CITY AND SUBURBAN.

(FROM YESTERDAY'S EVENING GAZETTE.)

From the Fourth Pennsylvania Cavalry —Lists of Casualties, etc.

A letter from Lieutenant Colonel Duncan to John E. Parke, Esq., dated on the 4th inst., gives an account of the operations of this regiment in the attack on Stony Creek Station on the 1st of December. The regiment was under command of Captain Mays, and was attached to Gregg's Division. The regiment charged the enemy in a fort at Stony Creek, capturing three guns and one hundred and ninety prisoners, with their arms and a large amount of stores. The following is a list of the casualties:

Captain Frank Ferrey, wounded in right hand, severe, and Walter Bovard, Sergeant Company B; A. Morrison, private, Company E, Henry M. Miller, private, Company G, and L. Mays, private, Company L, killed.

Of those wounded were the following:

Corpl. John Smith, B, thigh, severe; Corpl. James M'Ray, B, thigh, severe; Sergt. E. G. Gist, E, neck, severe; David Litz, F, hand, slight; James Gamble, F, thigh, severe; Sergt. J. C. Hunt, G, arm, severe; George W. Crodle, H, arm, severe; Marvin Hassin, J, left thigh; J. S. Lard, K, leg, severe; Corpl. A. Mays, L, shoulder, since died.

On the 7th of the same month, the company, with the Fifth corps, started on a raid against the Weldon railroad, of which they destroyed about twenty miles, and a large amount of other property. In this raid the casualties were severe, considering that they had but one skirmish, of not over an hour's duration. The list is as follows:

The following were reported missing on the return march, caused by straggling:

Herman Tiller, A; Thomas McKeever, A; L. J. Bitchell, E; James Clark, E; John Winters, H.

Lieut. Young, of Co. F, who was captured by the enemy June 24th, was shot on the 31st of October, by a rebel guard, while sitting at the fire of his prison, Columbia, S. C. The murderer got a thirty days' furlough—the premium paid by the rebel authorities for "shooting Yankees!"

Some few of the men captured October 12th have returned, but the larger portion have died, or remain in the cruel hands of the enemy.

The regiment now numbers nearly one thousand men, but is every day decreasing. They expect to be reinforced during the coming draft. The men are comfortably quartered in log huts, eight by twelve feet, and six feet high—covered by shelter tents.

The Colonel concludes his letter by paying a glowing tribute to the memory of the late Captain Parke, whom he characterizes as a "brave and generous soldier." His name is fondly cherished by his comrades, and his soldierly acts are often recalled to memory, and serve to inspire both officers and men to deeds of heroism and glory.

February Magazines.

"THE ATLANTIC" for February, is just out, with a very inviting table of contents. Whittier, Higginson, Mrs. Stowe, Alice Carey, Gottschalk, Epes Sargent and B. C. Hall have articles in this number, and there are also contributions from other able writers.

"OUR YOUNG FOLKS" for February, by the same publishers, is also out. Forty thousand copies of the January number were sold, which promises well for its worth and popularity. The present number is not quite so sappy as the first, and as the writers grow more familiar with their task we trust they will learn that in reducing their articles to the comprehension of the young it is not necessary to make them soft and mushy. The illustrations of this number are good, the print inimitable, and the literary articles generally first-rate. Price 25 cents.

"GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK" for February contains the usual variety of articles and illustrations relating to dress and domestic affairs, and sustains its specialité remarkably well.

All the above for sale by W. A. Gildenfinney, No. 45 Fifth street.

"PETERSON'S LADIES' NATIONAL MAGAZINE" for January, finely illustrated, has been received and for sale by W. A. Gildenfinney, No. 45 Fifth street.

Sudden Death.

On Sunday afternoon, about two o'clock, Mrs. Young, wife of John Young, residing at the corner of Fayette and Wayne streets, in the Fourth ward, was suddenly taken ill while walking along Sixth street, on her way to Dr. Prestley's church. She was carried into a house in the vicinity, and a physician was called, but she expired in a few minutes. She had been at church during the forenoon, and although she had not been as well as usual, she was anxious to attend the communion service in the afternoon. The deceased was a very estimable woman, and was about sixty years of age. She had been suffering from heart disease for some time, and it was that which caused her death.

Benevolent Association.

At a meeting of the Crossus Club of Manchester, on Saturday evening, 21st, it was resolved to form a Benevolent Association, whose purpose it shall be to find out the number of destitute families in the borough and vicinity, and contribute to their wants. There will be a committee appointed whose business it shall be to wait upon such persons and ascertain their requirements and supply all such with food, fuel and clothing, as far as the funds collected by the association will admit. Persons in actual want can leave their address at the room of the association in the rear of the building occupied by Dr. Grounsell, Manchester. Donations solicited from all who feel an interest in the cause.

PITTSBURGHERS PROMOTED.—The following Pittsburgh soldiers have been brevetted for gallant and meritorous conduct in the field.

To be Colonels by Brevet.—Lieutenant Colonel James Patchell, of the 103d Penna. Vols., for gallantry at the battle of Winchester, to date from September 19th, 1864. Lieutenant Colonel Jno. G. Parr, of the 130th Penna. Vols., for meritorious conduct at the battle of Cold Harbor, Virginia, to date from August 1st, 1864.

To be Majors by Brevet—Captain Robert W. Lyon, 102d Penna. Vols., to date from September 19th, 1864. Captain James D. Duncan, of the 102d Penna. Vols., to date from September 19th, 1864.

United States District Court.

MONDAY, January 23.—Before Judge McCandless.

Andrew Burton, of Butler county, was being tried to-day, on a charge of harboring a deserter. The case occupied all the forenoon, and the jury did not retire until after two o'clock.—U. S. District Attorney Carnahan for United States, and Thos. M. Marshall and W. S. Purviance, Esqrs., for defense.

THE LINCOLN OIL COMPANY.—A letter from Mr. Wolf, the Superintendent, states that the new well belonging to this company is now being run day and night, and is increasing rapidly in the amount produced. A letter from Boston, to the agent of the Company here states that the stock is being speedily absorbed in that city.
