Towanda, Thursday, April 17, 1873.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

MUD in the streets is rapidly "drying up."

JUDGE MORROW is holding court in Montrose this week.

RALPH RUSSELL is lying dangerously ill at his residence on Fourth street.

ATTENTION of our citizens is called to article on our first page on the subject of temperance.

L. R. FROST and wife have returned from their wedding tour, and will reside for the present at J. O. FROST'S.

MERCUR, MORGAN & MOODY'S block of dwellings on Main street and plank road, is rapidly approaching completion.

THE free bridge meeting last week was quite largely attended, and several thousand dollars subscribed toward the object.

OUR columns give evidence this week of unusual activity among our business men. Read all the new advertisements.

GRIFFITH & PATTON have sold half of their Bridge street block to Maj. E. W. HALE. The Major takes the three stores nearest Main street.

A LARGE number of rafts have passed this place during the past few days. The shute is in bad condition, but most of the lumber crafts have made a successful passage.

IS IT true that the Town Council refuse to allow their proceedings to be published in any other paper but the Reporter? If it is so, it is high time the people know why it is thus.

WE regret to learn that the residence of CHARLES CAMPBELL, in Burlington, was destroyed by fire on Friday morning last. Mr. and Mrs. C. were both absent, and nearly all their household goods perished.

MR. HOSFORD has formed a copartnership with C. H. DARROW, in the hardware trade. The new firm have a fine stock of goods, and the reputation of being first-class business men. We ask for them a fair share of public patronage.

LECTURE.—The second lecture of the M. E. Church course will be delivered in the church on Wednesday evening, April 23, by Rev. C. W. BENNETT, D. D. Subject will be announced upon the hand-bills.

THE monthly meeting of the Towanda Sunday-School Alliance, will be held in the M. E. Church lecture room, on Monday evening next, at which time Mr. S. W. RODGERS will conduct a model teachers' class. The subject will be the "uniform lesson" for the Sunday following.

THE Musical Convention conducted by Mr. GLADDING, at Canton, last week, was a complete success. About sixty singers were in attendance, and all united in pronouncing it a very pleasant affair. Mr. G. holds classes over held in this county. All of which is highly complimentary to Mr. GLADDING.

THE anniversary exercises of the Congregational Sunday-school came off on Sunday afternoon last. The scholars were nearly all present, and the church was filled by a large congregation of friends. The exercises passed off to the satisfaction of all concerned. The contributions of the school for the year amounted to over three hundred and thirty dollars.

AT the annual election for Vestrymen of Christ Church, held on Monday morning last, the following gentlemen were elected: H. C. MERCUR, E. T. FOX, J. F. MEANS, E. W. HALE, JAS. MCCABE, O. D. BARTLETT, W. G. TRACY, S. W. ALVORD. At a meeting of the Vestry held subsequently, W. G. TRACY was re-elected Vestryman's Warden.

WOULD it not be well for the Borough Council to pass an ordinance, providing for closing of local interest shall transpire within the limits of this borough, only between the hours of Wednesday and Saturday of each week. There would be just as much propriety in such an ordinance, as there is in the rule that train proceedings shall be kept secret until after their appearance in the official organ.

OFFICER MCDONALD, of the Post office Department, visited this place last week, and proceeded to Elmira one of the men arrested for breaking into the Waverly depot, as he proved to be an old offender who escaped from Mr. D. a few weeks since, while that officer had him under arrest, charged with robbing the Post office at Danby, N. Y.

DISTRICT Deputy H. S. CLARK, instituted Mountain Chief Lodge No. 236, K. of P., at Athens, on Tuesday evening, April 8. The following officers were elected:

W. C.—FRED W. MISLER.
V. C.—THOS. JOHNSON.
P.—JOHN KELLOGG.
R. S.—JOHN NOBLE.
F. S.—THOS. DITCHBURN.
T.—HENRY CRAWFORD.
M. A.—JAMES JOHNSON.
I. S.—WALTER HAY.
O. S.—JAMES DUNCAN.

A PARTY of amateur burglars made a raid on several of our business establishments one night last. They were prevented entering the express office by arousing the sleeping rooms directly over it, but effected an entrance into GEDDES's shop, Mr. WATTS's foundry, and the Eureka Mills office. A few articles of little value were taken from the gunsmith shop, and at the latter place attempts were made to open the safes. Nothing of value was taken. Officers and all good citizens should be on the alert for these young desperadoes, for nothing more serious may result from night raids.

MR. ALVORD: The ninetieth anniversary of his birthday, was celebrated at the old brick homestead in Canton on Monday, April 7. There were present, whose aggregate ages amounted to four hundred and forty-eight, viz: ALVORD, senior, 90 years; POLLY, (ISAAC's wife) 85 years; JUDITH LEWIS, 85 years; ANNA CARR, 84 years; JOHN ELLIOTT, 80 years. The children were mostly present, with many grandchildren, constituting a large group. A feast of much substantial of the joyful occasion.

D. C.

Canton, April 8, 1873.

WAVERLY appears to be cursed with burglars. The residence of O. N. SPALDING, in that village, was entered on Saturday night last by two thieves. The entrance was gained through the kitchen window. The two men, leaving their boots outside, went up stairs into the sleeping apartments of Mr. SPALDING and family, taking a watch and four dollars from the pockets of the boy's pants. Coming out of the room the boy awoke, and seeing one of the burglars, knocked him down, during the fusticade which ensued the family rallied in the side. The noise awakened Mr. SPALDING, who seeing a man going out of his door, took his revolver from under his pillow and fired, but not hitting his man. The two burglars then tried to make their exit through a window of the second story, but one of them was shot twice by the boy using the pistol. The burglars succeeded in making their escape, but left their boots with them, and were traced a mile from the house to a train about two or three miles distance, and were captured without any resistance.

THOSE of our citizens who have heard Dr. CHAPIN lecture, will need no urging to turn out and listen to his "Order of Nobility," on Tuesday evening next. Although it is several years since the Doctor has visited this place, he still possesses all the physical and intellectual vigor which added so much to his interesting and instructive lectures. The subject announced for Tuesday evening is one which interests everybody, and is handled in a masterly manner by Dr. CHAPIN. We hope to see a large attendance on the part of people from adjoining towns, as it is seldom that the citizens of this county have the pleasure of listening to men of this class. ELMIRA BUSINESS HOUSES — THE SPRING TRADE OPENING FAVORABLY—NOTES OF A PROSPEROUS, POPULAR DRY GOODS HOUSE—E. H. DORMAUL & CO., NO. 120 WATER STREET—AN EIGHTY THOUSAND DOLLAR STOCK.—Those who do not take especial pains to investigate the subject, have but little idea of the MAGNITUDE OF THE MERCANTILE BUSINESS of the city. The general impression is, when visiting a store to do a bit of trading, "There must be high on to $10,000 worth of goods in this 'ere store; a heap of goods, ain't it?" Coming down Water street, let's stop into

E. H. DORMAUL AND CO.'S,

No. 120. Mr. DORMAUL has been absent in the eastern cities three weeks, selecting goods for his mammoth store. A long time to select $10,000 worth of goods, one might think, but as we enter and begin, Yankee-like, to ask quotations, and look at goods, $10,000 is used up before we pass thirty feet into the 160 before us, and there are two more floors above, equally well filled. The shelves and counters are literally packed, and piles of goods for which there is no room on shelf or counter, are visible in convenient corners. A brief mention of some of the goods in this

DRESS GOODS STOCK,

one of the largest of any dry goods house in the city, may be of interest to the many readers of the REPORTER, and be to, them a guide when they wish to purchase fine goods at a remarkably low price. In

DRESS GOODS

there is no stock in Southern New York of equal magnitude and variety, from prints to the richest silks, or at such prices. Prints of all the latest styles, black silks plain and with fine satin finish at all prices; fancy silks, striped grisaille of various patterns, at the remarkably low price of ninety-eight cents per yard; Irish poplins, Japanese silks, mourning dress goods of entire new and elegant fabrics, and an immense stock of black alpacas of all grades, the largest ever brought to this market; also, a large stock of black cashmeres for Dollman cloaks. In fact, there is nothing in the dress goods line that cannot be found at E. H. DORMAUL & CO.'S. Leaving the dress goods for a time, when the eye delights to linger on the beautiful fabrics and attractive patterns. The attracts special attention, not only by the great variety displayed, but in the quantity. quality, and the low figure at which they are sold. In this department may be found double damask table linen of beautiful designs; towels of magnificent quality, a fair size retailing as low as one dollar per dozen. The stock of Marseilles quilts are especially noticeable for quality and beauty. No one need be without a table cloth, when extra fine bleached loom dice table linen can be bought at DORMAUL'S, for twenty-five cents per yard. The array of linen goods looks like a wholesale stock, and those desiring this class of goods especially, will find the best bargains can here be made. The stock of muslins, bleached and unbleached, of all the leading brands, is equally large, and will be sold at retail at the New York wholesale prices. Now is the time to lay in a stock. In the

LINEN DEPARTMENT

UPHOLSTERY DEPARTMENT

may be found an elegant stock of striped reps, plain terrys, damasks, etc., of a great variety of patterns. The

HOSIERY DEPARTMENT

contains a full line of the best goods. The celebrated Balbriggan hose selling as low as fifty cents per pair. A new feature is the seamless, woven French corset. Mr. DORMAUL purchased a large stock of these goods and will be very popular and eagerly sought after by the ladies. They are the best yet introduced. On the first floor also is the where will be found a fine stock of millinery goods, patterns, hats elegantly trimmed, straw goods of all kinds, and first-class milliners of large experience, in constant attendance. This branch of the retail trade will receive especial attention, and ladies are invited to call and examine the large stock now being displayed.

In addition to the goods already noted, everything usually found in a dry goods house will be found here in great variety. The second floor is especially devoted to carpets, and is packed from one end of the floor to the other, with one of the best and choicest selections ever brought to this market. Ingrain—one, two, and three ply body brussels, tapestry, brussels, and other varieties, too numerous to mention, and at prices that are desperately cheap. While Mr. DORMAUL was East selecting his goods, in consequence of the great dullness in trade the Hartford Carpet Company made a great auction sale of carpets. Mr. DORMAUL, taking advantage of this opportunity, with his usual promptness, and desire to supply the public with the best and at a low price, bought largely, selecting only such patterns and quality, as would best please the large trade in this vicinity. These goods were bought fully fifteen cents per yard below the factory prices, and he proposes to give the public the benefit of this fine bargain, being satisfied to make but a small profit, and will retail them far below the present market value. There will be a rush for the new carpets. The more deeply interests the ladies, and persons engaged in the millinery business. Mr. DORMAUL has opened upon this floor a very heavy stock of

THIRD FLOOR

MILLINERY GOODS,

and will do a general jobbing trade. To this superior stock, the attention of dealers is especially invited. Pattern hats of the latest spring styles, magnificently trimmed, and of the finest material, in large numbers. A full line of straw goods of every quality and style, a rich assortment of all kinds of ribbons, and an endless variety of the finest French flowers, and all other goods required in a first-class millinery establishment, can be found at DORMAUL & CO.'S wholesale millinery jobbing rooms. The prices at which these goods are afforded, and their superior quality, will induce those in the trade to call and examine before purchasing. The rooms are arranged to their smallest detail as perfect as any jobbing house in New York city. Mr. DORMAUL, during the fourteen years he has been in business in the city, has established a reputation for honorable dealing second to none, and all goods purchased at this house will be found as recommended. They now carry a stock amounting to $80,000. Their trade is already immense, and will increase when the people understand what a stock they have to select from. They can suit everybody.

DIED.

PARK.—At Rome, Bradford Co., Pa., Feb. 3, 1873, John Park, aged 42 years.

Mr. PARK was an industrious man, a kind husband and tender parent. For his country's interests, he sacrificed his home and family comforts; leaving them at her call for his services, in which he endured exposure and privation, which impaired his health and broke down his vigorous constitution, so that in middle life he sank into the arms of death. He died, submitting to the Divine will, and trusting in Jesus. Honor to the dust and family of another of our country's heroes, whose life was given for her welfare.

KING.—In Vought Hollow, Rome twp., Feb. 17, 1873, of remittent fever, Judson King, aged 8 years, son of Lydia Vought, formerly known as Lydia King, now wife of John Vought, Esq.

JUDSON was grave and wise beyond his years. As a Sunday-school scholar, he was remarkable for getting long lessons and getting them well. He was naturally very intelligent, and blessed with one of the sweetest dispositions, which made him ever a peacemaker among the contentious. He was the idol of his mother, whom he loved with all his heart. During his three weeks of severe suffering, he was patient beyond expression. One day, just before he died, he said to his mother, "I wish my head would stop aching; but it will when I die, won't it, ma?" Having entered the Sabbath-school before he learned to read, and there spent the pleasant summers of his brief life, he has now entered the Sabbath-school in Heaven.

"My head will stop aching,
When I die, won't it, ma?"
"Yes, little Judy, that is so,
Yet I cannot let you go.

"Dear ma, do let me go,
My pa and grandpa are in Heaven—
This you and I do know—
Oh, my head it aches so."

"Judy, I cannot consent
To let you go;
My heart feels sad
To hear you talk so."

"Dear ma, the angels
Are coming for me,
No more on earth
Your sweet face shall I see.

"Dear ma, live for Jesus,
Then when you die,
He will bring you to Heaven
To live with pa and I."

"My sweet little boy Judy,
Behold the Lord given
And He taketh away;—
Your head it aches so.

"Go, then, my angel boy!
You are too good
Longer on earth to stay;
Jesus, take my boy, I pray!"

"Dear pa John, I thank you
For your kindness to me;
I hope you and my brothers
In bright glory I one day shall see.

"Farewell, my little comrades,
In the Sabbath-school,
I bid you a long adieu;
My head it aches so.

"You must be good boys,
Loving, kind and true;
Love and serve Jesus—
He'll send an angel for you."

My little friend Judy,
You have now escaped
A world of care, toil and pain,
Safe in Heaven ever to remain.

Heaven's gentle winds
Will fan your cheek,
Through an endless way—
Jesus wipes all tears away.

Your head will ache no more,
On Heaven's blissful shore!
Judy is not dead,
But only gone before.
