Some Particulars of the Loss of the Steamer W. R. Carter.

Two gentlemen, passengers on the steamer Luna, (which left New Orleans on the 5th of January,) reached this city yesterday, and we gather from them some particulars relating to the loss of the W. R. Carter, the wreck of which they passed a short time after the catastrophe.

The first indications that the passengers upon the Luna had of the disaster, were parts of the wreck and cargo floating past, about daylight, on Friday morning, a few miles above Vicksburg. The Luna continued to pass parts of the drifting wreck for about fifteen miles, when she was met by the Evening Star, which had overtaken the wreck, in time to pick up and save some twenty-five or twenty-six persons, round clinging to floards, cotton bales, whitepaddle boats, and other drifting matter. Among the saved, and on board the Evening Star, were but five females, though it was reported there were many lady passengers on board the W. R. Carter when the disaster occurred.

From conversations given by the few passengers who escaped with their lives, the following facts are gathered. The W. R. Carter left, up stream, four o'clock Friday morning, February 2, about seventy-five miles above Vicksburg, and was in the middle of the river at the time, and running slowly. The noise attending the explosion was very slight, not sufficient even to awaken the passengers. The boat caught fire immediately. The first warning many had of the danger was the fire in their state-rooms. The boat did not sink for upward of one hour and a half after the explosion. The pilot who escaped says he and his brother were at the wheel at the time, and his brother exclaimed, "What is this?" He replied, "I don't know unless she is blowing up." At that the floor raised comparatively slowly, and the next place he discovered himself was down among the boilers. He saved himself but his brother was lost.

A young man from Alabama, was awakened by the fire, when he sprang up and climbed out of his state-room through the flames, burning his hands very badly and, had almost exhausted into the water, where he climbed upon a floating cotton bale and held that nearly one hour, when he was picked up by the Evening Star.

A gentleman, said to be from Louisville, just married, was on the fatal boat with his wife, and was awakened by fire in his state-room. When he rushed forward to see what was the matter, and became separated from his wife by the flames, when he shouted to her to jump overboard, and spring into the water himself but could not induce her to follow. He swam about the boat for some time, trying in vain to convince her of his ability to save her, when he swam ashore, and she perished in the flames. The new agent, it was said, $17,000 in gold.

A waiter (colored) forcibly dragged a lady from her state-room and threw her overboard, to save her from burning to death, and the poor lady was drowned. It seems that the woman, upon being dashed upon decks and perished on the flames rather, than take the water, while the men perished in the water, vainly endeavoring to persuade the women to trust themselves to the river. One of the survivors, tell of seeing dozens of men in the water, clinging to each other, and drowning in the strong current, and tells of seeing them become chilled and fall back helplessly in the river, meeting their fate.

To add to the terror of the scene were a number of horses and mules, which, swam round and round the burning boat. As the Luna passed up, the poor animals could be seen struggling and shivering in the water, close to the bank, which they were unable to climb. Only one was to be seen that had gained a foothold on the shore. Every thing indicated a most frightful disaster. Most of the persons saved had nothing on but their night clothes, and suffered extremely.—Cincinnati Commercial.

Swindling Through the Postoffice.

The Washington correspondent of the New York Evening Post says:

The Postoffice Department was compelled, one day last week, to send back fourteen hundred letters for a swindler in New Jersey. The letters were addressed to counterfeit bills of $1,000, which had been drawn from foolish people in various parts of the country. Under a regulation of the Postoffice Department, when every money is fraudulently obtained from people through the postoffice by means of assumed or false names, the letters are seized. The Marshal at New York and Brooklyn having complained to the department that a man in New Jersey was making use of the postoffice for swindling purposes, a detective was sent to the scene of operations, who seized those letters. They were forwarded here, and a number of them opened, and nearly every one contained from three to five dollars, and some small larger amounts. Every examining into the case it was found that the persons to whom the letters were addressed were regularly chosen that no bad act seemed in addition to name, and that no law or regulation of the department would justify the detention of the letters. There was not the slightest doubt as to the fraud, yet under the law it was considered impossible to convict. The guilty person, when charged with fraud, claimed that at some time in the future he expected to fill the orders for the bills, and that the fraud which was true) that whenever answered his circulars with money took the risk; and that nobody could assert that he did not intend to forward the gifts promised. The Department intends to call upon Congress for additional legislation to meet such cases of swindling.

Reconstruction.

The following is an extract from a private letter written by a gentleman in Georgia to a friend in this city. The writer has been a resident of Georgia for more than twenty-five years, and during the war was a loyal and Union loving citizen. His letter gives expression to a feeling that is too universal to be doubted. We quote:

February 1, 1866.—The future of this country (the South) it is hard to predict. The policy of reconstruction in regard to wholesale pardon of rebels, with restoration of all civil and political rights, is certainly not productive of a sound and healthy loyal sentiment. The more they secure, the more they demand, and curse the hand that gives.

Union men are proscribed as much and more than before the war, and unless Congress, by some means or other, can make loyalty respectable in this section, Union men had better emigrate.

The steps of restoration so far have been all wrong, and they have amply tended to bring out the state of things existing at the South, as represented by every careful and honest observer, and since the President had the whole question within his grasp. As Carl Schurz said in his report, the first proclamation of reconstruction broke the spell and restored the South to its old condition of arrogance.—N. Y. Commercial Advertiser.

Kidnapping Negroes.

On Friday we alluded to the statement made by a Boston correspondent, that negroes were being hired in the Gulf States under false pretenses, and then shipped off to Cuba and sold into slavery. A gentleman from Georgia, a thoroughly loyal man, assures us that not only is the charge true, but the fact is well known to many who, dissatisfied with the loss of their slaves, winked at the atrocious crime. We have long been acquainted with our informant, and place implicit reliance upon his statements. He says that for many weeks parties from the North, as well as the South, have been engaged along the coast and inland rivers in employing blacks for the pretended purpose of laboring at a distance but really to be forced into Cuban bondage. This trade was especially the case at St. Marks and at Mobile. Freedmen are engaged in the latter city and up the Alabama and Tombigby rivers, to work at New Orleans and elsewhere by base wretches, who, having secured and taken them down the bay in small vessels for their pretended destinations, then hurry them out to sea and thence to Cuba. The attention of the government authorities has been called to the matter, but they have thus far taken no steps towards arresting and punishing the offenders or otherwise putting a stop to the fiendish traffic.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

Nothing but Justice.

The Rebel officers of the Union army who have settled in the South, are to be allowed to keep the arms which the Government sold to them when their term of service expired. In this regard General Sherman has issued an order from Atlanta, by which we learn that "no property in which no sale of insurrectionary violence is nonsense. The solemn pledge of the United States to the free people of color that they shall be and remain free, requires that the law, by whomsoever made and administered, and including these provisions, shall be faithfully and impartially applied to all men, without distinction on account of color."

He therefore sends a garrison to Russell county, where the local authorities had seized arms belonging to freedmen.

By the fifth section of an act approved March 3, 1863, (12 Statutes at Large, p. 772,) it is enacted that every claim against the United States, cognizable by the Court of Claims, shall be forever barred unless the bill setting forth a full statement of the claim be filed in the court, or transmitted to it, within six years after the claim first accrues, provided that claims accrued six years before the passage of the act shall not be barred if presented within three years after the passage of the act.

Thus all claims against the United States cognizable by the Court of Claims, and of more than six years' standing, will be barred after the 3d of March 1866.—Nat. Intell.

CHARLES J. FAULKNER, whose rebellious attributes are well known, recently asserted the right to practice as a lawyer in West Virginia without taking the test oath. The Supreme Court of the State, however, decided against his claim.

GENERAL NEWS.

CATHOLIC CHURCH PROPERTY IN POLAND.—The Russian Government has confiscated the entire property of the Roman Catholic Church in Poland. By virtue of an imperial ukase, dated December 26, 1865, and promulgated January 10th, the landed estates and houses, as well as the ready capital, stocks, claims, and all other belongings of the national ecclesiastical establishment of Poland, have been seized and appropriated by the Czar. The funds and other capital thus appropriated before the last rebellion amounted to 2,573,613 roubles; the value of the land, &c., may be estimated at about six times that much. To make up for this confiscation on a grand scale, the government who, as an indemnity for former appropriations of the same kind, previously contributed about a third of the church expenditure, now undertakes to provide the whole salary of the priests, as well as sundry other items of the current ecclesiastical costs.

ENGLISH GIRLS AND PHYSICAL EXERCISE.—The English girl spends more than one-half her waking hours in physical amusement, which tends to develope and invigorate and ripen the bodily powers. She rides, walks, sings, jumps the rope, throws the ball, hurls the quoits, draws the bow, keeps up the shuttlecock—and all this without having it pressed upon her mind that she is wasting her time. She does this every day until it becomes a habit. It she will follow through life. Her frame as a natural consequence, is larger; her muscular system better developed; her nervous system in better subordination; her strength more enduring, and the whole tone of her mind healthier.

Labor is low, capital is scarce, and interest is high, in every country on the globe which exports raw products. Turkey, Mexico, Russia, Ireland, Canada, and south America are solemn witnesses to the truth of this law of Economy. It is an inevorable law, without variableness or shadow of turning. In all those countries which consume their new products, land and labor rise in price, capital becomes plenty, and interest steadily falls. This, too, is one of God's unchangeable laws. Massachusetts and Connecticut, Belgium, France and Germany, joyfully witness to its truth and beneficence.—N. Y. Tribune.

In 1855, a Mr. Garnet, living near Auburn, New York, was sent to State prison for forgery. He served out his time, and when he came out his wife, deeming him guilty, refused to receive him. He went to Pennsylvania and married a young wife. A few weeks ago a man, on his death bed, confessed to the crime for which Garnet suffered. The first wife, repenting her conduct, hunted him up, confessed her cruelty, a reconciliation was effected, and the second wife voluntarily gave up her claim. The first wife now lives with her husband, and the second is liberally endowed.

We require foreigners who leave their houses and come to this country, because it offers them the rights of freemen—men who love republican institutions,—to wait five years before they can vote; should traitors, who have done their utmost to overthrow republican institutions, and who have disfranchised themselves because they have no be admitted upon shorter probation! If the man who loves this country must wait five years for a vote, how long should he wait who hates the country?—Illinois Journal.

A monster rebellion on Mount Sinai is reported in a letter in the Levant Herald. It appears that Archbishop Cyril, of the Convent of St. Catherine, having in some way offended his monks, they mutinied in a body, seized the Archbishop and shut him up in the black hole in the convent. News of the affair was sent by an adherent of the Archbishop to Cairo, whereupon the Viceroy dispatched a company of troops to release the prelate and to restore his authority.—Foreign Paper.

A Kewanee, (O.) correspondent of the Cleveland Herald says that on Saturday all the distilleries in Huron county, except one were closed by the Government, for alleged violations of the revenue law. The inspector had previously been placed under arrest, under the charge of sanctioning the violation. It is understood that a further hearing will be had before the U. S. Commissioner at Cleveland, some time this week.

The St. Louis Republican has been shown a private letter, which, under date of the 30th ult., states, that as a party, at the town of Avoca, five miles from Russellville, Alabama, thirteen persons, out of a party of thirty, were fatally poisoned by drinking whisky which, it is supposed, had been drugged. Three of the musicians, who had drank very freely, died before day. The other victims lingered longer.

The New York Evangelist says that Father Agapius, the Greek Church priest, who made such a sensation in New York a few months since by officiating in an Episcopal Church there, has been "turned out of his church by his ecclesiastical superiors, for countenancing church outside of the Apostolic succession, and the father, disgusted, has made an application to be received into the Presbyterian church.

STATIONARY GENERATIONS.—The man who conveyed in his cart the body of William Rufus from the New Forest, A. D. 100, is the ancester of a very numerous tribe, of his lineal descendants it is reported that, living on the same spot, they have constantly been proprietors of a horse and cart, but have never attained to the possession of a team.—Pict. Hist. of England.

A BRUTAL murder was committed on Tue's day evening at a place called Joe Wilson's Tavern, about two miles out of Tullo. The murdered man's name was Campbell. He was about thirty-five years of age, and leaves a wife and children four years of age. The murder is supposed to have been committed by five young men, all of whom are under arrest in the Titusville.

A CATTLE-DEALER who, before the orders forbidding the importation of foreign cattle into the United States, had sent a number of cattle to Canada to be fattened, asked the Secretary of the Treasury to allow them to return. The Secretary stated that on account of the existing regulations, his request cannot be granted.

In a joint meeting of the two branches of the New Jersey Legislature, on Wednesday, the State Treasurer, keeper of the State Prison, two State Railroad Directors, and five Inspectors—all Union men—were duly elected.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

AYER'S AGUE CURE, for the speedy cure of *Intermittent Fever, Ague and Fever, Chill Fever, Bilious Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, and all other Fevers, caused by the malarious poison, a great variety of diseases arising from its irritation, in malarious districts, among which are Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Headache, Blindness, Toothache, Earache, Catarrh, Asthma, Palpitation, Painting, Dyspepsia, Hysterics, Pain in the Bowels, Colic, Paralysis, and Derangement of the stomach, all of which, when originating in this cause put on the intermittent form, or become periodical. This "CURE" expels the poison from the blood, and thus cures them all alike. It is not only the most effectual remedy ever discovered for this class of complaints, but it is the cheapest and moreover is perfectly safe. No harm can arise from its use, and the patient when cured is left as healthy as if he had never had the disease. Can this be said of any other cure for Chills and Fever? It is true of this, and it is the only one of which this can truthfully be said. Experience has proved it to be a good medicine to sell because the sales grow to a whole business. Dealers complain that it is not a good medicine to sell because the sales grow to a whole neighborhood.

Prepared by J. C. AYER & Co., Lowell, Mass., and sold by H. A. FARNESTOCK & CO., and by all Druggists. jal6:2mwAwF

GREENBACKS
BUT
It is admitted by our most learned physicians that DR. ROBACK'S BITTERS combine the properties of a gentle laxative, an effectual anti-bilious agent and the best stomachic known to the world.
ROBACK'S
BITTERS should be used by convalescents to strengthen the prostration which always follows acute diseases.
To the bilious districts of the West and South they are a long time, been much needed, an article of stomach Bitters, which, if taken in proper quantities and at the proper time, are a sure preventive of Bilious Fever, Fever and Ague,
Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia,
Indigestion, Jaundice, Kidney Complaints, and all Diseases of a similar nature, and Are Better
a preventive for bilious derangement, regulating the system, and giving tone to the digestive organs, than any other known remedy.
Now that the war is over, there will be thousands seeking homes in the South. No person who values his life should go there without taking constantly a bottle of the BITTERS, as a safeguard against epidemic and malaria engendered by miasma and polluted water.
Travelers to and all residents of the rank bottoms of the west and south, and the valley Mississippi and its tributaries, should provide themselves with the
