S. armed services. Sgt. Richard Wallace is with the Air Corps in Texas, while A/C James Wallace is with the Air Corps in Bainbridge, Georgia.

—Paul W. Baudis, formerly of the Scotia area, now a resident of Brooklyn, N. Y., is one of our many subscribers who is finding much of interest in his favorite home newspaper. Mr. Baudis writes: "I find the home paper very interesting during my enforced idleness on account of an accident last January. I discover plenty of interesting stuff in the "50 years ago" items, besides the present day news. Also that observing and analytical philosopher, "Horace Sentz," whose colorful observations seem to be, to my mind, thoroughly Pennsylvania if not Penna. Dutch. I am also not forgetting the many historical articles, many of which I preserve in a scrap book. I wish you a Merry Christmas and a happy and prosperous New Year."

—Miss Dorothy Bixler, a teacher in the Bellefonte schools, was guest of honor at a dinner held last Tuesday night at the Penn-Belle Hotel, Bellefonte, in honor of her departure during the weekend for training in the WAACS. John F. Kusse, of Camp Sutton, N. C., son of Mr. and Mrs. Karl E. Kusse, of West Linn street, Bellefonte. Sgt. Kusse is expected to arrive home on a furlough on December 21. Miss Swartz has been owner and manager of Milady's Beauty Salon on North Allegheny street for several years. Sgt. Kusse was a member of Battery B, 190th Field Artillery, Bellefonte, and was inducted into the regular army with other members of the local battery in January 1940. He was first stationed at Camp Shelby, Miss., but for a number of months has been at Camp Sutton where he is employed in the post finance office.

—Do you want varicolored flames in your fireplace during the Yuletide season? You can have them if the pine cones or logs are soaked in different chemical solutions. According to the General Electric Science Forum question-and-answer man, featured each week in the Centre Democrat, fireplace fuel soaked in a lithium chloride solution will produce a purple flame, while strontium nitrate will present a beautiful red. Copper sulphate will give you blue, and calcium chloride will burn with an orange flame. Yellow is produced with sodium chlorate. Wood or cones that have barium nitrate in them will give green flames. The directions are simple. Dissolve one pound of the chemical powder in one gallon of water, have the fuel soak a few minutes, and then let it dry. Large logs will also produce the same effects if the chemicals are dusted on them before being placed in the fireplace. These inexpensive chemicals can be bought in drug or hardware stores.
