AMUSING BURLESQUE SKETCH OF THE AUTOCRAT.

Vanity Fair has a burlesque life of the Autocrat, after the manner of Smile's "Brief Biographies." As under the humorous extravagance of the account, we can detect a real love of the Doctor's genius, we give a few extracts:

Oliver Wendell Homes is one of the most remarkable bricks in the country, as this brief biography will show. He is the son of the Rev. John Holmes, of Edinburgh, the author of "Douglas," a touching tradegy, founded on the adventures of one of the ancestors of Stephen A. Douglas, who had a good deal of trouble in finding his mother, (a difficulty under which the family still labors,) and the sufferings of Lady Randolph, the wife of the Hon. John Randolph of Roanoke. Originally from Holmes' Hole, the infancy of Dr. Holmes was passed in Boston. The first objects that met his childish eyes in the Modern Athens, were the State House, which he has never ceased to regard with affection, and the Common, for which he has an enormous reverence. As might have been expected from his poetical temperament, the childhood of Oliver was rather wild; indeed, he was so wild at one time that he was actually sent to the Treadmill! The occasion was as follows: Being one day in want of a tail for his kite, and not finding an string adapted to his purpose in the family rag-bag, he crossed over to the Charleston Navy Yard, where the Constitution was then rotting, and, smuggling himself on board, stealthily climbed the lanyards until he reached the cut-water, where the Union Jack was flying. He appropriated it for his kite-tail, but was fortunately detected, and sent to the Treadmill for three months. He laughed at his punishment, in a poem entitled "The Treadmill," which, very appropriately, ran the sounds! His constitution beginning at length to flag, he recruited it by writing about the Flag of the Constitution—a spirited little lyric, which strange to say, is always incorrectly printed. The very first line is wrong for instead of

"Ay, tear her tattered ensign down,"

it should read,

"I tore her tattered ensign down."

(Will not Dr. Holmes correct the reading in a variorum edition of his poems? But perhaps he wishes to veil in mystery this romantic episode of his youth.)

Freed from the Treadmill and the odium of imprisonment, Oliver commenced the study of law, but growing weary of John Doe, Richard Roe and the rest of that large legal family, he turned his attention to medicine. He served an apprenticeship with a distinguished apothecary on Beacon Hill, and graduated with distinction, started for Paris to finish his education. * * * * * * * *

Dr. Holmes has written several medical works, with alarmingly scientific titles, (we shall not punish the readers of V. F. by enumerating them,) and a volume of poems, which occasionally smell of the shop, though they are anything but a drug in the market. He resides in a palatial mansion on the banks of the Charles River, not far from the cottage of his publisher, Mr Fields, (known in England under the soubriquet of Kenny Meadows,) and in sight of the object of his early admiration, the State House! His devotion, to the cupola of the State House is so ardent, that he calls it the Hub of the Universe! His and its enemies accuse at the idea, which certainly is extravagant, and say it is but a small part of even the Common Wheel of Massachusetts!

Dr. Holmes is a great proficient in boating, so much that the master with whom he studied (Martin, the Vegitarian,) calls him his best scholar (Query? Sculler?) Combe, the Phrenologist, paid him a similar compliment, saying he was the best skull in Boston? The proximity of the Charles, led him to sparring, and he is now so devoted to the manly art that he never takes a walk without putting on his gloves! His habits are pacific however, notwithstanding his connection with the Atlantic! His first contribution to this magazine was the the "Autocrat of the Breakfast Table." It was originally his intention to have continued the series with "The Democrat of the Dinner Table," "The Sovereign of the Supper Table," and possibly "The Loafer at Lunch," but some injudicious friend persuaded him to change his plan, and gives us "The Professor" instead.—We should like to analyze these works for the delectation of the readers of V. F; but unfortunately our Ann Eliza is absent, having gone into the country to see her sick mother; so we will pass them by saying they are worthy of V. F., which is the highest praise that we can give them.

Dr. Holmes devoted all his energies to his profession, and was at last chosen Professor of Anatomy of Cambridge, in the place of Dr. Warren, (the inventor of Warren's Blacking, and the author of "Ten Thousand a Year," which by the way, was the income which his Blacking gave him,) who was unfortunately killed on Bunker's Hill in the flower of his youth, as the reader of American history will at once remember. "He was also," a correspondent informs us, with what truth we know not "Professor of Comparative Anatomy and Theology in the Massachusetts Water Cure Establishment, and held the Homeopatic Chair in the Allopatic University. It was under his wise guidance that the practice of medicine attained such unerring precision in Boston, that not two patients in six survived a call from the one horse chay."

HOW TO WIN A WIFE.—A young, beautiful and wealthy lady, widow of a French officer who lost his life at the assault of her Minlakoff, has chosen a second husband after somewhat eccentric fashion, arising either from a martial disposition or the difficulty of a selection between no less than ten singing aspirants for her hand. Madam C——— invited the ten gentlemen to breakfast at her country village, and having thus united her suitors, informed them that she would unite herself to the one who would hold in his hand a watch for her to fire at and break with a pistol, at twenty paces. Nine of the party did not care to run the risk exacted by this female Travis; but the tenth, a young merchant, courageously determined to fulfil the condition imposed. Madam C——— loaded her pistol forthwith, and went into the garden followed by the company. The twenty paces were measured, the mercantile hero pulled out his watch, gallantly relying one not much larger than a franc, offered by the lady, and fearlessly assumed his place. The Amazon took deliberate aim—bang! went the pistol, and down tumbled the watch, pierced to the cap. The gentleman unharmed by the adventure, has married the rich widow and bought a new time piece.

BREADTH OF RELIGION.—Religion should influence its professor in all the relations of life. Whatever he does, he should do it the better for being a Christian. Religion should make one a better student, a better servant, a better child; a better man in all respects. The pious but eccentric Rowland Hill remarked, "that he would not give a farthing for that man's religion whose cat and dog were not the better for it."

Scrofula, or King's Evil, is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which this fluid becomes vitiated, weak, and poisonous. Being in the circulation, it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the "rod of Him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children."

Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or ulcerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles: in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently, vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed, of all the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.

One quarter of all our people are scrofulous; their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this every where prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as ERUPTIONS and SKIN DISEASES, ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, ROSE, or ERYSIPELAS, PIMPLES, PUSTULES, BLOTCHES, BLAINS and BOILS, TUMORS, TETTER and SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, RINGWORM, RHEUMATISM, SYPHILITIC and MERCURIAL DISEASES, DROPSY, DYSPEPSIA, DEBILITY, and, indeed, ALL COMPLAINTS ARISING FROM VITIATED OR IMPURE BLOOD. The popular belief in "purifying of the blood" is founded in truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC,

are so composed that disease within the range of their action can rarely withstand or resist them. Their penetrating, properties search, and cleanse, and invigorate, every portion of the human organism, correcting its diseased action, and restoring its healthy vitalities. As a consequence of these properties, the invalid who is bowed down with pain or physical debility is astonished to find his health or energy restored by a remedy at once so simple and inviting.

Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also many formidable and dangerous diseases. The agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing certificates of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints: Costiveness, Heartburn, Headache arising from disordered Stomach, Nausea, Indigestion, Pain in and Morbid Inaction of the Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, Jaundice, and other kindred complaints, arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.

So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies thrust upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.
