HOW HOOD ANSWERED NEWSPAPER CORRESPONDENTS.—The 'Echo,' we fear will not answer; 'Alone' is foreign to his subject; 'W. Tears of Sensibility,' had better be dropped; 'B.' is surely humbug; 'The Night Thoughts' are not admired because the author was Young; 'T.' says his tale is out of his own head—is he a tadpole? 'Y. Y.'s a word to the Y's is sufficient. the Essay on the Funeral Ceremonies of Bitterest Sullony, should be printed in the dead language. We decline it on the part of the English. Mr. R. complains that we are backward in forwarding his paper. Does he mean by the clause to take us for crabs? The 'Sonnet to Mistletoe,' is forwarded to her by the Twopenny Post; 'The Captive' is ready to be restored; the 'Essay on Agricultural Distress,' would only increase it.

A BRAVE.—The bishop of London was rebuking one of his clergy for following the hounds.—"My lord," replied the clergyman, "every man must have some relaxation, and I assure you lordship I never go to hell." "Ah," said the bishop, "I perceive you allude to my having been at the Duchess of Sutherland's party; but I give you my word I never was in the same room with the dancers." "My lord," responded the clergyman, "My index and I are getting old, and we are never in the same field with the hounds."
