B.—The success of this Company since the establishment of the Agency in this city, with the promptness and liberality with which every claim upon them for loss has been adjusted, fully warrant the agent in inviting the confidence and patronage of the friends and the community at large to the Delaware Mutual Insurance Company, while it has the additional advantages as an institution among the most flourishing in Philadelphia—as having an ample paid-in capital, which by the operation of its charter is constantly increasing, as yielding to each person insured his due share of the profits of the company, without involving him in any responsibility whatever, and therefore as possessing the Mutual principle divested of every obnoxious feature, and in its most attractive form. nov4
