AMERICAN ARMIES.

The London Times in the course of an article on American affairs, has the following paragraph:

"No protestations are needed to convince the world of the peaceful designs of the American people. The Republic had armies in the field numbering their hundreds of thousands, which, after encountering a protracted and stubborn resistance, found themselves suddenly in the possession of complete victory. In the moment of their success, flushed with the triumph they had gained and intoxicated with glory, they have not demanded to be led against any new enemies; they have not murmured at a sudden dismissal. Armies have been quietly disbanded, and hundreds of thousands of volunteers have gone homeward as men turn to their accustomed work. These facts are more eloquent than any speeches which can be delivered. This last triumph of the American nation is its greatest, for it is a triumph in which rulers can claim no share, and for which generals can ask no credit. It is a triumph of the citizens themselves, who went to the rescue of their country when its unity appeared in danger, and now betake themselves to their fields and homesteads when the danger is past."

A vast army is never a thing apart from the nation to which it belongs. Soldiers are citizens. Each is imbued with the ideas of the neighborhood in which he was born and reared. Collective'y they embody and represent public sentiment.

What makes the Russian army a potent instrument of imperialism? They take a narrow and fallacious view who suppose the troops are subsidized and corrupted by a foreigning family. By tradition, by habit, by congeniality, Russia is a military despotism. In the order of developments she has risen no higher. Hence, if the house of Romanow should become extinct, the people would elect another imperial dynasty as they did when that of Rurik disappeared.

Why are French armies, on the whole and in the long run, fatal to republicanism? Simply because the French people as a mass, have neither the intelligence nor the steadiness required to maintain a free government. Their consuming passion is for military glory. The soldiers do not make this sentiment, but only share it in common with their fellow countrymen.

The prevailing sentiment in the United States is Republican. For two hundred years our people have been educated in that direction. Removed from beneath the shadow of the throne, cast into circumstances developing individuality and necessitating self-reliance, the colonists were gradually estranged from monarchical ideas and institutions. Social life and all educational forces slowly but certainly took on a republican type. At last only the faintest traces of any other type remained.

European writers sometimes extoll Washington as the hero who, after liberating his country, refused its crown. A crown never was within his reach. Sharing in the ideas of his age and country, he never desired to become a monarch. But if he had longed for the purple, and made open efforts to obtain it, his ambition would have led him to the gallows.

This further may be said, that the larger proportion an army bears to the whole population the less likely is it to consent to measures opposed to the prevailing ideas and wishes of the nation. In such cases the army and the people approach a point where they are nearly identical.

This was seen during our rebellion. The Union army, in came not only, but in fact, represented the loyal people of the nation. Scores a family was found but had one or more of its members in the service. In the very nature of things, an army so constituted could not be hostile to the population at home. It was part and parcel of that home population. It had no idea but such as prevailed at home, and only desired to fulfill its mission, and then disintegrate and go again taken back into the various family circles throughout the wide expanse of the republic.

The Justice of the Reconstructed Rebels.

It appears that all the white ringleaders of the Confederate raid upon the colored people in Alexandria, on Christmas have been re cased, and left for points further South, while many colored men who were upon the defensive are still confined in the slave-pen. An additional reinforcement been sent there to prevent any outbreak on New Year's day. When a United States officer can be assassinated in daylight, as was Major Dixon not long since, and Rebel officers set free by Mr. Hotspur's Court, what can be expected of such a community when the military are withdrawn, and our ex-colored soldiers are turned over to them, first being disarmed.

Among the Court cases in Richmond, noticed in Saturday's papers, is one of a colored man sent to Castle Thunder for thirty days, for having insulted a white man, and on being arrested, having been found with pistols concealed. A distinguished military officer, who has just returned from Richmond, pronounced that city as disloyal as it was one year ago, and says that the present Legislature of Virginia, as a body, are no better than "Extra Billy Smith's cabal," that there is not a man in it who dares, even if so disposed, to admit that there has ever been any treason done by Virginia.—Phila. Ing.

THE NEW RUMORS ABOUT MEXICO.—Those who claim to possess the knowledge that Mr. Seward's voyage will extend as far as Vera Cruz, connect the circumstance with the rumor that the French Emperor has proposed to withdraw his troops from Mexico if the United States Government will agree not to interfere with Maximilian thereafter. Mr. Seward, if we may believe all we hear—which we never do—has taken the opportunity allowed him since the close of the war, to arrange the whole matter properly with Louis Napoleon, and now the Secretary will have a conference at Vera Cruz with Maximilian, prove to him that everything is O. K., and over a glass of old port establish the peace of the continent. All the ever repeated rumors of difficulties with Mexico, or with France, or with all the Powers that sustain the Imperial policy in Mexico, will thus be scattered forever. Our people will be able to devote themselves to the pursuits of peace without a thought of interruption. Industry will flourish, and bread and beef be cheap. Gold will fall, and five-twenties, and seven-thirties, and ten-forties will rise. We will go to work paying our debt, building the Pacific Railroad, opening up commerce with Asia, gaining supremacy on the seas, and showing the world the glories of republicanism. N. Y. Times.

Two white men undertook to whip a returned negro soldier at Hanover, Indiana, because he would not play the fiddle at a dance. The negro drew a pistol and shot and killed one of the men. He surrendered himself to the authorities at Madison, Indiana.

An Atlanta John Jones recently sent a Kansas editor $50,000 for a month's subscription to his paper. The bills were unlucky confederate.

GENERAL NEWS.

SONS OF LIBERTY.—The New York World publishes a history of "Les fils de la Liberte," a French Canadian secret society, which extends to the States, organized some two years ago to secure Canadian independence and set up a republic. The association is said to be favorable to mature alliance with the Fenians, and to comprise some 150,000 enrolled members, of whom 60,000 are capable of bearing arms. Its chief many officers of the British army, who are provided high positions and great rewards. A well known officer, distinguished in the Crimean war, is said to hold himself in readiness to command the forces of the "Sons of Liberty!" The story, however, does not appear very probable.

MR. GRAHAM, in closing the defence of the Stonegrass in New York, gave the following description of the plaintiff, with some general remarks, which have the merit of novelty at least: "The plaintiff is a man forty years of age, educated to the law, but without practice, or the desire for practice. When a man has the shrewdness of a lawyer, but without his industry, he is an incomfortable mixture of any family. You might as well have the plague of Job in your house. When a man has been sharpened for the edge of the law, he needs something to cut, and if he cannot but the world he will his family."

NEW LONG SIRES, a young man in Havana—a negro slave—was discovered to possess great talent, and, in fact, to be a poet. A subscription was immediately started, and the owner contributed nearly half the marketable value of the slave. The rest was soon made up, and the poet is free. Some of his unimproved slave's poetry is very fine. His name is Ambrosio Echemerda, and he bids fair to rival the famous colored bard of Matanzas, Placido.

THE extent of the California wine interest is comparatively little known to the Atlantic States. Every year increases the product immensely. The estimate for the present year is 320,000 gallons in Los Angeles County, 350 000 gallons in Sonoma County, and 300 000 in the remainder of the State, or 1,000,000 gallons in all—more than four times the entire product of the United States in 1860.

THE Elmira Gazette states that the Northern Central Railway Company have purchased the Northern Division of the Erie Railway, from Elmira to Canandaigua, and during the coming season intend laying the narrow gauge track of the road on that line, so as to enable them to send through trains from Baltimore to Niagara Falls.

A REPORT of a most remarkable discovery comes to us from Italy. An Italian savant is said to have discovered a process by which sounds may be transmitted to any nice rich process any distance, so that two persons—one in Rome and the other in Paris—may converse together, recognizing the sound of the other's voice.

A PRIVATE letter received in London says that the Prince maintains a strict secret of his intention to leave Rome if the French troops are really withdrawn altogether, and will in all probability accept the offer of the British Government, lately received to provide for him an asylum in Malta.

THE estimated average annual yield of good wheat in the West is about 15 bushels to the acre, 200 gallons to the acre. In the South they claim 500 and in California 800. A bushel of grapes (fifty pounds) will make three and a half gallons of good wine and a half gallon of brandy.

A Washington correspondent describes Senator McDougal on a "big drunk," riding down Pennsylvania avenue in an open carriage with two boozy friends and a big dog, making faces at the passers-by, and disgusting all who were aware of the position he disgraced.

A young lady named Rose arrived at Louisville, from Texas, on Thursday morning on her way to Shelby county, where she was to be married. While going to the Lexington depot, she was run over by a wagon and so badly injured that she died in a few hours.

A PORTRAIT portrait of the President, in silver, has been made for distribution among several Indian tribes. It is mentioned as a significant fact that no chief thus favored, has ever broken a treaty.

Fritz Jones Fourten, of unfragrant memory, is through with gold mining in Colorado, and has gone to Europe. Like his friend McClellan he probably thinks the United States is no longer a home fit for gentlemen—of his sort.

The New York World turns up its nose because a number of negroes have been seen in the gallery of the House of Representatives. It was equally excited when blacks were found in the service of the Union.

THE latest novelty in hair dressing is called "the zebra." It consists of twining among one's own locks, tresses of false hair of a variety of color, and may become fashionable.

A WOMAN in Albany while carrying a basin of boiling water, dipped some on her hand which made her drop the basin, and the contents falling on the head of an infant scalded it to death.

Three colored people in Hancock county, Virginia, "that they do not intend insurrection. They mean, however, to rise as fast as they can.

A NEW YORK paper says: The following New York railroad corporations have been recently organized and their articles of association filed in the office of the Secretary of State: The Buffalo and Alleany Railroad Company have consolidated with the Buffalo and Washington Railway Company, under the last name title. The articles of consolidation were filed in the office of the Secretary of State on the 11th inst. The articles of association of the Dunkirk and Perrysburg Railroad Company were filed on the 14th inst. The road is to run from the Erie Railroad depot at Dunkirk to the village of Perrysburg, Chautauqua county. The articles of association of the Ithaca and Towanda Railroad Company were filed on the 22d inst. The route is proposed is from the navigable waters of Cayuga Lake at Ithaca, through the counties of Tompkins, Chemung and Tioga, to the Pennsylvania State line, near the village of Waverly, a distance of thirty-five miles. The capital of the company is fixed at $3,000,000.

All this shows a commendable eagerness on the part of the people of New York to get into Pennsylvania and aid in developing our unbounded mineral resources.

Pronounced by the best judges to be the most perfect instrument of this kind in the world.

Our Pianos have no superior as to power, quality and equality of tone, through workmanship, and durability.

The "American Organ" is fully equal to the best manufactured in the country.

The "Estey & Co.'s Cottage Organ" is a new era in the Cottage or Parlor Organs. By a patent arrangement of the reeds, and the addition of a patent manual subbass, a $200 two stop instrument has as much power as a $700 Church Organ. At the late Indiana State Fair, it was awarded the first premium over a twelve-stop Organ, and all competitors, for power and beauty of tone.
