The Raftsman's Journal, Clearfield, Pa., August 12, 1868.

For the Farmer.

What a Farmer must Know.

The farmer, like the business man, must know what he is doing; he must have some pretty decided idea of what he is to accomplish—in fact must calculate it beforehand.

He must know his soil—that of each lot; not only the top, but the sub-soil.

He must know what grains and grasses are best adapted to each.

He must know when is the best time to work them, whether in the fall or spring, or whether they need summer fallowing.

He must know the condition in which ground must be, when plowed, so that it be not too wet or too dry.

He must know that some grains require earlier mowing than others, and what those grains are.

He must know how to put them in.

He must know that it pays him to have machinery to aid him instead of muscle.

He must know about stock and manures, the cultivation of trees and small fruits, and many other things. In a word, he must know what good, experienced farmers know. Then he will not guess—will run no risks.

CURE FOR FOUNDER.—The Rural World proposes to cure founder in horses in this way: "Take the horse into a brook or stream of water deep enough to nearly reach his body and fasten him there with his head so high that he cannot drink. If the weather is warm keep him there several hours. Then remove him and rub his legs thoroughly to promote circulation. If still lame, repeat the process three or four times and a cure will be effected. In Winter twenty minutes will be long enough to keep the horse in the water, when he should be taken out and rubbed as in the other case—repeating the operation if necessary." This is said to cure all cases of founder, when not of long standing.

A CURE FOR EARACHE.—There is scarcely any ache to which children are subject so hard to bear, and so difficult to cure, as earache. But here is a remedy never known to fail: "Take a bit of cotton batting, put upon it a pinch of black pepper, gather it up and tie it, dip it in sweet oil, and insert it in the ear. Put a flannel bandage over the head to keep it warm. It will give immediate relief."

POLL EVIL.—To cure poll evil, cleanse the sore with soft water, apply eight or ten drops of muriatic acid per day till it has the appearance of a fresh wound, then wash clean with suds of castile soap and leave it to heal, which it will do if acid enough has been applied.

For itch in swine, rub the animal with equal parts of lard and brimstone, and put them in a clean pen.

Lime put on sod a year before it is plowed down, is the best way to apply it.

Every person wishing to be enrolled as a member of this Society must apply on or before the first day of the fair, and on the payment of one dollar to the Treasurer shall receive a certificate of membership containing the name of the applicant and endorsed by the Secretary.

Every person becoming a member as above stated shall, on the presentation of his certificate, receive a ticket which will admit him free during the fair. Any person complying with the above regulations and paying $10, shall become a life member, and shall be exempt from all contributions, and shall annually receive from the Secretary a free family ticket.

All persons must be provided with tickets, which can be had from the Executive Committee, Treasurer, or Secretary, or at the office on the ground. Persons acting as judges are expected to become members of the Society. Persons from other counties can become members by complying with the above rules. Ladies can become members by making application as above, and paying into the Treasury fifty cents when they will receive a ticket to admit them free.

Exhibitors must become members of the Society and have their animals and articles entered on the Secretary's books on or before the first day of the Fair; and all animals and articles, except horses for pleasure, and for the trotting prizes must be brought within the enclosure as early as Wednesday, at 3 o'clock, P. M., and all persons entering animals and articles for exhibition must procure cards from the Secretary with the class and number of entry of said articles, previous to placing said articles on the ground. Hay and straw will be furnished gratis for all animals entered for premiums, and grain will be furnished at cost for those that desire to purchase.

No horse shall be entered or allowed a premium unless he is free from disease. Horses will be received until Wednesday noon, but must be entered previously. All persons who intend to exhibit horses, cattle, sheep, or swine or who intend to offer stock or any other article for sale should notify the Secretary of such intention on or before the 1st of October, and have with him a list and full description of the same.

The number and class, and the number in the class, with the name of the article will appear on the card attached; but the name of the exhibitor will not appear.

Premiums and diplomas will be paid on and after the first Monday after the Fair, and until the 1st day of December, 1868, after which all money premiums unclaimed will be considered as a donation to the Society. The officers of the Society and members of the Committee of Arrangements must wear a badge designating their office, and it will be their duty as well as pleasure to attend to the expressed wishes and wants of exhibitors and others, if it is in their power so to do. A select police force will be in constant attendance for the preservation of order and protection of property.

The trotting course is level, well graded, and one-third of a mile in circuit. Ample arrangements will be made for the convenience of visitors.

INSTRUCTIONS TO JUDGES.—No animal to receive an award in more than one class.

Judges are expressly required not to award premiums to over-fed animals. No premiums are to be awarded to bulls, cows, or heifers, which shall appear to have been fattened, only in the class of fat cattle, the object of the Society being to have superior animals of this description for breeding.

FAT CATTLE.—The judges on fat cattle will give particular attention to the animals submitted for examination. It is believed all other things being equal those are the best cattle that have the greatest weight over the smallest superficies. The judges will require all in this class to be weighed and will take the measure to give the superficies of each, and publish the result with their reports. They will also, before awarding any premiums, require the manner and cost of feeding, as required by the regulations of the premium list.

If there is but one exhibitor, and he may show several animals in one class, premiums will be awarded in accordance to the merits of the animal.

The superintendent will take every precaution in his power, for the safety of stock and articles on exhibition after their arrival, and arrangements in the grounds, but will not be responsible for any loss or damage that may occur. The Society desires exhibitors to give personal attention to their animals and articles and at the close of the fair to attend to their removal as the Society cannot take further care of them.

RULES OF PLOWING.—The name of the plowman must be given as well as the kind of plow to be used, at the time of entry.

The quantity of ground to be plowed by each team be 1 acre.

The time allowed to do the work will be three hours. The furrow slice in all cases to be lapped. The teams to start at the same time and each plowman to do his without a driver or other assistance.

The premiums offered by the Society will be awarded to the individuals, who, in the judgment of the committee, shall do their work in the best manner, provided the work is done in the time allowed for its performance.

Each plowman to strike his own land, and plow entirely independent of the adjoining land. Within the one-fourth of an acre plowed each plowman will be required to strike two back furrowed lands and finish with the dead furrow in the middle.

Any information required in regard to matters of the Society can be gained by addressing the Executive Committee or the Secretary, who will be pleased to give any information in their power at any time.

Any article not enumerated in the above classes and placed on exhibition, if worthy of notice, will be suitably awarded.

The Executive Committee reserve a discretionary power to award diplomas in any case for 2d best articles, or for articles not entitled to premiums by the rules.

All articles may be entered free of charge, excepting horses for pleasure, and for the trotting premiums.
