DR. JOHNSON

BALTIMORE

LOCK HOSPITAL.

HAS discovered the most certain, speedy and effectual remedies in the world for

DISEASES OF IMPRUDENCE.

RELIEF IN SIX TO TWELVE HOURS.

NO MERCURY OR NOXIOUS DRUGS.

A Cure Warranted, or No Charge, in from One to Two Days.

Weakness of the Back, Affections of the Kidneys and Bladder, Involuntary discharges, Impotency, General Debility, Nervousness, Dyspepsia, Languor, Low Spirits, Confusion of Ideas, Palpitation of the Heart, Timidity, Trembling, Dimness of Sight or Giddiness, Diseases of the Head, Throat, Nose or Skin, Affections of the Liver, Lungs, Stomach or Bowels—those terrible disorders arising from the Solitary Habits of Youth, those secret and solitary practices more fatal to their victims than the song of Syrens to the Mariners of Ulysses, blighting their most brilliant hopes or anticipations, rendering marriage, &c., impossible.

YOUNG MEN,

Especially, who have become the victims of Solitary Vice, that dreadful and destructive habit which annually sweeps to an untimely grave thousands of Young Men of the most exalted talents and brilliant intellect, who might otherwise have entranced listening Senates with the thunders of eloquence or waked to ecstasy the living lyre, may call with full confidence.

MARRIAGE.

Married Persons, or Young Men contemplating marriage, being aware of physical weakness, organic debility, deformities, &c., specedily cured.

He who places himself under the care of Dr. J. may religiously confide in his honor as a gentleman, and confidently rely upon his skill as a Physician.

ORGANIC WEAKNESS

Immediately Cured, and full vigor restored.

This distressing affection—which renders life miserable and marriage impossible—is the penalty paid by the victims of improper indulgence. Young persons are too apt to commit excesses from not being aware of the dreadful consequences that may ensue. Now, who that understands the subject will pretend to deny that the power of procreation is lost sooner by those falling into improper habits than by the prudent. Besides being deprived the pleasures of healthy offspring, the most serious and destructive symptoms to both body and mind arise. The system becomes deranged, the physical and mental functions weakened, loss of procreative power, nervous irritability, dyspepsia, palpitation of the heart, indigestion, constitutional debility, a wasting of the frame, cough, consumption, decay and death.

OFFICE, No. 7 SOUTH FREDERICK STREET,

Left hand side, going from Baltimore street, a few doors from the corner. Fail not to observe name and number.

Letters must be paid and contain a stamp. The Doctor's Diplomas hang in his office.

DR. JOHNSON,

Member of the Royal College of Surgeons, London, graduates from one of the most eminent colleges in the United States, and the greater part of whose life has been spent in the hospitals of London, Paris, Philadelphia and elsewhere, has effected some of the most astonishing cures that were ever known; many troubled with ringing in the head and ears when asleep, great nervousness, being alarmed at sudden sounds, bashfulness, with frequent blushing, attended sometimes with derangement of mind were cured immediately.

TAKE PARTICULAR NOTICE.

These are some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, viz: weakness of the back and limbs, pains in the head, dimness of sight, loss of muscular power, palpitation of the heart, dyspepsia, nervous irritability, symptoms of consumption, &c.

MENTALLY.—The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded—loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion to society, self distrust, love of solitude, timidity, &c., are some of the evils produced.

YOUNG MEN

Who have injured themselves by a certain practice indulged in when alone, a habit frequently learned from evil companions, or at school, the effects of which are nightly felt, even when asleep, and if not cured renders marriage impossible, and destroys both mind and body, should apply immediately.

What a pity that a young man, the hope of his country, the darling of his parents, should be snatched from all prospects and enjoyments of life, by the consequence of deviating from the path of nature and indulging in a certain secret habit. Such persons must, before contemplating

Reflect that a sound mind and body are the most necessary requisites to promote conubial happiness. Indeed, without these, the journey through life becomes a weary pilgrimage; the prospect hourly darkens to the view; the mind becomes shadowed with despair and filled with the melancholy reflection that the happiness of another becomes blighted with our own.

DISEASE OF IMPRUDENCE.

When the misguided and imprudent votary of pleasure finds he has imbibed the seeds of this painful disease, it too often happens that an illtimed sense of shame or the dread of discovery deters him from applying to those who, from education and respectability, can alone befriend him. He falls into the hands of ignorant and designing pretenders, who, incapable of curing, filch his pecuniary substance, keep him trifling month after month, or as long as the smallest fee can be obtained, and in despair leave him with ruined health to sigh over his calling disappointment, or, by the use of the deadly poison, Mercury, hasten the constitutional symptoms of this terrible disease, such as affections of the Head, Throat, Nose, Skin, then progressing with frightful rapidity till death puts a period to his dreadful sufferings by sending him to that undiscovered country from whence no traveller returns.

INDORSEMENT OF THE PRESS.

The many thousands cured at this institution year after year, and the numerous important surgical operations performed by Dr. Johnson, witnessed by the editors of the Sun, Clipper, and many other papers, notices of which have appeared again and again before the public, besides his standing as a gentleman of character and responsibility, is a sufficient guarantee to the afflicted.

VARIETIES.

PEN points are now manufactured out of the new metal Aluminum, as it is not oxydisable.

THE Paris papers announce that Yucatan has expressed adhesion to the Mexican Empire.

ALL the forts commenced in Philadelphia a few months ago, are now completed. Their cost, so far as known, is about $50,000.

More of the bishops in France, following the example of Rome, have ordered public prayers for Poland.

BISCUIT from wheat that was standing in the field four hours before have been accomplished in England.

In the First district of Rhode Island one hundred and seventy-two drafted men have failed to report, and are now regarded as deserters.

A MISSISSIPPI rebel paper boasts, that the stock of ammunition in the Confederacy is abundant, and that in any contingency it is deemed ample.

FIVE millions of acres are devoted in France to the cultivation of the vine. The product of the vine is said to be two gallons of wine per acre.

SEVENTY-FOUR men of the crew of the privateer Florida had been dispatched from Brest, in France, to England, in order to form the nucleus of a crew for some new rebel vessel or vessels.

SOME fiend in human shape lately entered the churchyard in Bethel, Me., and battered and distorted the headstone over the grave of a child buried there, out of spite to its parents.

"RECENT statistics," says the Paris Opinion Nationale, "show that in one of the lunatic asylums of the Department of the Rhone, one third of the patients owe their infirmity of mind to spiritualism."

THE London Review says: "Every one who knows what lies beneath the surface of continental society must be aware that the Red Republican party is a snake which has been scotched, but not killed."

CAPT. ROBERT P. PARROTT, the inventor of the gun known by his name, is a citizen of Greenland, N. H., and is a native of Portsmouth, being a son of the late Hon. John F. Parrott, M. C.

WHALING.—The New Bedford Standard says the whaling business of that port is assuming all the activity and bustle of former years. Quite a new spirit seems to have been infused among the leading firms of the city.

OF the Corps d'Afrique, organized under the auspices of Gen. Banks, fifteen thousand colored soldiers have already been mustered into the service, and recruits are still coming in rapidly. The maximum strength of the corps is 25,000.

FRED F. SUBETER, formerly a barber at Bellows Falls, Vt., and who went out in a company of sharpshooters, has been arrested charged with murdering Shubel Coy, his wife and child, in Medina county, Ohio, about the first of July.

PROTESTANT churches have multiplied in Paris within a few years. French and foreign chapels included, there cannot now be less than 200. There are about a million Protestants in France, and the country is a fair field for Protestant propagandism.

SEA BATHING costumes in France are regulated by the government, which regulates everything. A writer, speaking of their effect on the wearers, says the men resemble wet statues, not much like Apollo, and the women look like "magnified brown rats on their hind legs."

CLAIMS AGAINST MEXICO.—The London Daily News says that the aggregate amount of the British claims against Mexico is about $18,500,000. Assuming that the French and Spanish claims are not less than this, there is a total of £12,000,000 sterling in claims.

CONDEMNED.—Forty-two Confederate prisoners, who had taken the oath of allegiance, and violated the same in divers ways, were recently tried at Washington by a court martial. They were convicted and sentenced to one year's hard labor at Fort Delaware.

THE Saturnian age is returning in Ireland. According to the last British census, it appears that while there were in Great Britain only two hundred and one persons who had attained the age of one hundred years, there were in Ireland no less than seven hundred and sixty-five.

THE Saturday Review, in treating on the future of Canada, suggests that "in the absence of English sovereignty France would probably reclaim lower Canada as a part of the destined Latin Empire on the American continent," but thinks the project is not likely to succeed—nor do we.

THE Pere Enfantin, the successor of St. Simon, and the ci-devant instructor of Michael Chevalier, when at the head of his school of enthusiasts, declared he was to be the regenerator of the human race, and held direct communication with heaven. He is now the postmaster in an obscure French town, assorting letters and selling stamps.

EXPERIMENTS that have recently been made in France show that a horse can live seventeen days without food or drink, and twenty-five days upon water alone. If he consumes solid food without drinking, he can live only five days. A horse that had been deprived of water for three days drank eleven gallons in three minutes.

IT is estimated that the mineral wealth of Nevada territory will be sufficient to pay a national debt of $20,000,000,000, to give every returning soldier a musket of silver, and to furnish all our iron clads with a plating of silver thicker than their present covering of iron. At that rate bankruptcy doesn't seem to be imminent.

A NEW cure for consumption is talked of—a cream diet. Eat as much pure sweet cream as the stomach will digest, (and as you can get,) and the effect, it is said, will be quite as apparent as from the use of the best cod liver oil.—As a medicine, it has also this singular advantage. Many kinds of food are said to be far more palatable by a bountiful admixture of the medicine.

A MAGNETIC MOUNTAIN has been discovered in Swedish Lapland. The vein is the richest of any natural magnetic ore at present known. Pieces weighing four hundred pounds have been obtained. Specimens are being sent to all the European Mineralogical Cabinets, and quite a traffic is growing up. They readily sell at from eighty cent mes to three francs the kilogramme. It is already debated whether a magnet upon of the earth should not be sought in Lapland rather than Siberia.

PLUMBAGO has recently been introduced as the basis of a cement for steam joints and the general metallic connections of the engine. It is composed of six parts of plumbago, three of slacked lime, eight of sulphate of barytes, and three of boiled linseed oil. This compound, it is said, secures a perfectly air and steam-tight joint, much superior to that obtained by the use of red lead.

M. THEODORE SORTAIS, a clockmaker at Lisieux, has submitted to the Emperor Napoleon a new electric telegraph, offering many advantages. By it messages can be transmitted by the sender in the absence of any receiver. The symbols, traced on paper are visible immediately, and the clerk can signal errors without loss of time. The Morse instruments, it is said, can be adapted to the new system.

A question has recently been asked of rather a puzzling nature, viz: "Why is not the stomach digested by its own secretion during life?" This has been gravely discussed by the British association, but no conclusion arrived at. The experiments adduced during the discussion were curious. Professor Pavy thinks it is the alkaline currents, neutralizing the acid properties of the digesting fluid, which gives the solution. We think this as clear as mud.

TWO SCENES IN THE FUTURE.—Imagine a venerable old patriarch when this war is over, and these stirring times are forgotten, sitting at his home with his children around him. He may tell them of the wars and sacrifices men made—and how the people rejoiced when the news of each victory came from the army. What will he say of his own part in the struggle? My children, in that sad time when the country was in danger, I was against the country—my heart was with the rebel—when he triumphed I was glad—when he was defeated my heart was sore and heavy. My children, when I am gone, do not curse the traitor. Be silent. It is the only respect you can pay to your father's memory.—Philadelphia Press.

Another scene.—Imagine one who is now young and strong, with no incumbrances, passing into the sere and yellow leaf. His little grandchildren have been reading the story of the bravery and patriotism of the men of the present times. One of them ingenuously asks: "Did you go as a soldier, grandpa?" "No, my dear," is the reluctant reply. "But why not?" "O, I consulted my family physician, and he decided that I had incipient phthisis." "Incipient, phthisis! what is that, grandpa?" "Ahem, that's a disposition to cough when you get cold."—Boston Journal.

END OF SHELBY'S RAID.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 15.

Several squads of Shelby's raiders crossed the Pacific road on their way south to-day, pursued by Gen. Brown's cavalry.

Shelby's raid is at an end and his forces are scattered in every direction.

THE LATE CAVALRY CONFLICT.

The Colors of Stewart and Pleasanton but Five Yards from Each Other.

Hand-to-Hand Encounters.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.

In the recent conflict between Gens. Pleasanton's and Stuart's forces, while the latter was endeavoring to effect a flank movement on the former's left, the colors of both of these Generals were not over five yards distant from each other, and while there were charges of cavalry on the left and front, hand to hand encounters followed.

FROM SHENANDOAH VALLEY.

NO REBELS IN THE VALLEY.

From General Meade's Army.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 15.

We learn this morning from military gentlemen from Harper's Ferry, that the rumors of rebel advances in the Valley have turned out to be entirely unfounded. Captain Coles yesterday returned from a scout as far as Front Royal, having found no enemy, and heard of none, except a few small guerrilla parties. He picked up and brought in as prisoners fifteen rebel stragglers, including two officers. Neither Imboden, Jackson or Jones were or had been at Winchester or in the neighborhood. In fact, the whole excitement has turned out to be one of those occasional baseless panics which are so common in that vicinity. The running of passenger and freight trains on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad has been resumed again.

The recent skirmish with guerrillas, in which Capt. Summers was killed, has been greatly magnified by the New York papers. The whole party engaged with them was not over thirty men, and each side some five to nine killed, wounded and prisoners. The rebels fled on the approach of reinforcements.

The rumor from the Army of the Potomac prevalent in the city this morning are also mainly unfounded. As far as we can ascertain, Gen. Lee yesterday made a bold attempt to flank Gen. Meade near Manassas, by passing through Chester Gap. A fierce cannonading fight ensued, which was kept up throughout the whole day, the enemy failing to accomplish his purpose. These flanking movements of the enemy have of course compelled Gen. Meade to follow him up on the inner line, and his army is now between Manassas and Washington. There has therefore been no falling back in the military sense of the word, but a mere change of position to meet the new one taken by the enemy, and to counteract his designs.

Rebel Raid on the Memphis and Charleston Railroad.

The Rebels Repulsed with Heavy Loss.

MEMPHIS, Oct. 12.

Forces of rebel cavalry and artillery, from eight to fifteen thousand strong, are threatening the Memphis and Charleston railroad, but Gen. Hurlbut's forces have defeated the attempts of the enemy to do serious damage to the road.

The rebels destroyed several culverts in the vicinity of Germantown on Sunday morning, and Chalmers rebel cavalry made an attack on our garrison at Collierville at the same time, driving the 66th infantry into their fortifications and burning their cantonments.

During the fight Gen. Sherman and staff arrived with the 13th regulars, when the rebels were repulsed with heavy loss. Our forces are pursuing the retreating rebels.

The regulars lost 9 killed, 27 wounded and 1 missing. The 66th Indiana regiment lost about the same number. Lieut. Eames, of Gen. Sherman's staff, and Edward F. Butler, telegraph operator, were wounded.

GENERAL ROSECRANS' CONGRATULATORY ORDER AFTER THE BATTLE OF CHICKAMAUGA.

HEADQUARTERS DEPARTMENT OF THE CUMBERLAND, CHATTANOOGA, Oct. 2, 1863.

Orders No. 3.—Army of the Cumberland: You have made a grand and successful campaign; you have driven the rebels from Middle Tennessee. You crossed a great mountain range, placed yourselves on the banks of a broad river, crossed it in the face of a powerful opposing army, and crossed two other great mountain ranges at the only practicable passes, some forty miles between extremes. You concentrated in the face of superior numbers; fought the combined armies of Bragg, which you drove from Shelbyville to Tullahoma; of Johnston's army from Mississippi, and the tried veterans of Longstreet's corps, and for two days held them at bay, giving them blow for blow with heavy interest. When the day closed, you held the field, from which you withdrew in the face of overpowering numbers to occupy the point for which you set out—Chattanooga.

You have accomplished the great work of the campaign; you hold the key of East Tennessee, of Northern Georgia, and of the enemy's mines of coal and iron.

Let these achievements console you for the regret you experience that arrivals of fresh bodies of troops forbade your remaining on the field to renew the battle for the right of burying your gallant dead and caring for your brave companions who lay wounded on the field. The losses you have sustained, though heavy, are slight considering the odds against you, and the stake you have won.

You hold in your hand the substantial fruits of a victory, and deserve, and will receive, the honors and plaudits of a grateful nation, which asks nothing of even those who have been fighting us, but obedience to the Constitution, and laws established for our own common benefit.

The General Commanding earnestly begs every officer and soldier of this army to unite with him in thanking Almighty God for His favors to us. He presents his hearty thanks and congratulations to all the officers and soldiers of this command for their energy, patience and perseverance, and the undaunted courage displayed by those who fought with such unflinching resolution.

Neither the history of this war, nor probably the annals of any battle, furnish a loftier example of obstinate bravery and enduring resistance to superior numbers, when troops, having exhausted their ammunition, resorted to the bayonet, many times, to hold their positions against such odds, as did our left and centre, comprising troops from all the corps, on the afternoon of the 20th of September, at the battle of "Chickamauga."

W. S. ROSECRANS,
Major General Commanding.

Capture of Six Guns.
