CORRESPONDENCE OF THE GLOBE.

EDITOR OF THE GLOBE :- In compliance with your suggestion I have made a little note of the grain crops and other affairs in different townships through which I passed.

In Shirley township the wheat looks well, and may be considered an average crop in all parts of the township, while in certain sections it presents a fine appearance. Rye and oats look rather favorable. Clover is a ittle short but a pretty fair yield can be depended upon. Timothy is better than usual. The corn, as in most parts of the county is backward, and as in many other places the farmers planted a second and a third time.— Mr. Sem'l Douglass, an enterprising farmer, was planting on the 12th June, and he assured me that he had planted the same field on the 25th, in a former year, and that his corn ripened. This gentleman is building a very fine barn. Numerous other citizens throughout the township, and the P. R. Road Company at Mt. Union are improving by way of building, showing that Shirley township possesses the elements of active industry. Ap-Orbisonia, and a tri-weekly mail-coach to The Johnstown Echo says that the Chambersburg. The coaches are neat and leysburg shows a spirit of industry and improvement. The streets are clean and to some extent adorned with shade trees. This village is a corporation and it contains a Female Seminary and an Academy for boys .--I visited both schools and think them under the care of competent instructors. CROMWELL.—In this township we find a great variety of soil-clay, slate, limestone gravel, and a fine quality of limestone. In Black Log Valley, and near the residence of Mr. Walter Galbraith, I observe projecting dips of limestone of the best quality, and inferior to none that I have observed between Pleasant Valley in Blair county and Lancaster. NORTH HENDERSON, MERCER COUNTY, ILLINOIS, }

JUNE 14, 1856. DEAR LEWIS:-I promised to write you from the Prairie land, on my arrival, and desire one or two stripes for not doing so for a week afterwards. Still there is some allowance to be made for one who had never seen the great Valley before. First impressions always to be relied on, and I wanted time for more observation and a little familiarity with scenes so different to those with which I have been accustomed from childhood. I do not know that the appearance of this country took me at all by surprise. Geography and fancy every invention calculated to reduce and save manual labor, is fifty years ahead of the east. This is partly owing to the adaption of the country to the use of machinery, and partly to a necessity, arising from the high price of labor. The people, too, live comfortably, in convenient houses generally, and all bountifully supplied, not only with the necessaries, but the luxuries of life.

In regard to the crops, I have seen nothing ike it in my life. From the time we left the ow marshes around the brow of Lake Michigan, through the whole length of the State to the Mississippi, where I was yesterday, I have not seen a single spotted or inferior field of wheat. No furrow vacancies, nor thin uneven blotches, mar the level and waving surface that covers these sea-like prairies. Great quantities of wheat are sown this spring, and from present appearances, notwithstanding the weather here has been exceedingly dry dant. I was much gratified at this, for on our passage through North-western Ohio, I observed as I thought, sad indications of a plentiful harvest. Some fields, indeed, looked well, but by far the greater number were anything else than promising. The towns here are different from our Eastern towns, and seem to be laid out without any regard to the economy of land, but they look fresh, thriving, and throw the advertisement of the enterprise upon the winds. Monmouth, the seat of justice of Warren county, in which I now am with my friends, (being just over the line of Mercer,) is a very thriving village, and in a few years has grown up from a few scattered families to a city of some 2500 or 3000 population. Galesburg, some 18 miles up the Burlington and Chicago rail road is a beautiful place, containing two colleges, one female seminary, besides other institutions of learning, and about 5000 population. It is situated in a beautiful prairie, its streets, (as is the case with all western towns) spacious, and lined with beautiful trees; the roads leading into it, also likewise decorated, dotted here and there with some building of architectural taste and beauty, whilst the town itself, like a second Jalapa, seems as if it had really fallen from heaven, and lies like the picture of Paradise in a frame of diamonds. But for dirt, business, noise, grandeur and insanity, commend me to Chicago. It is all dirt in the streets, it is all business over the dirt, all-noise in the midst of business, and this never ceases; grandeur, in the immense size and capacity of its warehouses and many of its business buildings lately put up, and in the ocean-like Lake, that heaves her broad bosom up against her wharves, with her stately ships and steamboats, that ride upon it; and insanity in the race after wealth, stretching beyond ordinary enterprize, with an insanity after the single idea. Chicago is indeed favored. Everything combines to make her a great city—the city of the Lakes, the greatest city in America off the two oceans.

For The Globe. Mr. Epitor :- It has become almost proverbial that the people of the present age-in this part of the world, are better acquainted with foreign scenery, than they are with that of our own country, which is so much admired by strangers. Permit one who has from childhood, perused with pleasure, the columns of your instructive paper, to give to your numerous readers a short sketch of a rural valley in which so many of their sons and brothers are pursuing their studies, under peculiar Germany Valley-poetically, the Vale of is pleasantly situated between the Tuscarora

Perry. For wild and picturesque scenery, this mountain is surpassed by few, in the Keystone State. On the public thoroughfare, leading from Mifflintown to Waterford, the traveller frequently passes farms and farm houses which at once convey to the mind the impression that their occupants "live at home." The Valley is about six miles in width. The soil being heavy limestone, is productive, and in good state of cultivation. The Agriculturists in this vicinity evidently show more taste, in laying out their fields, and constructing their buildings than those of many parts of the State.

Eight miles from Mifflin, omerging from a

On a steep declivity, a short distance from the Academy, the Presbyterian portion of the community, have erected a handsome brick church, in which Rev. G. W. Thompson, one of the most popular and successful ministers of the Huntingdon Presbytery, officiates as Pastor. A walk of 'ten minutes brings us to Tuscarora Female Seminary. This institution was founded in 1854 by Rev. WM. GARTHWAIT, of New Jersey. The building is large and convenient; commanding an extensive prospect of the surrounding country. The grounds are being laid out and beautified with ornamental trees. Both these institutions are enjoying a liberal share of patronage from the sister States, and bid fair to rank among the best institutions of the kind in the country. Nature has lavished upon this lovely Valley more than an ordinary share of attractions. At the distance of a mile from the Academy, there is a conical hill, at the base of which there is an object worthy of note, known as the "Indian Mound," There lie mouldering in the dust, the bones of many of the once powerful tribe of Tuscaroras. They have gathered around the council fire and sung their war song for the last time, and many 'moons ago" they have departed to the "happy hunting grounds of their fathers." The wild deer has fled from the mountain, sides; the dense forests have disappeared before the woodman's axe; but the same silvery stream glides merrily along, as it did when the children of the forest tossed its crystal spray from the oars of their light canoes.

Governor Shannon's Proclamation.

Below we give Governor Shannon's proclamation, previously spoken of in our telegraphic despatches. The firm, temperate, and impartial stand taken by the Governor coupled with the judicious and energetic course pursued by Colonel Sumner, will, we sincerely trust, soon relieve the Territory from the state of anarchy and excitement into which it has been plunged by the wicked counsels and mad appeals of fanatics and demagogues:

PROCLAMATION. By the Governor of the Territory of Kansas, Whereas information has been received by us that armed odies of men exist in different parts of this Territory, who have committed, and threaten to commit, acts of law less violence on peaceable and unoffending citizens-ta king them prisoners, despoiling them of their property, and threatening great personal violence:

It appearing, also, that armed combinations have been found from the property against the averaging the property. It appearing use, that armed combinations have been formed for the express purpose of resisting the execution of the territorial laws and preventing the execution of and process by the officers of this territory:

It appearing further that individuals, as well as associated bodies of men, have assumed to themselves the power of notifying citizens of the Territory to leave their abodes, and in some instances to quit the country, under threats and in some instances to quit the country, under threats of inflicting severe penalties on those who do not comply:

Now, therefore, I, Wilson Shannon, governor of the Territory of Kansas, do issue this my proclamation, to command all persons belonging to military organizations within this Territory, not authorized by the laws thereof, to disperse and retire to their respective abodes, and to warn all such persons that these military organizations for such purposes are illegal, and, if necessary, will be dispersed by the military force placed by the President of the United States at my disposal for the purpose of preserving the peace and enforcing the laws of the Territory; that steps have been taken to disperse all unlawful military organizations which are threatening the peace of the country and the good order of society, and to disarm them should they reassemble. should they reassemble.

All civil officers of the government are required to be vigilant in enforcing the laws against such offenders, and in protecting the citizens both in their persons and prop-

In protecting the claims both in their persons and property against all violence and wrong.

I further declare that all notices given to citizens or persons found in the Territory to leave the same, or their house, or any particular locality, are un-authorized by law and highly reprehensible, as tending to breaches of the peace and violence and disorder.

I further declare that all law-abiding citizens of the Territory without regard to party, names, or distinctions, must be protected in their persons and property, and that all military organizations to resist the execution of the laws of the Territory, or to disturb the peace thereof, must be dispersed; and all aggressive parties from without the Territory must be repelled. That the military force placed under the control of the executive of this Territory is amply sufficient to enforce the laws and to protect the I further declare that in carrying out this proclamation, no distinction or inquiry is to be made as to party, but all persons of all parties are to be treated alike under like circounstances.

"Obedience to the laws, and consequent security of the citizens of Kansas, are primary objects; and all-lawless violence within the Territory, in whatever form it may manifest itself, must be repressed," and the proclamation of the United States of the 11th February last will be strictly enforced; and a requisition has been made on Col. Summer for a sufficient military force to insure obedience to the proclamation. Leafly and good citizens to aid and to the proclamation. I call on all good citizens to aid and assist in preserving peace, repressing violence, and intringing offenders to justice, and in maintaining the supremacy of the law.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and [L. S.] caused the seal of the Territory to be affixed this

Mormon Leader, Shot. The U. S. steamer Michigan, Captain Charles McBlair, arrived at this port, yesterday, from the Lakes. While lying at St. James, Beaver Islands, on the afternoon of the 16th inst., a tragical event occurred on shore, which will probably result in the death of James J. Strang, the well known leader of the Mormon settlement at that place. We derive the following brief details from Cant. McBlair:

It seems that Captain McBlair had occasion to send Strang on business, who while on his way, to the vessel, in company with the pilot, was waylaid, and shot down with pistols, Alexander Wentworth and Thomas Bedford, two of the former followers.

He received three balls in his body, one striking the skull behind the ear, glancing, and passing out; one lodging near the upper sight of Tuscarora Academy. This popular | maxillary bones of the face; and the third close to the spinal column. After he had fallen, one of his assailants followed up and attack by a violent blow of his pistol over his head, producing a severe contusion of his brow and left eye.

The Michigan left Beaver Islands at noon on the 17th, when Strang was living and sensible, but thought to be in a critica state. Seven families, including those of the petitioners, and consisting in all of near thirty persons, Mormon secoders, thought it prulent to quit the Island, and took passage in the steamer to Mackinac.
