The Gulf States in National Unity.

[Freeman's Ed. Y. Times.]

It is remarkable, now when the cause of the Union has triumphed, by what men call good fortune, in spite of the cowardice, weakness of the Head of the Government, since treason set out in its wicked career, it needs no effort of the memory to recall many notable instances.

The Minority in the State, Bond, Robbery, just at the time it occurred, was a great piece of good fortune. Floyd ruled the Cabinet; his Treasury had been made bankrupt; the War Department was employing only clerks to arm and strengthen rebellion; the head of the Interior Department was one a traitor himself to a doubtful Southern State; the President, coward and nerveless, was managed like a puppet; and the venerable patriot who occupied the first place in his council resigned in despair, and turned his face upon the land. But suddenly, in the very darkest hour, a disaster fraud, which had lain unknown in the Department, for many months, by accident came out to the public eye; confusion seized upon the conspirators, and they fled from their post; the President awoke to the iniquity which had been around him; he resumed his manhood, and called true men to his side; a vigorous policy was set up; and the Government, which had been driven so fearfully, and apparently so helplessly, toward destruction, was saved. It was the mere chance development of something which overhanging from the peril itself that had this mighty effect upon it.

It was good fortune that Major Anderson took the resolution at the time he did, in spite of the opposing plans of his chiefs at Washington, to abandon Moultrie for Sumter; good fortune that, notwithstanding the rigid surveillance of the Charleston rabble, he accomplished the feat so successfully on that moonlight night; and good fortune that after this was done, while yet his preparations for defiance were incomplete, a storm arose and continued for days, that kept his enemies at bay and allowed him the amplest opportunity to put his new position in a condition that might defy their rage. The rebels have counted upon this commanding fortress as surely their own; and its loss, so strangely brought about and so entirely unlooked for, was a terrible reverse which they will not cease to feel to the end. Reality of Fiction.

It was good fortune that the Star of the West, when dispatched with reinforcements, under the assurance, knew that they were needed, did not persist in pushing through Charleston channel, but turned back. We did, since it is now known that a mistake more would have drawn from Major Anderson's fire upon the assailants that, had it occurred, must have immediately kindled general civil war.

It was good fortune that the cannon at Vicksburg, aimed at the A. O. Tyler, did not send forth its missiles of death, its priming only flashing. Had this disaster taken place, and destruction been scattered thereby among that company of peaceful travelers, fury would have seized thousands of the vehement spirits of the already irritated Northwest, and a bloody conflict would have probably been the sequel.

It was good fortune that Fort Jefferson, at the Tortugas, and Fort Taylor, at Key West—positions which are the keys of the Gulf of Mexico, commanding all its commerce—were reached just when they were by the Federal detachments sent out from Boston. Had this been a day or two later, those impregnable fortresses would have been found in the hands of the rebel forces, and treason would have been strengthened immensely. A like good fortune attended the transfer of troops to Fort Pickens, at Pensacola, which proved not to have been an hour too soon to secure that most important position from the Georgia and Alabama troops, who had rushed to secure the prize.

We might cite other instances where fortune has well served the cause of the country; but there is no occasion. We have said enough to show that the good cause has thus far been signally favored, and that all things are conducing to a slow, sure, and bloodless victory. But, fortune is a pagan word. It is a word that ought to have no place in Christian speech—least of all, when the destiny of a nation is in question. There is a Providence in national affairs, none the less indubitable though we may not scan and fix its precise workings. The most hardened politicians are obliged to recognize it. With all the resources at his command, and with his almost superhuman energies, Bonaparte called himself a fatalist, feeling that there was something out of him, that dealt with him, controlled him, disposed of him. The most Republican and reckless Ledru Rollin certainly is about the last living man to be charged with superstition; and yet he was constrained to declare in a speech, after his flight from Paris, "For the last two years it seems that the course of events in the world has been governed by a sort of fatality, and that all human combinations have been thwarted by some mysterious hand."

The gray-headed Prince Czartoryski, only spoke the irresistible conviction of all the Princes and all the Democrats of Europe when he proclaimed to his countrymen, "The time is rife with signs which show us that the ruling of the world belongs not to human hands, but only to Providence, and that Providence alone leads us to those ends which defy our subtlest calculations." The public mind of the old world, however strenuously it engages in the activities of the times, has long since learned that the times will, after all, work out their own destiny—or, rather, that a higher power will, through them, work out His will, which is destiny. Both the potentates and the masses are understanding better than before that they are not the controllers of events—that though "man proposes, God disposes." And our revolutionists, we believe, will find that their ends, rough hew them as they may, will be shaped by a stronger power. Mechanics and master as they please, they will never be permitted to break up this inheritance of our fathers. This magnificent Republic has a part yet to perform on the earth, which they are impotent to defeat. They will find to their sorrow that the notion that "history is but the Devil's play-bill, performed with the sublime mechanism of depravity," is a great mistake. They will learn that the government destinies of the race are not left at the mercy of men's madness or weakness—that God is in history, and that, though we cannot clearly scan the Divine policy, there is, amid all the recklessness of human passions, a Divine influence that sets bounds to every destructive agency, and, from the very turbulence of evil, educes good. We have as unbroken faith that this Republic will emerge from its present troubles, not only uninjured, but stronger, grander, and purer than ever.

From an Old Old patriot, it will be Victorious and wise. Winds blow and waters roll
Strength to the brave, and power, and joy.

DR. GEO. H. KEYSER,
No. 140 Wood street, Pittsburgh, Pa.

ANOTHER CURE BY DR. SCHENCK.—I called on Dr. Schenck some time ago in one of his visits to Pittsburgh, at the office of Dr. Keyser, No. 140 Wood st. He was examining patients with lung disease. One of my lungs and the bronchial tubes were found to be badly diseased. Oftentimes when I coughed I expectorated blood and matter in large quantities. I had night sweats and great cough, and was greatly debilitated. Dr. Schenck prescribed for me his "PULMONIC SYRUP," "SEAWEED TONIC" and "MANDRAKE PILLS," and after taking them one month I have so far recovered that I do not spit any more blood or matter, and the cough has nearly left me. I live in Dearborn county, Indiy township, Ohio, where I can be heard. You may publish this if you wish.

Pittsburgh, August 27, 1859. MARTIN KOCH.

N. B. Since the above was written, Mr. Koch has entirely recovered, and continues well, having regained his usual health.

J. WILLIAM W. ALEXANDER, residing on Lime street, Allegheny city, do hereby certify that I have been a sufferer from severe cough and pain in the breast for about eight years. During the whole of this time I have had general debility and depression of spirits. I tried every nostrum I could hear of, but nothing took hold of my disease. I heard of Doctor Schenck's "PULMONIC SYRUP," but knowing no one personally that it had cured, I had no confidence in it. In April, 1858, I took a severe cold, accompanied with violent cough, difficulty of respiration, and night sweats, which so prostrated me that I was confined to my room for two months.

Several of my friends who called to see me, spoke in very high praise of Dr. Schenck's PULMONIC SYRUP. My prostration was discouraging, yet I made up my mind to waste no more money for doctors or medicine, but would take the chance, live or die, as I had been so long sick that I felt completely discouraged. However, after hearing several advertisements for the "PULMONIC SYRUP," I felt inclined to give Dr. Schenck's medicine a fair trial, and now am as free from any disease as I am in good health, by the use of the Doctor's medicine. I do cheerfully and gratefully state that it has made a perfect cure of me. I am a hale man, and I attribute my good health and relief of consolation entirely to Dr. Schenck's medicine. I enjoy better health to-day, Feb. 4th, 1861, than I have done for twenty years past. If persons knew the merits of Dr. Schenck's medicines, they would not hesitate to call on him in his visits to this place. I feel that I cannot say enough in his praise. I call on John, as I have the same confidence in his medicines. Any person wishing to call upon the party as here stated can call on me on my place in Lawrenceville, Ward 12, Allegheny city. Yours, &c.

Mrs. Winslow,

An experienced Nurse and Female Physician, presents to the attention of mothers her

SOOTHING SYRUP,

FOR CHILDREN TEETHING,

which greatly facilitates the process of teething, by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is SURE TO REGULATE THE BOWELS.

Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and Relief and Health to your Infants.

We have put up and sold this article for over two years, and CAN SAY, IN CONFIDENCE AND TRUTH of it what we have never been able to say of any other medicine—NEVER HAS IT FAILED IN A SINGLE INSTANCE to effect a cure when it is properly used. Never did we know of dissatisfaction by any one who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operation, and speak in terms of commendation of its magical effects and almost miraculous virtues. We speak in this matter "THAT WE DO KNOW," after ten years' experience, AND PLEDGE OUR REPUTATION FOR THE FULFILLMENT OF WHAT WE HEREIN DECLARE.—In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.

This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the most EXPERIENCED and SKILLFUL NURSES in New England, and has been used with NEVER FAILING SUCCESS in

THOUSANDS OF CASES.

It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve and overcome convulsions, which, if not speedily remedied, end in death. We do not hesitate to say to the MOTHERS OF THE WORLD, in all cases of DYSENTERY AND DIARRHŒA IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething or from any other cause. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints—DO NOT LET YOUR PREJUDICES, NOR THE PREJUDICE OF OTHERS, stand between you and your suffering child, and the relief that will be SURE TO, ABSOLUTELY FOLLOW the use of the medicine. It is perfectly safe. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle. None genuine unless the fac-simile of CURTIS & PERKINS, New York, is on the outside wrapper.

FOR CHILDREN TEETHING.

BELTING & PACKING.

OUR GUM BELTING has through adapted to its purpose, and scarcely ever requires tightening more than once; it has a perfectly smooth and even surface, and will run quieter than with any other belt; it is not affected by a particular process, whereby it is made to withstand heat of 500 degrees Fahrenheit, without being affected, and the warmer and the more it is used, it gains in utility. It is therefore not only valuable for sheltered operations but specially adapted to withstand exposure to the weather, and can constantly be run in all places, without injury.

Our LEATHER BELTING is universally known in the trade to be the best article of the kind in use, and prove which we can give any number of the best references.

Our GUM PACKING is that made by the New York Gutta Percha Company, manufactured under Goodyear's patent, and is well known to be of superior quality. It is considered by engineers and machinists as infinitely the superior article; plans are to be made, as no other substance has so much elasticity, which will stand so high a degree of heat.

MESSRS. JOHN WILDOX & CO.:

Your "Impedine," or "Persian Fever Charm," has done wonders. I was wholly despondent and wrecked when I applied it, and yet we leave the chills were removed and he is free now. It is the simplest and most invaluable of a wonder of nature or art. I would not be without this "Impedine" a single hour. By constantly wearing it, I seem to be "aegis proof." Yours, very truly, W. M. STOUT.

MOBILE, Alabama, July 23d, 1860.

GENTLEMEN:

I have been snatched from the grave by the application of your wonderful "Impedine," or "Persian Fever Charm." For several years I have suffered every season from fever and ague. Last Spring my life was threatened, but your remedy has destroyed the disease, and I am rapidly gaining an equal share of strength.

Respectfully, yours, D. N. BARRON.

This truly wonderful preventive and cure for Fever and Ague and Bilious Fevers, will be sent by mail, post paid, on receipt of one dollar. Also for sale at all respectable Druggists and Country Stores.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

A compound remedy, designed to be the most effectual Alterative that can be made. It is a concentrated extract of Pure Sarsaparilla, so combined with other substances of still greater alterative power as to afford an effective antidote for the diseases Sarsaparilla is reputed to cure. It is believed that such a remedy is wanted by those who suffer from Strumous complaints, and that one which will accomplish their cure must purge of immense service to this large class of afflicted fellow-citizens. How completely this compound will do it has been proven by experiment on many of the worst cases to be found of the following complaints:—

SCROFULA AND SCROFULOUS COMPLAINTS, ERUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASE, DROPSY, NEURALGIA OR TIC DOULOUREUX, DEBILITY, DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, ERYSIPELAS, ROSE OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD.

This compound will be found a great promoter of health, when taken in the spring, to expel the foul humors which fester in the blood at that season of the year. By the timely expulsion of them many rankling disorders are nipped in the bud. Multitudes can, by the aid of this remedy, spare themselves from the endurance of foul eruptions and ulcerous sores, through which the system will strive to rid itself of corruptions, if not assisted to do this through the natural channels of the body by an alterative medicine. Cleanse out the vitiated blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in pimples, eruptions, or sores; cleanse it when you find it is obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it whenever it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Even where no particular disorder is felt, people enjoy better health, and live longer, for cleansing the blood. Keep the blood healthy, and all is well; but with this pabulum of life disordered, there can be no lasting health. Sooner or later something must go wrong, and the great machinery of life is disordered or overthrown.

Sarsaparilla has, and deserves much, the reputation of accomplishing these ends. But the world has been egregiously deceived by preparations of it, partly because the drug alone has not all the virtue that is claimed for it, but more because many preparations, pretending to be concentrated extracts of it, contain but little of the virtue of Sarsaparilla, or any thing else.

During late years the public have been mislled by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Sarsaparilla for one dollar. Most of those have been frauds, and the sick, for they not only contain little, if any, Sarsaparilla, but often no curative properties whatever. Hence, bitter and painful disappointment has followed the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla which flood the market, until the name itself is justly despised, and has become synonymous with imposition and cheat. Still we call this compound Sarsaparilla, and intend to supply such a remedy as shall rescue the name from the load of obloquy which rests upon it. And we think we have good ground for believing it has virtues which are irresistible by the ordinary run of the diseases it is intended to cure. In order to secure their complete eradication from the system, the remedy should be judiciously taken according to directions on the bottle.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

has won for itself such a renown for the cure of every variety of Throat and Lung Complaint, that it is entirely unnecessary for us to recount the evidence of its virtues, wherever it has been employed. As it has long been in constant use throughout this section, we feel authorized to assure the people its quality is kept up to the best it ever has been, and that it may be relied on to do for their relief all it has ever been found to do.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill, and for Purging in Fever.

They are sugar-coated, so that the most sensitive can take them pleasantly, and they are the best aperient in the world for all the purposes of a family physic.

Price 25 cents per Box; Five boxes for $1.00.

Great numbers of Clergymen, Physicians, Statesmen, and eminent personages have lent their names to certify the unparalleled usefulness of these remedies, but our space here will not permit the insertion of them. It will not only cure the many forms of disease for which they are recommended, but it will prevent much sickness, if taken on the first appearance of disorder, by their timely action upon the digestive organs, arousing the liver to action, purging, in fact, all the excretions and secretions of the system, it will infallibly prevent any deleterious consequences following upon change of climate and water; hence, all travelers should have a bottle with them, and all should keep a table spoonful at least before eating. As it prevents costiveness, upon whose the digestive organs, it should be in the hands of all who are subject to costiveness, which is the source of much misery and many diseases. Delicate females and children should always use it. If they will, they will find an agreeable, pleasant and efficient remedy against those ills which rob them of their beauty—for beauty cannot exist where there is a bilious complexion and the above irregularities continue. Then, again, the Cordial is a perfect mother's cell-d. Taken a month or two before the time, it will pass the child without pain, and relieve mother and infant. There is no mistake about it, this Cordial is all we claim for it. Mothers, try it! And to you we appeal, to extend the blessings of health to all your daughters before it is too late, but also your sons and husbands; for while the former, from false delicacy, often go down to premature graves rather than let their condition be known in time, the latter are too often so mixed up with the excitement of business, that if it were not for you, they too would travel in the same downward path, until too late to arrest their fatal career. Let your motto, then, be always vigilant, and to you we confidently appeal, for we are sure your never-failing affection will unerringly point you to Prof. Wood's Restorative Cordial and Blood Renovator as the remedy which should be always on hand in time of need.
