DOOMED.

Democratic party, we mean. Its doom is no same man can doubt it. It has been the ... of all Democratic ideas, long for the past four years has been the and offender of oppression, the pandemonium, the share of caste, and the and unbelievers in the principle upon which our government is based. The grand ... the idea that ...

... Democratic party, we believe, has been defeated by this Democratic party. Individual Democrats have been true to country, but as a party, it has been false to and unpatriotic. It has steadily a war in defence of the life of the nation declared for surrender in the face enemy, and it cannot escape the stain. must forever bear, of despicable cowardice and deliberate treason. This rebellion has been published by the people, they will hold and wipe out the chief aids and of the rebellion. It is true that the acts not now oppose the war, they are only of its necessary consequences. But it can be forgotten that every opposer of was a Democrat. Every apologist for rebellion was a Democrat. Every virulent in the South is hastening to get back can vote the Democratic ticket. The is doomed beyond the hope of salvation. this fall, have six States responded, by allegiance to the Union roll call. To be doom of the Democratic party, is to the patriotism or insult the intelligence American people.

SCHOLERA AS AN EPIDEMIC.

report made by Dr. Edwin M. Snow, of ence, Rhode Island, to the Board of Health of that city, the doctor says: "The cannot prevail as an epidemic without presence of a certain mysterious condition atmosphere. Of this atmospheric condition little is known; but it is known that its or absence is not affected or regulated slightest possible degree by quarantine Vessels may have the cholera on and may land the sick on our shores; disease will never become epidemic, nor among the people until that mysterious atmospheric condition is present. But that asiatic cause may come and may be present, disease may spread epidemically, without connection with the arrival of vessels the ports where the disease exists. The of cholera are, first, the mysterious atmospheric condition of which we have spoken; second, local conditions of filth and air. The disease cannot prevail without combined presence of these two causes. first cause is beyond human control; it adds and recedes in obedience to the laws of we know nothing, it crosses continents oceans as freely as the winds of heaven, it would be as reasonable to attempt to the movements of the East wind, as to attempt to control the movements of this cause cholera, by quarantine restrictions. But the second cause of cholera, and without which the would be comparatively powerless for evil, a very great extent, within our control, are is where our duty lies."

THE RED RIVER EXPEDITION.

Boston Advertiser publishes General official report of the Red River campaign. General charges the misfortune of the expedition (which was ordered by General Halleck and Secretary Stanton) to the delay of Gen. Banks, and Admiral Porter, who, he says, sixteen days collecting cotton, instead of fulfilling his energies to co-operating with the army, as laid out in the programme of the movement. This lost time was fatal to success. It allowed the enemy to concentrate, and all preparations to foil the plans of the union army. The failure of Gen. Steele to make diversion is attributed to the withdrawal of the Nine Brigade, before the movement was completed, and the fact that General A. J. Smith's command could remain with him but thirty days. The difficulties of the situation could have been increasingly reaching Shreveport; opposition there could only have been maintained by continued offensive operations on a large scale. General Banks says: "I feel it a solemn duty to say, in this formal and official manner, that Admiral Porter's official, published statements, relating to the Red river campaign, are at variance with the truth, of which there are many thousand witnesses, and do foul injustice to the officers and men of the army, living and dead."

Gen. Lee's History of the Rebellion, the Richmond Whig doubts the story, that Gen. Lee has made arrangements with a publisher in this city to issue his history of the rebellion. It says: "We were informed some months ago, by a gentleman who had means of information, that Gen. Lee has been visited by New York publishers, (we believe Mr. Richardson), with a view of inducing him to write a history of the war, the publication of which, on terms very liberal to Gen. L., would be undertaken by Mr. R. If we were correctly informed, the General did not, at least at that time, enter into any agreement on the subject. It has been communicated to our informant the sense of obligation which he felt to do justice to the great army which he commanded, by making a historic record of its deeds of valor and its displays of fidelity and endurance. His personal reluctance at becoming the historian of events in which he was the chief actor was increased by the fact that most of his official papers had been lost upon the evacuation of this city—but he recognized as of controlling force a debt of gratitude to the brave men he had commanded, and an obligation to the truth of history. It may be therefore, reasonably supposed that General Lee will avail himself of the retirement and leisure circumstances afforded by his present position to prepare a history of his campaigns, and of the achievements of the renowned Army of Northern Virginia."

CONTINUED WAR.—The Tribune says the democratic party will not allow the war to be closed. They insist on prolonging it—on carrying it from the field of battle into politics. They insist on a war of ideas. Good! Let it come! Let it be waged till we have not only a reconstructed Union, but an generated Democracy. Let us pacify the country, now, so that it will stay pacified.

THE FENIAN MOVEMENT continues to increase in Canada. Toronto and its approaches are fortified, Orangemen are arriving for its defence, several soldiers have been arrested on suspicion of sympathy with the order, and American residents are preparing to leave. It is said that the Fenians have a fast steamer ready for embarkment, and that movements of troops are in progress with them.

VARIOUS ITEMS.

The apple crop in New York is more abundant than has been represented, and it is asserted that the prices paid for apples in the eastern markets will not be sustained. The Rochester, New York and Wayne county, New York, papers allege that the fruit crop is a third larger this year than last. The profits of an orchard at present rates, are beyond what was ever dreamed of formerly.

The accomplished Mrs. Case, whose husband was on Wednesday under examination in New York for a hotel thief, after piteously interceding with the complainants to let the culprits go, went out of the court-room, took a dose of poison, and vanishing back exclaimed, "I have done the deed; take care of my child!" This dramatic episode did not release the prisoner.

The product of seven-eighths of an acre of Isabella grapes on Catawba Island, says the Sandusky (O.) Register, was brought over yesterday, and footed up 11,401 pounds, for which the producers realized, at seven cents per pound, the sum of $797.37. Besides this, a number of boxes had been picked before the purchasers were made.

The Indianapolis Journal says Gen. Gideon J. Pillow passed through that city on four days since, on his way to the Wabash country, to buy seed corn to probably turn to plant his Mississippi plantation with next season. He is exceedingly affable, and expresses a desire to let the past rest and live for the future.

Maurice Wilkins, of Louisville, last Sunday evening went to the house of his mother, who resided on Bell-st reet, between Clay and Shelby, and while she was out he deliberately rolled out of the house a barrel of flour and a barrel of potatoes, which she brought, whom a poor woman, had just purchased.

The Rev. Mr. Romeyn, pastor of the M. E. Church at Bloomburgh, N. J., was instantly killed on Friday evening, by a collision of two trains on the Erie Railroad, near Ramapo, N. J. Two other passengers were badly injured, one of whom, A. Gorman, had to submit to amputation of the leg.

A few days since General Slocum offered to bet $500 with a gentleman in Syracuse, that he would be elected. The gentleman to whom the proposition was made did not have the money in hand, but said he would get it in a few minutes. The General was in too much of a hurry to wait.

The grape crop in Ottawa county, O. notwithstanding all the fears, exceeds all calculations in the magnitude of the yield. Mr. B. F. Dwelle has picked of Isabella's from a few vines, over an acre, six tons, seven hundred and fifty-six pounds.

The State Treasurer of Missouri reports the receipts into the treasury for the year at $3,483,909, and the expenditures at $1,884,66, leaving a balance of $999,246. The total bonded debt exclusive of railway bonds is $803,000.

A Columbus (Ohio) paper gives an account of the Perry celebration at Cleveland says: The procession was very fine and nearly two miles in length. It was also the prayer of Dr. Perry, the chaplain.

"But I dare not leave them so exposed, some of the goods may be stolen," said the supercargo. The Mahomedan merchant sarcastically replied: "Don't be alarmed, my friend; there isn't a Christian within a hundred miles of us."

John Mitchel, the traitor, over whose release from Portress Monroe the Fenian Congress made considerable ado, is said to regard the Fenian movement with disfavor, after all.

The modest Barnum is in Washington with a petition, asking the President to issue a circular letter to civil, foreign ministers and consuls requiring them to forward curiosities and objects of natural history to his new museum, on the ground that a portion of it is to be free to the public.

Returns from various parts of the State of Ohio say that the Neshannock is rotting, and buyers are careful about investing too largely in them. The Peachblows have not proved as defective as the Neshannocks. Throughout the State the price ranges from 56 cents to 81 per bushel.

There are reports in Europe that General McClellan and Beauregard have both offered their services to the Pope, who has been increasing his army, in view of the contemplated withdrawal of the French troops. McClellan might make a good commander of a "standing" army.

The widow of a celebrated musician had inscribed upon his monument: "He has gone where his music can alone be excelled." The widow of a pyrotechnist saw this, and had inscribed on her husband's tomb: "He has gone where his fireworks can only be excelled."

The number of oil companies in Ohio, which received certificates of incorporation, under the statute of the State, for six months, ending the 30th of June, was one hundred and ninety-one, the aggregate nominal capital being a little over $50,000,000.

The Cleveland Herald says: The total number of dogs slaughtered by the dog killer during the month of June, July, August and September, was twelve hundred and eight. Who can say that the dog killer isn't an important local institution?

An investigation into the causes of the explosion of St John's boiler is proceeding at New York. It is pretty well established that the disaster was due to a defect in the iron, and not to the negligence of the engineer.

Miss Meta Brevoort, of New York, is reported to have recently made the ascent of Mont Blanc, being the ninth lady who has ever performed this feat. Her whole party nearly lost their lives in the descent.

The Paris correspondent of the New York Times gives a more favorable report of the health of the city. He says the attacks of cholera have reached two hundred a day, with a mortality of one-half.

In relation to the newly discovered cod fish banks in the sea of Ochotsk, a San Francisco letter says: "Next season we will be prepared to supply the demand for the whole Pacific coast."

The average daily consumption of water in St. Louis, was 7,579,627 gallons, during the month of August. During September the average was about 4,950,000 gallons per day.

The "Episcopal ring" of the new Catholic Bishop, of Albany, N. Y., which he received as a present, is valued at $5,000. The large sapphire in the centre cost, unset, $1,000.

As early as the 11th ult., snow fell in Colorado to the depth of five inches, and on the 20th it was snowing hard in Kansas and Nebraska.

It is stated that Gen. Cowen, Adjutant General of Ohio, will shortly take editorial charge of the Ohio State Journal, at Columbus.

A whole family were recently burned to death in Steele county, Wisconsin, by the bursting of a kerosene lamp.
