CITY AND SUBURBAN.

(FROM YESTERDAY'S EVENING GAZETTE.

Alleged Larceny of a Sleigh.

On Tuesday evening a two horse sleigh was hired from Jackson's livery stable, by a party who wished to take a trip into the country. Late in the night the sleigh was left in front of a disreputable house in one of the upper wards, and when the party having it in charge came out, he found it missing. Information was conveyed to the Mayor's office, and police officers were soon after dispatched in pursuit of the alleged thieves. It has become quite common for roughs and rowdies to seize upon sleighs left standing upon the streets unguarded, and the result generally is that the horses are driven almost to death and then abandoned. If a few of these fellows are caught, and committed to jail for larceny, the practice will be abandoned.

THE DRAFT IN TEMPERANCEVILLE.—At a meeting of the enrolled men of the borough of Temperanceville, held on Tuesday evening, the 17th inst., D. Robinson was appointed President, and J. McAfee, Secretary. The following preamble and resolution were unanimously agreed upon:

WHEREAS, The enrolled men, with a few exceptions, have responded nobly, and subscribed $3,000 of the estimated amount necessary to raise volunteers to fill the quota of the borough; therefore,

Resolved, That if the property holders of the borough do not subscribe the balance, we will call an election to instruct the School Directors to levy a tax, sufficient to pay $300 each to volunteers to fill the quota of the borough.

THEATRE'S VARIETIES.—The great success with which the new management of the Varieties is meeting at present exceeds the most sanguine expectation of the management. Night after night their cosy hall is densely packed, and no wonder, for among the company are the two greatest living dancerees—Madlle Juliett and Madlle Nonfrett—a splendid corps de ballet, Mueller—the greatest living violinist—a host of singers, dancers, comedians, contortionists, &c., presenting an array of talent never equalled on a Pittsburgh stage. Manager Smith is reaping a harvest of greenbacks, and well he deserves it, for such a host of talent certainly never before appeared in the city. Success to the great "Varieties."

FIRE IN TEMPERANCEVILLE.—A fire occurred yesterday at noon in Temperanceville which partially destroyed the oil refinery of Messrs. Welden & Reinecke. It seems that the men employed in the refinery had gone to dinner, and closed the building. In one of the apartments an empty oil barrel was left in close proximity to the stove, which it is supposed took fire, the flames communicating to the roof, which was partially destroyed, together with a lot of empty oil barrels. Through the promptly exertions of the citizens the flames were subdued. The loss is estimated at $500.

ENOCH ARDEN.—The universal interest felt in this poem has induced Messrs. Ticknor & Fields, Mr. Tennyson's American publishers, to issue a twenty-five cent edition for popular reading, in addition to the other and more costly editions which they publish. Copies of this edition can be obtained at the book store of Mr. Henry Miner, Fifth street.

THE Allegheny Gymnasium Building and apparatus will be sold by A. Leggate, Auctioneer, on the premises, between Sandusky street and the Diamond, on Thursday evening, January 10th, at 7 o'clock. The building is 45 by 70 feet, and has a lease of six years, from April 1st. Ground rent, $62 50 a year.

THE SIXTH WARD SCHOOL BOARD.—The new Board of School Directors of the Sixth Ward organized last night by appointing Hon. James Lowry, Jr., President, and Mr. Collingwood, Secretary. The subject of levying tax for bounty purposes is one of the most important which the board will be called upon to decide.

LARGE STOCK OF CLOAKS AT AUCTION.—A Leggate, Auctioneer, will sell at his store, 159 Federal street, Allegheny, on Thursday and Friday afternoons, this week, at 2 o'clock, a large and varied stock of prime seasonable Cloth Cloaks, Circles, Sacques and Basques.

CASE DECIDED.—In the Supreme Court, on Monday, Judge Woodward rendered a decision in the case of Wilson vs. Cochran, error to the District Court of Allegheny county. The judgment was affirmed.

THE Express has the following from Washington:

"The exodus of the negroes from here to the different localities in Maryland, from whence they came prior to the emancipation, is large and greatly augmenting. They go to seek employment from their former owners, which they readily procure at fair remuneration, with the addition of comfortable quarters, and association with friends and scenes of their childhood."

It strikes us that those people evince good sense—considering that they are nothing but "niggers." They didn't like to work longer for nothing—so they ran away from Slavery in Maryland to Freedom in Washington; but, now that Maryland is free, they quickly return to their old homes and live on to their old masters or such neighbors as they like better or will pay them more. They like their old neighbors, old friendships, and all the associations of their early years, and they mean to enjoy them if they can do so in freedom. Doesn't this fact go forward answering the Copperhead question—"What are you going to do with the niggers after you have freed them?" We propose to let them alone.—N. Y. Tribune.

EARNEST efforts are about to be made in Spain for the abolition of Slavery in her colonies. In Madrid an anti-Slavery society has been formed, under the designation of La Sociedad Abolicionista Espanola, consisting of men of all political parties, who have adopted as their fundamental rule that politics shall not be brought into any of their discussions, but that the great question shall be treated upon the broad basis of humanity, justice and religion. The society has appointed a commission to inquire into the results of emancipation wherever it has been carried into effect, and to report upon the best means of abolishing Slavery in the Spanish colonies.

From Cuba we learn that anti-Slavery sentiments are rapidly spreading among the native population. A considerable number of newspapers advocate emancipation, the probability of which is improving from day to day.—N. Y. Tribune.

THE grand entrance to the London Great Exhibition building was recently blown up by the royal engineers and sappers and miners. It was a structure of great magnitude and strength, consisting of three arches, and containing a total amount of between five and six thousand tons of masonry, one hundred and fifty feet in length by sixty-three in height. There were one hundred and ten charges, containing a total force of one hundred and eighty pounds of gunpowder, exploded at one time, and almost instantaneously the structure crumbled down from crown to base, amid the cheering of the spectators, falling entirely within the enclosure, and without hurting anybody. They manage these gunpowder explosions in Europe very well.

ANOTHER ANTEDILUVIAN FROG.—The Erie Dispatch says that probably the oldest inhabitant in Pennsylvania was discovered in a stone in that town last Thursday. It was a living frog about an inch long, which was taken from a piece of bituminous coal that one of the employees of the store had broken for the purpose of burning. His escape from a torturing death was almost providential, and is a cause of satisfaction that he escaped a fate so ignominious after having lived so long and quietly. His advent to the outer world was witnessed by four or five gentlemen connected with the establishment, and he was immediately deposited in a cigar box.
