Bradford Reporter.

Towanda, Thursday, January 9, 1873.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

☞ The Bradford Argus simply lies, to be plain, when it says the Item is a branch of this office.

☞ All of our dealers who advertise liberally, had an unusually brisk trade during the holidays.

☞ The Episcopal Mite Society will meet next Monday evening at the house of Mr. WILLIAM MALLORY.

☞ Our carrier returns thanks to the patrons of the REPORTER and other friends, for their liberal remembrance on New Year's Day.

☞ Who is the Athenian who is to edit the Item? Is he a graduate of the Historical Society organ, or the temperance advocate?

☞ The scholars of the Presbyterian Sunday-school were treated to a Magic Lantern exhibition, on Christmas night, by WM. L. CARTER.

☞ The Argus editor delayed the publication of his last issue for several days, in order to give his readers the glad tidings that PIOLLET was—defeated!

☞ We regret to notice the announcement in the Owego papers of the death of Mrs. ANNA BABCOCK, mother of J. D. G. BABCOCK. She died on Thursday morning, Dec. 26, aged 84 years.

☞ A subscriber in Smithfield, writes us that Mrs. ALMIRA CRAMER, of that township, aged 80 years, wove over 300 yards of rag carpet during last Fall, besides doing a large amount of spinning.

☞ Rev. CHARLES K. CANFIELD, for several years a student at the Susquehanna Collegiate Institute, was recently ordained to the full exercise of the Gospel Ministry, by the Presbytery of Lackawanna.

☞ The Linta Reception was a success. One hundred and sixty tickets were sold, and those who participated in the festivities of the occasion were well pleased. The company will make about $400 out of it.

☞ At a social party at H. M. Bowman's, LeRoy, Pa., Jan. 2, after oysters, venison and other eatables had been served, the men and their wives went to the store to weigh themselves, the aggregate weight being 1858 pounds.

☞ The Naiad boys have issued a very neat invitation to their second annual social, which comes off at Mercer's Hall, on the 22d inst. Tickets good for supper and a dance for those who "trip," are sold at the low price of $2.

☞ One of our druggists, who inserted an advertisement in the REPORTER for the first time a few weeks since, informed us that the profits on one article sold through the influence of the advertisement, more than paid for the insertion.

☞ One of the largest and most orderly parties ever assembled in this place met at the residence of Judge MERCUR on the evening of the 27th ult. BYANT'S Band, of Elmira, furnished the music. Everybody in Towanda, and many friends from other places, were present.

☞ We see it announced, in several metropolitan papers, that O. D. GOODRICH, lecturer from the Item, and is about to engage in the newspaper business in Mansfield. Mr. G. has made the Item a welcome visitor in many of the homes of this place, but the announcement from the concern would indicate that it does not pay.

DR. COLLYER'S LECTURE.—Rev. ROBERT COLLYER delivered his lecture, "Our Folks and Other Folks," to a small audience in Mercur's Hall on Friday evening. The lecture was filled with happy hits at many of the follies and foibles of the day. The Doctor is an eloquent and forcible speaker, and should have had a full house.

☞ The Commissioners have made the following appointments for the present year:

E. P. COMSTOCK,
G. H. PECK,
Appraiser—J. B. M. HINMAN.
T. B. JOHNSON.

☞ Now is the time to form clubs for the Tribune. Some enterprising Republican township can render the Republican cause a great service and aid us by interested in getting up a club, or forwarding names. We shall endeavor to make the Tribune worthy the support of every Republican county, who is interested in the welfare of the country.

☞ The First National Bank of Towanda has declared a semi-annual dividend of 5 per cent. for the last moiety, and added $5 000 to its surplus fund. It is a well managed Bank, with President, N. C. HARRIS, Esq., and the Messrs. CHAS. E. HERRICK, deserve great credit for the continued and increasing prosperity of the institution. The people of Athens certainly appreciate their services.

PERSONAL.—HIRAM ELSBREE, having graduated at BRYANT & STRATTON'S Commercial College, Poughkeepsie, N. Y., is home for a time. HIRAM DITTRICH, who suffered the sad affliction of losing both his sight and hearing, several years since, and who has been an inmate of the Pennsylvania Institute for the Deaf and Dumb, was in town last week on a visit to his parents and other friends. Although entirely deaf and dumb, he is able to talk a little, and is a bright and intelligent young man.

☞ It is always a pleasure to us to see the prosperity of any of our business men a peculiar gratification to announce that the National Bank, under the prudent and skilled management of President CALEB BETTS, has paid the stockholders a dividend of 16 per cent. during the year, and added $10,000 to the surplus fund besides. In this go another Bank cashier can show a better balance sheet than the officers of the Bank are making for stockholders, they maintain confidence and esteem of the business community.

R. R. P.—On Tuesday evening, Jan. 7, an election for officers in Towanda Lodge, No. 82, K. of P., resulted as follows:

E. R. FROST,
G. L.—O. A. BLACK.
D. W. C.—H. J. MADILL.

☞ MR. EDITOR:—On the 4th inst. a long discussion was discussed before the Literary Society in LeRoy:

Resolved, That the interests of society demand the retention of the tavern license system.

The question was thoroughly discussed by about a dozen citizens, after which the vote of the "house" was taken, showing nearly all of the house full present, were in favor of the license system.

Mr. ADAMS marshaling his devotees for the battle on the 17th inst., and his licensed opponents marshaling money and drinks for votes to keep in power. Shall they succeed?

I. C.

DEDICATION.—The new edifice of the Wyalusing Baptist Church, will be dedicated to the service of Almighty God, Wednesday, at 11 o'clock A. M., January 15, 1873. We do most cordially invite all friendly towards the enterprise to unite with us in the appropriate services of the occasion. Such being the direction of Divine Providence, we purpose also to give all a chance to show their friendship with their money as well as with their presence, as we are yet in want of several hundred dollars to cover the cost of house, etc. And I hereby notify all subscribers in arrears, that their subscription is due, and that it is needed at once. Please attend to it. E. BURROUGHS, Pastor.

Camptown, Dec. 30, 1872.

☞ We have received from the extensive and well known publishing house of IVISON, BLAKEMAN, TAYLOR & CO., a sample card of the celebrated Spencerian Pens. These pens have been largely used in the schools and business houses all through the country, and have given universal satisfaction, and our own experience with them leads us to recommend them to any who have not yet tested them. In this connection we take pleasure in directing attention to the very valuable text books published by this house. We have dealt with them in years past, and can assure dealers and school boards everywhere that there is not a better establishment of the kind in the United States. Their general agent for the introduction of school books in this State, is Mr. C. L. KINO, one of the most affable gentlemen and upright business men it has ever been our good fortune to meet.

☞ ED. REPORTER—Dear Sir: According to advertisement, a temperance meeting was held in Stevensville, Saturday evening, Jan. 4. The meeting was called to order, and EUGENE KEELER, Esq., elected Chairman, and J. L. GRANT Secretary. After a few remarks, the Chairman introduced MR. S. S. BUTTS, from Lime Hill, who made a stirring address, calling on every voter to use his influence for closing whisky shops. At the conclusion of his remarks, he called for an expression from the ladies, which resulted in every lady in the house voting "no license." Rev. MR. THOMAS and O. W. STEVENS then made urgent pleas for the cause, after which an expression being taken on the gentlemen's side, resulted in a unanimous vote against the license system. Let every voter do his duty at the polls, and have three years at least of peace and prosperity. J. L. G.

Stevensville, Jan. 6, 1873.

☞ It is with feelings of peculiar sadness, that we announce the death of Assistant Superintendent DESMOND. The sad event occurred on Sunday evening last. Mr. DESMOND had been an invalid for several months, and for some weeks past his physicians had entertained little hope of his recovery. The immediate cause of his death was disease of the kidneys. In the death of Mr. D. the Railroad Company lose a most faithful and energetic employe, and this community one of its most valued citizens. His afflicted family have the condolence of all our citizens.

Mr. DESMOND was a self-made man, having worked his way from a brakeman up to the prominent position which he held at the time of his death. For many years he was a conductor on the Lehigh Valley Railroad, and was highly esteemed by all those who knew him, being a moral, courteous gentleman, who possessed all the requisites of a shining light in railroad circles of the present and future. His death will be universally mourned throughout all this section of Pennsylvania.

His funeral will take place at Bethlehem today. The funeral cortege will leave this place by special train at 8:30 this morning. The depots and engines of the Pa. & N. Y. R. R. are all draped in mourning.

LOCAL OPTION.—The two last elections were the most exciting of any ever had in our State, and all politicians of all parties, looked upon the result as one of unusual importance to our State and national governments; but the little township election to take place the present month, is of more direct importance to our citizens than any ever before in our county of State. The first opportunity is offered our citizens to determine by ballot, whether they will longer suffer the sale of intoxicating drinks by law or license, to the injury of society; and we hope all good citizens will be alive to the importance of being at the polls, as well as seeing that every voter is there, to seal by his vote the fate of the monster evil that has disgraced our manhood so long.

The Local Option law is not what we all think the case demands, but it will serve as a beginning to accomplish the work of driving this cruel evil from our homes and our society, and educate the minds of the people for some more stringent law, that will fully and finally arrest the destroyer of our homes and our happiness.

If women want opportunity to exercise their rights and their influence, let it be done by urging their husbands and sons to vote for the Local Option, and thereby stop the sale of that baneful drug in our county. Let Bradford county show by the result of the election on that day, that she stands on the noble ground of temperance, willing the world should know she is tired of tampering with the monster that would destroy her citizens.

FRANKLIN.

Jan. 8, 1873.

A DISGRACEFUL AFFAIR.—Between the hours of 12 and 1 o'clock on Sunday morning last, C. E. BENJAMIN, of Towanda township, and friend, accompanied by two young ladies, were driving along Main street near the Methodist church, enjoying a sleigh ride, when they were accosted by one or more persons on the street. Not caring to make acquaintances at that hour they did not stop, when one of the party caught on the sleigh and demanded to be taken to his boarding house, which of course was refused, and he was pushed from the sleigh. In a moment more he was again on the sleigh, and without a moment's warning deliberately drew a knife and stabbed MR. BENJAMIN quite severely in the side under the left shoulder, and then jumped and run.

A short time thereafter, Officer LINES was notified that a party were endeavoring to force their way into a saloon on the corner of Main and Washington streets. He proceeded to arrest them, when he saw a knife in the hands of one FRANK GANLEY, whom he collared, and a lively scuffle ensued; GANLEY using his knife on the officer, considerably damaging his clothes, but doing no further injury. A not very gentle tap on the head with a piece of hickory-wite caused GANLEY to realize that further resistance was useless, and he was safely lodged in jail. JAMES FINLAN and ED. MADDEN, GANLEY'S companions, were also arrested, and on Monday afternoon brought before Justice BOGART, and a hearing had, where it was proved that GANLEY stabbed Mr. BENJAMIN. He was held to bail in the sum of fifteen, and MADDEN and FINLAN in the sum of four hundred dollars each for their appearance at court. —Item.

OBITUARY.—MR. EDITOR: The numerous friends of GEORGE S. SWART, among the readers of the REPORTER, feel that something more than the mere announcement of his death, is due to one who attached himself so strongly to those with whom he mingled in the business and social relations of life.

Mr. SWART was born at Amsterdam, Montgomery county, N. Y., April 14, 1817, where his boyhood was spent. In childhood he exhibited great aptitude for drawing and music. Though deprived of the opportunity for the cultivation of his tastes, he employed much of his leisure in dabbling with pencil and brush, sometimes to the annoyance, but often to the gratification of his companions. In July, 1862, when only fifteen years of age, he enlisted as musician in Co. F., 138th Regt. N. Y. volunteers, (afterward the 9th Heavy Artillery), and continued in the service until the end of the war, when he was mustered out as Brigade Drum Major, to which position he had been advanced for good conduct and sterling ability. Returning from the army, he went to Auburn, where he learned the business of carriage painting, earning for himself a reputation in this department second to none in the country. Here, in the Autumn of 1866, he confessed Christ, and was received into the Disciples' Church of that place. In November of the next year, he married Miss MARGARET LAINHART, of Owego, and soon after removed to Ithaca. The establishment with which he was then connected, having been destroyed by fire, in September, 1871, he came to Wyalusing, and soon after became one of the firm of SNOVER, SWART BROS., in carriage manufacturing business. Here, after several weeks' illness, he entered into rest Dec. 18, 1872. In business he was frugal and industrious. His integrity and honesty were beyond question. Of genial and cheerful disposition, his presence was gladdening as a sunbeam. He was deeply interested in whatever pertained to the welfare of the community, and on every question of morals and good order, all knew which side he would espouse. In his sickness, he was remarkably sustained by the promises and the presence of his Saviour. Into His hands he committed all his interests with the entirest confidence and unreserve. Kind friends tenderly ministered to him in his sickness, and loving hands bore him to his burial.

"The passing spirit gently fled,
Sustained by grace divine;
O, may such grace on us be shed,
And make our end like thine." C.

—IN MEMORIAM.—At a meeting of Wyalusing Lodge, No. 472, I. O. of G. T., held at their hall, Dec. 31, 1872, the following minute was unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS: It has pleased Almighty God to remove by death our brother, George S. Swart, we desire to bear testimony to his unswerving fidelity to the principles of our order, his kindly and Christian bearing in our social intercourse, and his zeal in every good work. By his early death we would be admonished to greater diligence in the Master's work. While tendering kindliest sympathy to the family and friends in their bereavement, we would thank our Heavenly Father for the benefit of his beautiful life amongst us, and for the precious hopes which cluster around his memory.

Resolved, That a copy of this minute be sent to the family of the deceased, and be published in the county papers.

☞ Our sister village of Troy was visited by a serious fire on Wednesday morning, causing the destruction of S. W. PAINE'S foundry and machine shop. The fire originated in the engine room, and was discovered about 2 o'clock. The steamer was on the ground in good time and rendered such assistance as to save the adjoining property.

In cheerful hope and joy serene;
Another day the sun shall greet,
And friends so dear again shall meet.
Weep not for her, who now at rest,
Where care and pain no more annoy,
Has reached the Haven of the Blest,
And realized immortal joy.
