King Koko and his subjects are looking on. They are afraid that some great animal may be lurking around to eat up their little guests, and perhaps they are right, for see the fierce eyes which are glaring out of the dark cavern at the Doo Dads.

The eyes belong to old Hippo, King Koko's pet hippopotamus. He has no idea of eating the Doo Dads up, but only of giving them a good scare. Out he came with a rush and a roar, frightening everybody but of their wits. Even old Jumbo became panic-stricken. He wheeled and dashed away, scattering the Doo Dads in every direction.
