PITTSBURGH GAZETTE

A few nights back, a small party of ladies and gentlemen were laughing over the supposed awkwardness attending a declaration of love, when a gentleman remarked that if he ever offered himself he would do it in a collected and business-like manner. "For instance" he continued, addressing himself to a lady present, "I would say, Miss S——, I have been two years looking for a wife. I am in receipt of about a thousand dollars a year from my business, which is daily on the increase. Of all the ladies of my acquaintance, I admire you the most, indeed I love you, and would gladly make you my wife." "You flatter me by your preference," good humoredly replied Miss S——, to the surprise of all present; "I refer you to my father." "Bravo!" exclaimed the gentleman. "Well, I declare," said the ladies in chorus. The lady and gentleman, good reader, were married soon after. Wasn't that a modest way of "coming to the point," and a lady-like method of taking a man at his word?
