

Agent of the Pennsylvania Ohio and West Virginia Press Association.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Brief Mention—Home-made and Stolen.

April 24. Lost 100.

April showers.

The grass is growing.

"Jam" the stove-pipe.

Last month for oysters.

"Glass hillside" soon.

Clean up your premises.

Enter eggs in prize.

High winds Sunday night.

Spades will soon be trump.

A strong Court is predicted.

Did they make a fool of you?

Whet your surroundings.

Home cleaning in all its glory.

Never in order—family quarrels.

"How do you like your new home?"

The puzzle business is quieting down.

The egg market was glatted last week.

Thunder and lightning Saturday night.

The season for public sales is about over.

Deposits received meetings have closed.

The public schools were closed last Friday.

Vendor predilex a deep snore for this month.

The banks of our town were closed on Friday.

You can now fish legally for the speckled beauties.

Painters are using their "little brushes" just now.

"Gals" words and rancorous stove pipe to the fore.

County fairs are already advertising their children.

Telephone wires connect Altoona with the country-teen.

Miss Harriet Shuck has returned to her home in this place.

The price of printing paper has still an upward tendency.

Saturday, May 29, has been fixed upon as Decoration Day.

The new Town Council will hold its first meeting to-night.

Mrs. Abner Lamp is having her Millin street property paroled.

Last week is known in the religious calendar as "Holy Week."

The game of 15 only 20 cents at the Journal Store. By mail 25 cents.

Easter Sunday was a rough day; Easter Monday wasn't much better.

The lecture room in the new Baptist church is a cozy and inviting place.

The seventeen year locusts are announced for this year. Let them come.

Nineteen persons will make application for license at this term of Court.

Good Friday was observed to the highest degree by our Catholic population.

These farmers were housing four-inch ice last week, a better time than never.

For the April Term of Court, twenty-six civil suits have been set down for trial.

Cows on the streets are a public nuisance and should be abated. "Pound" them.

The H. & B. R. R. coal shipments for the week ending March 27, were 5,452 tons.

And the foundation of the Tyrone paper mill is going up very slowly but surely.

Rev. W. H. Hill is visiting his membership hereabouts on Friday and Saturday.

The newly elected borough and township officers went into office today, Thursday.

The temperance meeting held at the Court House on Sunday afternoon was well attended.

Canal boatmen are busy punching out on the beams of their boats and packing them.

The Jewish Passover is over. It was observed rigidly by our Hebrew neighbors here.

A wild monkey in the woods of Luzerne county is causing considerable excitement in that section.

The demand for butter is greater than the supply. "This ever thus in the spring time, gentle Annie."

Arrangements have been made to let the water into the canal line of the Pennsylvania Canal to-day.

Rev. Craft, pastor of the Baptist church, baptized six persons at the "Willow Tree," Sunday noon.

On Thursday eggs were ten cents per dozen, and by Saturday night fifteen cents were asked for them.

Judge Miller is snugly ensconced in his new quarters, corner of Fourth and Millin streets. Go and see him.

Presiding Elder Thompson Mitchell preached in the West Huntingdon Chapel Sunday morning and evening.

The ticket agent's name as Robt. Stabile, this county, is J. H. H. McCarthy. It was recently appointed.

The Spring Session of the Brethren Normal College commenced on Monday, with an excellent list of students.

Bedford has a successful 99 cent store—Huntingdon has none. That's the difference between the two places.

The temperance meetings held last week were well attended, and quite a number of our people signed the pledge.

Sunday was a sandwich day, and as a consequence churches and Sunday schools were not largely attended.

During the temperance meeting held last week two hundred persons, old and young, signed the pledge.

Fresh paint is being applied to buildings in nearly all parts of our town. Some of them are not getting it too soon.

Every one of our ministers for some time past have been preaching very practical sermons to their congregations.

They say the Hollidaysburg Register is to be enlarged to nine columns in the near future. We trust the rumor is correct.

Rev. Hinkle after spending a few days with relatives in Cumberland, Md., returned to his home the latter part of last week.

Fresh shad has been on sale in this market, but they have too lively a taste to tickle the palate of a poor devil of a printer.

The Gazette says the coal trade is as dead as a mackerel on the Bedford Division, owing to the strike in the Cumberland region.

There was very quiet about closing up its affairs on Wednesday. Taken as a whole month, the past week Geo. A. Port sold over six thousand pounds of fresh meats at his Fifth street market. That looks like business.

The Cambria county new Court house will be of stone and brick, 12x40 feet, and two stories high. It will be built during the coming summer.

It is reported that a Mapleton man offers to deliver potatoes in Altoona for forty cents per bushel. Hereabouts they command forty-five cents per bushel.

Our legal friend, T. W. Myron, and family, are on a tour through the western country. They left last week, and expect to be absent until the first of June.

The bands in the passenger and cabinet shops of Altoona, commenced to work to-day on Tuesday. They will work thirteen hours every other day.

Prof. A. L. Guss arrived at home on Sunday morning, and after spending a few days with his family, had himself to the city of magnificent distances.

Ben. Tinsel, Books, of Hollidaysburg, has no recovered from illness of two or three hours every day in his office.

Sheriff Vane, having more real estate on hand than any one man ever tried to sell, will dispose of several fine tracts of land, on Friday next, at one o'clock.

Some of our fine men get employed in the lumber business, as wood choppers are in demand, and some of them don't work of that kind.

Owing to the inability to heat the Penn Street Hall to the right point for comfort, the suspension meeting to be held in the Court House the latter part of last week.

Superintendent Geo. F. Gage is snugly quartered in his new home, in West Huntingdon. It is a pleasant location, and everything about the premises wears a look of comfort.

Our merchants are looking on for the advertising columns of the Journal, and purchase from those whose cards are to be found in them.

It is asserted that when the reported ten per cent advance is added to the wages of the men in the railroad shops at Altoona, about $150,000 per month will be required to pay them off.

The miners are still out in the Clearfield coal regions, and the coal business in that neck 'o' timber is at a dead stand still. It is not more than likely that the dead lock will break this week.

A couple of young men, on Sunday last, were in a beastly state of intoxication, and their wife, who was in the street, was in a very bad way.

Our little "if you are for your paper pay your puzze" is having a good run in our exchanges, without credit, of course. The Bedford Inquirer, we believe, is the only paper that gives no credit for its advertising.

The store room belonging to D. W. Gwin is being repaired, as well as the home adjoining it. The former will be occupied by Messrs. Isenberg & Maguire, and the latter by a first-class grocery store in a few days.

For some time past a Cambria county farmer has been losing lambs, but had no trace to where they went. So the other day he watched his flock, and found the thief, which proved to be a dog.

The Bedford Inquirer says that Geo. Friday came on a Tuesday. Can this little incident be attributed to the fifty barrels of "pre-oldey whisky—Bedford county make,"—advertised for sale last week?

The directors of the Pennsylvania railroad, at a meeting on Wednesday week, agreed to advance the wages of all officers and employees of the road to what they were prior to June 1st, 1877, to take effect from to-day.

Miss Zernah White, a sister of Mr. Dexter White, of Bedford, was married to the son of her brother-in-law, Mr. Wm. Gray, on Saturday morning. Her remains were taken to Lancaster on Tuesday morning for interment.

A Huntingdon girl, who left this place with the famous Hay train, and who was married in Altoona, Ohio, first by taking a dose of aconite, and then by drowning herself in a bath tub, neither of which efforts proved successful.

The county, city and borough superintendents of the public schools of this county, will hold a three day convention at Harrisburg, commencing on the 20th inst. About one hundred superintendents are expected to take part.

On Saturday night our town was visited with a thunder storm. The thunder sounded like the roaring of heavy artillery, the lightning a vivid and a thunder storm in March.

A heartless mother left her two-months-old female babe on the porch of an Eleventh Avenue domicile in Altoona, on Friday night, and it was found by the police, and the mother will be taken care of by her. Altoona is gaining a reputation.

And now the house wife who has removed into her new quarters, can have a chance to say that "she never lives in," after dashing a bucket full of water in her face, and then makes it fit for pigs to live in.

Mr. William Hicks, of Southfield, near this place, who had been working at the Hotel, was killed by a horse on Sunday morning at the latter place. His remains were brought here on Monday, and taken to M'Connellsville on Tuesday for interment.

William Lightner, of Willits Creek, Huntingdon county, is a veteran of the war of 1812-15, and was seen on our street yesterday.

Notwithstanding the eighty-five winters that have overtaken him, he is active, hale and hearty.—Altoona Tribune.

A private letter from Mr. Henry H. Gardner to a friend in Hollidaysburg, says that Capt. Wm. K. Butcherlin is lying dangerously ill at Deaver, Cal., with a broken heart.

The many friends of the Captain here will be sorry to hear of his indisposition.

Our neighboring town of Tyrone is desirous of monopolizing all the industries of the county. With her paper mill, her extensive coal mines, her large mill, her distillery, her match factory (7), etc., that town is on the high road to prominence and prosperity.

A number of Altoona gentlemen have banded themselves into a game association, and have ordered by ballot a number of quail from Missouri, and about one hundred Sicily quail. The birds were received with much interest, and they are to be placed on farms adjacent to that city for the purpose of propagation.

The strike on the Cumberland & Pennsylvania railroad in Maryland, has closed all coal mines in that section, delays the opening of the canal, and stops all coal shipments on the water front of this county. The loss is estimated at $1,000 per day. When will fools learn to be wise?

Mr. H. H. Hewitt, of Williamsburg, is building a chicken coop 8x45 feet, near that town, with the intention of going into the raising of chickens. It is to be a fine specimen of a living room will be made for the keeper, whose business it will be to keep away thieves and attend to the poultry.

Sombody is after the "puzze" inventor; let's take him and abate him instantly; let's break all his bones, let's make what he owns of intellect turn in perpetual will, just as our mind power is hurt by a mean external, infernal, gun puzzle machine.

Bishop Peck says 269 pounds. Rather hefty for a Bishop, but when you take into consideration the kind of food he sits down on three times a day, it is not to be wondered at.

We know an editor down the road who weighs a little more than 600 pounds, and he only lives on wad pudding.

It is estimated that over $250,000 have been lost in consequence of the Clearfield coal strike, the miners, drivers and other workers having been the losers to the tune of $120,000, the five weeks they have been out. Will our mining profits be broad top returns profit by this example?—Bedford Recorder.

We are informed that an effort is being made to re-organize the Huntingdon Silver Casket band, with considerable show of success. We hope the gentlemen having the matter in charge may meet with success, and that ere long Huntingdon will have a musical organization of which she may be proud.

Mr. John B. Carter, who removed from Mt. Union to Johnstown, in 1872, was struck on his back, on Friday week. He had two strokes, the first one did not affect him very much, but shortly afterwards he received another, which paralyzed his right side and impeded his speech. He is growing better.

They say Morrison's Cure (Bedford county) farmers are raising oil margarine as good butter. Bar county farmers are at the same work, and from the same source, and are to this place, several of our people are up to the little game, too. It caught them up like the penny, they can be humiliated in the same old way.

Capt. Tom Johnston, of the firm of Henry & Co., is now in New York purchasing the second stock of new goods this Spring. Goods will commence to arrive this week, and as the Captain is an old hand at the business, we expect many will expect a large and varied stock of goods to select from. Go and examine them.

The scholars composing the school taught by our young friend, M. R. Shaffer, gave an entertainment at Concord school house, on Friday evening of last week, which was spoken of in complimentary terms. The exercises consisted of dialogues, recitations, etc., which were highly appreciated. Both tutor and pupils deserved credit.

The proposed narrow-gauge railroad from Rock Hill Furnace, this county, to Fort Ligonier, Fulton county, will not be built at the present time, owing to the fact that the owners of the land over which it was to pass became greedy and raised the price of their possession. This ever is the case when a man has a piece of land which is raised to being

The citizens of Altoona have been given until the 24th inst. to decide whether they shall be a freemen's parade on the 5th of July.

As the business citizens of that town will be very much benefited by the large number of people present on that day, the freemen and town to shell out the "shekel" freely, so as to make the affair a success.

Mr. Armitage is having the exterior of his residence, corner of Fourth and Millin streets, repainted, and his interior is being decorated with his spears. Maj. Pettibone has done the same thing to his residence, and the exterior is being repainted.

As Altoona gentlemen have also in contemplation the stocking of the streams in that section with fish, and are not content to spend their money to accomplish their desire, we expect soon to hear that all the streams thereabouts are being stocked with the various kinds of game fish. Huntingdon sportsmen seem to be behind the age, and while the merchants are doing all they can to improve the hunting and fishing, they are content to put up with such game as is usually found in this region.

Some years ago we urged the sowing of wild rice along the banks of our streams for the purpose of bringing wild water fowl here, and our suggestion has been taken to a large extent by our local sportsmen, but when the time came for collecting the money to seed for the rice, there were various objections urged against it, and the project was abandoned.

Other towns east of us, Harrisburg, Lewis-Port, etc., did sow rice about that time, it grew nicely, and already large numbers of water fowl have been seen in that section where it is growing. If our sportsmen would improve the hunting and fishing in this locality they must spend some money to do so.

We are in receipt of a letter from Wm. A. Crane, Esq., of New York, Secretary of the Orange and Hudson county Antwerp Clubs, asking us to receive, care for, and liberate a lot of temperance pigeons on the day of the flying match. We have agreed to do so, but as the day for the match has not been settled upon we are unable to give the time.

We presented to Mr. Joseph Peck, of Cumberland Valley, eight miles from town, for the removal of his right eye, the sight of which had been lost entirely from an injury received twenty years ago. The eye never gave him any trouble, but recently the sight of the eye began to fail, which necessitated the removal of the injured eye in order to save the sound one. The patient was put under the influence of ether and the operation successfully performed. He returned home yesterday fully recovered, and in a few weeks the eye will be inserted.—Bedford Gazette.

Dr. Funderberg will shortly locate in Huntingdon, and will be in charge of the practice of the Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat.

A PLEASANT MATRIMONIAL EVENT.—Last evening Mr. J. William King, of Huntingdon, formerly of New York, and Mrs. Fannie Kipper, also of Huntingdon, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony at the residence of Mr. King, by Rev. J. R. Smith, pastor of the Presbyterian church in this town. The happy couple repaired to the residence of Mr. Deale, on Twelfth avenue, where they received the congratulations of their friends. The wedding was made the recipient of many beautiful, useful and ornamental presents. May they live to celebrate their golden wedding in this happy city.

John Peck, Esq., of New York, and Mrs. Fannie Kipper, also of Huntingdon, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony at the residence of Mr. King, by Rev. J. R. Smith, pastor of the Presbyterian church in this town. The happy couple repaired to the residence of Mr. Deale, on Twelfth avenue, where they received the congratulations of their friends. The wedding was made the recipient of many beautiful, useful and ornamental presents. May they live to celebrate their golden wedding in this happy city.

John Peck, Esq., of New York, and Mrs. Fannie Kipper, also of Huntingdon, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony at the residence of Mr. King, by Rev. J. R. Smith, pastor of the Presbyterian church in this town. The happy couple repaired to the residence of Mr. Deale, on Twelfth avenue, where they received the congratulations of their friends. The wedding was made the recipient of many beautiful, useful and ornamental presents. May they live to celebrate their golden wedding in this happy city.

John Peck, Esq., of New York, and Mrs. Fannie Kipper, also of Huntingdon, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony at the residence of Mr. King, by Rev. J. R. Smith, pastor of the Presbyterian church in this town. The happy couple repaired to the residence of Mr. Deale, on Twelfth avenue, where they received the congratulations of their friends. The wedding was made the recipient of many beautiful, useful and ornamental presents. May they live to celebrate their golden wedding in this happy city.

John Peck, Esq., of New York, and Mrs. Fannie Kipper, also of Huntingdon, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony at the residence of Mr. King, by Rev. J. R. Smith, pastor of the Presbyterian church in this town. The happy couple repaired to the residence of Mr. Deale, on Twelfth avenue, where they received the congratulations of their friends. The wedding was made the recipient of many beautiful, useful and ornamental presents. May they live to celebrate their golden wedding in this happy city.

John Peck, Esq., of New York, and Mrs. Fannie Kipper, also of Huntingdon, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony at the residence of Mr. King, by Rev. J. R. Smith, pastor of the Presbyterian church in this town. The happy couple repaired to the residence of Mr. Deale, on Twelfth avenue, where they received the congratulations of their friends. The wedding was made the recipient of many beautiful, useful and ornamental presents. May they live to celebrate their golden wedding in this happy city.

John Peck, Esq., of New York, and Mrs. Fannie Kipper, also of Huntingdon, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony at the residence of Mr. King, by Rev. J. R. Smith, pastor of the Presbyterian church in this town. The happy couple repaired to the residence of Mr. Deale, on Twelfth avenue, where they received the congratulations of their friends. The wedding was made the recipient of many beautiful, useful and ornamental presents. May they live to celebrate their golden wedding in this happy city.

John Peck, Esq., of New York, and Mrs. Fannie Kipper, also of Huntingdon, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony at the residence of Mr. King, by Rev. J. R. Smith, pastor of the Presbyterian church in this town. The happy couple repaired to the residence of Mr. Deale, on Twelfth avenue, where they received the congratulations of their friends. The wedding was made the recipient of many beautiful, useful and ornamental presents. May they live to celebrate their golden wedding in this happy city.

John Peck, Esq., of New York, and Mrs. Fannie Kipper, also of Huntingdon, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony at the residence of Mr. King, by Rev. J. R. Smith, pastor of the Presbyterian church in this town. The happy couple repaired to the residence of Mr. Deale, on Twelfth avenue, where they received the congratulations of their friends. The wedding was made the recipient of many beautiful, useful and ornamental presents. May they live to celebrate their golden wedding in this happy city.

John Peck, Esq., of New York, and Mrs. Fannie Kipper, also of Huntingdon, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony at the residence of Mr. King, by Rev. J. R. Smith, pastor of the Presbyterian church in this town. The happy couple repaired to the residence of Mr. Deale, on Twelfth avenue, where they received the congratulations of their friends. The wedding was made the recipient of many beautiful, useful and ornamental presents. May they live to celebrate their golden wedding in this happy city.

John Peck, Esq., of New York, and Mrs. Fannie Kipper, also of Huntingdon, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony at the residence of Mr. King, by Rev. J. R. Smith, pastor of the Presbyterian church in this town. The happy couple repaired to the residence of Mr. Deale, on Twelfth avenue, where they received the congratulations of their friends. The wedding was made the recipient of many beautiful, useful and ornamental presents. May they live to celebrate their golden wedding in this happy city.

John Peck, Esq., of New York, and Mrs. Fannie Kipper, also of Huntingdon, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony at the residence of Mr. King, by Rev. J. R. Smith, pastor of the Presbyterian church in this town. The happy couple repaired to the residence of Mr. Deale, on Twelfth avenue, where they received the congratulations of their friends. The wedding was made the recipient of many beautiful, useful and ornamental presents. May they live to celebrate their golden wedding in this happy city.

John Peck, Esq., of New York, and Mrs. Fannie Kipper, also of Huntingdon, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony at the residence of Mr. King, by Rev. J. R. Smith, pastor of the Presbyterian church in this town. The happy couple repaired to the residence of Mr. Deale, on Twelfth avenue, where they received the congratulations of their friends. The wedding was made the recipient of many beautiful, useful and ornamental presents. May they live to celebrate their golden wedding in this happy city.

John Peck, Esq., of New York, and Mrs. Fannie Kipper, also of Huntingdon, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony at the residence of Mr. King, by Rev. J. R. Smith, pastor of the Presbyterian church in this town. The happy couple repaired to the residence of Mr. Deale, on Twelfth avenue, where they received the congratulations of their friends. The wedding was made the recipient of many beautiful, useful and ornamental presents. May they live to celebrate their golden wedding in this happy city.

John Peck, Esq., of New York, and Mrs. Fannie Kipper, also of Huntingdon, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony at the residence of Mr. King, by Rev. J. R. Smith, pastor of the Presbyterian church in this town. The happy couple repaired to the residence of Mr. Deale, on Twelfth avenue, where they received the congratulations of their friends. The wedding was made the recipient of many beautiful, useful and ornamental presents. May they live to celebrate their golden wedding in this happy city.

John Peck, Esq., of New York, and Mrs. Fannie Kipper, also of Huntingdon, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony at the residence of Mr. King, by Rev. J. R. Smith, pastor of the Presbyterian church in this town. The happy couple repaired to the residence of Mr. Deale, on Twelfth avenue, where they received the congratulations of their friends. The wedding was made the recipient of many beautiful, useful and ornamental presents. May they live to celebrate their golden wedding in this happy city.

John Peck, Esq., of New York, and Mrs. Fannie Kipper, also of Huntingdon, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony at the residence of Mr. King, by Rev. J. R. Smith, pastor of the Presbyterian church in this town. The happy couple repaired to the residence of Mr. Deale, on Twelfth avenue, where they received the congratulations of their friends. The wedding was made the recipient of many beautiful, useful and ornamental presents. May they live to celebrate their golden wedding in this happy city.

John Peck, Esq., of New York, and Mrs. Fannie Kipper, also of Huntingdon, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony at the residence of Mr. King, by Rev. J. R. Smith, pastor of the Presbyterian church in this town. The happy couple repaired to the residence of Mr. Deale, on Twelfth avenue, where they received the congratulations of their friends. The wedding was made the recipient of many beautiful, useful and ornamental presents. May they live to celebrate their golden wedding in this happy city.

John Peck, Esq., of New York, and Mrs. Fannie Kipper, also of Huntingdon, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony at the residence of Mr. King, by Rev. J. R. Smith, pastor of the Presbyterian church in this town. The happy couple repaired to the residence of Mr. Deale, on Twelfth avenue, where they received the congratulations of their friends. The wedding was made the recipient of many beautiful, useful and ornamental presents. May they live to celebrate their golden wedding in this happy city.

John Peck, Esq., of New York, and Mrs. Fannie Kipper, also of Huntingdon, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony at the residence of Mr. King, by Rev. J. R. Smith, pastor of the Presbyterian church in this town. The happy couple repaired to the residence of Mr. Deale, on Twelfth avenue, where they received the congratulations of their friends. The wedding was made the recipient of many beautiful, useful and ornamental presents. May they live to celebrate their golden wedding in this happy city.

John Peck, Esq., of New York, and Mrs. Fannie Kipper, also of Huntingdon, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony at the residence of Mr. King, by Rev. J. R. Smith, pastor of the Presbyterian church in this town. The happy couple repaired to the residence of Mr. Deale, on Twelfth avenue, where they received the congratulations of their friends. The wedding was made the recipient of many beautiful, useful and ornamental presents. May they live to celebrate their golden wedding in this happy city.

John Peck, Esq., of New York, and Mrs. Fannie Kipper, also of Huntingdon, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony at the residence of Mr. King, by Rev. J. R. Smith, pastor of the Presbyterian church in this town. The happy couple repaired to the residence of Mr. Deale, on Twelfth avenue, where they received the congratulations of their friends. The wedding was made the recipient of many beautiful, useful and ornamental presents. May they live to celebrate their golden wedding in this happy city.

John Peck, Esq., of New York, and Mrs. Fannie Kipper, also of Huntingdon, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony at the residence of Mr. King, by Rev. J. R. Smith, pastor of the Presbyterian church in this town. The happy couple repaired to the residence of Mr. Deale, on Twelfth avenue, where they received the congratulations of their friends. The wedding was made the recipient of many beautiful, useful and ornamental presents. May they live to celebrate their golden wedding in this happy city.

John Peck, Esq., of New York, and Mrs. Fannie Kipper, also of Huntingdon, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony at the residence of Mr. King, by Rev. J. R. Smith, pastor of the Presbyterian church in this town. The happy couple repaired to the residence of Mr. Deale, on Twelfth avenue, where they received the congratulations of their friends. The wedding was made the recipient of many beautiful, useful and ornamental presents. May they live to celebrate their golden wedding in this happy city.

John Peck, Esq., of New York, and Mrs. Fannie Kipper, also of Huntingdon, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony at the residence of Mr. King, by Rev. J. R. Smith, pastor of the Presbyterian church in this town. The happy couple repaired to the residence of Mr. Deale, on Twelfth avenue, where they received the congratulations of their friends. The wedding was made the recipient of many beautiful, useful and ornamental presents. May they live to celebrate their golden wedding in this happy city.

John Peck, Esq., of New York, and Mrs. Fannie Kipper, also of Huntingdon, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony at the residence of Mr. King, by Rev. J. R. Smith, pastor of the Presbyterian church in this town. The happy couple repaired to the residence of Mr. Deale, on Twelfth avenue, where they received the congratulations of their friends. The wedding was made the recipient of many beautiful, useful and ornamental presents. May they live to celebrate their golden wedding in this happy city.

John Peck, Esq., of New York, and Mrs. Fannie Kipper, also of Huntingdon, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony at the residence of Mr. King, by Rev. J. R. Smith, pastor of the Presbyterian church in this town. The happy couple repaired to the residence of Mr. Deale, on Twelfth avenue, where they received the congratulations of their friends. The wedding was made the recipient of many beautiful, useful and ornamental presents. May they live to celebrate their golden wedding in this happy city.

John Peck, Esq., of New York, and Mrs. Fannie Kipper, also of Huntingdon, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony at the residence of Mr. King, by Rev. J. R. Smith, pastor of the Presbyterian church in this town. The happy couple repaired to the residence of Mr. Deale, on Twelfth avenue, where they received the congratulations of their friends. The wedding was made the recipient of many beautiful, useful and ornamental presents. May they live to celebrate their golden wedding in this happy city.

John Peck, Esq., of New York, and Mrs. Fannie Kipper, also of Huntingdon, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony at the residence of Mr. King, by Rev. J. R. Smith, pastor of the Presbyterian church in this town. The happy couple repaired to the residence of Mr. Deale, on Twelfth avenue, where they received the congratulations of their friends. The wedding was made the recipient of many beautiful, useful and ornamental presents. May they live to celebrate their golden wedding in this happy city.

John Peck, Esq., of New York, and Mrs. Fannie Kipper,