MEMORIAL SERVICES AT ROME, ETC.

Decoration Day, under the auspices of Stevens Post, No. 60, G. A. R., was duly observed here, also at Wysox, Orwell Hill and North Orwell.

The day here was ushered in with a salute at 5 o'clock.

At 6 o'clock A. M., committees of soldiers, appointed by the Post, placed flags upon the graves of their fallen comrades in the cemeteries at the several places.

WYSOX.

At 8:30 a procession of soldiers, and many others, was formed in front of the Post's headquarters here, and with martial music proceeded to Wysox, where they were met at the cemetery by soldiers and citizens with their excellent and finely uniformed Cornet Band. Exercises there were opened with prayer by Rev. William Steen, pastor of the Presbyterian Church at that place. Recitations were given by Miss Rice and Miss Lettie May Wilmot, of Rome.

Soldiers graves were decorated in a very becoming manner with flowers furnished by kind citizens.

Hon. Joseph E. Piollet favored those present with a speech, which was very impressive and well received.

Exercises there finished, the procession was re-formed and accompanied by the band, returned to headquarters here, arriving in due time to enjoy the dinner which had been prepared by many kind hands ready for their return.

ROME.

After all who desired had refreshed themselves to their satisfaction, the procession was formed in the following order and line of march directed to the Rome cemetery:

Wysox Cornet Band.
Burgess and Borough Council.
Orator and Clergy.
Flower Girls.
Stevens Post, G. A. R.
Other Soldiers.
Citizens and Visitors.

At the cemetery, they formed in a square around the lot belonging to the Post, when the following ceremonies were gone through with, in the order here given:

Rev. S. B. Keeney, Pastor of the M. E. Church, offered prayer. Then followed song by the Glee Club.

Address by Comrade J. P. Coburn, of Orwell.

Music by Band.

Decoration Exercises in remembrance of Comrades who sleep in unknown graves.

Recitation by Miss Jessie A. Towner.

Remarks by Adjutant F. W. Towner.

Recitation by Miss Nellie Rice.

Remarks by Comrade S. O. Allen.

Music by Band.

Remarks by Quartermaster, E. E. Spaulding.

Recitation by Miss Lettie May Wilmot.

Remarks by Chaplain, W. H. Brown.

The soldiers were then given orders by their Commander to fall in line, after which they marched in review of their Comrades graves, about forty in number, decorating them with flowers carried by the little flower girls. The band at the same time played a dirge, and the gunners in charge of Comrade Albert Wilmot fired a salute from the minute gun.

Ceremonies at the cemetery over, they again formed in line and headed by the band marched to the M. E. Church to listen to the closing exercises. After singing by the Glee Club, the Commander introduced L. M. Hall, Esq., of Towanda, who delivered the oration—spoken of by good judges as one of the best ever listened to. Certainly it would speak praise for itself if we could give it in full as it fell from the speaker's lips. Professor L. W. Towner, assisted by others of the Glee Club, then in a very feeling manner, sang the song entitled, "Starvation in Prison."

The Commander, for the Post, in a few remarks thanked various ones for the kindness they had shown them by their assistance.

Rev. J. S. Elsworth, of Orwell Hill closed the exercises of the day with the Benediction.

ORWELL HILL.

In the morning, at Orwell Hill, members of Stevens Post, assisted by the children of the Sabbath Schools and citizens, decorated in a very fit manner the graves of fallen soldiers buried in the cemetery at that place. Rev. Netherton, pastor of the Orwell M. E. Church, and Hon. Henry Gibbs, made remarks very suitable for the occasion.

NORTH ORWELL.

At North Orwell, the citizens, under the lead of Comrade D. S. Boardman, very appropriately decorated the soldiers graves in their cemetery. Ceremonies at these two places concluded the Comrades and many others, according to previous arrangement, came down here to take part in the exercises.

The attendance was much larger than many had anticipated—a considerable number of people could not find room inside the church or secure a place on the outside, near the open doors and windows, where they could hear the speaker.

The weather proved to be very fine, though about noon we were strongly threatened with rain. Every arrangement was carried out in excellent order, and in a very impressive and solemn manner.

The Post decorated in all over ninety soldiers graves. Stevens Post, under the leadership of their worthy Commander, B. G. Wilmot, deserves much credit for the manner in which they performed this pleasant and solemn duty. Vice Commander E. C. Stewart and the ladies and gentlemen who assisted him, did valuable service in arranging the tables for dinner.

Two ladies, of the many who lent helping hands, received especial expressions of gratitude from the members of the Post: Mrs. Martha Warner, for her liberality in furnishing ready for the table, most of the coffee used, and Miss Eliza Culver, who took the lead in arranging so tastefully nearly all of the flowers used on the occasion—surely it was no small task.

In the procession to the cemetery here there was borne flowers formed in the shape of a casket, escorted by eight comrades, each of whom carried a bouquet of flowers made in the form of large plumes.

The casket of flowers was placed on the G. A. R.'s lot at the cemetery in memory of comrades who are resting in unknown graves.

The young ladies who recited, rendered their parts in a manner which elicited much praise.

The Glee Club, composed of Professor L. W. Towner, wife, and daughter Jessie; Professor George Warner and wife; Professor Myron Dunn and Orville Taylor, showed that they understood the parts they had undertaken.

The day is one not soon to be forgotten. Our sincere wish is that Stevens Post will have the honor to conduct many Decoration Day ceremonies, as excellent and fitting as this one, in remembrance of their fallen comrades. The orator never uttered words more true than when he said in words somewhat like these, "Soldiers deserve more honor than any other class of men. Others sacrifice a few pleasures, but the true soldier sacrifices that most dear to us on earth—life itself."

ITCHING PILES—SYMPTOMS AND CURE.

The symptoms are moisture, like perspiration, intense itching, increased by scratching, very distressing, particularly at night, as if pin-worms were crawling in and about the rectum: the private parts are sometimes affected; if allowed to continue very serious results may follow. "Dr. Swayne's All-Healing Ointment" is a pleasant, sure cure. Also for Tetter, Itch, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Erysipelas, Barbers' Itch, Blotches, all Scaly, Crusty, Cutaneous Eruptions. Sent for 50 cents, in 3-cent stamps; three boxes for $1.25. Address, DR. SWAYNE & SON, 330 North Sixth Street, Philadelphia, Pa. Sold by all enterprising druggists.

IF YOU FEEL DROWSY, DEbilitated, have frequent headache, mouth tastes badly, poor appetite and tongue coated, you are suffering from torpid liver, or "biliousness," and nothing will cure you so speedily and permanently as to take Simmons Liver Regulator or Medicine.

The Cheapest, Purest and Best Family Medicine in the World! An Effectual Specific for all diseases of the Liver, Stomach and Spleen. Regulate the Liver and prevent Chills and Fevers, Malarious Fevers, Bowel Complaints, Restlessness, Jaundice and Nausea.

SIMMONS LIVER REGULATOR

BAD HEALTH

Nothing is so unpleasant, nothing so uncommon as bad breath, and in nearly every case it comes from the stomach, and can be so easily corrected if you will take Simmons Liver Regulator. Do not neglect so sure a remedy for this repulsive disorder. It will also improve your Appetite, Complexion, and General Health.

PILES

How many suffer torture day after day, making life a burden and robbing existence of all pleasure, owing to the secret suffering from Piles. Yet relief is ready to the hand of almost any one who will use systematically the remedy that has permanently cured thousands. Simmons Liver Regulator is no drastic violent purge, but a gentle assistance to nature.

CONSTIPATION

Should not be regarded as a trifling ailment—in fact nature demands the utmost regularity of the bowels, and any deviation from this demand paves the way often to serious danger. It is quite as necessary to remove impure accumulations from the bowels as it is to eat or sleep, and no health can be expected where a costive habit of body prevails.

SICK HEADACHE

This distressing affliction occurs most frequently. The disturbance of the stomach, arising from the imperfectly digested contents, causes a severe pain in the head, accompanied with disagreeable nausea, and this constitutes what is popularly known as Sick Headache.

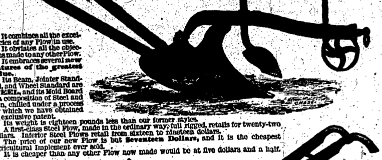
SYRACUSE CHILLED STEEL PLOW!

OF SYRACUSE, NEW YORK.

First Premium at Pennsylvania State Fair, 1880; First Premium at New York State Fair, 1880; First Premium at National Fair, Washington, D. C., and at Sixty-Three other County and Town Fairs.



It combines all the excellencies of any Plow in use.

It obviates all the objections made to any other Plow.

It embraces several new features of the greatest value.

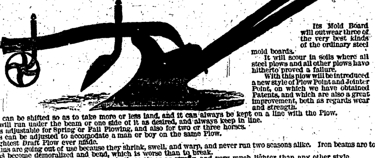
Its Beam, Jointer Standard, and Wheel Standard are STEEL, and its Mold Board is a composition of Steel and Iron, chilled under a process for which we have obtained an exclusive patent.

Its weight is eighteen pounds less than our former styles.

A first-class Steel Plow, made in the ordinary way, full rigged, retails for twenty-two dollars. Inferior Steel Plows retail from sixteen to nineteen dollars.

The price of our new Plow is but Seventeen Dollars, and it is the cheapest Agricultural Implement ever sold.

It is cheaper than any other Plow now made would be at five dollars and a half.



Its Mold Board will outwear three of the very best kinds of the ordinary steel mold boards.

It will scour in soils where all steel plows and all other plows have hitherto proved a failure.

With this plow will be introduced a new style of Plow Point and Jointer Point, on which we have obtained Patents, and which are also a great improvement, both as regards wear and strength.

The Jointer can be shifted so as to take more or less land, and it can always be kept on a line with the Plow.

The wheel will run under the beam or one side of it as desired, and always keep in line.

The beam is adjustable for Spring or Fall Plowing, and also for two or three horses.

The handles can be adjusted to accomodate a man or boy on the same Plow.

It is the Lightest Draft Plow ever made.

Wooden beams are going out of use because they shrink, swell, and warp, and never run two seasons alike. Iron beams are too heavy. Malleable beams become demoralized and bend, which is worse than to break.

A Steel beam is the necessity of the day. It is three times as strong, and very much lighter than any other style.

When we say a Mold Board is chilled, the Farmers know it is so.

We do not palm off on them a composition of various metals and call it chilled metal.

We want agents for this new Plow in every town in this state.

We can give but a very small discount to them, but we will pay the Railroad Freight.

We propose to place this Plow in the hands of the Farmers as near the cost of manufacture as possible.

It is the best Agricultural Implement ever sold. It is the cheapest.

Persons, therefore, who are not willing to act as agents on the principle that "a nimble sixpence is better than a slow shilling," need not apply for an agency.

No Plows on commission. All sales absolute.

We make Right and Left Hand Plows of all sizes. Also Side Hill Plows.

☞ This is the only Steel Chilled Plow in the World.

Steel costs several times more than Iron. But this Plow, full rigged, by giving small discounts, can be sold for Seventeen Dollars. Compare this price with that of any Iron Plow ever made.

Where there are no agents, we will, on receipt of Seventeen Dollars, send a Plow to any Railroad Station in the State, and pay the freight. Address

Founder in Horses.

Founder or laminitis consists of inflammation of the vascular sensitive laminæ of the horse's foot. It is usually caused by over action, rapid driving, and especially by allowing the horse to stand in the wind or cold uncovered, after active exercise, or by drinking freely of cold water when warm, and allowed to stand still afterwards It may also be caused by derangements of the digestive system. Usually one or both of the fore feet are effected, but the hind feet may also be involved. The feet are hot and tender, and the animal stands as much as possible upon his heels and trembles when moved. The disease is usually manifested the next day after exposure.

Dr. Cressey in a recent lecture before the Connecticut Board of Agriculture, said that any case of founder can be cured if taken within thirty hours of the attack. The horse's feet should be placed in tubs of warm water, blanket heavily, and get the animal thoroughly warm. In short the treatment consists in equalizing the circulation by making the animal sweat, and thus relieving the feverish condition. Any one who has a horse which becomes foundered should at adopt vigorous treatment. In order to remove the disease the case must be taken in hand before the affection becomes established.

To Keep Very Shaded Places Green.

Especially in the front yards of dwellings, both in town and country, which are much shaded, we often see the ground completely bare, not a living thing perceptible. Sometimes there are many nearly nude, straggling limbs lying upon the ground or very near it, which are unsightly and every way worthless, that ought to be cut away. This would give room there for some plant or vine that would be adapted to it, and which would not only cover the naked spot and make it a "living green," but would be adding very much to the general appearance of the premises. The best vine for this purpose is undoubtedly the periwinkle. It will grow almost anywhere in the shade if the proper attention is given to it, but not otherwise. It is a beautiful vine and will densely cover the ground, producing nearly the whole season a very pretty blue flower. Weeds, however, are its deadly enemies. It cannot fight them. Steadily they will encroach until they drive away our favorite and occupy the field of battle. A little help now and then, however, will defeat the common enemy, and permit us to enjoy the cool looking, popular evergreens for many years with renewal.—Germantown Telegraph.

A New Pest for Farmers.

The New Jersey experimental agricultural station at New Brunswick lately received a sample of cloverseed from Wilson Fitzgerald & Co., of Camden, which contained numbers of the larvæ of some insect. The seed came from Kempton, Pa. Professor Cook, director of the station, submitted it to A. S. Fuller, of Ridgewood, for microscopic examination, and he reports that the larvæ are, in his opinion, those of the cecidomyia trifolii of Lintner, and closely allied to the Hessian fly and wheat midge. Its females deposit their eggs on the seed while in the clover head in the field. When the clover is right and falls down in autumn the larvæ crawl out, enter the ground and remain there to finish or complete their transformation, coming forth as flies the coming season. But if the cloverseed is gathered or the hay cut, the grubs or pupæ are also gathered, and while most of them will be killed in hulling the seed, still a few may escape destruction. Heating the seed or violently shaking it in some kind of a mill would probably be the most judicious way of destroying the grubs or pupæ. If the seed was placed in tight barrels, with a little gum camphor or pure benzine, it would kill the insects and not injure the germ of the seed. Farmers should look to this matter and see that all insects in their cloverseed are destroyed before putting it away in the fall, or sending it to the market.

Why it Pays to Read.

One's physical frame—his body, his muscles, his feet, his hands—is only a living machine. It is his mind, controlling and directing that machine, that gives it power and efficacy. The successful use of the body depends wholly upon the mind—upon its abilities to direct the will. If one ties his arm in a sling it becomes weak and finally powerless. Keep it in active exercise, and it acquires vigor and strength, and is disciplined to use this strength as desired, just as one's mind by active exercise in thinking, reasoning, studying, observing, acquires vigor, strength, power of concentration and direction. Plainly then the man who exercises his mind in reading and thinking gives it greater power and efficiency and greater ability to direct the efforts of the physical frame—his work—to better results than he who merely or mainly uses his muscles. If a man reads a book or paper, even one be known to be erroneous, it helps him by the effort to combat the errors. The combat invigorates his mind.

Of all men, the farmer, the cultivator, needs to read more to strengthen his reasoning powers, so that they will help out and make more effective his hard toil.

KEEP sheep dry under foot with clean litter. Never let them stand or lie in the mud or snow. If a ewe loses her lamb, milk her daily for a few days, and mix a little alum with her salt. Never frighten sheep; if possible, avoid it. Separate sick or thin sheep from those that are strong and give them special care. If a leg is broken, bind it with splinters tightly, loosening as the limb swells. If a sheep is lame, examine his hoofs; if unsound, apply tobacco, with blue vitriol boiled in a little water. Shear at once any sheep commencing to shed its wool, unless the weather is too severe.

A VERMONT farmer recommends the use of sawdust as a bedding for cattle, to keep them clean and absorb the liquid manure. An experience of twenty years in using on a large farm shows that it does not injure the soil, being freely applied in this way. Some soils, no doubt, would be improved by the addition of sawdust, others might be injured somewhat until the sawdust decayed.

Culture of the Melon.

Of all our delicacies in summer the melon is more welcomed than any of the fruits indigenious to our climate, and deservedly so, not only on account of being a luxury, but for its beneficial effects on the system. We receive them by thousands, and extra good ones command high prices, with quick sales. They are not grown to perfection on heavy clay soils, but on light, sandy, dry locations they reach immense proportions and ripen early. But while melons grown more or less on all classes of soils, and every one seems to be familiar with their cultivation, yet, like everything else, there is a right way, and in order to have them of fair size and good quality it should be closely followed.

The same culture adapted to the watermelon applies also to the musk and canteloupe varieties. Strange to say, while melons are known to us as being almost entirely composed of water, they prefer a very dry location, will not thrive in wet situations, and the vines endure drought to a great degree. They require plenty of room in which to grow, ten feet each way being better than a lesser distance. Many persons give them a hoeing two or three times during the season, and the vines are gently removed or turned over to facilitate the process. This a great mistake, as the vines should on no condition be touched or removed. Not even are they to be allowed to be turned over by the wind, and a clod of dirt here and there should be placed to prevent it. Nothing is more injurious to melons than the slightest disturbance of the vines, and yet how often do we see thoughtless gardeners walk at random over a field or patch of melods, disarranging the vines and doing damage that has no consideration because it is not known.

In hoeing melons never work any part of the hill that is covered by the vines, but work before them—that is, around the hill outside of the limit of growth already made by them. If grass has secured a stand in them gently pull it up, care being taken not to disturb the vines more than is necessary to clean them out, and all manure or fertilizers should be applied before they begin to "run." The best manure for them is that which has been thoroughly rotted, or, what is equally as good, plenty of rich mould from the forests. If fertilizers are used a mixture of equal parts of plaster, superphosphate and muriate of potash is the best. They need but little nitrogene, such as guano, and yet they should have that little. Pinch back the ends of the shoots after the young melons are formed, and if extra large ones are required, but two should be left on the vine.

Melons delight in the hot days, and the fiercest rays of the sun, which are dangerous to some plants, give the melon vines renewed vigor. While they need moisture and rain at certain intervals, too much of it is injurious to them. The hot sand seems to be necessary to their growth to a certain extent, which is no doubt owing more to a retention of heat by the sand than to what it receives during the day. The seed should not be put in the ground till all danger of frosts or cool nights has passed.

Sometimes the plants, while growing, have the earth kept closely packed around the roots, but there is really no advantage in it. The greatest point is to have the hills as rich as they can be made before putting in the seed, and the next is to let them take care of themselves. Just at the time the melons are half grown they seem to do well in hills where they are completely hidden and shaded by tall grass and weeds, but this is due more to the fact that they are not disturbed in such cases, as the grass keeps every leaf of the vine in its place.

With their broad, abundant leaves, specially adapted for the purpose, by deriving carbonic acid from the air, a perfect sugar factory is constantly in operation, and the water is obtained by rootlets that penetrate not only downward but over a great surface of the ground. To know when they are ripe "plump" them by tapping with the thumb or finger nail. If the melon has a loud, metallic ring it is still green, but if the sound is a dull, heavy thud it is ripe; but no one can tell always of a surety when a melon is ripe, for heat often changes the sound, and much must be conjectured. Melons are being improved every year, and this season seedsmen have brought out some very superior varieties. J.

A writer well acquainted in dairy matters says that during the summer, in order to obtain the best results from them, milch cows ought to be fed on meal and bran. They should stand in a darkened stable, between eleven and four o'clock, during fly time, and within these hours they may be fed. This is far better than to let them graze during the entire day, and they will prove it by results; and when you see a cow scratching against a tree be sure that she needs currying. She will stand the operation as a kitten will stand stroking. A cow needs as much currying and cleaning as a horse.
