Any persons wishing to donate toys which can be mended and returned to usable service, are requested to get in touch with Mrs. Ben H. Herr, of North Spring street, or telephone 342-W, and arrangements will be made to call for them.

—An unusual display of World War posters was on exhibit last week at the Electric Supply Company store. The posters recalled the days of the World War when appeals were being made on every hand for victims of the war, for Liberty Bonds; the Red Cross, Y. M. C. A., and many other agencies. The collection is a most complete one and is valued highly by its owner, Mr. Whitehouse, salesman for the Electric Supply Co.

—James Craig, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Craig, of 19 W. Curtin street, Bellefonte, has been appointed to the "Fifteen," honorary English society of the Mercersburg Academy, according to announcement made by Dr. Boyd Edwards, headmaster of the Academy. The "Fifteen" is composed of the fifteen best English students in the Upper Middler and Senior years. It meets periodically to discuss some phase of English or American literature.

—Charles Schaeffer, who for the past number of weeks has been confined to his home on East Curtin street because of severe carbuncles at the base of his neck, yesterday was able to walk down town for the first time since the outset of his illness. Although he shows signs of the long and trying infection he experienced, he is now believed to be well on the road to a complete recovery, and is anxious to return to his duties as a clerk at the H. P. Schaeffer Hardware store.

—The largest "wrist" watch in the world is now on display in the windows of the Crossley Jewelry store, in the Brockerhoff Hotel building. The watch, made by the Hamilton Watch Company, and which until recently was on display at the World's Fair in New York, measures 11 by 15 inches in size, and is approximately 2 inches thick. Its mechanism will run for 24 hours with one winding. Attached to the giant watch is a wrist strap of corresponding size. This strap, of leather construction, is more than eight feet long, and the brass buckle alone weighs several pounds. The display is attracting much attention.

—Some months ago we reported that because of ill health Donald R. Everitt planned to dispose of his drug store on South Allegheny street, and engage in some less confining activity. Consequently it is with pleasure that we learn that Mr. Everitt is improving in health under the treatment of a Philadelphia specialist, and that he has cancelled plans to discontinue the drug store business here. During their comparatively brief residence in this community the Everitt family has become well known and a large number of friends will be pleased to learn that they will continue to be numbered among the residents and reliable business people of the town.

—Bellefonte friends of Dr. and Mrs. Albert E. Blackburn, of suburban Philadelphia, have been notified of the death of their son, Jackson Miller Blackburn, 38, of Elizabeth, N. J. Mr. Blackburn, a chemist for an oil company at Elizabeth, died Saturday after a two-day illness. He was well known in Bellefonte through his visits with his late grandmother, Mrs. J. L. Spangler. He was a graduate of Friends' Central High school, Philadelphia, and of Swarthmore College, and was a brother of the late Albert Blackburn, who passed away four years ago. Surviving are his wife, the former Mildred Gish, of Elizabethtown; his parents, and one sister, Miss Eliza, at home. The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon at Fishertown, Bedford county, with interment at Fishertown.

—Donald Montgomery, 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Hassall Montgomery, is almost too honest to be a good hunter. One day last week he came home from a hunting expedition and proudly displayed a fine turkey. He'd shot the bird on a nearby mountain, he said. The youth, who never before bagged a turkey, immediately became the idol of the family. But apparently the strain of being a successful turkey hunter was too great, for Donald finally reported that he'd found the bird dead in the woods. It had been shot twice—but not by him, the youth said.

Official Count Shows No Election Changes

The official count of the vote cast at the general election in Centre county last Tuesday has revealed no changes in the election, it was reported yesterday by the official board, which consists of the County Commissioners, chief clerk Samuel J. McMullin; Mrs. Joseph Runkle, Mrs. Hilda Corman, and Miss Hazel Johnson, of Bellefonte, and Mrs. Pearl Gilliland, of State College.

The board yesterday had not completed official totals, but it is reported that they will check closely with the ones reported last week in the unofficial newspaper count.

MAYOR-ELECT WOULD REFUND WILSON'S PAY

Mayor-elect Robert E. Lamberton has proposed that Philadelphia city council pay to the estate of the late Mayor S. Davis Wilson approximately $10,000 he cut voluntarily out of his salary of $18,000 a year.

The suggestion came as it was disclosed that Wilson's estate amounted to just $50. His will, written eleven years ago, left the estate to his widow, who moved last week to the home of her son after a mortgage was foreclosed on the house where she lived with the mayor until his death last August.

Lamberton said the money should be appropriated to meet "a moral claim."

For three and a half years, during a period of municipal budget trimming Wilson had declined to accept $3000 a year of his salary.

Deer Leaps on Car

Guests from Canada had an unexpected thrill near Ridgway, when George Brittain took them on a sightseeing trip up the Boot Jack Hill, and a deer jumped onto the car. The deer, a 150-pound doe, was instantly killed, a front fender of the car was damaged and the radiator punctured, but no one was injured.

COURT POINTS WAY TO SETTLEMENT OF CASE

A decree filed this week by Judge Ivan Walker in the case of Eva G. Simpson vs. Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Smith, points the way to a settlement of the matter. The decree also allows the dispute to go its natural course in the event the settlement proposal is not satisfactory to the litigants.

The case is based on a petition to open a judgment which was entered under a lease between the two parties. Testimony shows that an offer of $30 was made in full satisfaction of the judgment, with the defendant paying the costs.

The Court's decree follows up this proposal with the suggestion that if the defendant pays the $30 and costs and the plaintiff accepts, the matter will be dismissed. If the plaintiff does not accept, the decree continues, an issue will be awarded between the two parties.

Daniel Leffler Dies At Clearfield

Daniel Leffler, 52, Clearfield postmaster, whose term as president of the board of trustees of the Pennsylvania Industrial School at Huntingdon expired last month, died suddenly yesterday of a heart attack.
