Miller Elected Head of Legion

M. L. Wetzler, Russell Witmer and Leonard Glenn. Joe Forster was named secretary and treasurer.

Samuel D. Rhinesmith, who was in charge of the Junior Legion Band trip to Milwaukee to attend the National Legion Convention, reported that the journey was completely without mishap of any kind and that the band received much favorable comment from national officers.

Rhinesmith paid high tribute to the Pennsylvania and Milwaukee Railroads for the splendid accomodations given the band for the trip and for the outstanding service given by the railroads.

He declared that all schedules were maintained almost to the minute until the band train arrived in Tyrone on the return trip. From there to Bellefonte there was some delay because of unusually heavy freight traffic over the Bald Eagle Branch, but even at that the train arrived here only fifteen minutes behind schedule.

Robert T. Willard, post historian, submitted a comprehensive review of post activities during the past year. His report is summarized as follows:

The first official act of the newly-elected Commander (Alex Stergiakis) was to attend a meeting in Washington, D. C., together with representatives from other Service groups and the local Chamber of Commerce, on behalf of the location of the new Veterans Hospital to be erected in Pennsylvania.

Armistice Day was honored in the usual manner, concluding with the annual banquet at the Post home. The speaker was Mike Dorizas, of Philadelphia, who also presented a series of motion pictures taken in foreign countries.

The next event of importance was a banquet held for the Junior Legion Band, with J. W. Claudy as the speaker.

A new set of by-laws governing the post was drawn up during the year and the same was adopted at a meeting January 6.

When the local National Guard unit was called into service, a farewell party was given them before their departure for Camp Shelby, Miss. The party included a dance and buffet supper. A small gift was presented to each man with the compliments of the American Legion.

January 20 a Past Commanders' meeting was held in the Post rooms, with the following past commanders in the chairs: A. C. Dale, R. T. Willard, John G. Love, W. W. Gherrity, A. D. Leitzell, F. H. Crawford, S. D. Rhinesmith, H. M. Beezer and W. S. Zahnizer.

A national defense meeting was held March 14, with Judge Ivan Walker as the principal speaker. Representatives from patriotic, service and fraternal orders were present. The same month a birthday party was held at the home with Rev. Robert H. Thomas as speaker.

In January the Post started a movement to have the State Legion headquarters moved from Philadelphia to Harrisburg. The matter was presented at the annual State convention in Altoona, and was passed.

The Post's athletic program for the year included a junior baseball team which gave a good account of itself and displayed both good baseball ability and good sportsmanship. Other activities held for the children were an egg-hunt at the Community Athletic field, Easter Sunday in cooperation with Jackson-Crissman-Saylor Post Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Memorial Day services, with a parade in which various musical organizations and marching clubs participated, were held at the school commons. Past Department Commander Frank E. Gwynn, of Allentown, was the speaker.

The Post sent five Sons of the Legion to the Boys State Camp at State College.

The Junior Band receipts for the year were quite substantial. In addition the outfit won various prizes in competition. The band retained its state championship at the State convention, and won second place in nationwide competition at the national convention in Milwaukee.

The year showed the largest gain in Post membership on record, total membership being 310, which entitles the Post to four delegates to the State Convention.

Donations made by the Post during the year were: Red Cross, $10; Tuberculosis Society, $5; Junior Red Cross, $10; Welfare Fund, $200; Rural Welfare Society, $5; Investiture for Msgr. Downes, $25; Cancer Clinic, $5; July 4th celebration, $25; and United Service Organization, $50.

Two members who died during the year, J. Cameron McKinley and Robert Garman, were given military funerals. Eight other members received hospitalization during the year.

The report concludes with an appreciation of the fine work of the commander and other major officers, together with the members of the executive committee.

Court Orders Vote Recount

ler, asked for the recount, alleging that from information they consider reliable they believe that fraud or error entered into the original count.

The petition, as required by law, was accompanied by a cash deposit of $50 which will remain in the hands of the Prothonotary until after the recount is completed. If fraud or substantial error is revealed in the count, the money will be refunded to the petitioners. If no fraud or substantial error appears, the money will be used to defray the cost of the recount.

Huston township electors were the only ones in the county who voted at the primaries, on a local option question. The official tally by the township election board gave a victory to the drys, the vote being 101 against sales of liquor, to 96 votes in favor of such sales.

front of the Court House by a large group of fellow Westinghouse employes.

The concert, continuing for nearly an hour and a half, was its own testimonial, for the appreciative crowd remained until the last note sounded.

Solos by Pittsburgh's famed Irish tenor, Tom McFarland, were the subject of much favorable comment after the concert.

During the concert spectators were called upon for group singing of several popular songs to the accompaniment of the band.

Since Saturday's concert, which was suggested and promoted by the Titan Metal Company, a number of local citizens have expressed a belief that band concerts on the Diamond should be held at regular intervals, with local bands, as well as guest bands, appearing from time to time.

Boy's Eye Destroyed

When Randall Hartzell, 6, of near Bloomsburg, found a cap while playing in the orchard, placed it on a stone and struck it with a second stone, the cap exploded, causing penetrating wounds to both eyes, and numerous wounds of the arms, legs and body. The sight of the left eye is destroyed, and it is not certain that the right eye can be saved.

CAL - SUPPLEMENTUM

Keep Your Cows and Stock Protected

PIGS: It is necessary to get a pig to market in the shortest possible time. In order to grow him fast calcium should be supplied liberally. The sows die from calcium deficiency before and after farrowing. The little pigs die from lack of calcium, and often get rickets. The sow gets milk fever and dies. Sows eat their young for the want of minerals. Hairless pigs are caused by a calcium deficiency. Pigs sometimes suffocate for the need of calcium.

Sunday school, and from the Rev. Fred Greninger, Lutheran pastor in Altoona, a descendant of one of the builders of the church. Special music will be brought by the Hassingers' instrumental trio, and by Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Watts, all of Lock Haven.

Saturday, 8 p. m., Community night, with brief messages from the Rev. T. R. Husler and the Rev. Fred Denbeaux, pastors of the other churches in the community, and from the Rev. Dale Kohr, the Rev. P. J. Keller, and the Rev. C. H. Stein, D. D., pastors of neighboring Lutheran charges. Special music will be provided by singers of the Nittany Valley Lutheran charge.

Sunday, 9:30 a. m., the Sunday school service. The worship service, 10:45 a. m., with Dr. M. R. Hamsher, president of the Central Pennsylvania Synod of the Lutheran church, bringing the message. Special music will be brought by singers of the local Lutheran churches.

Sunday, 7:30 p. m., the concluding centennial service, with special centennial message by the Rev. A. W. Steinfurth, Lutheran pastor at Wilkinsburg. Arrangements have been made with the Lock Haven male chorus to have a quartet present.

All services will be held on standard time.

A cordial invitation is extended to everyone to be present, regardless of denomination. The purpose of this celebration is to recall the happy memories of the past, to honor the workers of the past, and build for a still happier future.

The members of St. John's are enthusiastic in their planning for this program, and want all to share it. The interior of the church recently was beautified by repapering. Several fine gifts will be announced during the services.

Witchcraft Cited In $20,000 Damage Suit

that the elder Shooks claimed Mrs. Shook's mother was teaching her daughter the art of witchcraft and that through the use of that art would cause bodily harm or death to Doyle.

Continuing, the plea of the plaintiff states that by "subtle contrivances, coaxing and threats of disinheritance," the Jacob Shooks tried to separate her husband from her.

The allegation declared that under the elder Shook's influence, Doyle on September 21, 1939 left and abandoned the home of his wife and returned to the home of his parents.

Doyle, the record shows, then began an action in divorce against Kathryn, his wife, but the action resulted favorably for Katharyn and the court refused the divorce.

In conclusion, the statement alleges that since September 21, 1939, Doyle has failed to recognize Kathryn as his wife and has not returned to her.

The resulting embarrassment, inconvenience and loss of her husband, the plaintiff's claim sets forth, would be worth $20,000.

And, according to the statement, the wife demands that a jury consider the case and decide the matter.

It begins to look like the American minority thinks it has the right to rule the nation.

Poets' Corner

TO A FRIEND ON HIS BIRTHDAY

Birthdays are nice days . . .
Don't you think?
They are like plateaus
Where you stop to look
Before and behind . . .
You can see farther looking back
Than ahead . . .
(or each plateau is higher
Than the one before.
And you can see back,
All the way . . .
You can see ahead a little way
And you can plan
How you will linger over
That nice green stretch . . .
Or hurry through that briar patch
Ahead . . .
(But sometimes there are nice berries
In briar patches)
Anyway . . .
On this birthday.
I hope
That, looking back,
There are nice green, beautiful places
To remember . . .
And, looking ahead
There are many more such plateaus
Leading up—and up,
With beautiful valleys
And pleasant glades
In between.
