Gold opened firm, but in sympathy with eastern quotations, declined one per cent during the day; closing in our market—buying rate 137, selling 140. Governments were rather better, but without much change.

Oil stocks were very heavy, and still lower than yesterday. Columbia hung at about $37 all day, with a decided pressure to sell, and buyers holding off. Towards evening, further concessions were made of one dollar per share, but buyers reduced their bids to correspond, and we could learn of no sales. Tarbrake is a good deal of New York stock on the market, and until that is cleared off the "old favorite" cannot react from the present "ruinously low rates." Tarr, Story & Cherry Run sold freely 45c. No change in Federal; holders asking 1,050@1,10. Central Basin changed hands at retail ranging from 60c to 65c. Another strike is reported in the Dunkard region, the precise whereabouts, and the amount we failed to get. The new well belongs to the Monongahela Pioneer Company of this city.

We returned to the city yesterday, from a flying visit to the famous Pit-hole region, and can say with the Sheban Queen, "the half was not told us." Reaching Oil City on Tuesday morning last, the day was spent in examination of some property of the Paxton Petroleum Company lying on Wilkie Run, and the McClintock Farm. Wednesday morning we took a horse and stayed for Pit-hole, taking the route through Plummer. The roads were in better condition than looked for, and the weather was delightfully cool. The ride reminded us strongly of one taken nearly two years since, in the wake of Uncle Sam's army from Stevenson, Ala., to Chattanooga, Tennessee—broken down wagons, stray cavalry-men, bottomless mud-holes, weary and foot-sore pedestrians, dead horses pitcous-looking, lank-sided mules, etc., etc., every foot of the way, only here the horsemen wore greasy green instead of army blue, and in place of deserted and decaying homesteads, we had an abundance of abandoned derricks.

With true Yankee restlessness men seem to have built shanties, put up derricks, started their fires for a morning or two, then as the glowing sawn from Pit hole reached their ears to have jaccontinently drop all, and ran in hot haste "to see for themselves," and forgot to return. These hours ride brought us to the United States well, near the Mushroon village called Pit-hole City. Down on the creek bottom below the town, whither the stream of foot-pads and horsemen were tending, and we found the trees in every direction prominently labeled. "No smoking allowed, dangerous!" and not wishing to take a trip sky-ward just then, began to feel a strong desire for refuge in the nearest mud-pool. Forty rods further on we came into the midst of a crowd of excited visitors, speculators, teamsters. Pushing on to the centre of attraction the first object claiming notice was the immense receiving tank surrounded with sixteen others nearly as large as himself, and holding in the green, nearly 20,000 barrels of oil, and from which they were filling wagons as fast as they could load and get out of the way. The receiving tank is surrounded by a high board enclosure, hiding the tank itself from outward view. Entering a narrow door way we ascended a flight of steps until we stood on a platform even with the top of the tank, and where the mighty ebb and flow of the earth's hidden forces could be plainly seen and marked. The pipe from the well forty feet aw y, reached a foot or more over the edge of the tank, and from it was issuing a stream of oil fully two inches in diameter, and flowing w th such force that it was necessary to erect barriers twenty feet away to keep it w thin bounds. "It I was truly wonderful, and novices in such matters, may be pardoned if they heard more than mortal eyes could see the counter of mighty giants down in the heart of the rock-ribbed earth struggling for a breath of upper air. When we became a little accustomed to these strange and strong "goings-forth" from the heart of earth, we laid our hand amoment, as it were, on the earth's pulse, and felt its measured beating, we began to say "measured, and were told what well flowed 1200 barrels of oil yesterday." (June 27th.) We can scarcely tell what she is doing to day, we judge from 800 to 1000 barrels. Those two new wells just below, are flowing respectively 225, and 300 barrels with the sucker rods in. It is usual to take them out until the tanks are built, as everything here is full." The Holmden Well, above, we did not visit, but were told it was increasing in flow, and averaging about 400 barrels. The day began to creep on towards afternoon ere we had half satisfied our curiosity, but wishing to visit the Paxton farm we took a hurried leave.

A mile and a-half up the west branch of Pit-hole we came upon the Paxton Company derricks, and were agreeably disappointed to find them in such close proximity to the United States wells, and the location in all respects so similar in character. This Company have over one hundred acres of fine bottom land, on which there is already erected a good hotel, a number of dwelling houses, pieces shops, and over twenty derricks. Eleven wells are in operation, several of them more than five hundred feet down. They expect to bore about 650 feet, and we learned that so far as they have gone, the record varies but slightly from those of famous wells below them. The United States Company have been sending their oil most of it to the mouth of Pit-hole, six miles below, though some of it is taken up through the Paxton Farm to the Atlantic and Great Western Railroad. The oil is of a light character—forty-seven gravity as it comes from the well, changing on exposure to 43 degree. Rain with the dull season, the immense quantity, and the prompt arrangements for transportation keeps the price down. We saw them delivering it at the tanks by the thousand barrels at $1.56 per barrel.

—Governments remain very steady, with an upward tendency. These securities present the cheapest investment now in the market. With the end of the war comes retrenchment. The government is discharging the most of the soldiers and selling immense quantities of horses, ships and other materials of war, together with the immense return from the internal revenue, cannot but make the most skeptical feel assured of the permanency of our government, and the certain means of meeting all our liabilities.

The interest on the following items of the gold bearing indebtedness of the government will be due on the first of July:

	Jul. per annum.
Six per cent. bonds of January 25, 1847	$664,315
Six per cent. bonds, March 1, 1848	534,500
Five per cent bonds, June 14, 1858	1,000,000

Six per cent. bonds, February 8, 1861	1,104,900
Six per cent. bonds, July 17 and August 5, 1861	2,500,000
Six per cent. bonds, July 17 and August 5, 1861, exchanged for seven-thirty notes	5,849,350
Five per cent bonds, Texas Indemity, September 9, 1850	43,100
Six per cent. Oregon war bonds, March 3, 1861	60,360
Six per cent. bonds, March 3, 1863	5,600,000
Total for each year	$19,077,624

—A portion of the old gold gambling fraternity of New York have formed themselves into a "free trade league," with the purpose, we presume, of again endeavoring to embarrass the government by withdrawing from it the means of meeting the interest on its debt in gold. These smart fellows, says the Philadelphia Press, most of whom represent British interests, will doubtless have a good time in their effort to impress their doctrines on the next Congress; but the organization of the "league" will, nevertheless, serve as a convenient cover for dirty work of all descriptions.

—We observe that quite a number of exchanges are commenting with considerable severity, on the "bad management" which is now a characteristic of so many of our Petroleum Companies. It is much better to probe such companies as are badly conducted, and if they fall under the process, good will result to the general interest. Speaking on this subject, the Philadelphia News, very justly remarks: One difficulty in regard to this business is, that many of the companies are in the hands of mere adventurers, some of whom are without character or principle. It is fortunate, too, that in many cases these men, who were the original organizers of the companies, and having made all the money out of them that they ever yielded, are still able, by holding large amounts of stock, which cost them nothing, to retain the control, while the victims who furnished the money on which these rascals live and luxuriate are obliged to suffer.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

SATURDAY, July 1, 1865.

Dullness and stagnation are the most prominent characteristics of the general markets at present, and what is worse still, there is no indicationat present of any immediate improvement.

GRAIN—Wheat is quiet and unchanged—small sales from wagon at $1,35@1,40 for Red, and White. Barley very dull—no demand whatever. Sale of 300 bush Rye at 75. Oats moderately active, but drooping; we note sale in lots of 1000 bush from store at 68. Corn exceasively dull for inferior, while prime, which is scarce, would, sell pretty readily at full rates.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is decidedly firmer, and the tendency is upward. We now quote at 15½ for Shoulders; 16½ for Ribbed Sides; 21 for Plain Hams, and 22½@23 for Sugar Cured. Lard is quoted firm at 19@19½ for prime kettle rendered.

FLOUR—Continues very dull, and the market is weak with a drooping tendency. Small sales of Extra Family, from store, at $7,25@7,50 for Spring Wheat, and $7,75@8,00 for Winter Wheat do.

HAY—Prime Timothy is scarce and a shade better, having sold at the city scales to-day at $30@32 per ton. Receipts of Baled Hay continue very light.

BUTTER—Is moderately active, and strictly prime fresh is a shade better. Sale of 1000 pounds prime fresh at 22.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET

SATURDAY, July 1, 1865.

The sudden and entirely unexpected advance in the rate of freight of five cents per hundred pounds, on the Pennsylvania Railroad, was the great topic of discussion among Crude Oil dealers to-day, and they all feel indignant at the advance being made, without having received timely notice. Quite a large amount of Crude has been sold for future delivery, in Philadelphia, and, as the margin has been very close all season, the advance in freight will eat up the shipper's profit. With out saying anything about the advance being just and proper, the officers of the road should have given timely notice that it was in contemplation to increase the rate five cents per hundred after July first, and our dealers then, could have acted accordingly. There was but a single transaction in Crude to-day, that we could hear of, 500 bbls at 21; and quotations may be fairly given at 21@21½, bbls returned, and 26@26½, bbls included. Refined, in bond, is active and strong, but without quotable change. We note sales of 2000 bbls "Standard," for immediate delivery in Philadelphia, at 53, and 500 bbls "Hutchinson's brand" at 53½, delivered in Philadelphia, as soon as it can be shipped. Free Oil is quoted firm at 64@64. No movement in Naptha or Residuum.

The receipts of Oil by the Allegheny River since our last report, were as follows:

Fisher & Bro	616	Duncan Dunlap	115
H. H. Collins	41	J. E. Strickler	315
Jas. Robinson	34	John Bevo	406

PETROLEUM STOCKS IN PHILADELPHIA.

Special Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Gazette.

PHILADELPHIA, July 1, 1865.

The market for Petroleum stocks continues depressed and dull, owing in some measure to the intense heat, and the absence of many of the operators from the city, as is usual at this season of the year. Crude is still very firm at 26@26½; Refined, in bond, steady, at 52@54; Free dull, at 72@74.

Cincinnati Provision Market—June 30.

Since my last the St. Louis awards have been made, and 2,200,000 lbs of bacon were taken; the Commissary now asks for about 600,000 lbs more, and may again take more than he asks for to which case there would be at that point alone over 3,000,000 lbs taken in two weeks; this added to the awards at other points has stiffened up this market for all cut meats and bacon, and further advances have been established; except in hams, which latter article is now about the only one that is paying near first cost. Mess Pork remains about the same as last reported, but is quite neglected; city is generally bid at $35,00, but there are no buyers at over $34,00 to $34,50, and this price for sure is lots on hi. Price Mess not inquired for, and is lower. Lard is in better demand, and buyers have, at last acceded to the demands of holders, and sales of about 100 tierces have been made within a few days at 18c for city, and 17¾@17¾c for country, at which prices it closes firm, and rather disposed to buy, but these are the highest prices offering. No. 1's firmly held at 17c. Bulkers 16@16½c. Greases are in better demand. Tallow light stock. Brown $7@10c; yellow 10½@11½c; white 11½@12½c. Bulk meats have been in active demand all the week, and prices have advanced a full ½c per lb, closing with more buyers than sellers at 14, 14¾ and 15¼c loose for shoulders, sides, clear rib sides and clear sides. Hams have been somewhat neglected, and the best offering price has been 17 cents packed, but holders demand 17c loose, which has been paid for fine choice lots. Smoked meats are also firmer, but in less demand than bulk, and are held at 16½@16c for shoulders, 15¼@16¾c for sides, 16¼@16½c for clear rib sides, and 17@17½c for clear sides, all packed. Hams are more freely offered at 20c, canvassed and packed, for plain, with light demand; sugar-cured are held firmly at 20c for best city brands, with sales. Whisky has been in rather better demand on Southern orders, and closes very firm at 47c. Exports of the week were 316 hhds bulk and bacon, 1,343 tcs hams and bacon, 721 brls pork; 219 boxes, 225 tcs lard, 30 kegs lard. Freights are rather scarce to Eastern cities. I can ship to New York at 50c, Boston 60c, Philadelphia 45c, Baltimore 40c, all rail, for 5c less rail and water. Exchange more plenty, and bankers are b ng at par.
