—The awarding of the prize at the Reynold's contest, on Wednesday evening, did not meet with universal approval. In this instance Milesburg students captured another honor in our public schools, as has frequently occurred heretofore. In this case the ruling of the judges is final.

—Wednesday evening the fires were lighted at the Empire Iron & Steel Company's plant (Valentine Furnace) and in a few days red hot metal will be pouring from it. —The oratorical contest in the opera house last evening was largely attended. The efforts of the young people were very good and showed that careful preparation had been made. The prize was awarded to Miss Madge Orris, of Milesburg, with favorable mention for James Shook. Of course, all did not agree with the decision of the judges.

The balloon will be making trips continually during the day and carrying all persons who care to take the trip up in the skies.

New System of Registering Deeds.

One of the acts passed by the recent legislature and approved by the governor, is to establish a new system for the registering and recording of deeds in all counties of the state having over 5000 inhabitants. The new law makes it compulsory that every deed transferring real estate, be first registered in the county commissioners office. One of the objects is to prevent fraud and error in valuations and assessors' returns. The longer this law is active of course the greater the number of real estate transfers will be recorded, and finally the records in the commissioners office will contain a pretty accurate account of the county's real estate. The practical result will be to increase the valuation in the county, and bring more money in the shape of taxes to the county treasury.

A BIG ONE.

On Tuesday evening Robt. Hunter, the insurance man, came into our office all aglow and as happy as a little boy with his first pair of brass-toed, red-topped boots. "Oh, I've got 'em this time" he exclaimed before he was in the doorway. After him came John Bullock, as reference, who volunteered his testimony, "I was with him; saw him land it." In the next instant Hunter produced a fish basket and withdrew a huge fish. It was a trout which, according to our yard stick, measured exactly 15 inches. A happier, prouder set of fishermen never cast a line. Of course we had to listen to the details of the capture, how Hunter had a desperate encounter with the gamey monster of the deep, and it required the combined effort of both to land their prize. Ready to swear, which they frequently did to emphasize their adventure, we rushed across to secure Justice Keichline, to have this fish story duly qualified and put on record, but he was gone and unfortunately the details will have to be accepted as narrated, until further testimony can be taken. Of course no one doubts the veracity of an insurance agent or a fashionable tailor.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

On Saturday one of the heavy derricks fell for the men working on the C. R. R. of Pa., extension. This derrick stood in spring creek and was used for handling heavy rock. One of the foremen attempted to pull up the frame work of a cofferdam about a pier. It was a heavy load, too much for the derrick and it fell by a hook bending at the top, to which one of the steel cables had been fastened. A large force of men were working about the place when the heavy timber was seen to circle and fall. For an instant the men were breathless, down came the derrick with a crash and Ed. Swiler, a carpenter, who was standing in the water was caught by it and struck down. He was helpless for a time and had to be assisted to his home in Coleville, where his injury was found to be a flesh wound in the back and some minor bruises, none of which are serious and by this time he is likely able to be about.

John, a son of L. T. Munson, was struck by one of the wire cables and received a scalp wound that caused more blood than serious injury and the young man cut a clean line for home.

CLOSING EXERCISES.

This afternoon, while our paper is being printed, the graduating exercises of the Bellefonte High School are in progress. An immense audience is present, more than can be comfortably seated. The profusion of lavish decorations and the members of the class in their tasty gowns make it a truly beautiful scene—pretty girls never looked prettier, and young men more promising and ambitious.

To-night it is anticipated that only a portion of the crowd that will come to hear Col. McClure can be accomodated with seats. After the exercises Col. McClure will return to Gov. Hastings' residence where a public reception will be tendered him to which the citizens of the town are invited to meet and greet the distinguished journalist and citizen.

RECENT DEATHS.

MRS. TEMPERANCE ORWIG BUTLER: Widow of the late Joseph G. Butler, Sr., died Thursday morning, 25th, at the residence of her son, James W. Butler, of Cleveland. Mrs. Temperance Orwig Butler was born in Salem, Columbiana county, O., on July 23, 1815, and at the time of her demise was nearly 84 years old. In 1835 the deceased was married at Bellefonte, Centre county, Pa., and in 1836 moved to Mercer county, Pa., where her father was engaged in the iron business. Her husband died in 1895 and a coincidence noticed is that both of them passed away while they were on a visit to their son in Cleveland.

MRS. MARY HOOVER:—Widow of the late David Hoover, died suddenly Wednesday evening 24th, at her home near Roopsburg. Death was due to heart failure. It is a peculiar incident that this is the third sudden death in this family within nine months, the husband David Hoover, and daughter, Mrs. Minsker having passed away in like manner.

Deceased was 71 years of age. She is survived by the following children: Robert, Frank and David, of Altoona; William and Mrs. Cornele Hazel, of Axe Mann; and Katie at home.

WHEAT PROSPECTS.

Some of the experts are figuring out a small wheat crop for the United States and a large one for Europe. Under this condition of things there would be a heavy falling off in exports next fall and winter, and the favorable balance of trade, which has been large recently to an unparalleled degree, would decline to near the vanishing point, or it might disappear altogether. The balance has declined, indeed, in the past month, and a further shrinkage is probable. No reasonable person supposed the margin of a few months ago could be kept up long. It is a little too late, however, to do any figuring on the wheat crop which will be worth much. There is a chance that the spring wheat may make up for the loss which is apparent in the winter product. Then, again, Europe is a long way from the harvest time, and many things can happen before its crop is gathered. Six or eight weeks hence the world will know a good deal more about the wheat conditions in the United States and Europe than it does to-day.

MORE HORSES.

Last Friday Benjamin Gentzle took the evening train for Illinois where, by this time, he has another carload of horses ready for shipment to Bellefonte, and same will be offered at public sale on Thursday, June 8th, at the Haag Hotel stables.

Mr. Gentzle need only announce that he is bringing another car load of horses to interest purchasers. At the two former sales, by him this season, everybody pronounced his selection of horses the finest that had ever been brought to the town and were willing to pay corresponding prices for them.

If you want a fine horse, or like to see nice horses, come to the sale on Thursday, June 8th. The horses will be quartered in the stables several days prior to the sale where they can be inspected. Attendants will be on hand to wait upon you.

WHY MAY 30 WAS CHOSEN.

Some special writers in discussing the origin of Decoration Day have got the facts somewhat mixed. It was not Gen. Grant's suggestion. The idea originated among the women of Maryland, who put flowers on the graves of the dead of both Federal and Confederate long before the surrender of Appomattox.

In 1869 Gen. John A. Logan, as Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, appointed May 30 for what was at first called Memorial Day but was later changed to Decoration Day. May 30 is said to have been selected because it corresponds with the date of the last honorable discharge given a soldier of the Union Army in the war between the States.

BICYCLE TAX.

Under a recent act of assembly a tax of $1 was to be laid on bicycles for the purpose of building side paths for wheelmen. The county commissioners recently notified the assessors to make a canvass of their districts to ascertain the number of bicycles in the county subject to such a tax. All the districts in the county have reported but five. The total is 1519, which will be increased to almost 1700. In many districts it looks as though a great many wheels escaped the attention of the assessors.

Woodsman Badly Injured.

A woodsman named Wm. Stamm whose home is at Millheim was struck on the head by the limb of a tree that fell while he was at work on a lumber job near North Bend Tuesday forenoon. He was brought to the hospital in this city on the evening train. The man's skull is fractured and he is in a serious condition.—Lock Haven Express.

Withhold Funds.

County commissioners and county treasurers are authorized by one of the new laws signed Saturday by the Governor to withhold fees, mileage and other moneys claimed by any person who is indebted to a county for fines, costs, damages, penalties or unpaid taxes.

Proper Way.

Apropos of the question as to whether women should remove their hats in church, a Lexington man suggests a return to the good old custom under which the men sat on one side of the church and the women on the other. "In that way," he says, "the ladies could get the full benefit of their big hats. Ladies who remove their hats out of courtesy to those who sit behind them could, of course, sit where they choose. The others could have the full benefit of attempting to see the preacher through a jungle of feathers and gewgahs."

Foot Ball Schedule.

The Pennsylvania State College has the finest schedule for next season's foot ball team that she has ever had. The boys start off with Mansfield on Sept. 23rd and play right along until Thanksgiving with Gettysburg, West Point, Washington and Jefferson, Princeton, Annapolis, Bucknell, Yale, U. of P. and D. C. A. C. You will observe that this schedule places State in contests with all of the "Big Four" except Harvard. The most important game to be played at home will be on Oct. 31st with Washington and Jefferson.

Admired the Devil's Industry.

An old Scotch woman was speaking kindly. No sheep was so dark but that she could discover some white spot to point out to those who could see only its blackness. One day a gossipping neighbor lost patience with her and said angrily: "Wuman, ye'll hae a guid word to say for the deevil himself!" Instantly came the reply: "Weel, he's a vera industreeous body!"

HOUSE ENTERED.

On Monday morning Mr. Daniel Grove, who lives on his farm, about one half mile east of Zion, came to town with his family and returned at noon. They soon found that the house had been ransacked in their absence. An entrance was effected by cutting out a small portion of the window sash to release a nail, which allowed the lower window sash to be raised. Three chests and a bureau were broken open, and a bed was searched. The parties evidently were after money, as many articles of value were not taken, such as silverware, jewelry, old coins, etc. Mr. Grove's bank book was lying open where they saw that he had just made a deposit of cash at the bank here in town. The only thing missing thus far is an old copper penny. Little or no damage was done and Mr. Grove is congratulating himself that the burglars were so considerate as not to destroy anything wilfully. The intruders evidently were experts in their line of business.

McCormick, T. H. Harmon, A. H. Simon, Lewis Hoover, William Boyer, Anson Underwood and others.

"Courage and Strength in Times of Danger."

Read the warning between the lines. What is that warning? It is of the danger from the accumulation of badness in the blood, caused by the usual heavy living of the Winter months. Spring is the clearing, cleansing time of the year; the forerunner of the brightness and beauty of glorious summer.

Follow the principle that Nature lays down. Start in at once and purify your blood with that great specific, Hood's Sarsaparilla. It never disappoints.

Grip—"Sixteen weeks of grip made me weak, but after all else failed Hood's Sarsaparilla cured me. Later I overworked, and dyspepsia and canker in mouth and stomach bothered me. I took the Sarsaparilla again and it completely restored me." MRS. ELIZABETH FOMAN, Exeter, N. H.

Rheumatism—"Myself and a friend both suffered from severe attacks of rheumatism. Hood's Sarsaparilla cured both. We would not be without it." WM. H. LESTER, 65 Leonard St., Fall River, Mass.

Head and Back—"For one year pains in my back and head prevented my household duties. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and am a well woman. It also cured the grip in our family." MRS. MATTIE HENDERSON, Cor. First and Franklin Ave., Columbus, Ind.
