—Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thompson of North Spring Street, entertained Friday night in honor of the birthday anniversary of their daughter, Betty. Miss Thompson received many gifts. The following were present: Ellis Houser, Arthur Hipple, David Kachik, William States, Bill Musser, Philip Sellers, Kathleen Keeler, Jean White, P. J. Shaw, Jane Aikey, Maxine Thompson, Edna Thompson, Harold Aikey, Bob Guyer, Harriet Thompson, all of Bellefonte, Greta Shultz and Jean Hanna, of Lock Haven, Earl Burrowes of Northumberland and Alma Fogleman of Castanea.

—Bellefonte women seem little disturbed by reports that within a matter of weeks there will be no silk stockings available because of the cessation of imports of silk from Japan. In fact we imagine many a woman will welcome the opportunity to wear stockings that won't snag with every summer breeze, and we're certain that long-suffering husbands, who never have been able to understand why silk hose couldn't be made so that every little snag wouldn't cause a runner, also will rejoice in the fact that the good wife will have to resort to silk substitutes or use cotton stockings.

—The Tyrone Borough Water Department should stand in the good graces of the people of that town, for the department has provided a large and completely equipped park for the use of the public. The park provides ample parking space for cars; a series of large shelters equipped with tables and benches for use of picnic and family reunion groups; a playground with swings, see-saws, little merry-go-rounds, sliding boards and other devices for the entertainment of youngsters; a swimming pool; fireplaces, with stacks of wood ready for use; water facilities; toilets; electric lighting, and in fact everything necessary for a pleasant day's outing. Everything is free and a superintendent at the park makes it a point to see that everything goes smoothly.

—Old-fashioned honesty still exists in the world, and a Bellefonte man had a fine example of it last week. Two weeks ago Robert Shay, of East Lamb street, lost $26 in bills on North Allegheny street. The money was in a roll which dropped from his pocket. Mr. Shay advertised in The Centre Democrat, little hoping for the return of the money because there was no way he could identify it as his property. But it so happened that the first person to discover the money was honest. Mrs. Mabel Yeager of Milesburg, walking along the street near the Hunter Book store, picked up a roll of bills. A short distance away, in front of the Shaffer store, she spotted a ten-dollar bill on the sidewalk. The total amount Mrs. Yeager found was $26. So when she saw Mr. Shay's advertisment, she got in touch with him and returned the money.
