DREADFUL OCCURRENCE.—Boy Burned to Death.—A dwelling in Springville, Susquehanna county, was destroyed by fire on Sunday night, Dec. 8th, and a boy named WM. SETTON, 15 years of age, who was in an upper room asleep, was burned, his charred remains being found after the flames had died out. The building was owned by Mr. STERLING, of Braintrim, and was occupied by the father of the unfortunate lad. The fire is supposed to have originated from ashes placed in an out-building. An adjacent corn-house, with eight hogs was also burned.

ITHACA AND TOWANDA RAIL ROAD.—The Ithaca Journal of the 10th inst., says: We understand that Mr. BRADLEY and assistants have resumed work in locating the line of the Ithaca & Towanda Rail Road, and that the preliminary course is to be pushed along in the speediest practicable manner.

LADY'S BOOK.—The December or Holiday number of Godey's Lady's Book is the first in the field, as usual. The title page, representing old Father Christmas, is a superior engraving, but in the faces given in the frontispiece, called the Broken Window the boys are made to appear with the large features of men. Several improvements for the year 1868, are announced by Mr. Godey, and the Magazine will be printed upon new-faced type, which will enable about 12 pages of additional reading matter to be introduced.

A SINGULAR ACCIDENT.—A young man named Wilmot, residing near Great Bend, Pa., met with a singular accident recently. The family had purchased a new stove, and had just kindled a fire, when young Wilmot, who was standing near, was struck in his head with a bullet, which came from the hearth of the stove or near it.—This bullet shattered a finger and a thumb, and then, passing upward, went through the rim of his hat. It lodged in the chamber floor, having gone through the plastering and lathing that intervened. It is supposed that the shot was contained in a cylindrical cartridge; and that being in the stove when the fire was made, it was soon discharged by the heat, with the effect already described. If this is the true theory, the casing of the cartridge must have been exceedingly strong. The statement of the effect of the accident is undoubtedly correct.

SUICIDE AT CHENANGO FORKS.—As the passenger train on the evening of the 9th was leaving Chenango Forks, a young lady named Kate Tuttle, daughter of Mr. G. Tuttle, harness maker, threw herself under the wheels of the cars while passing the water tank, which is at the south end of the depot buildings, so situated that a person cannot be seen from the platform, when below it. A man, apparently, was seen standing near the track before the arrival of the train, but no attention was paid to it as it was not unusual. As the train left this person was seen (by a lady living west of the depot) to rush from behind the tank and throw himself under the train. The engine was stopped and the mangled form removed, and upon examination the citizens were astonished to find that it was Miss Tuttle disguised in mens' clothing, with both legs crushed in a horrible manner. She was taken into the depot building, and medical aid called, but the poor sufferer lived hardly an hour, in great agony, constantly saying "God have mercy, and take me home to my mother!" It is reported and supposed that the unfortunate young lady was laboring under an hbernation of mind, as she was subject to melancholy fits and had threatened to commit suicide previous to the sad, rash act.

Miss LILLIE MAY, daughter of H. A. BERNE, Esq., editor of the Owego Gazette, died in that village on the 11th inst., aged 17 years. The many friends of the parents of the deceased, in this vicinity, deeply sympathize with the sorrow-stricken in their bereavement.

DWELLING BURNED.—About 8:30 Thursday morning, Hon. A. Birdsall's residence, in Binghamton, took fire from the furnace and was totally destroyed with all its contents, excepting Mr. Birdsall's private papers and the family silverware. The family had barely time to escape. The loss is estimated at $15,000. Insured for $6,000.

TAYLOR & CO., are again receiving New Goods, which they propose to sell at the lowest figures. They have purchased with special reference to the approaching Holidays, and will unquestionably receive their share of patronage from those who "are goin' to giv sumbody suthin'."

THE MATHUSHEK PIANO FORTES.—The N. Y World of the 14th inst., in speaking of the Mathushek Piano Fortes says.

Messrs. Barlow & Doehler, the agents or the novel style of instruments known as the "Mathushek Colibri Pianofortes," have succeeded in attracting to their rooms at the corner of Broadway and Fourth street, the curious and progressive among the musical profession. We recently joined the ranks of this volunteer investigating committee, and after due deliberation helped the finding of a favorable verdict. The pianos are a wonder. Though but a little more than half the size of the ordinary square pianoforte, the "humming-bird" gives forth a tone in no degree inferior to that of its now seemingly overgrown progenitor. We found the workmanship good—Mathushek's reputation would guarantee that—and certainly we can take no exception to the novel system by which he has put such an amount of tone into so small a body. Any one can see that the "Calibri" is "a handy thing to have in the house," especially in a dwelling of that eminently modern description, where the measurements are more clearly expressed by carpenters' inches than feet. Notwithstanding its dwarfed proportions it has a scale of seven octaves, so that while the housekeeper is duly considered the musician is not in the least hampered.

It is claimed by the inventor that through the use of his "Equalizing Scale" and "linear bridge," the (15 tons) tension of the strings is brought to bear equally upon all sides of the iron plate, while the pressure of 158 strings, heretofore concentrated upon one end of the sounding board, is equally distributed over its entire length, thereby increasing the power and quality of tone, and promoting the durability of the piano. It is possible that in this way Mr. Mathushek has solved an important problem, and that his pianos, like violins, will improve with age. Time will tell whether this desirable result has been reached or even approached. The application of these new ideas to instruments of the customary size has apparently been generally successful.—The orchestral piano emits a voluminous tone of the "grand" quality, and produces a very good effect in the concert-room when skilfully awakened.

We invite attention to these innovations of Mr. Mathushek, because we deem them radical and of peculiar importance. If his principles are proved to be thoroughly philosophical, the art of piano forte making is destined to undergo a great change.

These Pianos received two of the highest medals at the late fair of the American Institute, and they are rapidly creating a revolution in public opinion wherever they are introduced. A number of them have been sold in this place and vicinity, and all are delighted with them.

DONATION.—The Wysox Baptist Church and congregation, will make their pastor, Rev. L. E. Bowen, a donation visit on Christmas day, afternoon and evening. To meet at the residence of Mr. JOHN HINDS on State Road. General invitation is extended. L. C. SHERMAN, Chr. Clerk.

A GOOD INVESTMENT.—All those having a few dollars to invest in a profitable manner, would consult their own interest by calling upon H. A. BURBANK, at his office on State St., where he is always ready to give you a chance in one of the best New England institutions—the Phœnix Mutual Life Insurance Co., of Hartford, Conn.

☞ SOLOMON & Co. being determined to close out their stock of Winter Clothing, advertise that it will be sold at very low rates. Their stock is large and buyers will do well to examine it.

TOWANDA LYCEUM.—On Friday evening, the following question was discussed and decided in the negative.

Resolved That the rights of the governed can only be guaranteed by universal suffrage. The discussion was warm and interesting.

The next question relating to the policy of capital punishment will be discussed on Friday evening, at 7 o'clock. The ladies and the public generally are invited to attend.

☞ The snow storm of last Thursday, was one of the most extensive and violent ever known at this season of the year. It appears to have extended over the whole country. The cold was excessive—the thermometer marking from 10 to 30 degrees below zero, in various localities. Here the lowest point reached was 16 degrees below.

CONGENITAL BLINDNESS.—The son of N. R. Atwood, Esq., of Bradford Co., Pa., a lad of fourteen years of age, who was born blind with cataracts of both eyes, was operated upon yesterday by Dr. Up De Graff. The eyes were made perfectly clear, and the boy was enabled to see objects about the room, but having never seen before, was unable to distinguish one object from another. The doctor says it will require several months to teach the boy perspective, and enable him to recognize familiar objects without the aid of touch. After the operation he was shown a hat, and was asked what it was, and although he could see that some object was between him and the light, still he could not tell what it was, never having seen anything of the kind before.—He however asked that he might take it in his hand, and by the aid of touch at once said it was a hat, and added—"Now I can tell what it is when I see it again." So with several objects exhibited to him, he described by touch, and afterwards by sight alone.—So, the Doctor informs us he will have to be instructed until he gradually acquires the use of his eyes. The operation was an interesting one, and stamps Dr. Up De Graff as one highly skilled in his profession.—Elmira Ad.

Family Sewing Machines.

These Machines are superior to all others for family use, for the following reasons:

They sew with two threads direct from the spools, and require no rewinding.

They are more easily understood and used, and less liable to derangement, than other machines.

They are capable of executing perfect, without change of adjustment, a much greater variety of work than other machines.

The stitch made by these machines is much more firm, elastic, and durable, especially upon articles which require to be washed and ironed, than any other stitch.

This stitch, owing to the manner in which the under thread is unwrought, is much the most plump and beautiful in use, and retains this plumpness and beauty, even upon articles frequently washed and ironed, until they are worn out.

The structure of the seam is such, that, tho' it be cut or broken at intervals of only a few stitches, it will neither open, run, nor ravel, but remains firm and durable.

Unlike other machines, these fasten both ends of the seam by their own operation.

With these machines, while silk is used upon the right or face side of the seam, cotton may be used upon the other side without lessening the strength or durability of the seam. This can be done on no other machine; and is a great saving upon all articles stitched or made up with silk.

These machines, in addition to their superior merits as instruments for sewing, execute the most beautiful and permanent embroidery and ornamental work.

You can get Sewing Machine Needles, and all articles pertaining to the machine business.
