FOR SALE.—
A FARM of 127 acres within 3 miles of Larimer's Station, on the Penna. Railroad. The improvements are a hewed log house and barn, young apple orchard; fencing good; 100 acres cleared; the balance well timbered.
Also, a small tract of Land adjoining the Borough of Elizabeth, containing 15 acres, well adapted for gardening. The soil is the very best of river bottom, and in a high state of cultivation.
Also, Alum Bank, a very valuable tract of mineral and agricultural land, containing forty acres, situated at the eastern terminus of Blairsville, and bounded on the south by Conemaugh River. Upon this tract there are three strata of iron ore. According to Professor Green's report the second and well-opened strata of ore is of good quality, highly magnetic, and will yield thirty-three per cent. of iron. He says in respect to quantity this strata will yield 10,000 tons to the acre of native ore, and reducing this oride mass to an item of dollars and cents, reckoning the value of ore at 25 cents per ton, this strata would then produce one hundred thousand dollars. In addition to this we have twenty-five acres of coal—pits opened and in successful operation at the present time. This property is worthy the attention of capitalists. The investment would be sure and safe. Specimens of ore can be seen at my office.
Also, A No. 1 stock and grain farm, containing 100 acres, situate in Cherry Hill Township, Indiana county, Pa., near the village of Greenville. The improvements are a two-story frame house, the largest and best barn in the county; fencing generally good; 250 acres cleared; the remainder well timbered. The land is good, large meadows which produce fine crops of hay. It is very convenient to churches, schools, mills, stores, &c., &c. This property will be sold very cheap and on easy terms.
Also, a Farm of 118 Acres, in Union township, Washington county, Pa. Will be sold cheap.
Also, the best farm on the Monongahela River about one mile from McKeesport, Allegheny Co., Pa., containing about 145 acres. The improvements are a frame house and barn, corn crib and wagon shed, with other outbuildings. A large apple orchard of between 400 and 500 trees; 50 quince trees, 80 pear trees, and 450 peach trees.
Also, the Mobile Farm in Elizabeth Township Allegheny Co., Pa., containing about 131 acres, situated about three miles east of the borough of Elizabeth. The improvements are a large brick cottage house with nine well finished rooms; a beautiful lawn in front, surrounded by ornamental trees; a No. 1 barn, with many other outbuildings. In addition to this we have twenty-five acres of coal—pits opened and in successful operation at the present time. This property is worthy the attention of capitalists. The investment would be sure and safe. Specimens of ore can be seen at my office.

Distinguished Rebel Arrivals in New York—Alexander H. Stephens and Ex-Postmaster General Reagan in the City.

We learn from the New York Tribune, of Thursday, that the guests at the Astor House, had considerable of an excitement on Tuesday evening by unexpected additions to their number in the persons of Mr. Alexander H. Stephens, ex-Vice-President, and Mr. John H. Reagan, ex-Postmaster General, of the defunct Southern Confederacy, accompanied by several Bostonian friends.

THEIR ARRIVAL AT THE HOTEL.

As soon as the announcement that these gentlemen were expected at the Astor in a few minutes, notwithstanding the late hour in the evening, considerable crowd of guests and street passengers, who had got wind of the affair, blocked up the stone steps and vestibules at the entrance of the hotel, to catch a glimpse of the perhaps unenviably distinguished gentlemen. When Mr. Stephens and his party ascended the steps they consequently found themselves the objects of more regard than was exactly agreeable to their feelings, as they had entertained hopes that their arrival would fall to attract excessive attention.

Besides this, however, the first glances which were directed upon them were by no means of the most favorable character. The loafers and hoppermouths of the city had not received much time to pay their special respects. Most of those present had assembled from mere curiosity, and the regard which the curiosity drew from them partook somewhat of the old rebel hating war feeling; but the new guests passed unmolested to the rooms which had been prepared for their reception, and were speedily lost to view.

APPEARANCE OF MR. STEPHENS.

Mr. Stephens appears to have altered very little in his personal appearance. Many will remember the slight, small, emaciated frame of the notorious Southern leader, who had influence was so powerful during the destiny of the South when her horizon was black with rising war clouds, which that influence might have averted had he been sustained by genuine moral courage and forethought. Mr. Stephens appears to weigh but little over one hundred pounds. His frame was attired in a suit of unobtrusive black, and there was a perceptible stoop, age-stoop in his shoulders as he ascended the stairs of the hotel.

A SCENE

which was highly disgusting to the majority of the guests of the hotel, as it will have been to almost all truly loyal and respectable citizens. Fifty scrolle hats were plucked by dirty fawning hands from fifty obscurious heads, and several thousand sub-missive smiles rippled in swift succession over finely lips as Mr. Stephens and his party essayed to pass across the hall to the drawing-room opposite. Running a gauntlet of outstretched hands, and shaking as many of them as was practicable, with the bestowal of a smile here, a low there, or a patronizing word of commonplace upon this or that flatterer, the objects of the demonstration at length reached the parlor, which was speedily filled behind them.

Here they were again surrounded. Among the crowd were to be seen nearly all the leaders of Copperhead Democracy in New York; there were a few ladies, several small children and last, and very least, several men bearing the uniforms of United States army officers. While Mr. Stephens was busily engaged in shaking the numerous hands of those who craved the high honor, he economized time by briefly acknowledging verbal flattery, at the same time receiving in either ear an individual adulatory buz from whomsoever could succeed in crowding near enough. Mr. Reagan, in the meantime, though a lesser light, was almost equally overpowered.

A stranger to the nature of the reception would have supposed it to be a congratulatory greeting of two heroes from an honorable and a glorious field of endeavor. The few casual spectators at the open door of the room turned away with sorrow and disgust; and even the gentlemen who received so much honage were probably filled with contempt for those who rendered it.

INCIDENTS OF THE RECEPTION.

Among stage of the reception, while a youthful Wall street financier had possessed himself of Mr. Stephens's right hand, a small boy in the entry struck up to the tune of his immature lungs the staccas commencing which occasioned a pleasant smile from Messrs. Stephens and Reagan, and various scowls and expressions of disgust, such as "Disgraceful! Outrageous! You must excuse the manners of these brats, gentlemen!" from their numerous friends.

"We'll hang Jeff. Davis on a sour apple tree,"

Another stage of the reception, a company of Union soldiers, returning home from honorable service, passed along Broadway in front of the hotel. Their measured, sturdy steps, the cheers of the crowd of freemen who greeted them and the glorious strain of

"Tramp! tramp! tramp!
The boys are marching,"

from the band which preceded them, penetrated through the walls of the suffocating drawing-room, like a healthy sea breeze.

A good deal of excitement prevails in Kentucky over the removal of martial law, and there will no doubt soon be a conflict between the civil and military authorities. Negroes hired on military passes are being discharged, and all contracts made between masters and slaves are deemed as at an end. Owners are preparing to reclaim their slaves, and all absent on military passes will no doubt be hunted up, driven back to their former masters and set to work. Judge Pearle, of Whitley county, is reported to have decided that the law of Congress, of March 3, 1865, is unconstitutional, and to have ordered a black woman, who is the wife of a soldier, to be sold as a slave. Gen. Brisbin has ordered the arrest of Judge Pearle for violating the United States law.

IN HAPPY contrast with the castive and arctic resolve of the Episcopal Convention, are the warm and outspoken utterances of one of our Lutheran Synods, held a few days since at Easton, Pa., in the words following—to wit:

Resolved, That, as a Synod, we deem it our duty and privilege to record our deep and hearty gratitude to Almighty God for the restoration of peace to our beloved land, in the sudden and complete overthrow of the rebellion, against which, in just Cyndical deliverances, we have borne testimony.

Resolved, That we accept it as another illustration of the retributive justice and judgment of God, that the iniquity of Slavery, which lay at the root of this rebellion, has been smitten to extinction in the death of the rebellion, which had been wickedly inaugurated in its interest and promotion.

THE ENGLISH CAPITALISTS DISAPPOINTED WITH WASHINGTON.—It is said that during the visit of English capitalists to this city Sir Morton Peto expressed great astonishment and disappointment at the appearance of Washington. They expected to see a handsome city, alive with business and enterprise, after the manner of European capitals.

GEOGRAPHICAL CORRECTION.—The telegraph, yesterday, placed the scene of the sanguinary battle between the Paraguayans and Brazilians, at "Hayti." The correct name of the place is Yaytay. Hayti is a long way off from the scene of conflict.

STATE NEWS.

[illegible] delphia Press, of Thursday:

A shocking murder was committed on Tuesday evening, about half-past six o'clock on Gaskill street, near Third. The unfortunate victim was Patrick J. Concanon, aged thirty-four years, a respectable, industrious citizen, who resided at the corner of Gaskill and Charles streets. Deceased was returning from his work, and when passing along Gaskill street, near Third, he was accosted by one Jeremiah Spaniard, who demanded what right he had on that side of the street. The deceased made no reply, and to avoid a collision, was about crossing to the other side, when the accused, it is alleged, ran at the deceased and stabbed him in the abdomen. One witness states that Spaniard, after committing the act, said with a loud voice: "He ran at me, and I cut him." Mr. Concanon died yesterday afternoon. He leaves a wife and one child, an aged mother, and a brother who lost one of his legs in the army, all of whom depended upon him for support.

On last Saturday evening, Mr. Parham, a contractor on the Jamestown Railroad, who had just arrived in Franklin, Pa., was assaulted while putting away his horse in the stable of the National Hotel; knocked down by a blow from some one concealed near the barn, and robbed of $500. In the struggle the chain of his watch was broken off and the watch fell to the ground and escaped the clutches of the robbers. Mr. P. had $2,500 about his person, in different packages, but the robbers only succeeded in obtaining $500.

LAST FRIDAY, Charles Reno, son of Martin Reno, of Shenango township, Pennsylvania, while driving by Clifton's mill the horses became frightened and ran out of the abutment of the bridge, throwing the young man out of the wagon, by which he was so severely injured, that he died in twenty minutes. He was a most worthy young man, and his untimely end caused a deep gloom to pervade the community in which he lived.

VARIOUS ITEMS.

THE ship owners of the city of New York met last Monday and adopted a petition to the Secretary of the Treasury, requesting him to adopt some plan to prevent their being defrauded of their freight dues. They allege that, under the present system, goods are bonded by parties, who take them from the storehouses by the payment of custom dues, without paying the freight, defrauding ship owners extensively. This petition will be forwarded to Washington.

THE Toronto Globe states that Dr. Blackburn, who has been in that city for several months, awaiting his trial on the charges preferred against him by the Government, with reference to the alleged "yellow fever plot," was on Monday admitted to bail upon his recognizances. His sureties were discharged by consent of his Crown Counsel, Mr. Blake. It thinks that this looks very like an abandonment of the charge by the prosecution.

The project of placing steam traction engines on the roads across the plains this side of the Rocky Mountains is again receiving attention.
