BRAVE WORDS FITLY SPOKEN.

We are rejoiced to see that our talented and fearless townsman, F. R. BRUNOT, Esq., has stirred even the leaden waves of the Episcopal General Convention by protesting against the pro-slavery spirit prevalent in that body. It is a good thing to see such boldness in such a place. The rebuke was much needed, and it was admiaistered faithfully. All honor to the to the brave layman who uttered it.

THE PENNSYLVANIA ELECTION.

It now seems certain that we have carried the State and Legislature; but the victory is one that we can hardly crow over. much. It has been won, not through any strategy of our party leaders, nor by virtue of a compact organization of our forces, but mainly through the energy of the people themselves, coupled with the partial disorganization of our opponents. The victory might have been and should have been overwhelming, as it would have been, if we had been properly organized. The campaign throughout the State was badly managed, or rather not managed at all. The vote that was polled was spontaneous. It came out of itself. While, therefore, there can be no doubt of the decisiveness of the result, it is to be regretted that it was not made much more so, by organization and labor.

THE PRESIDENT'S SPEECH.

We have read with some care, the speech of the President to a colored regiment which has just returned to its home in the District of Columbia.

The chief objection we have to this, and all other speeches to the colored men that we have read, is that too much prominence is given to the advice to go home and behave themselves. This is good advice, in itself; but why, after having been iterated, should it be reiterated, and re-iterated? Do colored men need this advice more than white men? They have been good soldiers, according to the President's own testimony; would it not have been fair to infer that they will make equally good citizens? What is there in their past or present history that makes them sinners more than all others in Jerusalem?

It seems, however, to be the rage just now to lecture the colored people, and the President has but fallen into the general practice. Leaving this out of view, we call attention to the main idea that runs through the speech, to wit: "That this is "your [their] country as well as any body "else's country."

This is a direct and distinct repudiation of the democratic idea that "this is the white man's country" exclusively. That proscriptive, persecuting and narrow-minded idea belongs only to that party. They claim it and we yield it to them. They have claimed the President, too; but the President, it will be seen, stands upon higher and more manly ground. He recognizes the colored man as a citizen, and the country as being as much the black man's country as any one else's.

If, then, the black man is a citizen, and this is his country, let the country be just to him and treat him as a citizen. The President assures these men that they shall be protected—that they shall have a fair chance, and that much being assured, we may safely anticipate that the democratic idea of a republic founded upon caste and oppression will not be realized for a year or two to come.

HOW THE SOUTH IS BEHAVING.

The Chattanooga Gazette, which ought to be good authority in such cases, is very much afraid the Southern people are failing to show proper signs of loyalty, or to offer the needed proofs of their repentance and trustworthiness. As an evidence of the feeling in that end of Tennessee, it cites the following facts:

The Sheriff of Jackson county, a man named Snodgrass, issued a call for a special court to be held at Scottsborough, which is not the county town, and on a day other than the court day. When this original court convened, it was found that the sheriff had in charge fifteen discharged Union soldiers, of the First Alabama Cavalry, arrested and placed on trial for murder, that is for killing rebel soldiers, guerrillas and bushwackers, while soldiers of the United States and in the line of their duty.

This self-constituted court remained in session for fifteen days, when General Kryzyanowski, the commandant of the district of North Alabama, hearing of the affair, went down to Scottsborough himself, and ordered the self-styled court to stop all proceedings and discharge the prisoners. After the General had left the room, the Sheriff rose up in the court-room and said plaintiffly: "Those d—d Dutchmen not running this thing now. We are running this machine," and would not release the prisoners. The General hearing of this the next day, sent down some colored guards to Scottsborough, released the prisoners, and sent Mr. Sheriff to Nashville under guard.

Only last Friday we published an account of the killing of a young man who had formerly been a scout in our army, by discharged rebel soldiers, in the northwest part of Georgia, at the same time running off some Union men who had returned to their homes in that neighborhood. We have been informed that it is unsafe for a Union man to go into the country, fifteen or twenty miles, from Stevenson, Ala., and in our own State we hear of cases being gotten up against men for the killing of rebels, or the burning of houses, done while in the service of the United States.

THE RESULT IN THIS COUNTY.

We have returns from 45 districts in this county, which show a Republican gain of 2 on the vote of 1862. This includes the two cities and adjacent boroughs. As, however, the country districts generally show a gain, while our principal loss was in the cities, we judge that the total vote of the county will show a Republican gain of 200 or 300 on the vote of 1862.

The Republican majority in the County in 1862 was 4,328. It will now be about 4,500, and may run up to 4,600.

It is a matter of reproach to our organization in the two cities and adjacent boroughs that we lose largely in nearly all of them on the very light vote of 1862. We gain in nearly all the country districts, and if it had not been for the gain in these country districts, we should have been far below our light majority of 1862.

Great credit is due our country friends for their success in bringing out their vote. If the cities had done as well as the country, our majority would have been at least 6,000.

NEGRO SUFFRAGE SUSTAINED.

The democrats made this a special issue in the late election throughout the State, and have been beaten. They insisted upon it that it was the issue, and the only issue. We accept the result as decisive upon that point, and the democrats being judges, may fairly claim that Pennsylvania has decided against the admission of Southern States unless manhood suffrage is first conceded and secured.

A SLAVE POST IN CUBA.—The Pinal newspaper, published at Puerto Principe, Cuba, has published a poem entitled "Who am I?" written by a negro named Manuel Robiejo. It also says that measures for his manumission are in progress, not only by the free people of his own class, but by others who are interested in the young man. As to the poem itself, it remarks that, although it has some deficiencies in poetic construction, yet it has many stanzas worthy of commendation for the beauty of the thought, and the simplicity and fluency of the versification.

DEMOCRACY AS IT IS.

The following is from that model democratic sheet, the Lacrosse (Wisconsin) Democrat. The chief difference between its editor and the editors of most of the democratic papers in Pennsylvania, is that he says what he really thinks and they are trying to conceal their hearty concurrence with him. Read:

"The war is virtually ended.

"Where are the will-of-the-wisp statesmen and generals who led the abolition party through the bloody lanes of tyranny and power, from plunder to corruption?

"Where is Lincoln, the patron saint of niggerism, who owes so much to John Wilkes Booth, and who is well-nigh forgotten already with hardly a dozen in the land to revere his memory?

"Where is Chase? Where is Brough? Where is that crowd of Constitution-breaking, law despising fungus?

"Gone or going into oblivion leaving a nation in tears, a country in ruins, a once happy people in debt and taxation, a treasury once well-filled with coin, empty, and thousands of millions for us to pay. They have gone to perdition, and their victims are many. They have gone from their field of power.

"We deprecate assassination, yet we feel to thank God for calling Lincoln home, wherever that home may be. The will of God be always done on earth as it is done in Heaven. Not all the cannon in the world ever sent an echo so far into the future, as did the report of a pistol that fatal night in a Washington theatre, where great men were players and nations the spectators. It woke up the people of America. It broke the spell. It gave the country a statesman for a President. It flashed its sic semper tyrannis from Maine to the golden strands of our western boundaries, and halted the advance of usurpation most effectually. Lincoln has gone. Booth has gone. The nation wept, and yet for what it did not know.

"Democracy" is coming to our help.

"Peering through the bloody vista—rising gradually in lovable sublimity—lifting itself to meet the wish of millions, there once more comes to the nation, Democracy, talismanic word of blessed hopes and joyous memories. The people have tired of strange doctrines, and every breeze comes laden with glad tidings of a return to the only true principle of government. Democracy still lives. It cannot die, for with it dies the hope of the nation—the Republic itself.

"And we shall live to chronicle its restoration to power, and to mingle our voice with those who will rejoice, as surely as we have lived to see come and go the men named above and the principles they advocated."

MISSISSIPPI.

The colored people of Mississippi have held a State Convention and uttered a strong protest against the reactionary policy now prevailing in that State. They say:

"That we view with alarm the efforts now being made by the men in power in Mississippi to nullify the 'Proclamation of Emancipation.' And

"That it is our firm conviction, and we hereby put it on record, that should Mississippi be restored to her status in the Union under her amended constitution as it now stands, that her Legislature, under pretext of guarding the interest of the State from the evils of sudden emancipation, will pass such proscriptive class laws against the freedmen as will result in their expatriation from the State or their practical re-enslavement."

These men know whereof they affirm, and their protest is one that cannot be disregarded. They are the best judges of their own condition and of the tendency of things around them. The alarm they feel is evidently a well-grounded one.

Remarks of Mr. Brunot in the Episcopal Convention.

Mr. F. R. Brunot, of Pennsylvania, said: We should go to our canons, and adjust as practicable under the circumstances, follow their letter and spirit. It is impossible that now, at this late hour, the testimonials necessary can be brought to this convention, and received and adopted. If we assume that the Church of Alabama has always been a part of this Convention, and owing to certain circumstances they have been unable to send their delegates to this Convention, we must have the omission corrected so far as it is practicable to do so.

He then called for the reading of the canon in sec. 3 page 36. "If during the recess of the General Convention, the church in any Diocese should be desirous of the consecration of a Bishop elect, the standing committee of the church in such Diocese may, by their presiding officer, or by some person or persons specially appointed, communicate their desire to the standing committees of the churches in the different Dioceses, with copies of the necessary testimonials, and if the major number of the standing committees shall consent to the proposed consecration, the standing committee of the Diocese concerned shall forward the evidence of such consent, together with other testimonials, to the Presiding Bishop of the House of Bishops, or, in case of his absence, to the Bishop who, according to the rules of the House of Bishops, is to preside at the next General Convention, who shall communicate the same to all the Bishops of this Church in the United States, and if a majority of the Bishops consent to the consecration, the Presiding Bishop, or Bishop aforesaid, with any two Bishops, may proceed to perform the same, or any three Bishops to whom he may communicate the testimonials."

The order of the day was called for.

The following gentlemen, on motion of Judge Otis, of Illinois, were elected a Committee to act with a Committee of the House of Bishops in nominating a Board of Missions: Rev. Dr. Howe, of Pennsylvania; Dr. Clarkson, of Illinois; Dr. Wharton, of Massachusetts; Hon. Washington Hunt, of New York, Peter E Dem'l, Esq., of Michigan; and Judge Battle, of North Carolina.

Mr. Brunot resumed—He did not wish demand that the canon should be complied with. The church of Alabama he considered a part of this church and it is entirely practicable for them to supply all the omissions. The consecration has already taken place and there is nothing left for the Presiding Bishop, to do to receive the Bishop of Alabama as a member of the House.

If on the other hand we assume that the body electing Bishop Wilmer was not properly constituted, if they call a convention and proceed to vote to fill all omissions made by them, it would be, he thought the most proper and most becoming way to proceed. It is attempted to invite back our Southern brethren, with an order that Mason and Dixon's line still exists in the Church.

Judge Chamberlain called the gentleman to order. He was not confining his remarks to the resolution.

The chair decided the gentleman to be in order.

Mr. Brunot continued—He did not wish our Southern brethren to come back with an idea that we were ashamed of our manhood, but that we were not afraid to stand up and speak what we felt it our duty to say, without being afraid of hurting the feelings of any sinner.

SALE OF THE BELMONT MILLS.—The Belmont Mills were sold yesterday, as per advertisement, at public auction. The first offer was $100,000. The figures went soon run up to $185,000, at which sum the property was knocked down to Messrs. Moore, Lehr & Co. The principal bidders were the successful parties, and Mr. Woodward, of our city, and Mr. Kerr, of Pittsburgh. It is considered that the above was a very good price for the property. The last time it sold was for $137,500.—Wheeling Intelligencer of yesterday.

THE case of Edward B. Ketchum was called up in the court of General Sessions in the city of New York last Monday, and a note received from his counsel stating that he originally desired to plead "guilty" to the charge of forgery, but that for certain reasons he had on the indictment plead "not guilty." He wished now to alter the pleading, and, at his request, the last day of the term was agreed upon, when the consideration of the case will be continued.

MEMPHIS papers loudly complain of the inefficiency of the judiciary of that city to transact the immense business that accumulates. Twenty-three hundred cases were pending before the Criminal Court, which was to commence its session on Monday. There are 4,440 cases before the Common Law and Chancery Court to be disposed of by a single Judge.

STATE NEWS.

ON Thursday of last week, at Centralia, Columbia county, Pa., as Wm. Stetler, a constable, was attempting to arrest Thomas Devine and two others, on a charge of larceny, a scuffle ensued, during which Devine tore the constable's revolver from his pocket, and beat him severely. While Stetler was endeavoring to wrench his pistol from Devine's hand, it was discharged accidently and the contents entered the body of Devine, who subsequently died from the effects. Mr. Stetler surrendered himself to the authorities, and was held to bail in the sum of $2,000, by Squire Devitt, to answer at Court.

THE Altoona Tribune says: St. John's Catholic church of this place has been the scene of some that imposing and impressive religious services during the past eight or ten days, the occasion being the celebration of the Jubilee, a spiritual festival endowed with peculiar graces and privileges to the papist. Several hundred postulants approached the sacraments, and on Friday morning confirmation was administered by the Bishop of the diocese to a large number of children and adults.

LAST week two new proprietors took possession of a popular eating saloon in Titusville and kept open house one day. One of them found an old acquaintance among the visitors and confided to him the fact that he had $1,200 with him which he was fearful of losing, and asked him to sleep with him. In the morning the friend and his money were missing. No tidings of either the man or money.

THE house of worship recently erected by the Second German Reformed congregation of Harrisburg, was consecrated to religious purposes on last Sunday. Services were held at 10 o'clock, when an appropriate sermon was preached by Rev. W. H. H. Snyder, of the Chestnut Street German Reformed Church; at three o'clock Rev. Nicholas Grist, of Philadelphia, delivered a discourse in the German language.

MR. GEORGE WILLIAMS, one of the proprietors of the Albion Lager Beer Brewery, died very suddenly, on Monday morning last, from an attack of heart disease. Mr. Williams had helped out a load of grain at the brewery and went into one of the vaults for the purpose of seeing how the work was progressing; and coming from the vault, fell dead at the threshold.

A HUMAN body was found cut to pieces, near Mineral Point station, Cambria county, on Sunday morning last, 8th inst. The unfortunate man was a stranger. He was doubtless killed by one of the passing trains of the night previous, but there is a possibility of his having met with foul treatment and been laid in the position in which he was found.

REV. DANIEL GARVER, a Lutheran minister, well known throughout Pennsylvania, and whose lectures on Jerusalem, in which were given beautiful descriptions of scenes witnessed by him upon the occasion of his visit to the Holy Land, are remembered by many who heard them—died on Saturday week last, in Greensburg, Pa., at the age of thirty-six.

CHRISTIAN WILT, of Manheim township, Schuylkill county, committed suicide by hanging, because his wife gave him $50 on conditions that he should leave and trouble her no more.

LAST Wednesday, Mr. Thomas Bechtel, of Spring township, near Reading, while walking on the Lebanon Valley Railroad, was run over and instantly killed.

WM. WILLIAMS, a miner, was killed last week at Mt. Laffee mine, Schuylkill county, by the explosion of fire damp.

JOHN HURLEY, formerly of Newburyport Mass., has been appointed postmaster of Liberty, Bedford county, Pa.

THE water has at last been let into the West Branch Canal, and it is now in boating order.

VARIOUS ITEMS.

THE workmen at the shore end of the Chicago Lake tunnel struck for an increase of wages last Tuesday, and no work has been done there since. The miners were receiving $2.50 per day, and demanded an increase of fifty cents.

MISS KATE GOLTRA, daughter of a well-known citizen of Jacksonville, Illinois, Mr. Moore C. Goltra, came to a sudden and dreadful death on Tuesday. She went to her room suffering from toothache, and took ether to alleviate the pain. Three hours afterwards she was found dead in her bed, having died from the effects of the ether.

ON the 27th day of September last, Frederick Schaffer killed John Sachs, on Sixth street, in Buffalo. He has eluded the vigilance of the officers of the law until Tuesday, when he was arrested in Cleveland, by means of a decoy letter, which was dropped in the post office for the purpose.

A PLAN to break out of the county jail at Cleveland, which some of the prisoners have been maturing for several days, has been prevented by the watchfulness of the jail authorities. The plan was to take the inner doors off the hinges, and then break down the outer doors.

A GANG of highwaymen has appeared near Chicago, who are boldly performing the role of Dick Turpin. Several persons have been maltreated and robbed by them, on the roads leading out of the city.

THE Detroit mail-bag for Chicago was cut open and rifled of its contents, last Wednesday evening, at Ypsilanti. The rifled bag was subsequently found in a freight car.

DAVID AIKEN went to bed drunk at the Exchange hotel, Plymouth, Indiana, rent the house on fire and was consumed in the flames.
