

Recreation Area—

Estimated cost of landscaping and developing the 14 acre site would be about $100,000. Plans were made by Donald Latschaw, a Penn State student.

Farm Question Box

By Ed. W. Mitchell, Farm Advisor General Electric Station WGY

Q. When do I transplant the following: blackberry bushes (black-caps), Iris, rhubarb, hemlock trees, and yellow plum trees?

A. Iris and rhubarb in the fall; the others in early spring.

Q. Our house is full of flies. How do I get rid of them?

A. Flies, Elm leaf beetles, lady bugs and other insects work their way into the house in the fall for a nice comfortable place to hibernation. As spring approaches, they prepare to leave. Draw the blinds, leave one blind and the window open a little on a sunny day and most of them will fly out and away from the house. The remainder you can get with a fly spray and a vacuum cleaner.

Q. Is it a good practice to use sawdust and shavings from my home workshop as a garden mulch, or as one of the compost heap components?

A. Shavings and sawdust are excellent for mulch, good to work into the soil, and a good addition to the compost heap. Use all you can get.

Q. How can I kill crickets that come into the house?

A. Dust sodium fluoride around all cracks and corners once a week.

Q. How can I control eggs and insects on the leaves of house plants? Do any insects from plants attack rugs and furniture?

A. About the best and safest treatment for eggs and insects on house plants is to dip or spray thoroughly with Black Leaf 40, one teaspoonful to a pint of soapy water. Plant insects do not attack rugs or furniture.

Q. How many gallons of sap does it take to make one gallon of maple syrup and how much does one gallon of syrup weigh?

A. It takes forty to fifty gallons of sap to make one gallon of standard, eleven pound syrup—a little more or less, depending on sugar content of sap, weather, etc.

Feather Market Getting Active

Feathers again are in demand, according to County Agent L. H. Bull. The feather market was strong during the early forties, then tapered off.

White water fowl feathers, since they are more moisture resistant and more resilient, have the most value. They are excellent for sleeping bags because of their good bulking properties.

White turkey feathers are next on the preferred list, then colored turkey and chicken feathers. Feathers should be dry picked to retain their qualities. Scalding causes the quills to crack and the feathers to become more brittle.

Many turkey growers saved from a half to a pound of body feathers per bird during World War II. The income from the feathers often defrayed their marketing costs. Growers dry pick the large wing and tail feathers and place them by themselves. About two thirds of the body feathers can be dry picked and packed separately. Then the birds can be scalded to complete the plucking.

Dried feathers from scalded poultry also have some market value. They can be used where the wear and tension are not severe. A large goose may have a pound of feathers. China and Poland are two of the leading countries from which the United States has imported feathers.

Amazing Circulation

The human body is amazing. Take one adult's blood vessels and lay them end to end—and what? They reach 100,000 miles! The heart pumps much blood, five ounces with each beat, 22 pints a minute, 1500 pints an hour, 4000 gallons a day. Blood circulates through the body in less than a minute. Man is wonderfully made.—The Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania.
