

NEW RAILROAD THROUGH MARYLAND AND PENNSYLVANIA.—We copy the following special dispatch to the Philadelphia Ledger, May 16th:

The Committee on Railways and Canals to-day, were engaged on a bill chartering a company to run a railroad from this to Cleveland, Ohio, taking a line through Frederick, Md., and Tyrone and Ridgway in Pennsylvania.

The country is at last waking up to the importance of a more direct line of transportation from the Capital to the Lakes, the great west and our Canadian frontier.

It seems also to be settled in the minds of Legislators, both State and National, that, Ridgway is a point in said line which cannot be over looked. If the proposed charter above referred to made Buffalo instead of Cleveland the northern terminus, we should look for the early completion of the road as indicated—as Ridgway is almost in a direct line between Tyrone and Buffalo—and the portion between Tyrone and Clearfield is already in operation.

Some such line of Rail Road is clearly required as a military precaution, as well as for commercial purposes, and we have no shadow of a doubt but it will be continually agitated until secured.

We shall look with interest for further advice in regard to this measure—not so much with any idea that Congress will accomplish anything towards it, as its consideration in that quarter is another indication that the public are beginning to realize the importance and feasibility of making such connections with existing roads, as to form this through direct line from the Capital to the Frontier.

The "Magic Eraser."

Chicago papers, of a recent date, state that men are about the streets of that city, selling a preparation called the "magic" eraser—a solution of chloride of lime which is used to remove ink marks from paper. However useful this article may be for some purposes, it has proven a dangerous one, as several have of late begun to avail themselves of its erasing properties to change checks and other commercial papers with fraudulent intent. In New York and other Eastern cities very bold operations of this kind have been successfully conducted and bankers have become so much alarmed that checks and drafts are scrutinized with the greatest care, and payment is refused unless parties presenting them are known at the bank. It is said the fluid will not erase blue ink, and Chicago bankers are therefore instructing their customers to use this color only in filling up commercial paper. A writer in the Chicago Tribune says: "To detect whether bank checks, notes, drafts, or papers of any kind have been altered or tampered with by the use of the 'magic fluid,' hold the suspected paper over the flame of a gas jet, being careful not to scorch or burn it, and if any fluid has been applied to the paper, the place where it has been put will speedily become discolored, and turn a decided brown color. Frequently the writing or figures which have been erased by the fluid will reappear, faintly, on such application of heat."

The Indian Question.

General Sheridan, in replying to a letter from a newspaper correspondent, gives his views on the Indian question as follows, in a private letter dated Chicago, April 28, and now for the first time made public: "I may say, in reference to the management of Indians, the reservation system is the only one offering any prospect of success, but all experience has shown that the wild Indian will not adopt it until he is forced to do so. All the tribes on the northern Pacific coast had to be subdued and forced on to the reservations, which was accomplished between the years 1855 and 1869, then peace ensued. Latterly the same policy has been pursued in regard to the Camanches, Kiowas, Cheyennes, and Apaches. After the wild Indians are put upon the reservations a strong military force will have to be kept there, to protect the agents and others required in the work of cultivation, and also for the subordination of the Indians and their protection against the encroachments of the white settlers, who otherwise would take possession of their lands."

Benj. Fleming, the last of Perry's race and the main-top man on the Niagra, died in Erie last week and was buried on Wednesday in a 'coolly coffin' with all the pomp and parade accorded to a first-class hero. The city council passed complimentary resolutions, the Michigan was ordered up from Buffalo to the funeral, and all classes joined in praise of the dead hero, because he was dead. Yet this same old man has for years lived, or rather starved, in Erie on charity! Half the money thrown away on his funeral, would have made the old man comfortable. Such is human nature—and Erie nature!—Warren Mail.

CONFIDENCE GAME.—A day or two ago Mr. Holliday, a merchant of Springfield, this county, made the acquaintance of an ostensible Titusville merchant, on the cars near Rochester. The parties chatted merrily, but the "freight agent" came in and wanted $50 for the Titusville merchant's freight. He hadn't the cash and the agent couldn't change a check for $700 on such bank or other. Mr. Holliday was applied to by his new found friend but he had only $30 with him. This was to be paid as soon as they got to Buffalo, but when there both merchant and agent got off and Mr. Holliday began to "smell wool." The train was stopped and the matter communicated to the Chief of Police. He was surprised to think our Erie county friend hadn't read the papers, but hunted for the confidence man, though without success. This is the staliest of all the railroad sharper dodges and yet there is not a week passes without somebody getting gulled out of their money by it.

AN ATROCIOUS VILLIAN.—In Hamilton, Canada, a few days since, a man named John Conolly, nearly sixty years of age, only failed of being a murderer by being too atrocious about it. Ellen Morrison and he boarded at the same house. In the absence of the landlady John knocked Ellen down, then kicked and trampled on her until she became insensible; then, to complete matters, he took a buck-saw and deliberately undertook to saw her up. The pain, however, restored her to consciousness and excited her falling strength to such an extent that she succeeded in escaping from the amateur sawbones and found refuge with a neighbor.

SINGULAR FATAL ACCIDENT.—Mr. Samuel Dean, residing near Baden, Beaver county, met with a singular accident on Thursday evening, which resulted in his death. He was working about a circular saw, when a large splinter from the wood which was being sawed glanced off and struck him in the left eye, penetrating the skull. It could only be removed by the united efforts of two men. Medical attention was summoned, but notwithstanding all efforts the victim after much suffering the victim died.—Fitts Gazette.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING.—On Friday last, Mr. George Smith, a farmer residing in South Head, Armstrong county, was struck by lightning, during the prevalence of the storm and instantly killed. He was standing in the door of his barn, and the lightning striking the barn, he was killed as above stated. A black mark down the spine of the back was all that was to be seen of the effects of the stroke. The barn was not injured to any extent.—Press.

William B. Reed, the well known Democratic lawyer and aristocrat of Philadelphia is a defaulter in the sum of $200,000, and has absconded. He was at one time Minister to China, more recently consul to Jefferson Davis, and has been prominently before the country as the literary defender of his grandfather, Joseph Reed, the semi-traitorous Adjutant-general of George Washington. His recent defection has ruined the fortunes of several personal friends.

THE LAST OF A NOBLE HOUSE.—A Louisville despatch informs us of the death of Theodore Clay, the last son of our old friend Henry Clay. For nearly half a century Theodore Clay had been the inmate of the Lunatic Asylum in Lexington, Ky. There are no Henry Clays now-a-days. "There were giants in those days," and there are pigmies in these. Well, the country which could stand the shock of stupendous rebellion may at last succumb to the constant nibbling of asses and geese. But no! do not let us despair. There is an end to everything human, and imbecility is human. Is it strange that the death of poor Theodore Clay has led us into these reflections? Nay, for we are reminded of his great and his patriotic father; and then, oh yes, then comes the sad, lamentable, pitiable contrast. We can't help drawing it. Phila. Bee.

HOW A BRIDE WAS DRESSED.—At a recent wedding in high life, in this city, the bride, a beautiful blonde, was dressed in white tulle, trimmed with alternate bouffees and puffs half way up the skirt, and around the edge of the skirt was a vine, composed of white carnations and green leaves. The overskirt was also trimmed with ruffles and puffs, and was considerably looped at the sides and in the back. The entire front of the dress was literally covered with orange flowers. The veil was of very fine white tulle, very full, surmounted by a wreath of orange blossoms, with long trailing vines. Ornaments of diamonds and pearls, consisting of earrings and necklace, with large pendants.—Press.

A SNAKE IN THE BED.—On Tuesday evening last, says the Warren Ledger, as Mrs. Wm. Haggarty, in the lower part of town, opened the bed to put her child into it, she saw an enormous snake coiled up there. She screamed, of course, when all came and the snake was killed. It measured five feet, and is called a Massagor or black snake. It is said they have a disagreeable habit of getting into beds, and it may be well to look for them these warm nights.

A game of base ball was played here yesterday by the Alerts, of Ridgway, and the Independent club, of Renova. They played eight innings. The score stood: Independent, 70, Alert, 45. We will give full score next week.

If you have a discharge from the nose, offensive or otherwise, partial loss of the sense of smell, taste or hearing, eyes watering or weak, feel dull and stupid or debilitated, pain or pressure in the head, take cold easily, you may sure you have the Catarrh. Thousands annually, without manifesting half of the above symptoms, terminate in Consumption and end in the grave. No disease is so common, more deceptive or less understood by physicians. Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., is the proprietor of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy—a perfect specific for Catarrh, "Cold in the Head," or Catarrhal Headache, which he sends to any address mail on receipt of sixty cents. Sold by most druggists everywhere.

BASE BALL.—The first game of the season in this locality was played at St. Mary's, on Saturday last, between the Alerts of Ridgway, and the St. Mary's, of St. Marys. The Alerts were organized but a few weeks ago, and are as yet mere novices at the game. Their playing at St. Mary's shows conclusively, however, that with practice they will be a hard team to beat. Their victory, as will be seen by the score, was a signal one, and they have reason to feel proud. They were courteously treated after the game by the St. Mary's boys, an elegant repast being served up to them at the Lull House. Mr. Hazeltine of Newport, acted as umpire, and discharged the onerous duties of that position fairly and impartially. It is expected that a return game will be played in Ridgway within the next two weeks. Appended is the score:
