NOTES.

1 Seven minutes are allowed for opening and closing the mails at all offices where no particular time is specified; but on railroad and steamboat routes there is to be no more delay than is necessary to deliver and receive the bags.

2 The mail is to be conveyed in preference to passengers, and to their entire exclusion, if its weight and bulk require it.

3 A preference is to be given to passengers before in the connecting mail lines over those travelling in any other.

4 Post Office blanks, mail bags and the special agents of the Department, on the exhibition of their credentials, are to be conveyed without further charge on mail lines admitting of such conveyance.

5 Mail agents are to be conveyed without charge on the principal railroad and steamboat lines, where the size of the mails, and the number of the offices will require their employment by the Department; and in that case a separate apartment for the assorting and safe keeping of the mail is to be provided by the contractor, under the directions of the Department.

6 In all cases, there is to be a forfeiture of the pay of the trip, when the trip is not run; a forfeiture of at least one fourth part of it, when the running or arrival is so far behind the time as to lose the connection with the depending mail; and a forfeiture of a proportion of it, when a grade of service is rendered inferior to that in the contract. These forfeitures may be increased into penalties of higher amount, according to the nature and frequency of the failure and the importance of the mail.

7 Fines will be imposed, unless the delinquency be satisfactorily explained in due time, for failing to take from, or deliver at a post office, the mail, or any part of it; for suffering it to be wet, injured, lost or destroyed; for conveying it in a place or manner that exposes it to depredation, loss or injury; for refusing after demand to convey a mail by any coach railroad car or steamboat, which the contractor regularly runs on the route, beyond the specified number of trips in the contract; and for not arriving at the time set. And for setting up or running an express to transmit commercial intelligence in advance of the mail, a penalty will be exacted equal to a quarter's pay.

8 The Postmaster General may annul the contract for repeated failures; for violating the Post Office Laws, for disobeying the instructions of the Department; for refusing to discharge a carrier when required by the Department; for assigning the contract without the consent of the Postmaster General, or for setting up or running an express as above said.

9 The Post Master General may alter the contract, and alter the schedule, he allowing a pro rata increase of compensation, within the restrictions imposed by law, for the additional service required, or for the increased speed, if the employment of additional stock or carriers is rendered necessary, but the contractor may, in such case, relinquish the contract, on timely notice, if he prefers it to the change. The Postmaster General may also discontinue or curtail the service, he allowing one month's extra pay on the amount dispensed with.

10 The payments will be made through drafts on post offices or otherwise, after the expiration of each quarter, say in February, May, August and November.

11 The distances are given according to the best information; but no increased pay will be allowed should they prove to be greater than is advertised, if the places are correctly named.

12 The Postmaster General is prohibited by law from knowingly making a contract for the transportation of the mail with any person who shall have entered into any combination, or proposed to enter into any combination, to prevent the making of any bid for a mail contract by any other person or persons, or who shall have made any agreement, or shall have given or performed, or promised to give or perform, any consideration to do or not to do anything whatever to induce any other person not to bid for a mail contract. Particular attention is called to the 24th section of the act of 1836, prohibiting combinations to prevent bidding.

13 On coach routes where the present contractor shall be superceded by an underbidder, who may not have the stage property requisite for the performance of the contract, he shall purchase from the present contractor such of his coaches, teams and harness belonging to the route as shall be needed, and may be suitable for the service, at a fair valuation, and make payment therefor by reasonable instalments, as his pay becomes due, unless the present contractor shall continue to run stages on the route. Should they not agree as to the suitableness of the property, the terms or the security, each may choose a person who may appoint a third, and their decision shall be final, or the Postmaster General will name the umpire.—Should the underbidder fail to comply, his bid shall be offered to the contractor; but should he decline it the proposals of the underbidder will be executed unconditionally. The underbidder should give early notice of his intention to take or not to take the stock, and if the latter, of his reasons; and the present contractor is to, determine on the first application whether he will sell or not.

14 A bid received after time, to wit: the 2d April next at 9 p m, or without the guarantees required by law, or that combines several routes in one sum of compensation cannot be considered competition with a regular proposal; not adjudged to be extravagant.

15 A bidder may offer on coach, railroad or steamboat, routes, where the transportation is difficult or impracticable at certain seasons, to substitute horse or wagon conveyance, or to intermit service a specified number of days, weeks or months. He may propose to omit an office that is inaccessable or is not on the stage road, the railway, or at a steamboat landing, as the case may be, or he may offer to substitute an inferior mode of supply in such cases. He may propose different days and hours of departure and arrival, provided no more running time is asked, and it is obvious that no mail connection or other public accommodation is prejudiced. He may ask for more running time to the trip, during a specified number of days, at certain seasons of peculiarly bad roads. But beyond these chances, a proposal different from the advertisement will prevent its being considered in competition with a regular bid, not set aside for extravagance; and where a bid contains any of the above alterations their disadvantages will be estimated in comparing it with other proposals.

16 There should be but one route bid for in a proposal.

17 The route, the service, the yearly pay, the bidder's name and residence, and the name of each member of the firm, where a company offers, should be distinctly stated.

18. The following is the form of the guaranty which should be filled, the first blank with the name of the guarantor, the second with that of the bidder; and the third and fourth with the beginning and terminating points of the routes and after being dated; should be signed by the guarantor, who must be shown by the written certificate of a postmaster, or other equally satisfactory testimonial to be a man of property, and able to make good his guaranty. This guaranty, so certified should accompany each bid.

"The undersigned —— guarantee that —— if his bid for carrying the mail from —— to —— be accepted by the Postmaster General, —— shall enter into an obligation prior to the 1st day of July next, with good and sufficient sureties, to perform the service proposed.

"Dated ——"

19 The bid should be sent under seal, addressed to the First Assistant Postmaster General, with "Mail Proposals in the State of ——," written on the face of the letter; and should be despatched in time to be received by or before the 2d April next, at 9 o'clock, p m.

20 The contracts are to be executed before the 1st July next.

21 Postmasters at offices situated upon or near rail roads, but more than eighty rods from a depot, will immediately after the 1st May next, report that fact to the Department, stating their exact distance from the nearest depot, and how otherwise supplied with the mail, to enable the Postmaster General to direct the proper supply to be made from the rail road by mail passengers, from and after the 1st July next.
