CITY AND SUBURBAN.

From Yesterday's Evening Gazette

The Fifth Regiment Colored Troops—Their Reception in Pittsburgh.

Our city was thrown into a state of excitement, on Sunday, by the arrival, at an early hour in the morning, of the 5th Regiment of United States Colored Troops, from Camp Delaware, Ohio, on their way to Fortress Monroe. The regiment numbered about 800 men, under the command of Col. McCoy, Lieut. Colonel Shartliff, and Major Terry. The commissioned officers were all white, and had all been in active service previous to their appointment to this Regiment. The privates were all young, active, able bodied men, fully armed and equipped, and very neat and clean in their personal appearance. They were quiet and orderly in their behavior, and the impression they made on all who had any intercourse with them, was exceedingly favorable. The Lieut. Colonel, a courteous and accomplished gentleman, as well as a gallant and experienced soldier, and says he never saw a body of men, who were more willing to learn, and who acquired the drill as rapidly as they did. They were accompanied by a full drum corps. Their colors consisted of two fine silk flags—one of the regulation "Stars and Stripes," and the other a splendid blue silk flag, with the national emblems embroidered on it, "presented by Colored Men of Ohio, to the 5th Reg. Ohio Colored Troops," and a set of silk guidons.

The over attentive Subsistence Committee received them, at their Hall, where they had a most bounteous breakfast prepared for them, to which they did ample justice. It is greatly to the credit of the Committee, that they do not allow color to make any difference in the way they treat "our country's defenders." We overheard a visitor remark that he supposed this would be the darkest page in the history of the Committee, but we think that it will be one of the very brightest of their many pleasant recollections in after days.

After the men were through eating, the Colonel introduced the Rev. John Peck, who addressed the men at considerable length. He said, "that this occasion was one of the proudest moments of his life—one that he had never even hoped to live to see—being a public recognition of the negro as a man." He referred, in a most eloquent manner, to the rapid and decided change in public opinion, in regard to the employment of colored men as soldiers, and of allowing them to contribute their share in putting down the rebellion, and in sustaining the Government, in which they have quite as vital an interest as their white brethren. He then referred to the men who left this city, to enlist in the various colored regiments, forming in the east, and said he saw them start with feelings of pain and regret, but now he could bid them "God speed," and encourage them to go and add their names to the roll of heroes who immortalized themselves at Port Hudson, Vicksburg and Fort Wagner.

He concluded by exhorting them, in a very feeling manner, to demean themselves as soldiers worthy of the glorious cause for which they are about to fight, (and, if needs be, offer up their lives,) and expressed the hope that they would very soon return, bearing their colors unsullied; that the old flag would soon wave over a reunited country, and that all of their now down-troden race could look up to its broad folds and know that the accursed sin of human slavery was no longer protected and cherished by it.

The remarks of the Rev'd gentleman were received with the most extravagant evidences of approbation, and were cheered most vociferously.

After a few remarks by the Lt. Colonel, thanking the Committee and citizens of Pittsburgh, the regiment took the train in waiting for them, feeling that Pittsburgh at least does not share in the popular feeling in some parts of the country against the "nigger."

Trial of Barnhard Lauth for the Murder of John Kunzler.

COURT OF OYER AND TERMINER—Monday, Nov. 16.—Judges Sterrett, Mellon and Brown.

At ten o'clock, the case of the Commonwealth vs. Barnhard Lauth, indicted for the murder of John Kunzler, was called up by District Attorney Kirkpatrick. Messrs. Marshall and Swartzwelder appeared as counsel for the defendant.

The prisoner was brought in, and arraigned in the ordinary form, when he put in a plea of "not guilty."

The circumstances of the murder are already well known to our readers. The deceased and the prisoner lived in Birmingham, and one night in the fall of 1861, they quarreled on the street, when Lauth shot Kunzler, inflicting a mortal wound. After the shooting, Lauth escaped, and visited Europe, where he remained for some time. He returned to this country in September last, was arrested at the house of a friend in McKeesport, and committed to jail for trial.

A jury had not been empanneled when the Court adjourned for dinner.

Gymnastic Exhibition.

The members of the Pittsburgh Gymnastic Association will give their sixth annual exhibition, at their rooms on Diamond street, on Tuesday evening, the 17th inst., commencing at half-past seven o'clock. For persons who have attended previous exhibitions of this institution, the simple announcement is sufficient; but to others we would say that these exhibitions are exceedingly interesting and amusing, and that many feats never before attempted will be performed on this occasion. Not only will nearly fifty young gentlemen of this city appear, but several amateur gymnasts from the east have volunteered their services.

The officers of the Association have taken unusual pains to make the programme various and attractive, and we hope that not only the parents and friends of the youths engaged in this laudable institution will attend, but also that all citizens who approve of manly sports and the improvement of the rising generation will encourage the Association by witnessing the performances.

A Brilliant Meteor.

The Shamokin (Northumberland county) Herald, says: The most remarkable and splendid meteor we ever beheld swept across the sky, at precisely eight o'clock on Sunday night last. It was first observed in the Western sky, about twenty degrees above the horizon, whence it swept to the zenith and disappeared. It traveled in a south easterly direction with great velocity, looking like a mighty rocket, and leaving behind a long train of fire. What was most remarkable about this meteor was the fact that its train, which was one of splendid brilliancy, burned with scarcely diminished light for full four minutes, sparkling its entire track as with molten fire. It then gradually died out, assuming finally the undulating shape of a great serpent, with its head in the zenith and its tail on the western side of the Milky Way.

A New Telegraph Line.

The United States Telegraph Company have leased the right of way from the Atlantic and Great Western Railway Company along side their road, and are putting up an independent line the whole length of the road. A party of workmen recently passed through West Greenville, Mercer county, bound eastward, setting the posts. When it is finished as far westward as Cincinnati, New York and St. Louis will be connected, not only by a railroad of unbroken gauge, but also, by a continuous line of telegraph under the control of one company. It is the intention of the company, furthermore, to continue their line westward, as the Pacific road progresses, until it ultimately reaches the city of San Francisco.

SENTENCED.—Judge McCandless, in the United States District Court, on Saturday, sentenced Henry Moule, convicted Oct. 23d of aiding in conveying away a deserter, to pay a fine of one dollar and undergo imprisonment in the county jail for six months. There were extenuating circumstances in the case of Moule, which induced the Court to impose such a light sentence.

GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK.—The December number of this favorite of the ladies is now ready, at J. W. PITTOCK'S News and Periodical Depot, opposite the Postoffice. Besides the usual fashion-plate, and other illustrations, it contains two fine steel engravings, which themselves would be worth the price of the number, if sold separately.

Fatal Affray at Mansfield—Escape of the Murderer.

On Saturday evening, about nine o'clock, a fatal affray occurred at the village of Mansfield, five miles from the city. The circumstances of the affair are as follows: Two men named John Kenney, alias "Curly Jack," and John Keyton, employed in a stone quarry in Scott township, were spending the evening drinking whisky at the house at which Keyton boarded, and at the hour above stated. When both parties were very much intoxicated, Kenney bristled up for a fight, and threw down the gauntlet by remarking that "he was the best man in the house." Keyton accepted the challenge, and in true Irish style at once stripped himself to the waist—leaving nothing on his person but his pants and boots. The combatants then went out into a little lot, followed by several other men, who belonged to the party. A woman appeared with a candle, and tried to stop the quarrel. Keyton, who is a stout young man, was not so drunk as Kenney, and the first blow which he struck knocked Kenney down. He then kicked the prostrate man twice, when he was dragged away. Kenney was badly hurt, and continued to sink rapidly until twelve o'clock Sunday, when he expired. Keyton, in the meantime, made his escape, and has not yet been arrested.

Coroner McClung held an inquest to-day, and a post mortem examination was made by Dr. Webb. It was found that the stomach of the deceased had been burst open, in consequence of the kicks which he received. The testimony elicited went to show that the difficulty occurred in the manner above described. The party had clubbed together and purchased half a gallon of whisky, which they drank during the evening.

The deceased was a married man, and leaves a wife and four children residing in Temperanceville. He was a deserter from the army, and frequent attemps have been made to find out his whereabouts.

The jury found a verdict "that the deceased came to his death from a kick or kicks inflicted by John Keyton."

A New Railroad Project.

For some weeks past there has been considerable figuring among parties who are anxious to secure the early construction of a railroad which would constitute a means of transportation to market for the vast beds of coal which are to be found in the south-eastern part of Mercer county, and in the adjacent parts of Butler county. As yet it appears to be uncertain whether the road will be built as a branch of the Atlantic or Great Western Railway, or under a separate organization. The route most talked of commences at or near West Greenville, Mercer county, upon the route of the Atlantic and Great Western railroad, thence by the most practicable route, via Mercer, to the coal-field. The road will, doubtless, be constructed with broad guage to suit its western connection. The West Greenville Argus states that work will commence soon, so far, at least, as preliminary surveys are concerned, and the character of the parties having charge of the project is a pretty sure indication that it will be promptly carried through. The coal which it proposes to open up is very extensive, and the coal is of an excellent quality. The field, indeed, extends beyond the limits of Butler county to the eastward into Armstrong county. Extensive and favorable leases have been made as far eastward as the neighborhood of Brady's Bend, by parties interested in the project. It has long been known that veins of coal of almost fabulous thinkness, and of superior quality underlie the section of country through which this road proposes to pass, and now the vast treasure is in a fair way to be developed and made available. We sincerely hope that nothing will interfere to delay the consummation of the project. The country needs the coal, and the road will be valuable as an outlet to a large and important part of Mercer county.

GODEY FOR DECEMBER.—The last number of the 67th volume of the "Lady's Book," contains no less than two beautiful steel engravings, besides the usual double page plate of fashions, colored, and a large array of wood-cut illustrations. As to the other contents, of course they are to be submitted to the ladies without remark. Godey is for sale at J. P. Hunt's, Masonic Hall, Fifth street, W. A. Gildenfenney's, 45 Fifth street, and H. Miner, next door to the Post Office.

DROWNED.—On Friday morning, while the Brownsville packet Franklin was nearing Lock No. 3, on her way to this city, a deck passenger, named Jacob Long, walked overboard and was drowned. Efforts were immediately made to recover the body, but, after a search of three hours, the boat proceeded to the city. It was supposed that the man was under the influence of liquor at the time of the accident. The deceased was a single man, and resided in Cookstown, Fayette county.

WESTERN INSURANCE COMPANY.—The following gentlemen were to-day elected Directors of the Western Insurance Company for the ensuing year:

ANOTHER NATIONAL BANK.—A bank, under the National banking act, will probably go into operation in West Greenville, Mercer county, in a few months, at farthest. We learn that the stock is about all taken.

BEADLE'S DIME SONG BOOK.—This collection of "Popular and Sentimental Songs," is for sale at J. P. Hunt's, Masonic Hall, Fifth st.

COMMERCIAL RECORD.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

The domestic money market has undergone no material change worthy of notice. There is a continued good demand for money, while what little coin offers is taken by the brokers at former quotations. Eastern Exchange is stationary at par buying, and ⅛ to ¼ per cent prem selling.

The New York Commercial Advertiser of Saturday has the following review of the money market for the week ending on Saturday last:

The money market has touched its most stringent point this week, the severity of the pressure being most apparent about Tuesday and Wednesday, since when there was evidently greater ease at the closing up of the transactions of each day, and less anxiety among borrowers as to the prospects of the future. The current of legal tender notes appears to have turned this way again, and the banks, after paying in them the instalment of three and a half millions yesterday, had still a reserve of about twenty-one millions on hand. An instalment of five million dollars was received at the office of the United States Assistant Treasurer, from Washington this morning, increasing the amount on hand there of about ten millions. The general balance at the sub-treasury has been reduced fourteen million dollars during the week, and we understand that it is the intention of the government to continue as far as possible the policy of a liberal system of disbursements.

The nominal rate of money for temporary accommodation has been seven per cent, even on the best class of securities, while commissions paid have, in many instances raised the rate much higher. For strictly prime paper the rates are six and a half to seven per cent. for sixty days, and seven per cent. for six months, endorsed. The best single names are taken at seven per cent. Second class paper meets with a limited currency at seven to ten per cent., according to the reputed strength of the names.

The telegraph to-day reports Gold at 147 in New York, and Foreign Exchange quiet at 162. Money, as we learn from the same source, was in good demand at 7 per cent.

The market in the Domestic Dry Goods Trade has been steady, and the market shows no change of note. The dealers are sanguine of high prices until the close of the Spring season. Some few outside lots have been picked up at prices slightly below the market rates, but quotations are unchanged. Standard Brown Sheetings bring 38@40 cents. In the absence of any change, we omit our regular Report of the market.—N. Y. Shipping List.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

MONDAY, November 16, 1863.

FLOUR & GRAIN—The grain market market has been quiet for some days past, while prices remain without change. Wheat is selling from wagon at $1,30 for Red, and $1,35@1,40 for White. Corn is firm, with sales of 1 car Shelled on track at $1,10, and 2 cars do at $1,12. Barley is stationary at $1,25 to $1,50 for Spring and Fall from first hands. Oats appear to be a shade firmer, and, in the absence of sales, we quote nominally at 75 to 78c from depot and store. Flour is firm but without quotable change; small sales of well-known brands of Extra Family at $6,75 to $6,80 per bbl. Buckwheat flour is in better demand but unchanged; sale of 50 sks from store at $4,00 per cwt.

GROCERIES—The market is firm with a small jobbing demand at former quotations. Raw Sugar is held firmly at 13½ to 14½c, and Refined 16½ to 17½c for "B" and "A" Coffee, and 18 for Crushed, Powdered and Granulated. Molasses firm with sales at from 63 to 65c—some holders asking 68c. Coffee may be quoted at 33 to 34½c, and Syrups range from 80 to 85c for established brands.

WOOL—The market is quiet but very firm at former quotations. For clean-washed fine wools there is considerable inquiry, and all of this grade offered sells readily at 75c. Coarse and medium wools, also, are in fair demand at prices ranging from 70 to 73c.

APPLES—There appears to be no falling off in the receipts, nor is there any marked change in prices. Good qualities in large sized barrels are selling at from $2,50 to $2,75 per bbl, while inferior and common go off very slowly at $2,00 to $2,25.

POTATOES—The market is steady, and the demand fair, while prices remain about as last quoted. We note small sales from store at $2,50 to $2,60 per bbl.

CHEESE—is in regular demand, with sales of Western Reserve at 13@13½c, and Hamburg and Goshen at 14c.

WHISKY—is firm with an upward tendency: sales in lots of 83 bbls Common Rectified at 58@60c per gallon mostly at 60c.

Pittsburgh Petroleum Market.

Nov. 16—The oil market has been quite active to-day, while prices remain about as last quoted. The transactions in Crude were unusually large amounting in the aggregate to 1700 bbls. as follows: 100, 255, and 195 bbls at 20c, packages included, and 150, 600, 200 and 200 bbls at 20¼c. Without packages, a fair quotation would be 15c, although we understand some lots were offered at 14½c to-arrive. Refined, also, was more active than for several days past, and we note a sale of 500 bonded, "Pearl" brand, at 35c; also, 300 bbls, free, "Iron City" brand, at 50c—delivered at Philadelphia, and 300 do do, brand not named, on private terms. Naptha is nominal at former quotations; sale of 50 bbls in bulk at 11c. Residium is held at 5c per bbl.

New York Petroleum Market.

Special Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Gazette.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Crude is dull and lower, with smalles for immediate delivery at 26@27c. Refined, also, has declined, and the market is dull at 41c for bonded, and 50@51c free. Naptha is nominal at 22@24c for deodorized.

Weekly Review of the New York Petroleum Market.

[Reported Expressly for the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 14, 1863.

During the first two days of the week, the market was characterized by extreme dullness and the low prices quoted in my last, were barely attained. A more active inquiry sprung up on Wednesday, when the market ruled firmer, though there was no marked advance in prices. On Thursday and Friday the demand was decidedly active, and higher prices were realized. To-day the market ruled quiet, and prices had a declining tendency. The sales for the week are heavy, comprising about 26,000 bbls Crude, nearly all at 28 cents, but including 8,000 bbls for future delivery, December and January, at 28c, buyers option, and 4,000 bbls in Philadelphia, mostly at 25 cents. The market closed dull at 27@27½ cents.

In Refined the sales have been 38,000 bbls, chiefly at 41 to 42½ cents for immediate delivery, and 42 to 43 for December, January, and February, buyers option at 43 cents, and 15,000 gallons in tin cans and cases at 52 to 54c. In calls, the business comprises about 8,000 bbls for December, mostly at 40 to 41c, and $4 per bbl. In free oil the sales comprised 4,500 bbls at from 50 to 52½@53c. The market closed dull at about 51c.

Naptha is dull and nominal. Sales of 600 bbls have been made at 20 to 26c for refined, both extreme prices. The market closed dull at about 24 cents for prime.

Refined closed dull at 41½@42c.

Boston Fish Market.

(From the Commercial Bulletin.)

Nov. 14.—The market at present rules very firm in view of the limited annual supply, which has been already reduced by considerable shipments and the heavy consumptive demand which has been experienced in our Eastern markets through the warm season from all points in the interior and West. The high prices and approach of winter have lately tended to check this demand; but the export trade to tropical ports has now fairly set in, and there is little prospect of holders making any concessions to buyers, unless influenced by a tight money market, which has the peculiar commercial quality of taking the stiffening out of every cash article, not excepting Codfish.

We quote current sales of Grand Bank medium and large at $6,25@6,75, and Bay Fundy do., at $6,50@7,00; small sizes of all descriptions at $5,50@6,00. Hake are selling at $3,25@3,50, and Pollock at $3,75@4,00 per qtl, cash.

The Mackeral catch for the season has been large; but with a steady demand both from first and second hands, preventing accumulation, very full prices continue to be realized. The shore fishery is over and the product received, but some twenty or thirty vessels are yet due from the Bay Chaleur fleet. There will be a fair supply, but no overstock, in the market at the close of the season, and rates will not probably materially decline from the present current range. We quote sales of No. 1 at $14@15, No. 2 large at $10, and medium at $9, No. 3 large at $8@8,50, and medium at $6 per barrel cash.

Pickled Herring are in good demand for the Western trade, but the supply upon the market is rather light. Sales at $5,50@6 per bbl, the outside figure for Labrador. Alewives are in steady request for the West India trade, with sales at $5@5,50 per bbl. In Salmon there is a good business, with a fair supply, at $28@30 per tierce.

Philadelphia Petroleum Market.

(Cabot & Pemberton's Circular.)

Nov. 14.—The dull and unsatisfactory condition of the Petroleum market recorded last week, still continues, and the transactions since our last notice have been limited. The advices from abroad have been rather more favorable, but are not of a character to encourage shipments, and the buyers and sellers at the close were considerably apart in their views. Sales of 2,100 barrels Crude at 26@26½ cents; 600 barrels Refined, in bond, at 40@43 cents, as in color and quality; 200 barrels free at 52½ cents; 500 barrels at 53 cents, and dark lots at 50@51 cents. 50 barrels Refined Naptha sold at 24 cents, and some Residuum at $5,50@5,75. There is now no vessel up at this port for Europe. The barque Anna Moore was cleared for London, on the 7th inst., with a cargo of 123,833 gallons Refined. The stock here is estimated at 15,000 barrels.
