—During the weekend we had an opportunity to examine a copy of the Bellefonte Daily News, issue of July 10, 1899, published by Wilbur F. Harris, with Earle C. Tuten as local editor. The News was a four-page paper, the pages being approximately one-half the size of the one on which this is printed. Most of the local news appeared on the back page, the other three being devoted to national and world news and advertisements. Probably the most significant item in the entire issue is one relating to the plight of one Miss Natalie Schenck, of Babylon, L. I., who for the first time in more than a year saw a day pass that she did not receive from one to more than 1,200 letters, each enclosing ten cents, to buy ice for sick and wounded soldiers. Miss Schenck, the tale goes, wrote four letters to friends asking them to send ten cents to the fund and to write four others to do likewise. This was the beginning of the chain. After the thing had been going two months, and Miss Schenck had received over 10,000 letters, efforts were made to break it, but the attempt was futile, the news item sets forth. Every cent of more than $25,000 received, the article continues, was turned over to the Red Cross society for its ice plant auxiliary. If you are still conscious, this should be the crowning blow—all the expenses were paid by selling the addresses of the letter writers to publication houses!
