THE GREAT RAILWAY IN BAD REPUTE.—The New York papers of dates since the Great Eastern's trip to Cape May, are overflowing with complaints from "indignant and outraged" citizens, in regard to the manner in which the excursion was managed. They assert that from the moment of starting they were made the prey of the most reckless avarice, while, in almost every instance, the rights of the ticket holders were disregarded. The company numbered two thousand, and there was no accommodation, whatever, for the baggage, notwithstanding the ship is provided with ample store rooms. One writer in his account says:

"The greatest favoritism was shown in the disposition of state-rooms, and ladies were the victims of imposition in regard to them. No definite information could be had of any body, and the responsibility was shifted from one to another, until the passenger, in despair, gave himself up to discomfort."

A large number of ladies, and nearly all the gentlemen, slept or straggled on rude mattresses on the decks, in dirt and disorder, and were exposed to a smart storm of rain before the hour of waking. Those who had state rooms were crowded together, and suffered from terrible heat and the great rocking of the vessel.

This morning it was impossible, without bribery, to obtain water for washing, or the plainest article of the toilet. The reporters were, with one exception, roughed with the rest. The fortunate exception spent the night in a hen coop. An effort was made to provoke music from Dodworth's band for dancing, but after a few melancholy strains, the musicians refused further discourse unless they were paid twenty-five dollars.

A lighted cigar set a mattress on fire in the middle of the night, and the rigging was endangered. There seemed to be no discipline, whatever, among the officers of the ship. The rudder chains broke, and for nearly half an hour the steamer was guided by the engines alone. The wheels were frequently deserted.

The entertainment was one grand swindle. It was found out, as soon as the people sat down to the first supper, that the most necessary articles had run out; and only heavy fees to the waiters, after long waiting, produced any food at all. Brackish water brought, in some instances, was sold for twenty-five cents a glass; and the confusion and filth were simply revolting. There was not a single expression of pleasure.

The general indignation took the form of a formal meeting on deck this morning. Mr. Wm. Fulmer acted as chairman, and Dr. John Howe as secretary, both of New York. A series of bitter resolutions were passed, and obtained a large number of influential signatures. They denounce the excursion as a swindle, and the whole arrangements as contemptibly disgraceful.

A correspondence of the New York Times, who sanctuaces himself as one of the victims, thus details his experience:

"I slept on the dock, with my head on a rail. I woke in the middle of the night, aching in every bone and wet to the skin by the gentle shower which a kind Providence had for some mysterious purpose sent upon me. 'How long, oh Lord, how long?' I became desperate. I saw a man with a pillow and a mattress. I cautiously and easily got the pillow from from under his head, but it was an impossibility to get him off the mattress. The rest of the night I slept on a bench, with the stolen pillow under my head, and the rain kept from my sacred person by a last week's Independent, which I fortunately found in my coat pocket. Waking in the morning I asked a dapper little fellow where the wash-room was; he laughed at me, and passed on. Another gentleman, who the night previous had been remarkable for the neatness and elegance of his attire, but who now looked seedy and uncomfortable, pointed me to the way I should go, and I went. Not a drop of water, as true as I live! There were at least a dozen disconsolate individuals there, waiting for water; calling for water; swearing for water! 'Where is Yates?' cried a muscular Philadelphian. 'I'll smash his d—d head for him, if I catch him.' 'Where is Yates?' echoed the weary crowd; but no Yates appeared—and it was just as well for Yates that he didn't appear—as doubtless he would have suffered as ignominious defeat, had he attempted any exercise of authority.

"But I am too tired to tell you about it. We have suffered dreadfully. We have had little to eat, nothing to drink, and are almost clean gone forever into a premature grave. Had the cruise lasted a day longer, there would have been trouble, discord, mutiny, and murder on board with not a doubt. The ladies were frightened, indignant, and alarmed. The gentlemen were astonished, grieved and thoroughly saucy. The roughs swore, threatened, raged, steamed and vowed fearful oaths of vengeance. The officers did not seem to know anything about the ship, about her provisions, or about the accommodations—all was confusion, order was nowhere, and the most terrible feeling of uncertainty as to what next, oppressed everybody."

SOVEREIGN SOVEREIGNTY UNDER CERTAIN RESTRICTIONS.—Mr. Douglas is a bold, if he is not an honest or a consistent candidate. No other public man except himself, with a record like his to confront him at every turn, would dare to place himself in a position in which so many rights of exposure and consequent humiliation must necessarily be encountered. In his late speech at Concord, New Hampshire, which has been reported by telegraph, he declared that "the principle he stood upon was the right of the people to make their own laws, and to establish institutions to suit themselves. That was the principle of the Revolutionary War Democrats, but it is now said that Congress can pass Federal laws, not local and domestic laws, for the people of a Territory who have equal rights in self-government, and who went from the old States, where they had these rights. Why should they lose them in the ferry boat crossing the Missouri River?"

In subsequent speeches, on the stump and in the Senate, Mr. Douglas declared that he holds his territorial views subordinate to the decision of the Supreme Court—a body which has already decided the question in such a manner as to make his "popular sovereignty" idea a mere bauble. Here is the principle advanced by the Court in the famous Dred Scott case:

"It has a right to take with him any article of property which the United States recognizes as property in the slave States, and pledges the Federal Government and Congress and every other property owner in the United States to the ultimately protection of that property."

Recently a gentleman returned from Europe; he had been absent with his family seven months. He paid his gas bill the day he left, and the house had not been open for seven months, yet when it was, the gas man took a return from the meter, and a bill was made out for $52. Mr. Grinnell went and complained to the Secretary, related the circumstances, and threatened exposure of such a bare-faced robbery. He refused to pay the bill. "Very well, sir," said the Secretary; Mr. Grinnell went home and told his wife. "Pay it," said she. "Why so?" said he. "Because," said she, "the day we left New York, I had to go back to the house for some article I had forgot. The window shutters were fastened, I lit the gas, the other day when we returned I found it still burning." The bill was paid for a steady gas flamer had been burning for seven months.

THE LAW OF EVIDENCE.—There is now before the House of Lords in England a bill, introduced by Lord Brougham, to amend the law of evidence, some notice of which may interest the profession here. It is proposed, by this measure, to enable all defendants in criminal cases, as is done in civil, to give evidence for themselves, on oath, in cases of misdemeanor, in which the prosecutor himself is examined; the condition being that they must also submit to cross-examination, and to a prosecution for perjury, if they make any false statement. There is every prospect that this bill will be passed this Session.—Phil Press.

A correspondent at Senaca Falls writes to say that the Telegraphic dispatch which stated the number of people at the Douglas meeting in that place on the 20th ult., to be 3,000, would have been quite right if it had contented itself with two ciphers instead of three. He says there were not at any time a thousand persons on the ground, including men, women, and children, and that the Douglas party would not have included more than three hundred at the most liberal computation.

NEW BANKS.—The following banks, according to their advertised announcements, propose to organize under the Free Banking Law of Pennsylvania:

The Clearfield County Bank, Clearfield.
Bradford County Bank, Towanda, Pa.
Bank of West Philadelphia, Philadelphia.
The State Bank, Philadelphia.
The Free Bank, Philadelphia.

FINE NAILS are now extensively employed in the manufacture of boots and shoes, in place of wood or iron. In some of these nails are also substituted for sewing in ladies' slippers. An iron foot is employed, and the nails, as fast as driven, are clinched back, and the leather fastened on the inside, thus forming every second fastening.

THE OLDEST MAN IN THE UNITED STATES.—The editor of the Cincinnati (Ohio) Times recently visited Solomon Pangborn, at Flat Sun, Indiana, who says he was born in the city of New York, a small distance of five or six hundred houses, in 1725. He is consequently 135 years old. Shortly after his birth his father purchased a farm on the Mohawk River, not far from Fort Johnson, whither he removed.

RESCUED BY BRESHAM BE BOOTH.—Milwaukee, August 1.—Sherman M. Booth, awaiting his trial in the Oliver rescue case, was taken to-day from a cell in the custom house, where he was confined, by ten armed men, and driven off into the county. The United States marshal and deputies were at dinner at the time. The keeper was silenced by threats of violence.

A ONE-SIDED BALANCE SHEET.—A shoe manufacturer of Lynn failed a few weeks ago, when his liabilities were found to be a quarter of a million of dollars, and his assets eleven thousand dollars.

EFFECT OF A SPEECH.—It is stated that not less than one hundred Germans abandoned Douglas for Lincoln after hearing the speech of Carl Schurz at Pekin, Ill.

Catarrh! Catarrh! Catarrh!!! Catarrh!!!!

What is it? How Cured?

Thousands of persons suffer all sorts of annoyance from Catarrh. Most people know what its inconvenience and results are, yet but few know how it can be cured. It is simply a chronic irritation and often enlargement of follicles and consequent thickening of the mucous membranes, lining the nasal cavities, frontal sinuses, and sometimes extending into the throat and lungs. From this result tightness and often vertigo of the head, obstructed nose, or a profuse flow of mucus, loss of smell, nasal voice, and often impaired hearing and taste.

The old school remedies have never been able to do any thing for it. Nasal injections and inhalations are so painful and expensive as they are generally worthless. Yet HUMPHREYS' GALVANIC SYRINGE, a simple Super Pill, taken two or three times per day, promptly cures the milder cases, cures at once all colds in the head, and radically cures, by persevering use, the more obstinate cases, as is proved by the experience of hundreds.

☞ SUPERIORITY VINDICATED.—The firm of the Messrs. Steinways take the lead in the manufacture of the Piano Forte, is conceded by everybody. From the ad. one to one, by all the good makers of the country. The after bitterly opposing and crying down their improvements, etc., have, by their recent adoption of the same, acknowledged the Messrs. Steinway as their leaders and superiors in the art of making Piano Fortes.

The "old cornered hammer," the "extended scale" (from A to O octave and third octave) and "the third pedal" to lie of this city as "new improvements," while the Steinway Pianos have boasted of the same for several years, and now the "Overstrung" and about "being brought out" also, as something "new," when the possessors of Steinway's Pianos in this city and elsewhere have had the benefit of this improvement for many years.

It will thus be seen that the Messrs Steinway are ever the first in the perfecting of the Piano Forte, and that their improvements are looked upon by others as objects to take pattern from.

We beg to direct the attention of the public to our new stock of Steinway's Pianos, which embrace nearly all the recent improvements, but also many others peculiar to themselves. H. KLEBER & BRO.,
