Weekly Commercial Summary.

New York, Saturday, March 13

The abundance of money has lowered the rates of interest 3 to 4 per cent. Sixty Day prime paper can now be discounted at 5½ per cent, and good paper, three to four months, at 6 per cent. Even negotiated paper can be negotiated at 6 and 7 per cent, and call loans at 5 per cent. There are, however, instances of lower rates than these being reported.

The abundance of money, or rather the prospect of a still greater abundance from the stoppage of gold shipments, inspire some alarm in monetary circles, lest speculation of an unwholesome kind be indulged in. Nothing of this kind appears at present. On the contrary, here as in England, there is a remarkable absence of speculation along with a superabundance of means. In the two leading articles of commerce, cotton and breadstuffs, the demand for consumption is very large while the speculation in either, no desire exists. Arrivals here and receipts here are realised at once, thus tolerating the advance in prices, which is inevitable.

With respect to our breadstuffs, there prevails an opinion in Liverpool that they will receive very large supplies from this country in the next six weeks: but in that they will be disappointed, as there is no stock here, and the scarcity of ships prevents shipments—thus preventing any very large shipments until May, when the canal opens, and which cannot arrive in Europe before June or July. Prices, therefore, likely to rise in Liverpool very seriously without the aid of a corn law. Should there be any prospect of a fixed duty on corn being imposed in England our exports will be very large for the purpose of hoarding.

Monetary prospects appear clear until the fall.—That may then be the condition of the market, it is impossible to foresee. It is shrouded in mist;—at any rate our exports will be light, and it is feasible that heavy fall imports may balance their present lightness: thus causing large exports of gold. We do not therefore anticipate an easy money market at that time; rather the reverse, as crises beget contraries; but in the meanwhile extraordinary abundance of money is likely to prevail especially about the dog days.

The chief feature of the week has been the great demand for our bonds and stocks on European account. Government stocks, western railroad stocks and bonds, as well as state stocks, have been taken by Europe in large amounts.

It is most necessary in prosperous circumstances to fear adverse times; as the seeds of evil are generally then sown heedlessly. The evil most to be dreaded and avoided, is the locking up too great a proportion of the present large floating capital beyond the power of recall when the market grows tight.

Thoughts on Health Insurance.

The spirit of the age is to banish want and misery from our midst; and through its promptings we see the philanthropic erecting houses for the sick and disabled, providing shelter for the poor and friendless, and dispensing charities, holy and beneficent throughout the world. The amelioration of the suffering of our race is the aim of the good, the just and benevolent; and the accomplishment of this object has occupied the attention of many of the wisest and most intelligent men of our times. In every section of our country, we can trace the workings of this benevolent and charitable spirit, and from among us have gone Missionaries to spread its influence in all parts of the world. Among the most active agents it has brought into action is that of health insurance; and through its means a large amount of misery has been, and will continue to be prevented. This is striking directly at the root of disease; and through its aid, there is not a healthy man or woman but can protect themselves from want in case of sickness or accident, by the exercise of a little economy while in the enjoyment of health.—Such the advantages and benefits cannot be fully appreciated until disease has laid its heavy hand upon the strong man's arm and he finds himself on a bed of sickness, without ability or means to supply his own necessities, or those of his family. To those who with a wise providence against misfortunes, which may come at any time, and may befall all have entitled themselves whilst in health, to receive the benefits of a health association; sickness and suffering will be alleviated by the means provided, instead of the uncertain and often begrudged charity of an unfeeling world. The known business habits, characters and responsibility of those having the management of the affairs of the Mechanics Union Association, will they trust be a guarantee to the public of the fidelity and prudence with which they will execute the trust committed to them. Fifty-one thousand five hundred dollars are pledged to the association as a perpetual guaranty for the faithful performance of the obligations of members expressed in their certificates, and which is liable at all time to meet the wants of the Association. This is the second year since this association has been established, and the remarkable success which it has and continues to meet with, assures the Directors that the public generally, fully appreciate the benefits it confers upon its members. Its principles have been carefully considered and thoroughly tested, and all proper claims are promptly paid.

☞ We call the attention of Merchants, Booksellers, Druggists and others to the advertisement of the Cotton Manufacturing Company, of 44 Cortland Street, N. Y., in another column. This Company undoubtedly stands at the head of the trade in quantity and variety of the Goods they manufacture and import, as they are constantly manufacturing, they keep up a full assortment at all seasons of the year and are fully prepared to fill orders for goods in their line at any time.

☞ TRUE CAUTION TO PEOPLE STARTING FOR CALIFORNIA.—Passengers by the Steamer Empire City, which came from Chagres three weeks ago, state that there are some five thousand Americans, or people of the United States waiting at Panama for a passage to Francisco. The Steamers can not convey them as fast as they arrive and it is thought that many will have to return to the United States, on account of the scarcity of provisions. Again we advise our friends do not start for California until they engage a passage and the way through from New York.

☞ Mr. Clay, says the Washington Telegraph of Monday, is much improved, and would have gone to the Senate had that body been in session to-day. The weather continues favorable, and no unfavorable indication presents itself, he may be confident looked for in his place at the Capitol on Monday next. That he will not make a speech there is declared by a writer who professes to speak by authority. That he will make a speech there is as certain as that the strength shall be given him for which we now rejoice in believing very probable.

☞ The Indiana Whig State convention met on Wednesday and nominated Nicholas McCarty for Gov. Wm. Williams, Lieut Gov. John O Berry, Secretary of the State, D McGuire Auditor, Chas. Wood, Superintendant of Public Schools, Attorney, and Messrs. McDonald and Gookins Judges of the Supreme Court. They passed resolutions instructing the Delegates from Indiana to vote for Gen Scott for President and John J. Crittenden for Vice President.

☞ It is stated that a number of ten and twenty dollar gold pieces are in circulation at Pittsburg having holes first bored through them, and then carefully filled up as to render its detection very difficult.

☞ The New Hampshire Election appears from the returns thus far received, to have resulted in the success of the Democratic candidate for Governor, and a Democratic majority in the Legislature.
