When Logans and Undine Fire companies arrived on the scene and were unable to locate the fire it was learned that the woman had turned in the alarm when a neighbor reported that a car parked across High Street, in front of the Murphy store, was on fire. The car apparently was not damaged.

Battery E. To Leave For Camp

Guard Unit Will Spend Two Weeks in New York State; One at Indiantown Gap

Lt. Frederick L. Shope, commanding officer of Battery E., 166th Field Artillery, Bellefonte, yesterday announced that plans are complete for the three-weeks encampment of the local guard unit, beginning this weekend.

The Battery will leave Bellefonte at 5:30 o'clock Saturday morning for the regimental camp near Canton, N. Y., for two weeks of training before returning to the Indiantown Gap camp in Pennsylvania for an additional week of training

At Canton the 166th Regiment will be attached to the 22nd Cavalry Division, which includes units from many parts of the east, and will become a part of the army now engaged in "war games" in northern New York State.

The first week will be devoted to specialized training of the local Battery's 4 officers and 80 enlisted men at the base camp near Canton. The second week will be dveoted to war maneuvers with other units of the army. At Indiantown Gap the Battery will spend most of its time in service firing with its four French 75's.

The local caravan to New York Saturday, will consist of the Battery's nine trucks, two station wagons, four French 75's and a motorcycle. The "march" to New York and later to Indiantown Gap, will be made according to a strict schedule. The route of the march north will be as follows: Williamsport; Painted Post, N. Y.; Watkins Glen; Seneca Falls; Port Bryon, where the convoy will refuel; Victory; Oswego; Watertown, and Canton.
