Bradford Reporter

Towanda, Thursday, Aug. 28, 1873.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

Ten thousand dollars of borough orders have been canceled this year.

The Episcopal Sunday-school will meet hereafter at 12:15 P. M.

The jail of Sullivan county has been vacant since last Winter.

Wm. L. Lyon, of Franklin, is authorized to receive subscriptions for the Reporter.

The weather was so cool here on Sunday last, that overcoats were not uncomfortable.

The Davenports will soon give our people an entertainment, consisting of Shakspearean readings.

The Ladies' Benevolent Association will hold its next meeting on the first Friday in October, instead of September.

The names of eighty pupils were registered at Rome Academy on Monday. Pretty good for a quiet little town like Rome.

Rev. P. S. Everett will deliver a lecture for the benefit of the East Smithfield Baptist Church, on Tuesday evening next.

Prof. R. Cuny, of the School Department, is expected to be at the session of the County Teachers' Institute, to be held at Monroeton.

Two new gas lamps are being erected on the Public Square. This is an improvement which will be appreciated by those who have to visit the county offices after dark.

Some of the State officials of New-York, will pass over the proposed route of the Bradford railroad next week. The citizens of this county should give them a hearty reception.

The borough authorities have at last concluded a bargain for the building just east of the Reporter office. It will be arranged for a lock-up and rooms for council meetings. The price paid was $6,000.

A young man, son of Horace Barden, of Burlington township, had both of his hands so badly injured by being caught on a circular saw in a shingle machine, on Thursday last, that he will entirely lose the use of them.

We are in receipt of a neatly executed invitation to the Third Annual Reception of "Os-co-lu-wa No. 1," to come off at Long's Hall, Troy, Friday evening, Sept. 5, 1873. The names of the committee of arrangements guarantee success.

Prof. Hutton sends us the annual announcement of the Waverly High School, of which he has just been elected Principal. Prof. H. is a most successful teacher, and we congratulate the citizens of Waverly on their excellent good fortune in securing him.

The dedication of the new M. E. Church, of West Pittston, was postponed, growing out of circumstances connected with the late severe rain storm. The time now fixed upon is Tuesday, Sept. 2. Dr. Nelson is expected to preach at 10 o'clock A. M., and Rev. B. I. Ives at 7½ P. M.

It is a favorite argument of the whisky sellers and their friends, that more liquor is drank now than under the license law. If they believe what they say in this respect, why do they so anxious to have the law repealed? While local option does not prevent the sale and use of intoxicating drinks, it has greatly curtailed the traffic.

Miss Olive Hanson has been engaged as teacher in a young ladies' school, to open in this place next month. Miss Hanson enjoys the reputation of being being one of the most specious and accomplished teachers in the country. Her numerous friends will be pleased to learn that she is again to become a resident of our borough.

Many of our citizens were deeply pained at the announcement last week, of the death of Master Charlie Smith, son of C. T. Smith, which occurred at Bethlehem, on Wednesday morning last. Charlie was a bright, interesting boy, and his early death fell heavily upon his parents. The remains were brought to this place for interment on Friday evening. The deceased was nearly sixteen years.

We are gratified to learn that the Republicans of Chemung county will present the name of Hon. E. N. Fancher, as a candidate for the State Senate this Fall. In addition to the natural pride we feel in Mr. F. as a Bradford county man, we know him to be a reliable Republican and possessed of ability to make a good legislator. If nominated and elected, as we trust he may be, the district will never have reason to regret it.

Athens was visited by another fire on Monday evening last. The buildings known as "Chemuck row," were burned. The fire originated about 10 o'clock. The following persons suffer by the conflagration: Patrick Curley and Wm. Rhiall, owners of building; P. Curley, saloon stock; Geo. T. Lewis, grocery store; Grandey & Wenkins, clothing; P. Curley, boots and shoes; A. Bunnell, dwelling; P. Curley, barn. None of the property destroyed was fully covered by insurance. It is supposed that the fire was the work of an incendiary.

BARTLETT'S ADJUSTABLE SPRING BED BOTTOM.

The Spring Bed is the only desirable Bed manufactured in Bradford County. It is easy to keep aired and by it a weak; it is the coolest, softest and most agreeable bed for the money that you can find, bring it back, and exchange it. My agent will call on you; take it home and satisfy yourself as to its merits. We make them to order, to fit any old bedstead, so that an old spring will fit. Warranted.

Wyalusing.—Select school commences next week at the Academy, under the superintendence of Mr. Cook, of Merryall.

The M. E. Sunday-school at Browntown, held its picnic last Saturday at the grove of David Rogers. A brass band, the singing of Sunday-school songs, and a bountiful dinner, made the occasion a very happy and enjoyable one to over a hundred people who were present. There will be a mite society at the residence of E. B. Tinnis, on Friday night of this week.

JONES.

Aug. 25, 1873.

Treating.—This foolish and pernicious habit, is one of the greatest and most destructive of social evils, and prevails to a greater extent in this than any other country on the globe. From this cause more than any other, intemperance has grown with the growth of this country, and become a national evil. By this means men are induced to drink four and five times at a bar, before leaving, simply thro' the fear of offending comrades, or taking a single off the liquor dealer's house. What a false and damnable code of honor this is which fosters habits of ruin, destruction of health and useless extravagance. There is no liberality in it. If you will be generous, give your spare cash to the deserving poor, or save it for a rainy day. Young men! stamp out this custom; it is the outgrowth of a bad state of society, originating in another age, and transplanted here by accident. Put it down.

Personal.—Mrs. Wm. Mallory is visiting friends in the Green Mountain State.

—Miss Holbrook, an elocutionist of Baltimore, Md., is giving public readings in Eastern Bradford.

—M. K. Taylor, formerly of Rome, but now engaged in business in Peekskill, N. Y., made us a call last week. The bracing air of the Hudson seems to agree with him, as he was looking remarkably well.

—Rev. F. D. Hoskins was in town on Friday last, called here to attend the funeral of Charlie Smith.

—Theo. Smith, one of the best printers in the State, and now employed in the Montrose Independent Republican office, made us a short visit last week.

—Gen. Wagner, G. W. C. T., of Pennsylvania, honored our sanctum with his presence on Friday last.

—Rev. Solomon Cooper, for many years a resident of this place, but now a member of the Delaware M. E. Conference, was in town last week. He was elected chaplain of the Equal Rights Legion at Wilkes-Barre.

—Miss Alice Peet, of this place, has accepted a situation in a school at Allentown, N. J., at a handsome salary. She is a good teacher.

—Mrs. Steel, of Philadelphia, is visiting her brother, J. J. Griffiths, Esq.

—Gen. Davis and Miss Lizzie Davis are at Judge Mercur's.

The Towanda Iron Manufacturing Co.—Through the courtesy of Mr. John W. Means, we were shown through the Towanda Nail Works the other day, and were surprised at the magnitude of the business transacted. Three double puddling furnaces melt about four tons of pig iron per day, which is afterward put through the various processes necessary to make nail plate. From fifteen to twenty nail machines are running, and turn out from one hundred to two hundred kegs of nails per day. To perform all the labor necessary to this result, about seventy men and boys are employed.

Everything about the establishment betokens prosperity. The machinery is the best in use, and runs with the regularity of clock-work. Mr. Long, the foreman, is an experienced and practical workman. The company have been very fortunate in securing his services.

Col. Means, President, and the board of directors, deserve great credit for their energy and untiring perseverence in managing the financial affairs of the company, which are now in a flourishing condition.

Eds. Reporter: As one of the Executive Committee of the Committee of Seventy, appointed by a meeting of the citizens of Towanda Boro', to enforce the Local Option Law in said borough, I have been somewhat amused as well as a little indignant at the attacks of a certain nameless correspondent of the Item on the Committee, because of their inefficiency.

It is true that nothing has been done in the way of active prosecutions, as you are well aware, and for the very good reason that with one exception, not a single grumbler of them all will come forward and make the affidavit necessary in order to commence the prosecutions. This one case, for reasons I need not make public, after consultation, it was thought best to treat the same as the others. No liquor has been sold to the actual knowledge of a single member of the Executive Committee, and of course nothing further under the circumstances could be done, than they have taken steps to accomplish.

Evidence is necessary in order to convict these violators of the law, and if those persons who are interested in enforcing it, and those who pretend to be, but take good care to conceal their knowledge, will, during this week hand in the names of violators of the law, together with the names and residences of the witnesses, something can yet be done which will satisfy the expectations of the community. If this is not done, we shall stand acquitted of blame in the matter. Already, for some days past, a few of the bars and liquor saloons have been closed, and their proprietors have absented themselves in order to ride over our Court, when the traffic will be again commenced.

Will all good citizens do as requested? Let us see.

Com.

The Portage (Wis.,) State Register, of the 20th ult., contains the following notice of the death of a gentleman who had warm friends in this place. The deceased was son-in-law of Mr. Samuel Kellum, of Asylum:

"Our citizens all learned with deep regret of the death of L. W. Bacon, Esq., of this city, which sad event occurred at the residence of his father, in Middletown, Conn., on Saturday last. The public was fully prepared for the intelligence, for Mr. B.'s health had been so precarious ever since last Fall, as to render it quite certain that his life was to be of short duration. He lingered through the Winter, frequently in such a low condition as to lead to the belief that he could hardly survive for an hour, but his indomitable will and wonderful tenacity of purpose, undoubtedly prolonged his life for many months. Under the reviving influence of the Spring weather he recuperated his health considerably, so much as to enable him to take a carriage and to appear several times on the streets. He determined to return to his old eastern home once more, and clung to the idea that brought he restoral to health, although he could not but have been impressed with the knowledge of the critical situation he was in. He was accompanied by his family, of course, on the journey, but we learn that he had been constantly declining ever since his arrival there. But a few days previous to his death he determined to visit the sea-shore, and for that purpose engaged rooms at some point on the coast in New Jersey, and was about ready to take his departure when the messenger of death summoned him to his long home.

"Mr. Bacon first came to this city in 1854, we think, and engaged in the hardware trade. From a modest commencement he built up a large trade and acquired a fine competency. He was methodical and correct in his business and social habits, and his thorough probity gained for him the respect of the entire community. A more high-minded, conscientious business man than Mr. B. walked not our streets, and every citizen of Portage will treasure his good name as a part of the legacy he left us, and will ever speak approvingly of the career of one who shed nothing but honor and lustre upon the name of man. An excellent man—friend, neighbor and citizen—is with us no more."

The Galaxy, for August, has an uncommonly varied and promising table of contents, and its promise is more than made good by the articles which follow. The leading article is a picturesque sketch of Vienna, not a description of scenery, but a passing glance at costumes, customs, character and general features of a city which the writer says he loves.

Two very entertaining and suggestive articles upon language follow. The first, which is very aptly entitled "Japanning the English Language," is an inquiry into the feasibility of making a new language for the use of the natives of the Orient. The English is shown to be best adapted for a base, and the manner in which it may be reconstructed to secure clearness and simplicity, is an interesting and instructive study. The second linguistic article is from the pen Mr. Richard Grant White, whose previous contributions to the Galaxy have made him an authority upon modern language. He considers some of the more common grammatical errors made by careless people, such as "you was" and "had not ought," and illustrates his theme by numerous quotations. Another strong article in the number is "Personal Recollections of the Revolution in Berlin in 1848," a long title, which fully explains the subject. The writer, Hon. Theodore S. Fay, was American Ambassador at the court of Prussia during the exciting period of which he writes, and the sketch has the charm of personality. Mr. Albert Rhodes contributes a graceful character sketch similar in style to those which have made him so well known during the past three years to magazine readers. Having traversed Europe, Asia and Africa, he now brings his pen to America, and depicts a half foreign race living in our midst, the Creoles of Louisiana, of which very few Americans have any knowledge whatever.

An article entitled "The Martyr of Balaklava," gives a graphic description of the memorable charge of the six hundred, and explains the causes of the disaster in the clearest manner, vindicating the character of Lieutenant Nolan, to whom the title of the article refers. The Parkman murder is the subject of another historical sketch of intense interest, which will be new to the younger class of readers. "Hung in Armor," is a quaint and rather piquant little story concerning a suit of armor which was stolen from a Norman castle. "The Pearl and Princess" describes a romantic adventure in the Chinese waters, and a "Brace of Woodcock" is an American love story, of healthy tone, though it treats of an invalid's shooting excursion. Gen. Custer's Indian war record and Carl Benson's "Casual Cogitations," with the usual quantum of poetry and literary and Scientific Miscellany, make up the number, which is in all respects an excellent one.

Items from the Northern Tier Gazette:

—Our home artist, B. F. Beebe, has nearly finished the finest piece from his pencil. It is entitled "A Idylle on Oscoluwa," and is made up of studies on Sugar Creek.

—Iron ore, of excellent quality, was found in digging for the foundations for the Enterprise Manufacturing Co.'s building, and it is more than probable from other indications that there is a large deposit of ore in Paine's hill. Its shape would indicate it is an iron hill.

—On the evening of August 6, the following officers were installed in the Springfield Lodge, No. 506, I. O. of G. T.: W. C. T., Frank Burgess; W. R. S., Mrs. B. M. Ripley; W. L. S., Mrs. N. Matlocks; W. V. T., Mrs. T. B. Jayne; W. S., Mrs. R. Harkness; W. F. S., Wright Leonard; W. T., Henry Boughton; W. M., H. Gates; W. D. M., Miss M. Matlocks; W. O. G., C. Harkness; W. I. G., Mrs. R. Burnham; P. W., E. Daggett; W. C., T. B. Jayne.

—Graded School.—Prof. McCollum, a graduate of Cornell University, has been elected Principal of our Graded School, at a salary of $1,200 per year. He comes highly recommended. President A. D. White says of him: "He is competent to fill any place he will accept." The Fall term will open Monday, Sept. 1. We are glad to learn that the Board still retain Miss Sarah Ballard as Preceptress for another year, after she had decided to go away to college. Miss Minnie S. Budd will have charge of the Intermediate, Annie H. Adams of the Primary B, and Nettie Willour of the Primary A, departments, all of which promises a prosperous year to our Graded School. Mrs. Fred Moore will conduct the Musical Department.

—The Assignee's Sale.—The adjourned sale of the S. W. Paine estate, on Saturday, was conducted very quietly, the bidding not being very spirited. The following were the purchases and prices paid for lots:

The "Home Lot" was sold to Nelson Adams for $1,500. It contains 220 square rods with house and barn.

Lot No. 3, occupied by Ed. Holly, sold to Walter Gilbert for $650.

Lot No. 12, occupied by Ed. Beebe, sold to Uriah Baxter for $665.

Lots No. 13 and 17, comprising 107 acres, sold to C. C. Paine and I. A. Pierce for $48 per acre.

Lot No. 11, occupied by Millard Moore, sold to Robert Young for $465.

Lot No. 19, 7 acres and 100 perches, sold to Michael Wynne for $163 per acre.

—A house occupied by S. T. Lilley, about a half mile from LeRoy Corners, Bradford Co., was burned on Saturday afternoon last. Fire had been discovered in the roof some time before, and this had been put out, but it seems not thoroughly, for about a half hour after, the flames broke out again, this time with such violence that they could not be restrained. Help came, but all that could be done was to carry out the goods, which was done, so that the loss will be very slight except on the building.

The people of this place are to have an opportunity of hearing and seeing the celebrated Davenports, of Philadelphia, on Monday evening next. Their readings are everywhere highly spoken of. They should have a full house.

Public Sale.—The Farm belonging to the heirs of Wm. W. Eastabrook will be exposed to public sale on THURSDAY, SEPT. 18, 1873. This Farm is situated in North Towanda, near Sugar Creek, and 5 miles from the Borough of Towanda. Contains about 120 acres; 80 acres improved and under a good state of cultivation; 20 acres good timber; stumps all into fences; with new framed dwelling house, well arranged for two families; cellar well arranged for dairy purposes. Also one large barn, one slaughter house and other out buildings, two good orchards, a good grapery, spring house and wash house combined, &c. &c. In consideration of its never failing water this is one of the most desirable hill farms in Bradford County, being well adapted to grain or grazing purposes, and offers unusual facilities for dairying purposes. Also the stock on the farm.

DIED.

WICKIZER.—In Albany, Pa., August 17, 1873, at her residence, Mrs. Ellen Wickizer, aged 38 years and 6 months.

Sister Wickizer was an excellent spirit—a kind mother, a devoted wife, and good neighbor. She was one of our soldier's wives, who, in the absence of husband, while he was exposed to the camp, the field, the battle, vindicating the honor of our beloved country, managed her domestic affairs with more than usual ability and prudence.

Now her privations and sacrifices are over; now she has received the reward of the redeemed. Ah! we miss thee at home; we miss thee in the social circle; we miss thee in the sanctuary; in a word, we miss thee everywhere; and yet we would not call thee back. Her disease was of the most aggravating kind, and her sufferings extreme, but her patience and resignation were very marked, being inspired by the hope of eternal life. Thus she passed triumphantly to the mansions on high.

She has left an interesting family and a greatly bereaved husband, as well as a large circle of friends, to mourn her departure. As evidence of sympathy and respect, a large concourse of people attended the funeral, and after services, formed in solemn procession and conveyed her to the silent resting place.

RUSSELL.—At the residence of her mother, in Orwell, August 2, Frances Russell, aged nearly 32 years.

Deceased was an invalid about eighteen years. She lived a Christian life eight years. Having learned of Jesus, he used her as one of His teachers during her long illness. The lessons of patience, meekness, and gentleness which she taught, will never be forgotten. Eternify only will reveal the good accomplished by the wave of influence which she set in motion.
