CHAPPAQUA AUCTION.

The personal property of Mr. Greeley was sold at auction on Saturday last. The old Westchester farmers purchased many articles as keep-sakes. The bidding was not very brisk, and most of the property was struck off at a low figure. One steel pointed corn plough sold for 25 cents; a lane plough at 25 cents; a new corn plough at 75 cents; a sub-soil plough at 25 cents; two other sub-soil ploughs at 50 and 55 cents; and another of huge dimensions for four yoke of oxen to draw, sold for 60 cents as old iron, a cultivator sold for 50 cents, and another plough for 50 cents; another plow for $1.26, a drill for 25 cents; a steel plow for $1, another cultivator for 21 cents; a sub-soil plow for 50 cents; a scraper for three dollars; another cultivator for $2.50; a coulter plow for $5, and another steel plow for $1, and still a better steel plow for $2,50. Two wheelbarrows for $1,90 each, and a third one at 2.50; a patent potato digger for $1; an old odd sled for $9.50: a wagon pole at $1.35, and a horse-rake at $5

The cattle sold at equally low figures: A yoke of oxen at $62.50, another yoke at $89; a cow at $38, an Alderny cow for $41, an Alderny bull, full blooded at $90, a cow 24 years old for $7.50; an old horse at $27; a pair of matched mares at $160; two young cows at $21 each; horse power at $31; a threshing machine at $21; a power saw and frame at 32; a cornstalk cutter at $2; a large quantity of oats sold at $37; a cornsheller at $12; hay cutter at $8; fanning mill at $7; oat-straw $9.50 per ton; and a cast-steel drill at $2.25; 600 bnshels of corn at $1.14 per cwt.; an ox cart at $13, and another at $22.50; a root cutter at $6; ice box at 90 cents, and another at $1.65; an iron tooth harrow at $1; and 50 fowls at 42 cents each.

Household goods sold cheaply, and the impression prevailed that the property generally was bought in for the daughters, and for that reason none would bid against them.

A washstand sold for $1, a bedstead for 65 cents, a churn for 16 cents, a table for 6 cents, an iron bedstead for 55 cents, a squirrel cage for $1.50, worth a quarter of the amount, a stove for 50 cents, worth $15, another stove for $9, carpets for $4, and a doll baby for 25 cents.

An old carriage unlike anything of modern times sold for $16, and hay at $22.50 per ton.

The sales did not amount to much over $1,000. A large number attended, but did not care to bid upon anything they supposed should remain on the farm, or that the daughters might wish to retain.

Alas, how soon are the fruits of years of care and toil swept away and scattered to the winds as it were. Many of these farming machines were bought by Mr. Greeley more for trial than for constant use. He would never sell off old cows and horses because they had become valueless, but would keep them for the sake of the past, and out of the natural kindness of his heart.

THE MAN OF LONG LIFE.

He has a proper and well proportioned stature, without, however, being too tall. He is rather of the middle size, and somewhat thick set. His complexion is not too florid; at any rate, too much ruddiness in youth is seldom a sign of longevity. His hair approaches rather to the fair than the black; his skin is strong, but not too rough. His head is not too big; he has large veins at the extremities, and his shoulders are rather round than flat. His neck is not too long; his abdomen does not project; and his hands are large, but not too deeply cleft. His foot is rather thick than long; and his legs are firm and round. He has also a broad, arched chest, a strong voice, and the faculty of retaining his breath for a long time without difficulty. In general, there is a complete harmony in all his parts. His senses are good, but not too delicate; his pulse is slow and regular.

His stomach is exbellent, his appetite good, and his digestion easy. The joys of the table are to him of importance; they tune his mind to sreenity, and his soul partakes in the pleasure which they communicate. He does not eat merely for the pleasure of eating, but each meal is an hour of daily festivity; a kind of delight, attended with this advantage, in regard to others, that it does not make him poorer, but richer. He eats slowly, and has not much thirst. Too great thirst is always a sign of rapid self-consumption.

In general, he is serene, loquacious, active, susceptible of joy, love and hope; but insensible to the impression of hatred, anger and avarice. His passions never become too violent or destructive. If he ever gives way to anger, he experiences rather a useful glow of warmth, an artificial and gentle fever without an overflow of the bile. He is fond also of employment, particularly calm meditation and agreeable speculations, is an opitmist, a friend to Nature and domestic felicity, has no thirst for honors or riches, and banishes all thoughts of to-morrow.—Scientific American.

The Poultry Pestilence.—One of our exchanges gives the following as the symptoms of the poultry pestilence:

"The skin hanges in parchment like rolls over the attenuated anatomy. The fowls are taken with staggering fits similar to the blind staggers in horses. These recur with decreasing intervals and increasing violence until the end is reached, generally from twenty to twenty-four hours. Those infected, guided by their instinct, seek to hide themselves, and crowl away to some corner, where they die in solitude. This is a fact that brings some solace to the denizens of boarding houses and other institutions, in which such other opportunities to buy cheap poultry are eagerly embraced. The fowl is killed when the first symptoms appear, and probably before it reaches the last stages of unfitness to eat, because a short delay would give it time to hide and die unproductively. Half a loaf is better than no bread, and if one must eat impure meat, it is a comfort to know that it is pure as possible under the circumstances. Again, in the latter stages, the head frequently swells to a great size and that would cause the nature of the disease to be instantly detected. Fortunately those who desire to purchase only the sound and wholesome will be able to distinguish [illegible] the diseased, and the plague will thus be slightly in their favor by working a small price for the good."

To Improve Horses.—A horse is not good for much if he cannot take care of himself. Warm stables, good food, blankets and care amount to nothing. A good way is to harness him up before breakfast, for did he not eat hay all night? Let him stand without a blanket while you are eating breakfast. Then work him hard all day. Let him stand tied to a fence or a post out in the cold, the snow or rain while you are drinking and toasting your shins in the bar-room. Drive him fast up hill and down. When his load is too heavy, get on top of it to whip him. You can lash him the harder then. After he has pulled out, whale him well for being stuck. Give him no luncheon, nor water, except when you drive him through a creek. At night put him in a cold stable. Let the mud stay on his feet and legs all night. Be sure to own a splendid whip—it helps the horse to strengthen. If he does not understand all you tell him, pound him till he does. This style of treatment will make your horses tough and add to the value of your property.

WE CLAIM FOR

LAZARUS & MORRIS'

CELEBRATED

PERFECTED SPECTACLES

AND EYE GLASSES,

The undermentioned advantages over those in ordinary use, the proof of which may be seen in the extraordinary sales, and constantly increasing demand for them:

1st. That from the peculiar construction of the glasses they assist and preserve the sight, rendering frequent changes unnecessary.

2d. That they confer a brilliancy and distinctness of vision, with an amount of ease and comfort not hitherto enjoyed by spectacle wearers.

3d. That the material from which the Lenses are ground, is manufactured specially for optic purposes, and is pure, hard, and brilliant, and not liable to become scratched.

4th. That the frame in which they are set, whether in Gold, Silver, or Steel, are of the finest quality and finish and guaranteed perfect in every respect. For sale only by our outhorized agent in this locality. We never supply or employ peddlers.

RHEUMATISM—NEURALGIA!
$500 WILL BE PAID

to any person producing any Medicine showing half as many living, permanent cures as Dr. FITLER'S VEGETABLE RHEUMATIC REMEDY. Used inwardly only. A pleasant Medicine, free from injurious drugs. Warranted, under oath, to have permanently cured 95 in every 100 patients treated in the past ten years. (See testimony). It is the scientific prescription of Prof. Jos. P. Fitler, M. D., a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, A. D., 1833,—now one of Philadelphia's oldest regular physicians, and Professor of Chemistry and Toxicology,—who has made Neurlgia, Chronic and Inflamatory Rheumatism the specialty of his entire professional life—a fact vouched for by the signatures accompanying each bottle, and other testimonials of many prominent renowned physicians and clergymen. To protect sufferers from poisonous quack nostrums and useless expenditure of money, a legal signed guarantee, stating exact number of bottles warranted to cure, will be forwarded gratis to any sufferer sending by letter a full description of affliction. In case of failure to cure, amount paid positively refunded. Medicine sent anywhere by express, collect on delivery. Afflicted invited to write for advice; all information and medical advice sent by letter gratis, Address Dr. J. P. FITLER, 29 South Fourth street, Philadelphia, Pa. The Distributing device is so arranged as to effectually crush all lumps, thereby insuring an even distribution of Plaster, even when full of hard dry lumps. IT SOWS EQUALLY WELL

ALL KINDS OF GRAIN AND GRASS SEEDS,

Such as Wheat, Rye, Oats, Barley, Buckwheat, Corn Flax seed, Timothy, Clover and other Grass seeds.

The Seeding-Box is hung under the axle, near the ground, and can be USED IN A STRONG WIND WITHOUT SCATTERING THE PLASTER OR SEED, HOWEVER LIGHT.

It is driven by a cam on the wheel, which will not get out of order from use; as is the case when driven by gears.

IT CAN BE SHIFTED FROM RAKE TO SEEDER, OR FROM SEEDER TO RAKE, IN FIFTEEN MINUTES.
