Wool Growers' State Convention.

NORRISTOWN, ALLEY CO., PA., Feb. 2, 1866.

To the Editors of the Pittsburgh Gazette: In the reproduction of the great Horace and Patriot's letter, the glorious Jackson, you have done a nice thing for the Wool Growers, not only of Pennsylvania, but of the whole country. The very arguments he uses for protection on wool, apply now more fully in every particular than they did when written some 42 years ago; nor was he unmindful of agriculture in general or manufacturing interests. He being in favor of America becoming more Americanized, is an awful parody on free trade doctrine now being advocated in the metropolis of the United States so zealously.

Can any person claim that free trade benefits any but the opulent—those who go in silk stockings and other luxurious dress? They are benefitted by free trade. By grinding down the poor they can make a mathematical calculation how much bread it will take to keep the soul and body of their hirelings together, and how much of the cheapest clothing will keep them from pushing and the least comfortable dwelling that will enable them to subsist. These are the facts very generally in a monarchical government, and it only requires that free trade be introduced in the United States to bring around the same results, in a degree. This, the immortal Jackson deprecated. This, every philanthropist deprecates. Monarchical and Republican governments are antagonistical, and in no particular, more than in the interest of the man who earns his daily bread. The monarchical interest is to degrade and to depress the yeomanry and the producers, while the Republican is to raise, elevate, ennoble and to make labor honorable. The matter of sheep husbandry is one of labor, care, cost, and preeminently indispensable to the wealth and prosperity of our common country, nor is there any other business in the country in which there is more varied talent required and interested. The old dependent man who is not able to perform much work, is enabled to earn a livelihood by taking care of a small flock of sheep. The help he hires by the year, month, or day, all have a direct interest in sheep husbandry.

These things being so, will not every sheep owner and as many other tariff men as attend, the Wool Growers' Convention next Thursday, at Pittsburgh, and give their advice and encouragement to that wool growing that receives this attention from our general and State governments, as shall insure the prosperity of all concerned. Bearing in mind that sheep husbandry is both agricultural and manufacturing in itself, sheep being the machine through which part of the product of the farm is converted into wool.

The Missouri Explosion.

LOUISVILLE, Feb. 31, 8:30 P. M.—Additional reliable particulars of the explosion of the Missouri are difficult to obtain. Captain J. V. Hird and three sons are all safe, but badly wounded. The Captain's wife and child were asleep in a room in the texas at the time of the explosion. The Captain and child were thrown through the roof and lodged on the texas. Wife lost. A dispatch, to-day, from Evansville, states that her body was recovered. The explosion occurred just above the mouth of Green River, while the boat was under way, ascending the Kentucky shore. The Dictator was just ahead, on the Indiana shore. The Missouri's boilers went off like a clap of thunder. The boat appeared to split open to the water, and sank immediately to the cabin floor, drifting down to the bar, above Evansville. The loss of life is exaggerated, as there were not few cabin passengers, including ten or twelve who got on board at Evansville. All supposed to be lost. The crew on watch were all killed or wounded. The Dictator dropped back and went alongside and took off one hundred and twenty, including many badly wounded. Some estimate seventy lives lost, including Sam Phillips, of New Albany, chief engineer, on watch at the time; Billy Malston and Joe Gumbria, strikers. All the colored firemen on watch were lost. Alex. Frank, foodwaiter, watchman; Wm. Brooks, colored porter; Sam and Ewing Lee, colored cabin watchman, were lost. William Peters, of Owensboro, Kentucky, a passenger, lost, with fifty barrels molasses and fifty-seven bales gunny bags. A passenger from Lowell, Massachusetts, and family, connected with the Freedmen's Bureau, were saved. Capt. J. Mark Stewart, of New Albany, Indiana, was saved. Pilot Andy Fleming, saved. Hamilton, bar-keeper, wheat; James Watkins, first mate, unhurt; B. F. Burch, second mate, wounded slightly; Henry Hurd, pilot; Wm. Gaskell, fireman, slightly; John Hoxsey, fireman, slightly; Hurd, second clerk, unhurt and saves his book.

The cabin register and books are supposed to be lost. The boat was underway at the time. A minute before the explosion it was remarked to the pilot that there was no excitement, passing the Dictator later, he said he didn't think the steam, and was in no hurry.

An erroneous impression prevails as to rescuing. The Missouri left New Orleans twenty-four hours after the Dictator, and had no thought of racing.

Hard Pan,

A Washington dispatch says that the unconditional union men from the South, who are swarming in Washington, and who delight in the designation of "Hard-pan Reconstructionists," prepared the following questions as an epitome of their construction of the Constitution, and has the same printed for circulation among Congressmen:

1. The exclusive power of Congress over the subject of citizenship and naturalization.

2. The power of Congress to give effect by the enactment and enforcement of laws to all the protective provisions of the Constitution, and to make the principle of protection practically coextensive with citizenship.

3. The positive Constitutional interdict upon the power of Congress, and upon the legislatures of the respective States to subvert or impair the natural or personal rights enunmerated or implied in the Constitution.

4. The prayer of Congress to compel the enforcement and maintenance of republican governments in every State, making the enumeration of personal and natural rights and the protective features of the Constitution the definition and test of what is republican government; and further, in order to establish and maintain such local republican government in every State, to prescribe, in case of necessity, the rule of suffrage or qualification of voters.

LONDON has had a terrible snow storm. People awoke in the morning to find the streets and house-tops covered to the depth of six and eight inches, and where it had drifted, as much as two or three feet. The side walks were next to impassable. Cabs were scarce, then at a premium, then unattainable, omnibuses crowded, pedestrians miserable, boys exultant, mails delayed, accidents frequent. The commencement of the latter was occasioned by snow accumulating on the telegraph wires to such an extent to tear down the posts, to the damage of whatever happened to be beneath. At the Elephant and Castle three dislodged means of electric communication descending from the house-tops, nearly garotted an unlucky omnibus-driver. Others dragged a man into the Surrey Canal, others tore off the roof of a building, and part of a wall, as neatly as if cut asunder by machinery. Hardly a telegraph wire in London remained entire; they lay across the roofs of the houses, stretching from chimney to tenement in great festoons of snow. When they reached the ground, the policemen found employed on that duty—twisted them around lamp-posts to get them out of the way. The snow drifted into the works of the great clock of the Victoria Tower at Westminster, into that of the Horseguards, into that at the Royal Exchange, and stopped them—the papers at almost the same moment, 6½ o'clock. On the different lines of railway leading into the metropolis, they could hardly discern the signal-posts, and had to blow for signals. The guards at the south and south-western lines assert that they never encountered such a snow storm.

COLORED EVIDENCE IN A SOUTHERN COURT.—In the case of McGill, tried at Nashville on Saturday last before Judge Wilkinson, for shooting at Gee with intent to rob, Turner Hickman, a colored man, was introduced as a witness under the new law. This is the first instance of a negro testifying against a white man in Tennessee, and created some sensation. Hickman gave his evidence with much coolness and deliberation, answering a confusing question of one of the attorneys in so pointed and polite a manner as to astonish the spectators and Court. He testified to having seen McGill on the Gallatin pike, near the place of shooting, but the weight of evidence was decidedly the other way. The Judge considered an alibi clearly proven, and the prisoner was discharged.

LET HIM DOWN EASY.—The manner in which our military heroes are let down to their original level, on their return home, is something more amusing to the looker-on than fighting to the subject. A case in point: Gen. Sam. H. went out in a regiment from the Badger State as Captain. Before he left the rendezvous he was promoted to Colonel, and for gallant conduct on the field was brevetted Brigadier General. On his retirement to civil life he told a friend "they let him down easy." At Washington it was Gen. H.; at Madison, Col. H.; at the town where he organized his company, it was, "How are you, Captain?" and when he got to S., where he resides, every low with freckled nose was shouting, "Hallo, Sam!"—Wabash Herald.

SERGEANTS in England seem to have turned the tables on masters and mistresses. In the Times supplement lately, a housemaid advertising for a place, announces that "Irish and Scotch families are objected to." What a chance, says the Pall Mall Gazette, since the time (not so very long ago) which, in the advertisements for servants, it used frequently to be stated that "no Irish need apply."

IT will be remembered that when Mrs. Gaskell died her sentimental "Wives and Daughters," in course of serial publication in the Cornhill Magazine, lacked only one chapter of completion. The last word [illegible] Hollingsworth [illegible] and his wife." [illegible]

VARIOUS ITEMS.

THE reported firing at an engine on the Irish Midland Railway, near Mullingar, which rumor magnified into an attempt to assassinate the Lord Lieutenant, who was not in the train at all, has been explained. It has been found that a telegraph pole was blown against the engine, and that no shot was fired at all.

A RAILWAY has just been sold for debt at Dublin. The line was the Wexford and Rathdrum Railway, twenty-nine miles in extent and in perfect working order. Creditors to the amount of £37,000 were either bound personally or by representation. The line was knocked down to a barrister for a sum of £25,000.

THE Alabama Legislature have created a new county, and called it Cleburne, in honor of the rebel General of that name. Admit the Alabama delegation to Congress and they would propose to change the name of the Federal Capital from Washington to Davistown.

A rebel secession organ in Alabama says: If we could win by diplomacy what we have lost by the sword. That is, the rebels tried to effect disunion by arms, but having failed in the use of that means, they mean to gain their original point by diplomacy.

A DISPATCH from Memphis says it is reported that General Forrest, under the guise of retiring from business in Memphis to Intrenchment, is gone to Mexico, in consequence of having been notified to appear before a Military Commission at Washington.

"THE Macgillycuddy of the Reeks" died on the 6th, aged 76, Dublin, after a protracted illness. He was a deputy lieutenant of the County Kerry, and possessed considerable property and much influence in that county. A fine name for a novel!

A FELLOW out west being asked whether the pizen he was drinking was a good article, replied: "Wal, I don't know, guess so. There is only one queer thing about it, whenever I wipe my mouth, I burn a hole in my shirt."

JUDGE MCCUNN, on Saturday, in the Female Emigration swindling case, ruled that Mercer the chief of the enterprise, was a most consummate villain, but he exhonerated the steamship company from complicity.

REV. MR. SWENSON, has now in preparation for the ministry sixty-six young men, for whose board and education he is personally responsible. The copyright of his new book is devoted to that object.

Brutal Assassination of a Bureau Officer at Pontotoc, Mississippi.

A gentleman who has just returned from Pontotoc, Mississippi, states that a few nights since the Agent of the Freedmen's Bureau at that place was murdered in cold blood, while sleeping in his bed, by a party of rebels. His body was riddled with bullets in the most shocking manner. The people at Pontotoc hated the Bureau intensely for interfering with them in exercising control over their slaves, and are heartily glad over the summary method in which its agent has been dispatched from service. We are informed that the people of Mississippi generally sympathize with them in their hatred of the Bureau and their opposition of freedmen. They denounce the President in unmeasured terms for insisting on the abolition of slavery, and speak of the Federal Government as a despotism, to which they must yield, for the present, from necessity, and not from inclination. Union men are compelled to be as silent and cautious as they were in 1861, and look as if they were the subjugated party. The secessionists treat them with contempt and speak of them on all occasions as "traitors to the South."—Nashville Press.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

AYER'S AGUE CURE, for the speedy cure of Fever and Ague, Remittent Fever, Chill Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical Headache or Bilious Headache, and Bilious Fever. Indeed for the whole class of diseases originating in Miasmatic Poison, caused by the Malaria of intermediate countries.

Fever and Ague is not the only consequence of the miasmatic poison. A great variety of disorders arises from its irritation, in malignant districts, among which are Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Headache, Blindness, Toothache, Earache, Croup, Asthma, Palpitation, Painful Affection of the Spleen, Hysterics, Pain in the Bowels, Colic, Paralysis, and Derangement of the Stomach, all of which, originating in this cause put on the intermittent type, or become periodical. This "CURE" expels the poison from the blood, and thus cures them all at once. It is not only the most effectual remedy ever discovered for this class of complaints, but it is the cheapest and moreover is perfectly safe. It leaves no trace from its use, and the patient when cured is left as healthy as if he had never had the disease. Thus this be said of any other cure for Chills and Fever. It is true of this, and its imperfections in those instances where the complaint cannot be over estimated, be sure it is to cure the Fever and Ague, that may be truthfully said to be a certain remedy. Our Dealer complains that it is not a good medicine to sell because one bottle cures a whole neighborhood.

RETROUVAY'S TURKISH AMOLIORATION HAIR TONIC, THE DRESSING AND RESTORER OF THE AGED TURKISH SANDUVENIA.

RETROUVEY'S TURKISH BANDOLINIA. What can be more acceptable than anything that will beautify? that will restore nature's decay by stopping the hair from falling out, restoring its natural color, making it to grow in luxuriance and beauty, and it is putting it up according to the present style and fashion and keep it in place? This Retrouvey's Turkish Amolioration Hair Tonic will do, and for proof we refer you to any person who has tried it. It is acknowledged to be the beautifier of the age, the only Hair Tonic and Restorer worthy of the name. In Europe, France, in England, in America—everywhere where the "Mahometan" is known—it is proposed to the fair wives of Hair Preparations. Remember, it is free from all metallic poisons that are so common in most Hair Colors and Dressings. It is the extract of many flowers and herbs, beautifully put up, as ornament to the toilet.

For sale by all Druggists and Perfumers, wholesale by R. K. SELLERS & CO., R. L. FAHNESTOCK & CO.

GREENBACKS

BUT

ROBACK'S BITTERS

ARE BETTER.

Roback's Stomach Bitters

After years of experience and trial, have proven to be the best remedy extant for all complaints where a tonic and stimulant are required. They never fail to strengthen the weak, impart vigor to the strong and in all respects restore shattered and broken-down constitutions. No remedy has been received with as much favor as ROBACK'S STOMACH BITTERS.

BUT

It is admitted by our most learned physicians that DR. ROBACK'S BITTERS combine the properties of a gentle laxative, an efficient anti-bilious agent, and the best stomachic known to the world.

ROBACK'S

BITTERS

Should be used by convalescents to strengthen the constitution which always follows acute diseases.

As a remedy for Bilious diseases of the West and South there has for a long time been much needed, as experience proves Roback's Bitters, which, if taken in proper quantities and at the proper
