TOWN AND COUNTRY.

INFORMATION is wanted of James Clark, formerly of county Monoghin, Ireland, who is living in New York City, by his friend Charles Connor, now of Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

New York papers please copy.

THE PLACE FOR BARGAINS.---A. F. Swartz, at the corner of Second and Walnut streets, has on hand a very large assortment of Boots and Shoes, besides every article belonging to his line of business. He will sell at the lowest living rates, and buyers will find it to their interest to give him a call.

Y. M. C. A.--A special meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association of this city will be held at their rooms, this evening at half-past seven o'clock. By order of the President.

A MICHIGAN INFANT.—This morning the Erie express train had on board a "high" private of the Second Michigan regiment, whose height is six feet eight inches. No wonder the rebs don't like the Michiganders.

THE regular stated meeting of the Paxton Fire Company will be held at their room this (Tuesday) evening, at 7½ o'clock. Every member is requested to be present, as business concerning all will be brought before the meeting.

DEATH OF A SOLDIER.—Private Samuel J. Bricker, of Company H, 201st Penn'a regiment, died in Camp Curtin Hospital, yesterday. His disease was typhoid fever. Deceased was a resident of this city, and leaves a wife and child to mourn his loss. The rebel fiends who inaugurated this war will have a terrible account to render up at a future day, for the murder of thousands of our brave men.

MUSTERED OUT.—Capt. Sanno's company of mounted men has returned from the field, its term of service (one hundred days) having expired. The men were mustered out yesterday, in this city. The company participated in many severe engagements, and was with Gen. Averill in his race after the rebels who retreated from Chambersburg, after the burning of that town. The boys have nobly performed their duty and endured many hardshpis, and they deserve great credit for volunteering in defence of their country, at a time when the rebels were threatening a general invasion of our State. About thirty members of the company have already re-enlisted, and a number of others will also enter the service of Uncle Samuel, for a second term.

A company of one hundred days' men, belonging to Lancaster county, were also mustered out, in this city, yesterday.

WEST HARRISBURG MARKET.—This morning was the occasion of an unusual stir among the people of West Harrisburg, caused by the introduction of a regular market into their midst. The large building erected by the enterprising stockholders proved a great attraction, and an immense crowd congregated there to witness the display of marketing, which it was anticipated would be extensive, and to inspect the new house. The portion of the building occupied by the butchers is said to have contained an assortment of meats such as has been seen in this city on but few occasions. The butchers vied with each other in producing the best quality and the largest variety of meats. The farmers who had rented stands were present with a general assortment of vegetables, and other "country produce," and the citizens turned out en masse to patronize them. Prices varied but little from those of our own market.

A grand free lunch was served up by the market House Company, and was liberally patronized. Prof. Weber's brass band was present, and entertained the large crowd with some of their choice music.

Mr. Frederick P. Haehnlen, who is temporarily superintending the affairs of the market, deserves great credit for the manner in which everything passed off. The Company could find no better man—he is the right man in the right place. He should be prevailed upon to accept the permanent Superintendency.

The City Council should appoint a competent person as Clerk of this market, for the purpose of weighing butter, &c., to prevent the people of West Harrisburg from being imposed upon by parties who are in the habit of using light weights.

The West Harrisburg Market is a complete success. The company of stockholders, whose capital erected the beautiful building, (which contains all the modern improvements) merit the thanks of the community for the energy displayed in completing it at a time when our country is in the midst of a great war.

The citizens of that portion of our city will no doubt fully appreciate the value of the new institution, which will relieve many of them of a round trip of two miles in order to supply themselves with marketing. In many respects their market is superior to the old, inasmuch as the house will be found comfortable in the coldest season, and buyers will not be compelled to purchase frozen vegetables, meats, &c. May the day soon arrive when we shall have houses of a similar character in Market Square.

NOTICE.—Active and contributing members of the Paxton Fire Company knowing themselves indebted to the company for dues, or wishing to pay a year's dues in advance, in order to assist in finishing the new Engine House, are respectfully requsted to call at the store of the treasurer, (Peter Stucker, Esq.,) corner of Second and Vine streets. The building is now ready for roofing, but unless additional funds are immediately raised we shall not be able to finish it this season, as our means are entirely exhausted. The company would therefore earnestly appeal to its own members, and all others wishing us well, to extend a helping hand in this emergency. By order of the President.

ARRIVAL OF A PRISONER FROM ANDERSONVILLE, GA.—Yesterday we received a call from Private John L. Jacobs, of Co. C, 184th Pa. Reg., who has just arrived from the rebel prisons at Andersonville, in Georgia. Mr. Jacobs was captured by the rebels, in June last, and was a prisoner until the 27th of September. During his sojourn in rebeldom, he, through a personal friend in the rebel service, was allowed more liberty than is afforded to prisoners generally, and had an opportunity to obtain a view of affairs in and around Andersonville, and of the pens occupied by our Union boys who have been so unfortunate as to fall into the hands of the rebels. Mr. Jacobs states that thirty-two thousand prisoners were crowded into an enclosure of twelve acres, and owing to the unwholesome character of the iron-clad bread, and the scarcity of medicine, scurvy and other diseases took hold of the prisoners, and spread to an alarming extent. About twelve thousand out of the thirty-two thousand had died before our informant left, and some six thousand others were beyond the hope of recovery. The dead are hauled out by the wagon load, and buried in a ditch. Rude boards are placed at the heads of the men, and numbered and named, but it is not certain that the boards are put in the proper places. Mr. Jacobs furnishes us the following list of names of persons who had died, among the prisoners from his regiment, (the 184th,) together with the numbers on their head boards.

ANOTHER GRAND POW-WOW OF THE FAITHFUL.—A Mingling of Whisky and Wisdom.—Last evening the Court House bell summoned the odds and ends of what is facetiously claimed as the Democratic party of Harrisburg, to listen to a speech of Ex-Mayor Sawyer, of Pittsburg. After working the clapper of the old bell until it almost became heated, about two hundred men and boys were induced to assemble in the Court House, to hear Sawyer. It was announced that Sawyer had formerly been a Republican, and that he had been induced to leave his first love in politics, by the blandishments and superior attractions of that lovely and incomparable hero, George B. M'Clellan. At the proper time Sawyer appeared within the bar of the court-room, and it soon was apparent to the "crowd" present, that the orator of the occasion had appeared, that evening, at some other "bar," if he had not lingered in tender affection at more than one such a retreat as we have allusion to.—The fact is, Sawyer was elated—spiritualized—"obfusticated," as the Californians term it—completely tangled in feet and tongue and ideas. The grave officers of the meeting looked at each other in mute astonishment. The virtuous Ham Alricks gazed at the classic Mosey Kreider as if in pain, while the lesser lights of the faithful who are allowed to cast their shadows in the effulgence of these luminaries, were in a quandary of perplexity.—Still Sawyer proceeded. He declared that it was time to stop the war, after we had sacrificed almost a thousand millions of men to conquer the South. He insisted that we had wasted billions of dollars in a vain endeavor to put down the brave men of the South. We can't do it. The South won't be whipped. One Southern man is good for fifty Yankees. The South was bound to win, and it only needed the election of M'Clellan to prove that Lincoln, and Grant and Sherman could not put down the rebellion! Repeating other stuff like this, Sawyer harangued the crowd between his drunken hiccups for about half an hour, when at 8 o'clock, A. M., "the meeting" adjourned.

—Won't the leaders of the faithful friends of Jeff. Davis manage to hold a similar meeting to the one last evening in the Court House, and import a like able speaker to address the people of Harrisburg every night until Tuesday next?

MURDER IN CLEARFIELD COUNTY.—A Provost Marshal Assassinated while in the Performance of his Duty—One of the Direct Effects of the Teaching of Senators Bigler and Wallace.—A correspondent, writing from Clearfield county, gives us a detailed account of a most heartless and bloody murder, which was committed in that county on Friday last, by one of the desperate disciples of Senators Bigler and Wallace. We condense the main facts of this horrid affair, in order to exhibit to the country the full effects of the teaching of the Democratic leaders.

Joseph Lounsberry, of Lawrence township, Clearfield county, was one of the men drafted a year ago, to fill up the quota of his district, but failed to report. By the aid of his personal friends, and the counsel of the copperhead leaders of Clearfield county, Lounsberry has succeeded in eluding the vigilance of the Deputy Provost Marshals up to the day of the last October election, when he made his appearance at the polls in Clearfield town, guarded by seven armed men, AND VOTED THE FULL COPPERHEAD TICKET. The friends of Lounsberry boasted of his appearance at the polls, as a "Democratic defiance to Abe Lincoln and his hireling Provost Marshals;" while Lounsberry himself openly asserted that he disregarded the draft, and that he had his instructions from those higher in authority than Lincoln—meaning it is supposed the Knights of the Golden Circle, but we will not here assert whether Bigler and Wallace gave these instructions.

With these facts made public, and with the knowledge that Lounsberry was concealed in his own house, Provost Marshal Campbell, of the 19th District, dispatched two deputies, Colonel Cyrus Butler and Lieutenant David Vanvleet, to arrest Lounsberry. These deputies proceeded to the house of the deserter early on Saturday morning, and after a hasty reconnoissance of the premises, the officers discovered, as they supposed, Lounsberry leaving the house and proceed to the stable. From the position of the deputies it was impossible fully to recognize their man, but as he was in the act of returning from the barn to the house, the officers were sure of their prisoner, and made chase. The deserter reached the house first, and at once took refuge in the attic. To gain his hiding place, it was found that only one man at a time could ascend the stairs, and as Butler reached the upper landing, closely followed by Vanvleet, the deserter from his concealment at once fired, putting a rifle ball through the left groin of Butler, when that officer discharged his revolver at the deserter, who in turn rushed upon him and inflicted a dreadful blow with his rifle butt on Butler, producing a wound in the head of itself sufficient to cause death. At this instant officer Vanvleet came to the rescue and grappled the deserter, throwing him to the foot of the stair-way. In the scuffle the officer lost his revolver, which prevented him from firing on the fugitive, and before either officer could reach the outside of the house, the desperado had made good his escape.

The wounds of officer Butler were of the most serious character. With the least possible delay he was removed to Clearfield, where he received every necessary surgical attention, but after lingering in great agony until Monday, Oct. 31st, he died, leaving a wife and four helpless children to mourn his assassination.

This affair has caused the most intense excitement in Clearfield. The Democratic leaders approve the assassination as an act of self-defence, and as a warning to the officers of the Government against all further attempts at arresting deserters in Clearfield county. Lounsberry is still at large. His friends say that he shall never be arrested.

We repeat our declaration that the blood of Provost Marshal Butler is on the heads of such men as Bigler and Wallace. It is to their counsel that we may attribute such transactions, and, sooner or later, they will be called to account for such sanguinary violence.

HEALTH OF THE CITY.—During the month of October there were but sixteen interments in Harrisburg Cemetery. Of this number eight were above fourteen years old, and eight under that age. Two or three were from a distance. Can any better evidence be wanting to prove that our city is in a healthy condition?

CASUALTIES IN THE ALLEMAN FENCIBLES.—From letters received in this city, we learn that the Alleman Fencibles were in the last engagement before Petersburg, and that Levi Frank, Joseph Brubaker and Samuel P. Fisher were killed; and William Weise, J. D. Saltzman, Samuel Arnold and Samuel Roof were wounded, though none supposed dangerously.

HAVE YOU HEARD THE NEWS.—Augustus Lochman has removed his Dry Goods Store to No. 12 Market Square, next door to Henry Felix's Harrisburg, Pa. nov1-3t.

PATHFINDER.—John C. Fremont and Kit Carson, some years since, gained wide-spread notoriety through their fearless explorations in the far west, by which paths or roads were established and communication opened with the great gold beds of California, from which thousands dug up fortunes; and thus mankind are benefitted through the energy and good disposition of one another. In pointing out paths or avenues in our flourishing city of Harrisburg through which much gain can be realized, we respectfully ask the attention of purchasers to the large stock of dry goods and beautiful assortment of furs, very cheap, that have just arrived from New York, at C. HARRISBURG, Feb. 8th, 1864.

C. A. BANNVART—Dear Sir: I have used Brown's Bronchial Troches, Wistar's Lozenges and other preparations for hoarseness and throat troubles, and in comparison with them all, can cheerfully commend your own as a most admirable specific for public speakers and singers, in cases of hoarseness, coughs and colds. I have found them serving in time of need, most effectually.

Yours truly,
T. H. ROBINSON,
Pastor of N. S. Presbyterian Church.

To C. A. BANNVART—Dear Sir: In the habit of speaking very frequently, and in places where the vocal organs are very much taxed, I have found the need of some gentle expectorant, and that want has been supplied in your excellent Troches.

I consider them very far superior to any Lozenges that I have ever used, in removing speedily that huskiness of the voice arising from its too frequent use, and impairing the effectiveness of the delivery of public addresses. Yours, &c.,

JNO. WALKER JACKSON.
Pastor of the Locust St. Methodist Church.

To C. A. BANNVART—Dear Sir: Having used your Troches, I am free to say they are the best I have ever tried and take great pleasure in recommending them to all persons afflicted with sore throat or huskiness of voice arising from public speaking or singing.

Renovo and Emporium TOWN LOTS FOR SALE

THE PHILADELPHIA AND ERIE LAND COMPANY, chartered by an act of the Legislature of Pennsylvania, offers for sale choice lots for dwellings and business purposes in the above new towns on the line of the Philadelphia and Erie Railroad.

RENOVO has been selected as the site for the extensive shops for building and repairing the rolling stock of the Philadelphia and Erie Railroad, of which the Penna. Railroad Company are now lessees. It is 92 miles west of Sunbury, and 196 miles east of Erie. The town is beautifully situated on the margin of the west branch of the Susquehanna river, in the county of Clinton, and is surrounded by romantic and attractive scenery. The Railroad Company are erecting an immense Locomotive Round House, Repair Shops for Cars and Engines, Car Building shop, Iron and Brass Furnaces, and Dwellings for the Superintendent and other officers. A splendid Hotel, with which are connected arrangements for feeding passengers on the most extensive scale, has been commenced. All these buildings are of the most permanent and substantial character, of brick and iron, and are in accordance with the immense business anticipated on the completion of this great Railroad, so long anxiously looked for, and now an accomplished fact—the last rail connecting the Susquehanna river with Lake Erie having been laid on Saturday, July 2d, 1864.

A Company has been chartered by the Legislature for supplying the town with gas and water, and the water works are nearly completed. Churches will be erected immediately. The situation of RENOVO is entirely healthy, and as the dimensions of the town are limited by nature, the value of the lots must appreciate greatly in the course of a few years.

EMPORIUM will certainly be the most important commercial point between Lock Haven and Warren, a distance of 158 miles. It is near the centre of the railroad, 47 miles west of Renovo; 139 miles from Sunbury and 149 miles from Erie. It is near the Junction of the Driftwood Branch of the Sinnemahoning, with West Creek, Portage Creek and North Creek, the Valleys of which streams make it the most accessible point on the Philadelphia and Erie railroad to a very extensive district of country. The moment the projected railroad connecting it with the city of Rochester, N. Y., shall be completed, few interior towns in the State will surpass it in business capabilities. An excellent graded road now connects it with Coudersport, the seat of Justice of Potter county. It is also connected with Smethport, the seat of Justice of McKean county. Emporium is the County Seat of Cameron county; it has a handsome Court House, and the Land Company have just completed a large and commodious Hotel, which will immediately be opened to the public. The Railroad Company are about to erect a handsome and permanent Passenger Station at a central point near the Hotel and Court House. The place is healthy, and excellent water is abundant. It is in the midst of one of the finest White Pine regions in Pennsylvania. As a manufacturing town it has great advantages; coal, lumber, stone, bark for tanneries are abundant, and its railroad communications with the great lakes and all points of importance in the seaboard are unsurpassed. This place was selected thirty years ago as a point of importance, and a town laid out with the prophetic name of EMPORIUM, but the difficulty of access has prevented its development so entirely that it is mainly known for the excellence of hunting and trout fishing in the vicinity. The completion of the Philadelphia and Erie railroad must soon make it a place of great importance as a distributing point for goods of all kinds, and it offers great advantages for persons of moderate capital who desire to identify themselves with the early history of a thriving town.

Lithographic Maps of both towns are now ready, and Mr. GIDEON J. BALL, General Superintendent, will furnish all necessary information on the premises, or by letter.

He may be addressed to the care of H. P. RUTTER, Secretary and Treasurer, Philadelphia and Erie Land Company, No. 205½ Walnut street Philadelphia, or at Renovo, Clinton county, Pennsylvania.

THE BEST CHANCE to get Cheap Homes NOW OFFERED IN THE CITY.—The subscriber offers for sale 72 Building Lots, situate in the Sixth Ward between Reilly and Calder streets, fronting on Susquehanna, Two-and-a half and Second streets. Most of them have valuable pear and apple trees on them, bearing the choicest fruits, selected by Col. John Roberts thirty years ago, the fruit of which will pay for the ground in a short time. There is also on a portion of the ground a sand bank, above the grade of the streets, containing sand of the best quality, which will more than pay for the ground. The location is such that no drainage is required; the cellars will always be perfectly dry. These lots will be sold below the current price ground is now bringing in this city, and in fact so low as to afford an opportunity for any person to secure a home.

NOW READY FOR SALE AT FROM $125 TO $225 A LOT.

A plan of the ground can be seen at the office of the subscriber, No. 24, North SECOND street.
