WANTS.

WANTED.—AGENTS FOR "THE SECRET SERVICE, OR FIELD, THE DUNGEON AND THE ESCAPE." By ALBERT D. RICHARDSON, New York Tribune Correspondent. The most interesting and exciting book ever published, embracing Mr. Richardson's unparalleled experience for four years, traveling through the South in the secret service of the Tribune at the outbreak of the war, with our armies and fleets, both East and West, during the first two years of the Rebellion; his thrilling capture; his confinement for 20 months in seven different rebel prisons; his escape and almost miraculous journey by night or nearly 400 miles. It will abound in stirring events, and contain more of the fact, incident and romance of the war than any other work yet published.

Teachers, ladies, energetic young men, and especially returned and disabled Officers and soldiers, in want of profitable employment, will find it peculiarly adapted to their condition. We have agents clearing $150 per month, which we will prove to any doubting applicant. Send for circulars. Address, JONES, BROS. & CO., N. E. corner Sixth and Minor streets, Philadelphia, Pa.

NOTICE.

SALE OF ARMY MULES.

QUARTERMASTER GENERAL'S OFFICE,
WASHINGTON, D. C., May 25, 1865.

MANY THOUSANDS OF MULES are being disposed of at public sale, at Washington.

The sales will continue until the number of animals is reduced in proportion to the reduction of the armies, now going on rapidly.

There are in the armies of the Potomac, of the Tennessee, and of Georgia, probably FOUR THOUSAND OF THE FINEST SIX-MULE TEAMS IN THE WORLD.

Many of them were bought in the beginning of the war, as young mules, accompanied the armies in all their marches and camps, and are thoroughly broken, hardened by exercise, gentle and familiar, from being so long surrounded by the soldiers.

The whole South is stripped of farming stock, and the North also has suffered from the drain of animals, taken to supply the armies.

These animals are sold at public auction; THEY WILL NOT BRING ANYTHING LIKE THEIR TRUE VALUE; and such opportunities for farmers to get working animals to stock their farms, and for drivers and dealers in stock to make good speculations, by purchasing them and disposing of them in the South, will never occur again.

M. C. MEIGS,
Quartermaster General,
Brevet Major General.

FROM YESTERDAY'S EVENING GAZETTE.

Adjourned Meeting of the Bar.

As per adjournment the members of the Pittsburgh Bar assembled this morning at half-past eight o'clock to hear the report of the Committee on Resolutions relative to the death of Hon. Judge Wilkins. The Committee reported as follows:

The members of the Bench and Bar of Allegheny county, convened on the announcement of the death of the Honorable William Wilkins, who for more than sixty years has been the pillar and ornament of the legal profession among us, and upon whom the honors within the gift of a free people have been profusely showered, and whose fame was fully and widely spread by the events of his long and valuable life, adopt the following resolutions:

Resolved, That as members of the Pittsburgh Bar, which has been elevated by the bland and courteous manner, the polished advocacy, and profound and varied erudition of our lamented friend and brother, we deplore the loss which has befallen our country, our commonwealth and the nation.

Resolved, That whether the eminent deceased be regarded as a lawyer, the pleader of the cause of the wronged, and defender of the innocent, or as a citizen of public spirit, keenly anxious for the interests of the community, or as a devoted representative of the people in their State and Federative relations, or as a Judge in the Courts of this Commonwealth, and of the United States, or as a Minister Plenipotentiary of the Nation in Europe, where his suavity and amenity of address won for him the title of the American Masterfield, he was alike equal to the office and the occasion.

Resolved, That in his social and domestic life, he was distinguished for his generous hospitality, urbane dignity, genial kindness, and fond affection as a husband and father.

Resolved, That the deceased has been spared to the wor'd beyond the ordinary limit of human life and has only been called from us when full of years and of honor, we cannot well mourn the removal of this beacon light in our professional course as untimely extinguished, but bowing to the inscrutable decree with his friends and fellow citizens who honored him while living, in venerating his memory in all future recollection.

Resolved, That the next meeting of his professional brethren respectfully tender to his widow and family our heartfelt sympathy under their great bereavement.

Resolved, That wearing the appropriate badges of mourning, we will attend his funeral in a body, and that the several Courts of this County and District be requested to order these resolutions to be entered on record.

After the passage of the resolutions, the members of the Bar, in a body, proceeded to the residence of the Sage of Homewood, for the purpose of following his remains to their last resting place.

The Fourth—Shall We Celebrate It?

There are great and unusual preparations being made in all parts of the country for celebrating the coming anniversary of our independence, and we had hoped that our citizens (through the Committee appointed for that purpose) would have made suitable arrangements for celebrating the day. In nearly every other city of the north, and in most of the towns and villages, the day will be celebrated by getting up suitable demonstrations in honor of our returned soldiers. Certainly the day could not be observed in a more becoming manner. The blessings of peace have been once more vouchsafed to us, and it is most fitting that the people should honor the brave men who stood up so nobly in defence of the nation. This suggestion was fully discussed by the Committee, we understand, and abandoned on account of their inability to procure a suitable grove.

Other methods of celebrating the day have been suggested, but all have been abandoned! The announcement that the Committee had concluded, for the reasons stated by them, to dispense with any attempt to get up a jubilee demonstration, has caused considerable regret, and not a little fault-finding. The action of the Committee, however, will not interfere with any other arrangements that may be made. Those who desire to get up a demonstration can do so, as there is ample time yet.

A correspondent sends us the following, which suggests variety enough at least:

EVENING GAZETTE: Is it possible that we are to have no celebration, as a city, of the coming Fourth of July—a day of such joy and gratitude as it should be—a Fourth of July above all Fourths of July ever observed since 1776? Loyal, patriotic citizens of Pittsburgh, too lazy, too sleepy, to celebrate the day at all!

Well, if nothing better can be done, why not have a grand national salute fired at sunrise—then let all the bells of the city be rung—say at six o'clock in the morning; then let us have a grand concert at eight or nine in the morning on the Allegheny common, by such of the brass bands of the two cities as would be willing to do so. Why not have a regatta to take place at ten o'clock in the morning, or in the afternoon? Why not have an oration from the Post Office steps, or from the Monongahela House—say two or three orations at different points of the city, either in the afternoon or evening; then close with an exhibition of fire works? Let us go to work, there is time enough yet! Let Allegheny city arouse. Our numerous Boroughs might each have their own celebration. "1776."

A Pitiable Sight.

A little boy named Maix, while traveling in company with his mother, along the Steubenville road, strayed away on Sunday afternoon and was lost. He found his way to this city, and was given shelter by a kind lady. He was in a most pitiable condition, being literally covered with vermin. He wore a heavy flannel shirt, which, together with his other clothing, was so polluted as to render it out of the question to permit him to strip or occupy a bed. His hair was trimmed off, and he was washed and cleaned above the head, but his clothing was of the "touch me not" character, and he was permitted to lie all night upon a litter, which was found quite "alive" by the good lady in the morning.

He was taken to the Mayor's office, but the vermin crawled over him in such profusion that he was not even permitted to enter one of the cells! While the officers were pondering as to what disposition should be made of him, a little ragged newsboy happened in and suggested that he be taken to the "Newsboy's Home." The officer had him sent to that very worthy institution,
