pretended law which may be alleged to have taken effect therein since. That they shall fully investigate and take proof of all violent and tumultuous proceedings in said Territory at any time since the passage of the Kansas-Nebraska Act, whether engaged in by residents of said Territory, or by any person or persons from elsewhere going into said Territory, and doing, or encouraging others to do, any act of violence or public disturbance against the laws of the United States, or the rights, peace and safety of the residents of said Territory; and for that purpose said Committee shall have full power to send for and examine, and take copies of all such papers, records and proceedings, as in their judgement will be useful in the premises; and, also, to send for persons, and to examine them on oath, or affirmation, as to matters within their knowledge touching the matters of said investigation; and such Committee, by their Chairman, shall have power to administer all necessary oaths or affirmations connected with their aforesaid duties.

Resolved further, That said Committee may hold their investigations at such places and times as to them may seem advisable, and that they have leave of absence from the duties of this House until they shall have completed such investigation. That they be authorized to employ one or more Clerks, and one or more assistant Sergeants at-Arms, to aid them in their investigation and may administer to them an oath or affirmation faithfully to perform the duties assigned to them, respectively, and to keep secret all matters which may come their knowledge touching such investigation as said Committee shall direct, until the report of the same shall be submitted to this House; and said Committee may discharge any such Clerk, or assistant Sergeant at-Arms, for neglect of duty or disregard of instructions in the premises, and employ others under like regulations.

Resolved further, That if any person shall in any manner obstruct or hinder said investigation, or shall refuse to attend on said committee, and to give evidence when summoned for that purpose, or shall refuse to produce any paper, book, public record, or proceeding in their possession or control, to said committee when so required, or shall make any disturbance where said committee is holding their sittings, said committee may, it they see fit, cause any and every such person to be arrested by said assistant sergeant-at-arms, and brought before this House to be dealt with as for contempt.

Resolved further, That for the purpose of defraying the expenses of said commission, there be, and hereby is, appropriated the sum of $10,000, to be paid out of the contingent fund of this House.

Resolved further, That the President of the United States be, and is hereby, requested to furnish to said Committee, should they be met with any serious opposition by bodies of lawless men, in the discharge of their duties aforesaid, such aid from any military force as may at the time be convenient to them, as may be necessary to remove such opposition, and enable said Committe, without molestation, to proceed with their labors.

Resolved further, That when said Committee shall have completed said investigation, they report all the evidence so collected to this House.

☞ Mr. A. W. Stevens, for several years editor of the Warren (Pa.) Ledger, a democratic paper, has been compelled to withdraw from it because he will not sacrifice his anti-slavery views. He says:—

"I have not hitherto, and do not feel at liberty to support the cardinal measures of the National Administration. Neither have I been able to regard with any degree of favor the exertions of that Administration, impelled and supported by the South, to extend the peculiar and to me revolting institution of human Slavery. I have spoken out unreservedly in condemnation of such endeavors, as being repugnant to and at war with the principles of the immortal founder of American Democracy—Thomas Jefferson. At first I supposed, judging from its previous platforms, that I was but echoing the sentiment of my party. But I was deceived in this opinion, for I subsequently found that such a course did not receive the sanction of many democrats. When I became convinced of this fact, I deemed it my duty to retire from a position alike embarrassing to myself and the party of which the Ledger is the organ. I have done so, and my hope is that such a step will result in good to myself and satisfaction to the Democratic party."

The Cruise of the Arctic, in search of the Pacific, was a very perilous one. Lieut. Hartstene, who has been in the Polar regions, says that during this expedition he has twice been nearer death's door than ever before. A terrific storm occurred one night off Cape Sable, when the sea was constantly dashing over the decks, and not a soul on board expected to be saved. The staunch qualities of the Arctic, which is considered the strongest and most serviceable vessel in the service, were tested to the utmost. The gales were mostly accompanied by snow. The Arctic experienced little or no obstruction from ice, except about Rhode Island.

Winter in Missouri.—A letter from Charleston, Mississippi county, Missouri, says the ground is frozen there seventeen inches deep. This is nearly opposite the mouth of the Ohio. The thermometer has been 16 deg. below zero this winter. Stock and game have suffered from to starvation during the long continuance of snow and frozen ground. Deer, wild turkey and quails, came into the farm-yards for food. It is feared that the fruit trees are killed.

Murder in N. Y. State.—A farmer named Buck, was murdered at his residence near Morrisville, Madison county, on Friday night last. His body was found on Saturday morning horribly mangled, with a bloody axe near it. A man who worked for the deceased, and who had had some difficulty with him, has been arrested on suspicion.

MARRIED,

In Franklin, on the 22d inst., by Burr Ridgway, Esq. Mr. IRA SMITH to Miss SOPHRONA CRAYTON, both of Franklin.

Died,

On the morning of the 9th inst., of typhoid fever, at the residence of Col. George P. Swift, at Waynmanville, Upson County, Georgia, SAMUEL G. JEWETT, in the 21st year of his age.

[He was a native of Springfield, Mass., but had resided at this place for the last six years. Few young men of his age, have formed a larger circle of acqaaintance, and none have lived more universally beloved, or died more sincerely regretted, by those who knew him. Cut off, just as his mental and physical faculties were ripening into the perfections of manhood, he has left a void in the hearts and affections of his relatives and friends that can never be filled. Endowed by nature with a high order of intellect, and possessing superior business qualifications, he bid fair for distinction in the active walks of life; and a genius and taste for the fine arts, which, with proper culture, would have elevated him to a high rank among men of science.

It will be gratifying to his aged parents, and other distant relatives and friends, to know that he had the indefatigable attention of many kind friends and of one devoted sister and her kind husband, during his protracted illness. All that sympathy prompted or duty required, was performed with alacrity, to alleviate his suffering; but alas! his case affords another illustration of the utter impotency of all human efforts to save, when the King of terror claims his victim.

☞ TO THE TEACHERS OF BRADFORD CO.—It is proposed to hold a Teacher's Institute of one week's duration before the opening of the Summer Schools. Teachers feeling an interest in the cause of education, their own improvement, and the elevation of their profession, are respectfully invited to attend. The County Superintendent will procure the services of able and experienced Teachers for the occasion, so that Teachers attending need be to very little expense, aside from board, which can be obtained upon reasonable terms.

Teacher's Institutes have been held in many counties of the State within the past year, with the most beneficial results. To one county two hundred dollars were appropriated to defray the expense of holding an Institute one week. In adjoining States Institutes are regularly held and are considered very efficient means for advancing the interests of the cause of education by Common Schools.

We hope the teachers of Bradford will not be far behind in this matter. Those who will attend are desired to forward their names to the subscriber before the 20th inst., or as soon as possible. Notice will be given of the time and place of holding the Institute, when a sufficient number signify their desire to attend.

By order of the Board of Directors,
O. J. CHUBBUCK, Secretary.
