Bradford Reporter.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

☞ The next Mite Society meeting will be held at Mrs. Barstow's, on Monday evening.

☞ It is rumored that the Mendelssohn Quintette Club, of Boston, will visit this place sometime before spring.

☞ Alex. Ennis, of Standing Stone, last week sold a calf less than nine months old and weighing 725 pounds to Thos. Lee and Alfred Mitten, of Herrick township.

☞ In consequence of the lecture on Monday evening next, the regular meeting of Northern Lodge, I.O.G.T., will occur on Friday evening of this week. A full attendance is desired.

☞ C. T. Smith, of the Ahwaga House, Owego, N.Y., has put in a cooking range at the cost of $800. The Gazette says it has a capacity for cooking and baking for one hundred guests.

☞ Parties who have tickets for Prof. Logan's lecture, are requested to call at Brown & Kirby's and change for the next, or get their money, to avoid confusion to commitee.

☞ A pleasant surprise party came off at the house of H. W. Browning, Esq., in Troy, on Friday evening last. We are told all enjoyed themselves, and the table was bountifully spread.

☞ Reader, are you aware that you can secure a copy of the Reporter one entire year for one year, for two dollars? If you are not you know it now, and should send us that amount of money and your name and place of residence at once.

☞ J. F. Means & Son have sold half of their foundry property to Rockwell Brothers, of Monroeton. The business will hereafter be conducted under the name of Means, Rockwell & Co. The Messrs. Rockwell are experienced mechanics and we gladly welcome them to our town.

☞ The water famine which had become quite general throughout this section, has somewhat abated by a copious fall of rain on Sunday evening. North of us considerable rain must have fallen, as the ice in the pool broke up and passed out on Monday afternoon.

A Model County.—Sullivan county boasts of being out of debt, and what is still more encouraging, there is not a single prisoner in her jail. Located among the mountains, far from the cares and tribulations of more populous counties, Sullivan may, indeed, call herself a model county.

☞ Prof. P. P. Bliss, of Chicago, has our thanks for two pieces of music composed by himself, and published by Root & Cady, one of them is a patriotic piece entitled, "Hold the Fort"; the other, "Bonspo"—a medley. Prof. Bliss is about publishing a new Sunday-school singing book.

☞ Hiram A. Beebe, of the Owego Gazette, was elected President of that village at the corporation election last week. The "People's Ticket" was successful by a small majority. The people of that village having been well pleased with the administration of Mayor Bentley (Mr. Smith), have very sensibly concluded to try another.

☞ The lecture to be given on Monday evening next by Rev. Matthew Hale Smith, as part of the course, will without doubt be found to be at once one of the most instructive and as entertaining and interesting ever delivered here. We trust that our town people will see to it by a general attendance that the continuation of lectures in the future shall be a matter of uncertainty.

Personal.—Prof. P. P. Bliss, formerly of this place, is superintendent of the First Congregational Sunday-school, Chicago, Ill.—L. Russell, well and favorably known here as a banker and public-spirited man, is going to Minnesota to engage in the banking business again. For several years past, Mr. R. has been manager of the National Insurance Company.

Judge Mercur was one of the committee appointed by Congress to attend the funeral of Hon. John Covode.

☞ The Northern Tier Gazette says: At the recent fire in Canton, a party of young men got a cask of whisky from the hotel that was burning and were getting pretty high, when a mob from the Good Templars made a raid, captured it, and drew the faucet and let the benzine run on the ground. Good for the ladies."

We wish there were more ladies who would take the same position on the liquor question.

☞ At a regular meeting of the Odd Water Templars, held on Wednesday evening, Jan. 11, 1871, the following officers were installed:

C.T.—Edw. Whitman; V.T.—Susie Emery; Sec'y—Harry Chappel; A.S.—Chas. Codding; Treas.—Lizzie Douglass; F.S.—Ernest Frost; Chap.—Edw. Welles; Mar.—Irving Smith; Asst.Mar.—Hattie Cowles; I.G.—Bd. Buffington; O.S.—Frank McGill; P.C.T.—Edw. Cragg.

Excellent Appointment.—Major E. M. McDowell, of this city, has received the appointment of Mining Engineer for the Erie Railroad Company, which position he will fill in addition to his responsible trusts for the Towanda Coal Company at Barclay, Pa. This appointment is a just and proper recognition of the faithful and skillful services rendered to the Company by Major McDowell, who is one of the most accomplished engineers in the country, and we congratulate both the Company and the Major upon the appointment.—Elmira Advertiser.

☞ At a stated meeting of Roman Lodge, No. 148, A.Y.M., held at Rome, Pa., Dec. 24, 1870, the following was unanimously adopted:

Whereas, It has been the pleasure of the Great Architect of the Universe to remove by death from our midst our esteemed friend and brother, J. G. Towsen, therefore

Resolved, That in the death of Brother Towsen this Order has been deprived of an earnest supporter, an influential and zealous member, whose genial virtues were equalled only by his christian integrity.

Resolved, That we heartily sympathize with the bereaved family, who in their bereavement have lost one who was ever tender, kind and loving.

Resolved, That, while we deeply deplore the loss of our brother, we nevertheless rejoice that the decline of the tomb had for him no terrors; that he was duly clothed with a full reputation to be admitted to the glories of the Grand Lodge on High, and to receive the sign, token and word of the divine Grand Master.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be furnished to the Secretary to the family of the deceased, and to the county papers for publication.

L. A. Ridgway, Sec'y.

☞ At a meeting of Martha Washington D. of R. Lodge, No. 34, I.O.O.F., the following resolutions were reported by Eli L. McNett, the chairman of the committee, and unanimously adopted:

Whereas, It has pleased the Father of Mercies to take from our midst our honored and beloved sister, Mrs. Celia Blanchard, we cannot refrain from giving utterance to the feelings of sadness and sorrow we feel at her sudden and unexpected death; And Whereas, It is becoming to us, the surviving members, to express in an appropriate manner our high appreciation of her worth as a sister and a neighbor, and of her services to this Lodge both as a member and an officer—therefore be it

Resolved, That we, the members of Martha Washington D. of R. Lodge, No. 34, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, have heard with feelings of profound regret of the sudden decease of Sister Celia Blanchard.

Resolved, That in her death this Lodge has been deprived of the services of a faithful co-operator, and of one of its brightest ornaments.

Resolved, That we, who know her well, mingle our grief with our bereaved and stricken brother, with the expression of the fervent hope that He whose His inscrutable dispensations has permitted this great bereavement, will assuage the anguish of the stricken heart.

Resolved, That our hall be draped in mourning, and the members wear mourning badges for the space of three months.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be presented to the family of the deceased, and a copy be furnished the Bradford Reporter and Bradford Argus for publication.

☞ A correspondent of the Ithaca Journal, in reporting the Bulger trial, thus speaks of the testimony of young Burrows:

"Mr. Burrows was kept on the stand from nine in the morning till one, at which time the court adjourned for dinner. This witness' testimony was consistent throughout, and the clouded brow of Rumsey grew broad, face while cross-questioning him did not in the least cow the brave young clerk, nor confuse his discreet testimony. He did not make the evidence as regards the prisoner's identity with the man who shot Merrick positive, but came as near to a positive evidence as could be without the declaration direct."

Mr. Burrows is a son of Joshua Burrows, of Stevensville. It will be remembered that he was in the store with Merrick, and it was mainly through his heroism that the murderers were prevented from accomplishing their purpose.

Orwell.—Almost a Fire.—About four o'clock on the morning of the 12th inst., a fire was discovered in the blacksmith's shop occupied by Mr. C. J. Eastman. Alarm was immediately given, and in less than three minutes seven men were on the ground with pails of water and succeeded in subduing it. Had it not been that Mr. Bronson was called at that time to his store for medicine for a neighbor, and the timely discovery of the fire, the results would have been disastrous, as water is very scarce here and at a distance from the shop. The fire was caused by sparks in a wooden box of ashes, and not the "work of an incendiary," we are happy to state. Be careful of your ashes!

M. K. T.

☞ Editor of Reporter—Dear Sir: The last six weeks of the year 1870 was a time long to be remembered by the inhabitants of Sugar Hill and vicinity, and many will be able to look back, we trust, in years to come, and rejoice that a protracted meeting was ever held there. During said time the subscriber held one of the most interesting religious meetings that it was my privilege ever to attend. About twenty-five sought and found the pearl of great price, twenty of whom joined our church on probation, and quite a goodly number of said converts are heads of families. Religious interests are manifest at all of my appointments, and I pray that the year 1871 will be a year of great ingathering into the church militant.

M. Bergman,
Pastor of M.E. Church.

Sugar Run, Pa., Jan. 17, 1871.

☞ Mr. Editor: Winter's cold heart is with us. A noticeable fact: there are no lazy persons on the pavements, but lots of squeaking boots and shoes. Is it not singular that this screeching fashion usually makes its appearance about this time of the year, as if to add to our cold-heartedness? Old Boreas may be grave, yet he is the cause of much mirth. He is tricky, indeed. He prepares walks as slippery as the ways of life, and confuses the understandings of many of our wise sages as well as those of the elite, even so they feel their latter end is near at hand.

"No Goods Misrepresented Here!" strikes the mind forcibly, but when you step inside and make a purchase you will be forcibly struck; at least, a friend of mine says he was at a boot and shoe store in Lock Haven.

A schoolma'am handed me the following sweet morsel, sent to her by a school director:

I want you to set Some Copys for the Children that come to your school if you hav not time in school ours do it in the evening i hav talk to some of the directors on that point

Yours truly

When this worthy officer went to school, "quill pens and foolscap were in use and they had as good writers then as now"; so sort of the way with "your new-fangled ideas." This city director should be passed around. O, for a quill from a humming bird's wing, to write the copies for a buzzing school!

How solemn it makes one feel to know that man is the only reasonable creature on earth. Of all nature's animals man alone must think and plan, and work out his own salvation with fear and trembling. What a blessing to man that woman is not a reasonable creature, but is of a higher order that seems possessed of intuitive thought. Unlike man, she despises whisky and tobacco and clings to her God. Poor Darwin reasons like most men when he says—"The birds fly, why can't I?" Woman, created of purer material than man, is not subject to such logic.

Democracy is a good thing to have in a family, but it won't do to nurse it too much. One democratic editor, at least, is sensible; for he confesses the fact that no party can stand that openly opposes education. He also says that the heaviest democratic vote is polled where there is the least reading. Phrenologically speaking, modern democracy lacks weight, eventuality, time and order, but is fully developed in language, alimentiveness and destructiveness.

Narrow guage railroads are attracting the attention of many of the people of this city. The question of laying a track from this place through the lower end of Nittany Valley to Loganville in Sugar Valley, is being thoroughly discussed. On short routes the narrow guage usually costs from $6,000 to $7,000, while the broad guage costs on an average $25,000. A narrow guage road is just what is wanted between Towanda and Canton.

The week previous to the holidays was a joyous time to the teachers of Clinton county. It was then they held the largest and most enthusiastic Institute ever held in the county. State Superintendent Wickersham, Profs. J.W. Shoemaker and E. T. Burgan, and County Superintendents Magee of Center, and Johnson of Cameron, were present from abroad.

A jewelry store was broken into in this place about 3 o'clock, a.m., of the 7th inst. The safe within was muffled with wet buffalo robes and blown open. About $7,000 worth of property was taken from the safe. Several suspicious parties have been arrested.

Our city people are outting the West Branch corelict into square blocks, which they pack in small houses where there "is lots" of sawdust. (I hear some say there will be a plenty of ice next summer. Don't they make you think of the fellow who was going to make maple sugar all summer it he liked the business?)

Lock Haven is large enough for 50,000 people to live in, if they are properly arranged, but according to the last count there are 7,000 in round numbers. There is to be a large market-house erected next spring, as well as a spacious Normal school building. There are three churches in the course of erection, two of which are to be magnificent in structure.

The temperance movement is at a rather low ebb, because the professed christians forget that raising the fallen, and preventing others from falling,

"Is a darned sight better business
Than loafing about the throne."

The truth is, there are too many "cast-iron christians." We want more christian men and women that are willing to grasp any weapon that will slay the great enemies of their fellow-beings. There are many steps between the drunkard and the christian. Blessed, indeed, is the man that helps the inebriate to step up out of the ruts of his degradation and guides him towards the haven where he is prepared to step into the christian ranks. The only hope of our country is in the proper education of our children. It is the duty of every parent and teacher to so cultivate the faculties of their children, that impure morals cannot find even a lurking place. Singular, is it not—that there are so many professed laborers in the christian vineyard that have done about as much for moral reform as the boy had at catching rats, when he said that when he caught the one he was after and two more he would have three?

Query. Is it not singular that—oh! I mean funny—that every man is like a toad in a mud-puddle and the hooting owl at night?

Why-cant-I.

Here-and-there, Jan. 10, '71.

Editor's Table.—The Aldine, an illustrated monthly journal, published by James Sutton & Co., 23 Liberty street, New York, and devoted especially to art, appears this month with beautiful new type and changed to a more convenient and attractive form. The Aldine was originally a specimen typographical work remarkable only for the extreme neatness and beauty of its letter-press and plates. Having thus commended itself to public favor it has met with sufficient success to warrant the important modification which now gives it a high character as a journal devoted to æsthetics. There are ten remarkably fine illustrations in the January number, most of which are well worthy of being framed. The discursive papers on art, music, and miscellaneous subjects evince generally both literary ability and technical knowledge.

—Scribner's Monthly.—This illustrated magazine, essentially and peculiarly a journal for the people, as it calls itself, for February, has been issued. Its contents are of the usually pleasing and popular character, nothing heavy, overstrained nor pedantic. The illustrated articles are "The New York Mercantile Library"; "The French Conquest of Lorrine and Alsace"; "Something about Balloons"; "Lucky Peer"; a continuation of a story by Hans Christian Andersen; and some roman-

☞ Subscriptions for "Moore's Rural New Yorker" received at Calkins' Book Store, at club rates, cash to any address.

☞ Has Recovered.—The lady from whom Dr. T. S. UpDeGraff removed the large ovarian tumor, at Tunkhannock, about a month ago, has entirely recovered.—Elmira Gazette.

Religious Notice.—A Conference of the North Branch Association of Universalists will be held at the Disciple Church, in Canton, on Thursday and Friday, February 2 and 3. Public services will be held at 10½ a.m., 1½ and 6½ p.m. of each day.

☞ Patterson & Kinney's establishment has become so well known wherever the Reporter circulates, that it is only necessary to mention their name in connection with groceries and provisions.

☞ Decker is now turning out in large quantities his superior bedsteads, at the old stand of James Marinson. As he does the work himself, it stands to reason that he can afford to sell cheaper than those who are compelled to hire everything done.

☞ The wet, damp weather makes itself felt through leaky boots, and damp feet naturally suggests the question, Where can I buy good boots and shoes that won't leak? Echo always answers, At John McIntyre's. Mr. Davis, the superintendent of the shop, knows how to make good boots, and he does it.

☞ Nothing adds more to the beauty of rooms than nice wall paper. The furniture may be of the most costly patterns, but if the paper is poor or soiled, the whole appearance is "shabby." Those who agree with us in this matter, should hasten to Cross's Book Store and supply themselves with the neatest patterns of paper ever seen in this market.

☞ They mix things considerably in China. A man tailor may be seen working diligently at a lady's dress for about six cents a day, and a washerman will wash and iron your clothes at $1 a hundred; while a boatman's wife may be seen tugging at the oar or handling the sails like a man, often, too, with a baby on her shoulders. Here in Towanda the women stay at home and take care of the children, while their husbands go to McCabe & Edwards' and purchase everything wanted in the grocery line, because they know this firm offer better inducements than any other establishment in the country.

☞ Mrs. E. C. Ackerman has employed Mrs. Amanda Carman, the popular dressmaker, who will after the 5th of December assist her in the duties peculiar to her vocation. To those who have employed her, the announcement will be sufficient; to those who have not been as fortunate as we can only say, if you want your dresses cut in the most approved style and nicely fitted, give her a call.

Mrs. Ackerman also keeps a fine assortment of real laces, embroideries, patterns from Madam Demorest; also the greatly celebrated L. M. Hutson's Improved Chart for cutting ladies', misses' and children's dresses, basques, sacks, &c. Charts of instruction to be had only of Mrs. E. C. Ackerman, Bridge Street, Towanda, Pa.

SMITH.—Lucinda, wife of Luther Smith and adopted daughter of Adin Calkins, of East Troy, died at West Franklin, Jan. 3, 1871, aged 31 years.

Our departed sister was an amiable wife and loving mother. She possessed a very active mind and ambition too great for her physical powers. She was esteemed as a neighbor and friend, to which fact the many sympathizing friends bore witness. Though possessed of many good qualities, she did not regard herself a disciple of Jesus until her last illness. When brought low by suffering, she learned to trust implicitly in Christ for salvation. Listening to the chorus of the heavenly choir, she departed with the joyful promise that the father and little one would rejoin her in the mansions above.

PRACTICAL TAILOR

In all its branches I profess to be, having had

I CAN SELL GOODS CHEAPER

Than men following the business, and having no knowledge of it themselves, have to employ others at large salaries to attend to it, and customers must pay accordingly—as they, like myself,

DO BUSINESS TO LIVE BY IT.

If you doubt the above statement, be convinced by calling on
